LIBRARY EVENTS

Held at the Charlevoix Public Library, 220 West Clinton St. 547-2651

Weekly events

The Charlevoix Public Library is pleased to announce its spring computer training classes. All library computer training takes place in the Cooling Computer Lab at the Charlevoix Public Library, from 10:30 a.m. to noon. Internet Tricks will be held March 24, to learn how to search the Internet. E-mail Basics will be held March 26, to teach how to send and reply to e-mails and how to organize e-mails and work with attachments.

Once the beginner has mastered these basic computer skills, the library staff invites them to move on to the intermediate level classes hosted by the library. These classes are for those who have taken the library's basic course, or can use a mouse and search the Internet. Microsoft Excel 2007, on April 27 and 29 will focus on creating a basic spreadsheet and utilizing formulas. Managing Your PC will held May 11 and 13 and teach computer file organization, customizing the desk top and the importance of back-ups.

Ask the Techie has been developed for people who have basic hardware or software questions about their laptops, the first Thursday of each month, 10 a.m. to noon. The Library has volunteers who will be on hand for 30 minute appointments to help answer some of your questions. Call for your appointment, 237-7340.

The instructors ask that all students register for computer classes by calling 237-7340.

Story-Time is 10:30 a.m. on Thursdays for all children birth to 5 and their caregivers.

Writer's Group is 6 p.m. on Wednesdays for all writers.

Quilters and Friends meet the third Thursday of the month from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. This group of quilters and other fiber art enthusiasts is set up as a workgroup, so bring along your current fiber project and all the equipment you need (yes, even your sewing machine!) and enjoy the company of friends. The group facilitator is Sue Dixon.

Northern Michigan Textile Artists meets the third Wednesday of the month, from 1 p.m. to 3 p.m. Join local fiber artist, Kathie Briggs for discussion of projects and ideas.

The Scrapbookers meet the fourth Saturday of the month from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Treat yourself to a full day away from home to work on your photos with group facilitator, Sheila Davis and other like minded scrappers.

The Book Talkers meet regularly throughout the year at 6 p.m. on Monday evenings. Beth Strawbridge facilitates this group. Call the library for upcoming dates and titles, 237-7340.

The Writer's Group meets every Wednesday at 6 p.m. in the Armstrong Conference Room. This group of writing enthusiasts (from beginner to published) encourages each other and share their work. The group welcomes all who are interested in writing for themselves, their family, and/or for publication. The group facilitator is Jim McKinney.

"Crossings" author speaks Patti Aikin, author of the recently published "Crossings" book sponsored by the Charlevoix Area Hospital Foundation and the Crooked Tree Arts Council, will present a program for the Charlevoix Historical Society at 7 p.m. on Tuesday, April 6 at the Charlevoix Depot at Depot Beach.

She will discuss her research methods that led to her interpretation of the historical development of modes of transportation throughout the Great Lakes through the ages, lumbering, and the state highway system.

Patti relied on books written in the early 1800s through documentation available on the Internet.

The layers of history revealed inspired her to work with area artists for the book's brilliant illustrations to create a puzzle to be solved by modern-day sleuths, with a prize of $5,000 for the correct answer. This puzzle can be deciphered from clues scattered throughout the book using problem-solving techniques shared in a PowerPoint presentation and handout.

The program is open to the public. Light refreshments will be served.

No admission charge, but donations are appreciated to help support the Society's events and programs.

What does health care reform mean to Charlevoix?

BY BENJAMIN GOHS
EDITOR

If you haven't read the recently passed 2,400-page healthcare reform bills you're not alone.

And, while there has been much speculation on what exactly is contained in the new law, many of even the most savvy politicians on both sides of the aisle know little about this landmark legislation.

Due to the complexity of the new law and the far-reaching implications it will likely carry, Charlevoix Courier will attempt to unearth as much unbiased information as is possible in a series of articles on healthcare reform.

This first piece will serve as an introduction to the health care services issue and a snapshot of the state of health care services in Charlevoix.

The Charlevoix Area Hospital Board of Directors has taken no official position on the new legislation recently passed by democrats, despite having spent "significant hours" addressing affects of both the recession and the newly instated reform.

"At this time, we are unable to predict the overall impact this legislation will have specifically on Charlevoix and Antrim counties," said hospital board president Bill Jackson. "We do know that the short-term impact will be small, due to the time-lines proposed in the legislation." He added, "It is the long-term impact of the legislation that will play a significant role in the hospital's strategic planning for the future."

Founded in 1918, Charlevoix Area Hospital serves nearly 30,000 patients annually.

Nearly $1 million worth of health care services was provided for the uninsured por-vided," Jackson said.

"I think overall reform is badly needed," said Charlevoix County Democratic Party chairman Bill Lovett. "There are 47 million people without insurance and about 25 percent of those voluntarily choose not to have health insurance - the rest are too poor or cannot get health insurance due to preexisting conditions."

Some have a brighter view on the American healthcare system.

"I would rather be treated here than anywhere else in the world," said Charlevoix County Republican chairman Tim Boyko. "I say 'yay' to our personnel and equipment and I say 'nay' to the chaotic delivery system."

Boyko, currently running for the 105th Michigan House of Representatives seat currently held by Kevin Elsenheimer (R-Kewadin), said he supports responsible reform, but not at the cost of increased government regulation.

"The biggest complaint from people I've talked to in the county is the compulsory nature of the bill," he said.

City council business

BY BENJAMIN GOHS
EDITOR

The following actions were taken by the Charlevoix City Council during their regular April 5 meeting.

Item: Finalize fire/EMS contract with Eveline Township

In brief: Eveline Township has been the only entity to sign a contract with the city for fire and EMS services. The city told the townships it once served that they would receive a discount if all the townships renewed their contracts. Council considered whether to give Eveline Township the discount regardless of what the other townships decide to do by the May 1 deadline. Eveline would have paid $21,900 for fire services only; $3,861 for EMS services only or a combined discounted rate of $19,320 for both services.

Board action: Unanimously approved

Item: Board discussion on how to enforce parking once the DeWitt lot off Park Avenue is completed.

In brief: Council discussed

FIRE

At about 1:30 p.m. on Sunday, March 28, the City of Charlevoix Fire Department was dispatched to a brush fire at 18080 Hilltop Drive in Norwood Township, the Robert Harig residence.

When firefighters arrived, they discovered that a neighbor was burning brush and the fire got away from him and caught a cornfield on fire. Approximately one acre was burned before the fire was extinguished. No one was injured, and no buildings or vehicles were damaged. Tanker assistance was provided by the Charlevoix Township Fire Department. Firefighters were on scene for about 2 hours.

County names new COA directorSTEVE ZUCKER NEWS-REVIEW

The Charlevoix County Board of Commissioners has named a Northern Michigan man with more than 35 years in public service as the new executive director of the Charlevoix County Commission on Aging.

By a unanimous vote at its regular semi-monthly meeting Wednesday, the board approved a contract with current Charlevoix-Cheboygan-Emmet Office of Emergency Management Director Jack Messer to take over the helm of the senior services agency which was vacated in August by Sue Bergmann who left the position she had held for 10 years to move to Alaska.

Since that time, the commission has been overseen by David Emmel, a consultant brought on by the county board at the time of Bergmann's departure. Emmel has been helping the county with both efforts to reorganize the commission on aging and to find a permanent replacement for Bergmann.

The board of commissioners hired Messer under a contract that stipulates that he will be paid a base salary of $68,250; that he is eligible to participate with the county health benefits with the same co-pays as other county employees and instead of being enrolled in the Michigan Retirement System, the county will pay 8 percent of his salary into a 401k retirement plan.

Messer was the county board's top pick out of five candidates it interviewed for the position. Messer has extensive experience in public service management. In addition the past seven years working for the office of emergency management here, he has worked as the director of emergency services with the Sanilac County Sheriff's office, chief of police and city manager for the city of Sandusky and a long career with the Michigan State Police.

Messer said he is eager to get started in his new position and noted he will have a full plate from the moment he walks in the door. He said his first priorities include learning about the organization's inner-workings, overseeing an expected move to a new office space and working on upcoming community input and information sessions that the organization has planned.

Messer said he believes his years of public administration experience and his organizational skills will serve him well in his new position.

Messer's last day with the emergency management office will be Friday and he will start in his new position with the commission on aging on Monday.

Emmel, who has been paid $10,000 per month for his services said he expects to stay on with the organization through the end of April as he helps with Messer transition into his new role.

Emmel said he expects Messer's experience in working in the public safety side of human services will serve him well in his position with the commission on aging.

Delinquent taxes continue to increaseBY STEVE ZUCKER NEWS-REVIEW

In what is likely another sign of the economic times, the amount of annual unpaid taxes was at about $3.5 million in 2004 and has been on a steady rise by about $500,000 per year since about 2006.

Cousineau said the number is significant because it is expected to leave only about $180,000 in the county's delinquent tax fund. The fund is money the county sets aside to cover the unpaid taxes while the three-year collection process takes place. Money that is collected on delinquent taxes, interest and penalties on the delinquent taxes and proceeds from the sale of seized properties are used to replenish the fund.

About $1 million in unpaid taxes is still outstanding from the 2008 tax year.

Cousineau told the commission if the trend in unpaid property taxes continues, the county may have to borrow money to cover delinquent taxes next year, which would add some interest costs to the program.

County approves land bank 4-2BY STEVE ZUCKER NEWS-REVIEW

County officials will soon have more options available to them for property the county seizes because of delinquent taxes.

By a 4-2 margin, the Charlevoix County Board of Commissioners on Wednesday voted to approve establishing a county land bank.

Commissioners Shirlene Trip and Shirley Roloff cast the dissenting votes. Both said they don't think the county is ready to move forward with the land bank at this time.

County treasurer Marilyn Cousineau said each year the county forecloses on a handful of properties (14 is the most she's seen in one year) on which taxes are still owed after a three-year collection process. In July the properties go up for auction with a minimum bid requirement, with the minimum being the amount that is owed on the property. If the property does not sell at the first auction, it goes up for bid again in September, this time with no minimum bid.

Cousineau said sometimes the county has trouble selling some properties because of special circumstances. Most often, she said, it's because they are land-locked, but sometimes other issues, such as contamination or an easement on the property can be the problem.

Under the land bank, the county board of commissioners will appoint a board that would meet a few times each year to decide which foreclosure properties should be included in the land bank and which should be sold through the standard auction process.

Cousineau explained that if a property is included in the land bank, the authority can then decide what to do with it. Options include offering the property to a neighboring property owner at a very low price, making improvements, such as removing old buildings or cleaning up contamination before trying to sell it, keeping it for some public use, donating it or other options.

In November Cousineau received permission from the board — again with Tripp and Roloff casting dissenting votes — to begin the land bank application process.

She was back before the board Wednesday asking for an up or down vote on the land bank issue before moving forward with bringing in a group to help her establish proposed bylaws for the authority. Cousineau said it didn't make any sense to continue with the process — including the $4,500 cost to the county — if the commissioners were not interested in pursuing the land bank further.

Cousineau said the commissioners will still have to approve the authority's bylaws and appoint its first set of board members.

She said she expects the authority to be in place by year's end, but not in time for this year's tax sale season.

In March, Emmet County established a land bank authority, joining 25 other counties and the city of Detroit.

Healing in today's world

The Easter season is winding down, that time in which believers in Jesus Christ celebrate the death and resurrection of their Savior and Lord.

It is during the Easter season that we affirm the Biblical truth that Jesus overcame death and ascended to sit alongside God the Father.

We Christians credit that belief for our confidence that, following our own death, we will live with Him for time and eternity.

It is a season to recall that for all the would-be deities to march through the pages of time, it is Jesus alone who left His position in heaven to come down to us, that we might be lifted up.

Every other so-called god requires that we people work our way up into their good graces.

It is Jesus alone who came searching for the broken and broken-hearted with a message of grace based on a Father's love.

One foundational truth that grows out of the resurrection of the Savior Jesus but often gets set aside has to do with the gift of healing He grants to His followers.

FAITHFUL SERVANT

Stephen Guthrie

The basis for divine healing is expressed most clearly in Isaiah 53, where the prophet asserts that Jesus the Savior has already paid the penalty for our transgressions, and it is by His wounds that we have already received healing.

Jesus was a healer, and it was clearly a priority for Him.

The gospels recount how He often set aside His teaching and preaching to heal both individuals along the road and great throngs who surrounded Him.

What we often overlook in Scripture is that those of us who claim His name have been authorized, indeed, directed, to go out among the people and reserve no part of it for Jesus.

Only in the pentecostal, Spirit-filled churches will you routinely find believers living out their faith as though the promises of Scripture are as valid today as they were when first made.

I embrace the idea that we still have authority to heal just as Jesus gave it to us.

I make that assertion because it is a foundational premise of a local healing prayer ministry that routinely experiences success in healing. More significantly, I make this claim because I have personally experienced healing in just this way.

But as much as I believe, there are things I don't understand why we regard divine healing as a miracle.

If we would believe Scripture we'd understand it is the believer's birthright, and healing would become commonplace among us.

Stephen Guthrie directs Christian Counseling Services in Charlevoix. Christian counseling and healing prayer, by appointment at (231) 675-4682.

God regularly works through the medical arts to heal. I don't understand why so many who are addicted or chronically ill cling to their disease as a core element of their personal identity. As a client once asked me, "if I gave up my addiction, who would I be?"

Finally, I don't understand why we regard divine healing as a miracle.

I can't begin to explain, for example, why God chooses to heal in some instances but not in others. In my own life, God has healed me of a trembling in my right hand that had been diagnosed as the effects of a brain tumor, but despite a year of fervent prayer I'm still hobbling around on a knee that gives me a fit. Who knows the mind of God?

Asian carp: Political or biological problem?

There has been a great deal of political heat and very little biological light on the problem of the Asian Carp which have swum up the Mississippi River and seem on the verge of entering Lake Michigan. We have all heard the potentially fear-inducing language. The word "invasion" is used in many forms.

EAR TO THE GROUND

an invasive exotic species. They are described as invading rivers and streams. Exotic just means from some other place than here.

Even the word "Asian" carries negative connotation for some people. There are a lot of "ifs" in most of the publicized scenarios.

If the carp get into Lake Michigan, and if they can reproduce here, and if they reproduce dramatically, and if they eat up all the food used by other more desirable fish, then we have a big problem.

The problem is usually described as a potential multi-billion dollar loss of fishing revenue.

I cannot address knowledge-ably the political questions. But one of the "ifs" cited above, whether the carp will be able to reproduce dramatically in Lake Michigan is a purely biological question and some biological light has finally emerged from all the political heat.

The April issue of Great Lakes Angler contains a brief article by Rick Richards, who asked Dr. David Jude at the Great Lakes Fishery Lab at the University of Michigan what he thought about the "carp threat."

His response is more than a little comforting, since it contains what may be real information rather than belief and fear. Dr. Jude says that the invading carp are river fish which cannot effectively reproduce in a lake system. He says they require turbulent water of at least 75 degrees Fahrenheit to lay their eggs and that the just hatched fry need quiet water with abundant small plankton in order to thrive.

He further says that there are no rivers entering Lake Michigan suitable for Asian Carp spawning.

His argument is supported by other information. Since the way from the Mississippi River system into the Great Lakes through the Chicago canal has been available for a long time, a good question is, "How many other of the dozens of Mississippi River fish have become established in Lake Michigan?"

The answer is pretty close to none. Invasive species are much more likely to arrive from ship's ballast water than swim in from the waters of the Mississippi River.

It is wonderfully easy to create widespread fear of something new or exotic, from Zebra mussels, to Goby's to particular groups of people. Fear of something or someone foreign has been used throughout our American history to rouse the people, often with troubling results. Think of the animosity directed at citizens of German descent during World War I. And of course the imprisonment of citizens of Japanese descent during World War II is now acknowledged as a terrible mistake.

In any case whatever fear there is should be based on real information rather than on videos of hundreds of leaping carp.

I cannot resist pointing out that one of the loud voices urging that something must be done about the "carp problem," is that of Michigan's Attorney General, Mike Cox, who is planning to run for governor.

The problem with the Asian Carp is a biological problem and seems to have a biological solution, not a political one. Maybe we shouldn't be afraid.

UNDERSTANDING IMMIGRATION

Editor: Immigration reform will very likely be a major topic on Congress' agenda this year.

This seems to be one area where the debate does not split along party lines, particularly with respect to opposition to undocumented immigrants.

Perhaps the most common argument is that undocumented immigrants should pass through all the legal hoops that past immigrants have gone through.

I'm not a historian, but it is my understanding that prior to 1924, there were almost no restrictions on immigration, especially from Europe.

People like my great-grandparents simply booked passage on a boat and showed up.

There were exceptions. The Chinese, for example, were imported for their cheap labor in the mid-1800s, then excluded from immigrating for 61 years when they became inconvenient.

And since 1924, the chances of obtaining legal access to residency, and citizenship, in this country overwhelmingly favored white Europeans.

All Asians were excluded entirely for a time with this act. Anti-immigrant sentiment has always been strongest during an economic downturn. I completely sympathize with the fear of losing a job, but I don't believe immigrants are at fault.

Our high-profit, low-wage business model views all labor as a necessary evil.

It pits immigrants against citizens, and leads to outsourcing of jobs and the depressing of wages. Any discussion about jobs and immigration should start in an atmosphere of respect for all workers as human beings.

At 3 p.m. on April 25, Father Wayne Dzeikan will be speaking about immigration at the Charlevoix Library.

The problem with the Asian Carp is a biological problem and seems to have a biological solution, not a political one. Maybe we shouldn't be afraid.

I cannot resist pointing out that one of the loud voices urging that something must be done about the "carp problem," is that of Michigan's Attorney General, Mike Cox, who is planning to run for governor.

WORDS MATTER

Editor: When I handily won my primary for Congress in Michigan's First Congressional District in 1996, it was not long before Congressman Bart Stupak and I began to participate in many of the same venues. As I became acquainted with Bart, I also got to know his family, who were always nice to me, and I like them all very much.

As I watched Bart campaign, and as I listened to his words, Bart Stupak would always stress that he wanted to be very clear in what he was saying. The correct words mattered to him.

When Bart wrote his letter to the leadership regarding concerns in wording for "Sanctity of Life" in the proposed Health Care Bill, I knew Bart understood clarity of the wording was an absolute.

Why? There would be those looking for the "loophole" in the wording. Bart stayed true to his insistence for "words of clarity" regarding no federal funding for abortions. Bart Stupak's action shined a Spot Light on the principle of "Sanctity of Life" like no other moment.

We have a 20-year Bart Stupak body of work in which Bart has proven that the correct choice of words matter to him.

So, when Bart announced that he and the President had worked out an additional means to safeguard that no federal funding will be spent for abortions, there is clarity in knowing that when Bart

Stupak says the "words are clear" "THE WORDS ARE CLEAR!"

With the wording in place, our Congressman voted for the Health Care bill, not as a surprise but with action he thought best. Agree or not agree on the Health Care bill, this, we are assured of, through the insistence of the clarity of words: the "Sanctity of Life" principle is safe.

For those of you who cherish the principle of "Sanctity of Life" do not let those whose sole intention was to get "no" votes on the Health Care Bill commander or destroy the true accomplishment or take the "Bloom off the Rose" of the shining light on the "Sanctity of Life" principle shown brightly to many for the very first time.

So, when someone who was elected to represent us always has insisted on "clarity of words" and stays steadfast to principle, each of us has won, no matter on what side of any particular issue we might be.

Why did you sound so sarcastically amazed that those of us who actually tried to stop the bill are still against this same bill?

Nothing has changed except your attitude which has gotten more and more unrepresentative and rather juvenile.

Mr. Obama, the fact that you lied about every single issue except "fundamentally changing America" and most folks didn't seem to understand what that meant, and then still claim to be transparent while doing your deals behind closed doors is blatant disregard for every American citizen.

Park Avenue construction underway

With early spring weather so too comes early construction.

Now well underway, the nearly $800,000 road and sewer infrastructure project is expected to be completed by late May.

"Basically State Street from Clinton to Park Avenue and from State to Bridge is going to be tore up for the next six weeks to two months," said Charlevoix City Manager Rob Straebel. "Our intention is to get the job done before Memorial Day to have the least amount of impacts to residents and businesses in the area."

eral contracting work while Performance Engineering developed the plans for the operation.

Despite a recent jump in the projected cost by $17,000 for an unforeseen retrofit to a waterline assembly on Clinton Street, Jim Malewitz of Performance Engineering said the project is likely to cost just under $800,000.

According to Straebel, once Park Avenue is reopened, the 108 Park Ave. parking lot project will begin.

"We will start construction on the DeWitt parking lot and hope to have that completed before the summer gets started in earnest," he said.

Rayders of the week

This week's Rayders of the Week are (from left) Brittany Musser, Megan Clees, Jenna Way, Aaron Schnackenberg and Jordan Jones. Each week several Charlevoix High School students are selected for achieving successes not generally lauded. Rayders of the Week can be chosen for helping out other classmates, doing a good deed or taking care of something without being told.

2009/10 Indoor Open League Soccer season results

After 10 weeks of indoor league soccer, Ben Myers' Team "Orange Crush" came away with the top honors for the season.

Coming into the last week, "Orange Crush", "Green Hissing Dragons" (a.k.a. Green Machine), and "Team Nitchman" were all tied with a record of 9-6-3.

Orange Crush won both games balancing strong offense from Ben Myers, Abbey Barnes, Drew Oliver and Adam Uhlrich with an equally dominant defense from Noah and Isaac Matchett, and strong goalkeeping by Jim Ennis. Green Machine took second overall just beating Team Nitchman in the last game 5-4.

Team Boss Camp showed some of their earlier season strength twice defeating Team Werth to claim fourth place overall.

Indoor soccer is open to all ages from Freshman in high school through any age willing to play with the oldest player this year just under 50 years old.

This year a total of 40 people participated.

The participants wish to thank the Charlevoix Middle School administration for allowing the use of the gym.

Indoor Soccer will start again next November in the Middle School Gym, 7 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. Sundays, subject to school approval.

Outdoor Pick-Up Soccer is planned for 7 p.m. every Sunday, starting April 18 at Shannah field.

Drop-ins are welcome.

Lifelong scout

BY TINA SUNDELIUS
SPECIAL TO THE COURIER

"Be Prepared," the boy Scout motto, can be repeated, chanted as an oath with raised hand or etched in wood at multiple craft events but it normally isn't learned until the realization of remorse that hits home when it is not adhered to.

That is, unless the lesson is quietly transmitted through the masterful parallels drawn by a classic storyteller.

"Scouts is kind of like a quiet situation that develops because of your experience into success. You don't even know its happening," said lifelong scout and longtime Charlevoix resident Dave Phillips.

Phillips' story begins with a Granny Knot, named for its feebility, and ends with a Perfect Knot, the result of hard work and practice.

When Phillips presents a scout with an award he could simply give the award with a handshake or he could also present a small piece of knotted rope accompanied by a story, a story using knots, a Boy Scout trademark, as a metaphor for success.

The rope is tied to the scout's wrist with a square knot symbolizing his need to "square" himself with others and this is all eloquently presented in a form the scout can understand and will undoubtedly remember.

Phillips, the mastermind behind the world's largest cherry pie and Charlevoix's centennial film "The Reenactment of the Battle at Pine River," has been involved in the Boy Scouts since 1946.

As a child, Phillips said, "Scouting took us out of the city, away from the blacktop and into the fresh air."

He attained the rank of Eagle Scout in 1957 and then went off to school before joining the Army during Viet Nam.

He returned to Scouting in 1973 when his son became old enough to be a "Cubby."

He followed his son's scouting career through the Webelos then stayed as a Webelos leader for the next 10 years.

Presently Phillips has a grandson who is a "Cubby" and is working with the Cub Scouts having just recently returned from a Red Wing Scout recognition game and camporee at Cobo Hall.

Lifelong scout Dave Phillips of Charlevoix continues the tradition of scouting excellence by volunteering with the local troop.

nary Institute of America, Phillips' main role with the Scouts is to feed their bodies as well as their minds.

And, through his stories Phillips incorporates elements of scouting into practical life skills for the scouts.

"Stories seem to go over better than intense presentations," he said. "I'm not a hard sell kind of guy. If you catch a Scout off cuff he absorbs."

Do a Good Turn Daily is the Boy Scout slogan.

"The reason I stay and will continue to stay with the Boy Scouts of America is because their principles have not been feathered," said Phillips. "They have good principles so why change them?"

The Boy Scout pledges to be: "Trustworthy, loyal, helpful, friendly, courteous, kind, obedient, cheerful, thrifty, brave, clean, and reverent."

For Phillips perhaps humble should be added to the list of character qualities he has obtained.

"Two people who love me, my God and my wife, without them I wouldn't be creative or successful," said Phillips.

The Rayder Patrol, Troop 11, Charlevoix-Scenic Trails Council recently held an awards ceremony.

National Library Week

This week, April 11-17, schools, campuses and communities across the country celebrate National Library Week, a time to remind the public about the contribution libraries, librarians and library workers make to their communities every day.

Library use is up nationwide among all types of library users, continuing a decade-long trend, and it's easy to see why. Libraries are places where everyone can go to discover the world. People of all ages visit the library for entertainment, self-help or to find their place in the community. With free resources like books, magazines, DVDs and computer and wifi access, libraries help people find new jobs, do better in school, tackle projects and learn new ways to improve their health.

What makes the library unique is access to trained professionals - librarians - to help people find and interpret the information they need to make a difference in their lives. Our libraries also help keep us connected, providing a space for people of all ages, classes and races to come together, while keeping us connected to events and people around the world. It's where people can keep up with world events or research where to volunteer locally.

Here are just a few of the things you can do this week at the Charlevoix Public Library:

The Book Lady's Travel Guide to Library Land, 6:30 p.m. on Monday, April 12, librarian Beth Strawbridge will share the best fiction and non-fiction books about libraries.

Prom Dress Exchange, 4 p.m. to 7 p.m. Wednesday, April 14, visit the library to select and take home a prom dress for free! A variety of dresses will be available to try on in designated dressing rooms. If it fits, take it home.

Healthcare reform bill

"People are skeptical of the 1,000-page bill."

Boyko added, "More bureaucracy is not going to produce better medicine in the clinics and hospitals."

A June 21 2009, report by the World Health Organization ranked American health services 37th of 191 countries worldwide despite the fact that the peoples of the United States spend more collectively on healthcare services than any other country in the world.

British citizens spend far less on health care services yet are ranked 18th in the study.

The reasons some countries have problems with their health services, according to the WHO, include the following reasons:

Some health ministries focus on the public sector and often disregard the frequently much larger private sector health care.

Swenor's last ride

Charlevoix Elementary School Principal Dick Swenor, seen here on March 31, covered in whipped cream and jello next to a couple Charlevoix City firefighters, slid down a slide into a vat of the dessert as a reward for students who participated in March is Reading month. Swenor has had a long-standing tradition of performing a goofy stunt each spring to reward the kids for their hard work. Swenor has dressed as a mermaid while students threw water balloons at him and he even dressed as a dog and pulled students on a dogsled.

Emergency food and shelter grants awarded

Char-Em United Way and the Local Board of the federal Emergency Food and Shelter Program recently completed distribution of nearly $71,000 in federal funds to support local food and shelter programs in Charlevoix and Emmet Counties. United Way is the local administrator of the federal Emergency Food and Shelter Program (EFSP).

The Local EFSP board met recently to review requests for funds and award grants. Emmet County agencies received a total of $40,781 which will be distributed to the Women's Resource Center, Salvation Army, Manna Food Project, Brother Dan's Food Pantry, and St. Francis Church. In Charlevoix County $29,952 has been awarded to the Women's Resource Center, Salvation Army, Manna Food Project, Good Samaritan Family Services, East Jordan Care and Share, Boyne Valley Food Pantry, and the Seventh Day Adventist Boyne City Community Service Center.

"Unfortunately the funds that were available were slightly less than last year, despite the increased need in our community," says Martha Lancaster of United Way and Chair of the Local EFSP Board. "The funds to provide emergency shelter and food come from the Federal Emergency Management Agency and are distributed to counties based on unemployment rates."

The awards were made by a Local Board that is chaired by United Way and includes representatives from the Salvation Army, American Red Cross, Temple B'Nai Israel, Catholic Human Services, Emmanuel Episcopal Church, the Little Traverse Bay Band of Odawa Indians, both County Commissions, the Department of Human Services, both Community Foundations, and the Nehemiah Project.

"These funds will be used to expand the capacities of these local agencies to meet emergency needs for food and shelter," continues Lancaster. "Demand on local pantries and agencies providing rent and utility assistance have increased as much as three-fold over the past year. The EFSP helps meet that need, and United Way is pleased make this possible by administering the program."

For more information, contact United Way at 487-1006 or info@charunitedway.org.

New business aims at bargain hunters

BY BENJAMIN GOHS
EDITOR

For many the mystique of open air vendors, flea markets and simple garage sales comes from the thrill of the hunt.

For others, it is the potential for a bargain or finding that unique item which drives people like Dave Balyo.

"This will be a weekend public market open Fridays, Saturdays and Sundays," said the new owner of Charlevoix Trade Center LLC located at 05968 South US 31 in Charlevoix.

Anyone can rent a space, which start as low as $7 per day for an eight-foot table, and sell their wares.

"People can sell anything they can fit on the table or in their booth," Balyo said. "It should be exciting to get a bunch of people together in the same place at the same time offering a large variety of items."

Balyo said about the only things he won't allow for sale are guns and cars.

"Antiques, appliances, crafts, tools, outdoor items — anything you might see at a garage sale or a trade show," he said.

In addition to over an acre of outdoor space, a 40-foot by 60-foot-space of which will be protected by an overhead tent, Balyo has a large building with heat and electricity for vendors who prefer to conduct their business indoors.

Inside there will be 6-foot by 12-foot booths available for rental.

Balyo said he has at least 50 spaces available indoors.

The market space will be open from noon to 7 p.m. on Fridays and 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Saturdays and Sundays.

Balyo, who owns Green-skeeper Landscape Maintenance and UHaul Rental in Charlevoix, became interested in trade shows and flea markets while working with a large marketplace in the 1980s.

Balyo said he has had interest from carpet remnant purveyors, shoe store owners and more.

Opening day is April 23. "I don't know what the weather will be, but we will have heated spaces indoors if it doesn't cooperate," Balyo said.

Balyo moved to Charlevoix with his family from the Detroit area 10 years ago.

"I wanted to have a nice place for the kids to grow up and go to school and ... we really enjoy the area," he said. "I've been fortunate in my success in the landscape business and with UHaul and I am really excited to see how this new venture goes."

Balyo added, "I may even be hiring a few employees if this really takes off."

New business is 'A Matter of Taste'

There is a new restaurant in downtown Charlevoix with an emphasis on goodness and love.

The grand opening of "A Matter of Taste," located at 208 Bridge St. was April 3.

The chef and owner Ginny McCallum offered complimentary samples along with their dinner specials.

The restaurant's display cases are now filled with salads, appetizers, baked goods, pastries and chocolates.

They offer both elegant carryout and catering.

McCallum is a culinary graduate and uses many of the local favorite ingredients including fresh fish from John Cross Fisheries, dried cherries, local produce and the like.

"Our menu items are made with recipes acquired during our world travel, and the most scrumptious baked goods your mouth has ever experienced," she said. "At a Matter of Taste we keep it Simple, wholesome and true — Carefully prepared with goodness and Love."

The theme of the new restaurant is American cuisine with a gourmet flare using only the freshest ingredients.

McCallum is married with two boys ages 5 and 9.

They relocated from Clarkston Michigan six years ago where McCallum owned a used machinery and equipment sales office.

After 20-plus years in the machinery business, she and her husband decided to move to Charlevoix and use her culinary degree, along with her passion for cooking.

McCallum said she came to Charlevoix for a "simpler more enjoyable life" doing what she loves and giving her children a wonderful atmosphere and community in which to grow up.

Readily available to everyone Family donates Beaver Island property to keep it natural

After a family vacation to Beaver Island in 1971, the Stoffregen family was inspired to dream of some day having a winter, the family donated their 20 acres of Beaver Island to Little Traverse Conservancy, a non-profit land trust based to everyone. And I am certain that they would be happy and proud to know that our former property on Beaver Island is now part of the public trust."

The donated land is completely forested and fully in its natural state with no structures present. Conservancy Land Protection Specialist Ty Ratliff expressed the Conservancy's gratitude to the Stoffregen family. "This family's main concern has been to have the land stay wild and natural," Ratliff said. Ratliff noted that because it lies adjacent to state land, a future possibility is to have the state add it to their holdings, and the family is agreeable with this option. "We are currently working with staff from the state to determine who best should own and care for this property," Ratliff said.

Since 1972, the Little Traverse Conservancy has been working as the oldest regional, non-profit land trust in Michigan. With the support of more than 4,000 members, the Little Traverse Conservancy works with private landowners and units of local government to permanently protect ecologically significant and scenic lands from development. Since it was founded, more than 40,000 acres and 103 miles of shoreline along our region's lakes, rivers, and streams have been set aside to remain in their natural state within Charlevoix, Cheboygan, Emmet, Mackinac, and Chippewa counties. cabin on the island. In fact, parents David and Jean Stoffregen purchased twenty acres on the east side of the island to keep the dream alive. "My folks were averse to commercialization and over-development and so of course found Beaver Island very much to their liking," said son Roger. "They enjoyed the unspoiled landscapes and the curious history of the place, such as the Monnon settlement and Protar's tomb. It was very much their cup of tea."

However, with home base in Cincinnati, island visits were not as frequent as hoped. The family would camp on the land from time to time, but the cabin was not to be. This past

LIBRARY EVENTS

Weekly events

The Charlevoix Public Library is pleased to announce its spring computer training classes. All library computer training takes place in the Cooling Computer Lab at the Charlevoix Public Library, from 10:30 a.m. to noon. Internet Tricks will be held March 24, to learn how to search the Internet. E-mail Basics will be held March 26, to teach how to send and reply to e-mails and how to organize e-mails and work with attachments.

Once the beginner has mastered these basic computer skills, the library staff invites them to move on to the intermediate level classes hosted by the library. These classes are for those who have taken the library's basic course, or can use a mouse and search the Internet. Microsoft Excel 2007, on April 27 and 29 will focus on creating a basic spreadsheet and utilizing formulas. Managing Your PC will held May 11 and 13 and teach computer file organization, customizing the desk top and the importance of back-ups.

Ask the Techie has been developed for people who have basic hardware or software questions about their laptops, the first Thursday of each month, 10 a.m. to noon. The Library has volunteers who will be on hand for 30 minute appointments to help answer some of your questions. Call for your appointment, 237-7340.

The instructors ask that all students register for computer classes by calling 237-7340.

Story-Time is 10:30 a.m. on Thursdays for all children birth to 5 and their caregivers.

Writer's Group is 6 p.m. on Wednesdays for all writers.

Quilters and Friends meet the third Thursday of the month from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. This group of quilters and other fiber art enthusiasts is set up as a workgroup, so bring along your current fiber project and all the equipment you need (yes, even your sewing machine!) and enjoy the company of friends. The group facilitator is Sue Dixon.

Northern Michigan Textile Artists meets the third Wednesday of the month, from 1 p.m. to 3 p.m. Join local fiber artist, Kathie Briggs for discussion of projects and ideas.

The Scrapbookers meet the fourth Saturday of the month from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Treat yourself to a full day away from home to work on your photos with group facilitator, Sheila Davis and other like minded scrap-pers.

The Book Talkers meet regularly throughout the year at 6 p.m. on Monday evenings. Beth Strawbridge facilitates this group. Call the library for upcoming dates and titles, 237-7340.

APRIL 14

Prom dress exchange

The Charlevoix Public Library is inviting teens to the Prom Dress Exchange from 4 p.m. to 7 p.m. on Wednesday, April 14.

This is the place for teens to select, try on, and go home with the perfect dress for prom — and it's free.

A variety of dresses will be available to try on in designated dressing rooms.

If it fits, and you like it, take it home.

"Like new" dresses have been donated from previous prom attendees.

If you or someone you know has a formal dress hanging unused in a closet, now's the time to clean it out and donate it to the library so someone else can wear it.

Dresses are accepted, on a hanger, in "like new" condition at the Youth Department of the Charlevoix Public Library, 220 W. Clinton St.

For more information about this or other library programs call 237-7350.

Those looking for free parking may want to stick with the board game Monopoly, because they will likely no longer find any spots at no cost in the DeWitt lot off Park Avenue. City officials cite a lack of turnover as the need for implementation of a paid model and enforcement of such.

"Upon seeking city council's input regarding enforcement of that lot ... they made it clear they wish to see it become a pay-for-parking lot," said Charlevoix Downtown Development Authority executive director Keith Carey. "We've identified several types of users we cater to: daily shoppers, employees, long-term parkers, folks who may be traveling to Beaver Island who may wish to park a vehicle for several hours at a time. With those kinds of constituencies in mind ... the city manager and chief of police and I came up with several different options that we are looking into."

Various enforcement aids include traditional coin-operated pipe-style meters all the way up to the new digital meters which can send a message to your phone when your time is running low.

"I think it's a good idea to have a system where there is some turnover in the lot and doesn't get filled up with cars of people going to Beaver Island or people who work

Students attending the 2010-2011 school year at St. Mary School will have a new principal.

Keisha Verysier, 33, recently resigned from her position at St. Mary School of Charlevoix citing personal reasons.

"I respect her wishes to resign for personal reasons and I hope others will respect that," said Fr. Gerry Hunko of St. Mary Church of Charlevoix of Verysier's March 19 resignation.

Hunko has been named interim principal until a replacement can be found.

Verysier began working with the school in September 2006.

"I quit due to personal reasons," Verysier said.

"That's all I want to say at this point. I left for me and my family; there really isn't anymore to say."

She added, "I appreciate the fact that most people respect my privacy."

Verysier replaced principal Janet Troppman who left for a position at Traverse City St. Francis schools.

ACCIDENT

On Thursday April 1, 2010 Deputies from the Charlevoix County Sheriff's Office were dispatched to a Personal Injury Accident (PIA) on US-131 near Bauman Rd. in Melrose Township.

The crash occurred at 8:50 PM and was called in by a passer-by. The crash involved a southbound 1987 Chevy pickup truck being driven by 45 year old Kevin Ray of Mancelona, MI. Kevin Ray and his girlfriend, 35 year old Jennifer Youmans of Central Lake, MI had just left the Odawa Casino in Petoskey, MI.

Kevin Ray says he lost control of the vehicle while trying to retrieve a bottle of soda from the floorboard. While searching for the soda bottle, the vehicle crossed the center line, ran off the roadway to the left and struck a tree on the northbound side of US-131.

Kevin Ray was evaluated on-scene by the Boyne City Ambulance but refused further treatment. Passenger Jennifer Youmans was treated by Melrose Township First Responder and was transported to Northern Michigan Hospital by the Boyne City Ambulance.

Youmans was evaluated at NMH for head and neck pain but was discharged within a couple of hours of the crash.

"From my perspective, parking is not a huge issue in downtown Charlevoix except for maybe 10 or 12 days of the year."

He added, "I spent 20 years in downtown Ann Arbor where the parking is a nightmare, so parking around here seems pretty easy in comparison."

A tentative proposal Carey is working on could include up to five spaces allotted to be leased for several months of the summer on a first-come, first-serve basis for approximately $200.

The proposal may also in-

"It's simply become too costly to purchase and maintain traditional meters at a cost of over $500 per."

KEITH CAREY,
CHARLEVOIX DDA DIRECTOR

clude a state of the art digital kiosk parking meter which would keep track of nearly 40 parking spaces in the DeWitt lot. Customers could pay by cash, change or credit/debit card and receive a paper slip as proof of the transaction.

Traditional parking meters cost upwards of $550 each making the cost of metering 40-plus spaces over $20,000.

Carey said a pay and display style digital parking lot monitor runs closer to $13,500.

"It's simply become too costly to purchase and maintain traditional meters at a cost of over $500 per," Carey said. "We're still looking into all the details of a pay and display style monitor, but we're confident we can have something in place by this summer by the time the season really picks up."

The DeWitt parking lot project will be the final phase in the Park Avenue street and sewer infrastructure project which began shortly after the demolition by fire of the 108 Park Ave. house located on the footprint of the DeWitt lot.

The nearly $800,000 street and sewer project had the DeWitt lot project added to it in an effort to lower the cost of the parking project.

Officials could not say how much the parking project will cost, but the City of Charlevoix has allocated at least $50,000 from its downtown parking fund for it.

Carey said he will return to council with a finalized proposal once the research phase of the project is finished in coming weeks.

Word battle benefits college students

BY BENJAMIN GOHS
EDITOR

Teams of up to four will compete for a trophy and the chance to help college students achieve their dreams.

Proceeds from the second annual North Central Michigan College Spelling Bee-nefit will go to the East Jordan Lake Street Center Scholarship Fund which pays the difference between out of area tuition and in area tuition for students attending Northern Central's Lake Street Center extension office in East Jordan.

"There are really no age restrictions on the spelling bee - from middle school age to adult," said North Central program assistant Susan Cannon.

"One team member is designated the captain and when it comes to your turn you get one minute to confer and discuss your answer before the captain spells it and then the judges say yes or no."

Registration forms are preferred by April 16, but late entries will be taken up to the event.

Call (231) 536-9702 for more information. Since 2006, North Central Michigan College has given more than $26,000 to 135 East Jordan students attending the Lake Street Center.

The fund was created by East Jordan people and business owners to help college students in need with costs.

Eligible students must live in East Jordan and attend the Lake Street Center.

Cannon said even if companies do not wish to form a team, they are welcome to sponsor a team.

"It's a night of fun and laughter and ... everyone had a great time last year," she said.

Send your $100 entry fee to the NCMC Foundation: Spelling Bee-nefit, 1515 Howard St., Petoskey, MI 49770.

The event is scheduled for 6:30 p.m. to 8 p.m. on Wednesday April 21 at East Jordan High School's auditorium.

There is no limit on how many teams may register.

Registration forms are available at East Jordan High School, East Jordan Chamber of Commerce or on the Web at www.ncmich.edu. Click on the large bee icon.

Completed forms may be returned to the Lake Street Center at 115 South Lake St. in East Jordan.

A preliminary round, which will last an hour, will decide which teams will continue to championship play later that night.

The team with the most points will receive a traveling trophy.

Support the Circle of Strength EDITORIAL

This year's Circle of Strength cancer awareness fashion show and fundraiser will be held from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m. at Charlevoix Public Library in the large group rooms. Pictured (above) is one of the featured models for the fashion show, Mel Majoros.

We just can't say enough good things about the upcoming Circle of Strength fashion show fundraiser and cancer awareness event.

Now in its second year, the show features models, some of whom have battled cancer, during an afternoon of fun, fashion and great food.

Proceeds from the event will benefit those in need of access to cancer care such as screenings and support in the area.

This year's event is from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m. on Saturday April 24 at Charlevoix Public Library.

An additional treat is that one of the featured models will be Mel Majoros from WMKT 1270

AM Radio's The Vic McCarty Show.

Majoros, a survivor of cancer herself, has agreed to model fashions at the event in support of those who have, will or are currently battling the dreadful disease.

With so many community groups reaching out for support, it is nice to see the Circle of Strength finding a new way to reach out to people for support and education.

For more information about this year's event, call Kathy Jacobsen, RN and the Charlevoix Area Hospital Community Health Education director at 547-8906.

Forget the vacation, master the art of the stay-cation

It's spring break in Charlevoix and something different is going on.

What's noticeable is the amount of people I see staying in town and the number of visitors taking in Northern Michigan who otherwise would be traveling out of the state.

This is usually a time when the only movements are cars driving by our local burger and ice cream take outs waiting for them to open up.

A sure sign that spring has arrived.

That and when the fire department washes away the remains of winter with their fire hoses.

Spring break for families who have decided to have a "stay-cation" are taking in the wonders of our library, catching matinees at the movie theater and enjoying the outdoors when it's not raining now mix. Cities north and south of us have seen quite the influx of tourists this spring break with more and more of us settling in to staying within the state rather than spending money traveling to someplace where there isn't a need to wear a turtle neck and wool socks in the spring.

When you think about it, this move not only saves cash but saves on stress as well. No one asking you to toss your keys into a container while removing your shoes, and gosh if you're driving a great distance there's not comparing where you can get the best deal on gas with or without the case of oranges to go with it.

This may continue to be the wave of the future for the next few years as the economy has not returned to what we had hoped for.

Some of our readers may be just returning from a family vacation when they pick up this paper.

Welcome home, I'm glad you made it back safe and sound, but do you now feel like you could use a vacation to rest up a bit?

Not being fond of body scans and baggage inspections it's a nice break to stay home for a vacation once in awhile.

Yes, some of us long to see someplace far away but we can live vicariously through our friends who regale about their trips when they return.

Not quite the same as a trip but its fun hearing their about adventures they share during this time away from home.

I like to encourage others to experience seeing new places and meeting new people but if money and time don't permit, plan the perfect trip at a later date when you've saved for it and won't have the concern of overspending.

If you decide to have a stay-cation there may be the temptation to work from home especially with the ease of technology, but try to refrain from doing so.

This is a time to refresh and renew. Focus on yourself and your family. If you have some money to spend, use it on local businesses and give them a boost. Many area hotels run deals during the spring, especially ones with indoor pools and water slides. Why not send a few postcards while you're at it.

Many area hotels run deals during the spring, especially ones with indoor pools and water slides. Why not send a few postcards while you're at it.

If you decide this may be the time to finish up a home improvement project, now you'll have the time to finish it and you can enjoy what you've accomplished when you return to your daily routine. Try not extending yourself with too many chores around the house because you'll still want to feel rested.

Travel is a good thing and I think everyone could value from a little reality check of what goes on elsewhere in the world, but it's nice to know what's available to do in your own neighborhood.

I'll guarantee you that travel envy will diminish when you hear the stories of lost luggage and money spent on things that will end up in the summer garage sales.

Memories created with a 'stay-cation can be just as memorable as ones spent on the road. If you are unable to get away realize its okay and create a fun, relaxing time enjoying what's available nearby. It might not be a vacation of a lifetime but it can be the best vacation ever that is worry free and really isn't that what a vacation is all about?

GOOD NEWS ON HEALTHCARE

Editor:
There is good news regarding the recently passed healthcare.

Bart Stupak will be viewed differently by the voters in the 1st District of Michigan. Voters will realize he has been a solid liberal vote for the Democrat party for ten years with the exception of the abortion issue, but only when his vote was not an important factor. With the healthcare abortion issue he often stated that he wanted to vote for the bill except for the abortion issue. Reading between the lines it seemed he was looking for a way to climb off the branch he had climbed out of with his strong stand regarding abortion. They were willing to give him what he asked to get his block of votes because the House leadership knew it would not stand. When it came back for a vote as the Senate approved vote, Stupak remained in the spotlight. It looked like he was standing firm until he caved fast just before the final vote to pass the bill. There is an argument why he caved; 1) the $700,000 U.P. airports were given; 2) there was an ethical problem of his housing that was going to be investigated (until he voted for the bill); 3) the fig leaf, of executive order that was presented to him by Obama, which did not upset the most pro-abortion party members because everyone but Stupak seemed to think it was a meaningless gesture.

He voted for the cap and trade bill earlier which would drive up fuel bills & power bills as admitted by Obama during the campaign and it certainly would be hard on his constituents with the increase of gas prices of at least $1 per gallon because of the distance most must drive for almost anything. It would effect employment in his district because of the restricted vacations taken place among his District.

He voted to expand the Hate Crime Bill with liberal Congressman John Conyers which seems to only help homosexuals and Muslims to use the courts to silence critics who only report the teachings of the bible or the Koran.

If an informed electorate is not important; there are two declared Republicans looking to run against Stupak in the general election. The good news, from early indications, is that neither of these candidates have been blessed by the elites of the Republican First District; which means either or both could be pro-life candidates, something that was never seemed important to the above mentioned Republican elites. Another strong factor is that it would seem at least is not a lawyer or a politician. Could we have a real live possible opponent against a diminished incumbent? Wouldn't it be fitting for a Republican candidate to defeat the incumbent Stupak without the blessing of the elites of the Republican Party?

VOLUNTEER WEEK

Editor:
As an unknown writer said, "When work, commitment and pleasure all become one and you reach that deep well where passion lives, nothing is impossible."

The volunteers of the Women's Resource Center of Northern Michigan, Inc. (WRC) are a shining example of how passion translates into possibility.

The WRC was founded in 1977 by community members who had a dream of building an agency committed to equality, justice and the well-being of women in Northern Michigan.

Their passion bloomed into the formation of the organization's multitude of human service programs and lives on 33 years later through the hard work and commitment of the many volunteers who continue to actively support the agency.

During National Volunteer Week, April 18 to 24, the WRC celebrates the many accomplishments of our volunteer team.

Over 4,800 hours of service were donated to the agency in the past year through the dedication of our volunteers.

Our volunteer staff support families at the Safe Home, ring up sales and stock merchandise at the Gold Mine Resale Shops, serve on the Board of Directors, assist with agency mailings, answer the 24-hour crisis phone line, style hair at the Safe Home, do facility upkeep and maintenance, and other important tasks.

Our volunteers touch the lives of hundreds of individuals and families served by the WRC in Antrim, Charlevoix, Cheboygan, Emmet, and Otsego counties.

Last year alone, the WRC provided safety and advocacy to 595 victims of domestic abuse in Northern Michigan including 2,727 nights of housing provided to 167 women and children at the Safe Home. The support of our volunteers plays a critical role in the agency's ability to provide these vital services to those in need.

We salute the passion and possibility that WRC volunteers bring to our organization and community!

OBITUARIES

Richard A. Brachel: April 3, 1913 - April 3, 2010

Richard A. Brachel, 97, of Charlevoix died Saturday, April 3 at Boulder Park Terrace in Charlevoix.

Richard was born on April 3, 1913 in Detroit, the son of Anthony and Mary Anna (Kontowski) Brachel. He grew up in Detroit.

He served in the United States Army in the 75th Tank Battalion in the Asiatic Pacific Theater during World War II.

Richard worked for Boise Cascade Corporation for 20 year and worked as a metal finisher for 20 years.

He came to Charlevoix in 1983. He was a very quiet gentle man who enjoyed woodworking and watching golf. He loved helping his kids.

He is survived by his wife, Florence Brachel of Charlevoix; children, Richard (Rosemarie) Brachel of Charlevoix, Philip Kluczynski of Charlevoix and Paul (Marge) Durak of Rochester; grandchildren, Brian (Kathy) Brachel of Charlevoix, Cheryl (Ray) Babisch of Clinton Township, Kevin (Colette) Brachel of Allen Park, Daniel (Sandy) Brachel of Clinton Township, Brad (Lora) Kluczynski of Brooklyn, Jodi Kluczynski of Brooklyn, Jodi Kluczynski of Benzon, Danielle (Scott) Russell of Birmingham, Michele (Dion) Spurr of Clinton Township; 12 great-grandchildren, two great-grandchildren; former daughter-in-law, Barbara Kluczynski of Charlevoix; and family friend, Karen Stankevich of Charlevoix.

He was preceded in death by three brothers and one sister.

Private visitation and services will be held.

Memorials may be directed to the Charlevoix County Humane Society.

Arrangements were handled by the Winchester Funeral Home in Charlevoix.

Jarl Herman Brey: Nov. 10, 1939 - March 27, 2010

Jarl Herman Brey died peacefully March 27, 2010 at the Hiland Hospice Cottage in Petoskey.

He was born Nov. 10, 1939 to Herman and Doris (Streb) Brey in Detroit.

He graduated from Catholic Central High School in Grand Rapids and Ferris State University in Big Rapids.

He married Patricia Reetz in 1964 and moved from Michigan to Omaha, NE where he was employed as Sales Manager for Truesdell Distributing.

In 1977 he moved to Denver and in 1978 founded Mid-America Industries.

He married Christine Halverson in 1979. In 1994, the family moved to Sioux Falls, SD.

Jarl truly enjoyed hunting and fishing and bemoaned the fact that he never took enough time off to do more.

The family has had a summer home on his much loved Lake Charlevoix for 20 years.

He was a member of the Hiawatha Sportsmen's Club in the U.P. of Michigan for much of his adult life.

He will always be remembered for his kindness and generosity of spirit. Jarl had an uncanny knack for finding great "deals" on any and everything his friends needed or wanted.

Survivors include his wife Christine; daughters: Lauren Brey Knoblauch, Anastasia (Michael) Wehling; sons Marc (Barbara) Brey, Christopher Brey, all of Omaha and Andrew Brey, Charlevoix; five grandchildren: John, Benjamin and Maximilian Wehling, Kimball Ann and Mare William Brey Jr.; brothers Harold Brey, Hudsonville, MI and Gary Brey, Sarasota, FL. A memorial service will be held at a later date in Grand Rapids.

Memorials may be directed to Michigan Parkinson Foundation, 30300 Telegraph Road, Suite 150, Bingham Farms, MI 48025 and the Hiland Hospice Cottage of Little Traverse Bay, One Hiland Drive, Petoskey, MI 49970.

John Homady named veteran of the month

Homady

The "Veteran of the Month" for April 2010 is John Richard Homady.

Born on April 17, 1930, in Barnesboro, Pa., he grew up in Marsteller, Pa. and attended school in Spangler, Pa. graduating from Spangler High School in June of 1948.

On July 10, 1948 Homady enlisted in the Navy entering into active service in Pittsburgh, Pa. and following basic training, at The U.S. Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, Illinois, he was promoted to Radioman Seaman Recruit.

On Oct. 20, 1948 he was transferred to Radioman Class "A" School, U.S. Naval Base, Norfolk, Va. and graduated on Feb. 26, 1949, and was assigned to the U.S.S. Norris (DDE 859), a Destroyer Escort Class Ship. Homady was later reassigned to the U.S.S. Fiske (DD 842), a Destroyer Class Ship, with ports of call in Venice, Italy on Sept. 20, 1949 and later in China and Korea.

On July 9, 1952, at The U.S. Naval Training Station, Naval Base, Newport, Rhode Island, Homady received an Honorable Discharge having attained the rating of Radioman 3rd Class and was awarded the following Decorations, Medals, Commendations, Citations and Campaign Ribbons:

The Navy Occupation Service Medal with Asiatic Clasp, The Korean Service Medal and The China Service Medal.

Returning home to Marsteller, Pa., a small mining town, Homady went to the Detroit area going to work as a longshoreman for Cramer Brothers Incorporated for two years and later he worked for Dodge Automotive Glass Company.

On May 22, 1954 Homady married Peggy Jane Forrest at Saint Henry's Catholic Church in Lincoln Park and they made their home in Livonia.

In 1962 he went to work for The Ford Motor Corporation and attended Ford Community College in Dearborn, Mich., under the GI Bill of Rights, graduating with an Associates Degree in Engineering and was assigned to The Ford Transmission Plant in Livonia where he worked until May of 1987, later retiring due to failing health.

In 1992 Homady built a retirement home northeast of Charlevoix and in February of 1993, he moved his family north.

Homady enjoyed fishing, hunting, making rosaries, traveling, walks in the woods, riding his all terrain vehicle, but especially he enjoyed spending quality time with his grandchildren, children and his family.

On Jan. 5, Homady answered the final call and is being honored by his wife Peggy, children, grandchildren and their families.

To honor a veteran, call the program chairman at (231) 536-2447 or on Saturdays call 582-7811 between 3 p.m. and 8 p.m.

The ceremony may be witnessed at 6:15 p.m. on the first Thursday of each month in front of The American Legion Post located on the corner of Lake and Main in Boyne City.

The finer points of the new health law

BY BENJAMIN GOHS
EDITOR

Saltonstall

If you haven't read the recently passed 2,400-page healthcare reform bills you're not alone.

And, while there has been much speculation on what exactly is contained in the new law, many of even the most savvy politicians on both sides of the aisle know little about this landmark legislation.

Due to the complexity of the new law and the far-reaching implications it will likely carry, Charlevoix Courier will attempt to unearth as much unbiased information as is possible in a series of articles on healthcare reform.

This second piece will serve as an overview of the new health care legislation.

"Healthcare reform will create a real difference in Michigan's First District with provisions that extend healthcare coverage to 44,000 uninsured residents, protect 1,100 families from bankruptcy due to unaffordable health care costs, grow jobs by extending tax credits to small businesses, and improve Medicare for 141,000 beneficiaries, including closing the donut hole," said First Congressional District Candidate Connie Saltonstall (D-Charlevoix) in response to the bill's passing. "And let's not forget, healthcare reform is also about jobs — about saving auto plants in Michigan from having to move jobs to Canada to save $7.25 an hour in healthcare costs."

A measure aimed at helping people avoid bankruptcy would also cap out-of-pocket spending for catastrophic claims at $6,200 for single adults and $12,300 for a family of four.

People with lower incomes would see a lower ceiling on out-of-pocket costs.

Those who qualify for Med-

"I have had friends who did not have insurance and had to go into bankruptcy to pay for services."

BILL LOVETT,
CHAIR, CHARLEVOIX COUNTY DEMOCRATIC PARTY

icaid will have no premiums and little to no out-of-pocket costs.

"I've had health insurance continuously through my life and I took lower paid positions at times rather than going without because I thought it was vitally important to have health insurance," said Charlevoix County Democratic Party Chairman Bill Lovett. "But, I have had friends who did not have insurance and had to go into bankruptcy to pay for services."

He added, "That is a terrible indictment on an industrialized country we live in."

While President Barack Obama signed an executive order prohibiting the use of federal dollars for abortions under the new health care law, there are plenty of things which will be covered.

Following is a guaranteed set of health benefits:

- Ambulatory patient services
- Emergency services
- Hospitalization
- Maternity and newborn care
- Mental Health and substance use disorder services, including behavioral health treatments
- Prescription drugs
- Rehabilitative and habilitative services and devices
- Laboratory services
- Preventive and wellness services and chronic disease management
- Pediatric services, including oral and vision care

Authors of the healthcare bill say the new law will help curb the skyrocketing cost of insurance.

The average cost of an insurance policy in 2009 was $13,375, more than double what it would have cost in 1996.

In 2007, nearly 60 percent of personal bankruptcy filings were related to medical costs.

More than 47 million Americans are uninsured and family premiums are expected to jump to $23,842 by 2020.

Small businesses pay up to 18 percent more for medical insurance packages than their larger counterparts. America spent nearly $2.5 trillion on medical services and health insurance in 2009 — that's $8,093 per person.

Charlevoix County Republican Party Chairman Tim Boyko (R-Charlevoix), also running for the 105th District Michigan House of Representatives seat, said the high cost of health care is as much to blame on poor choices as it is on a system in need of reform.

"I talk a lot about personal responsibility," he said, pointing to his wife's 11 points to help lower health care costs.

Susan Boyko, Tim's wife, is a Registered Nurse with more than 20 years of experience in the healthcare industry. Her plan includes finding a good primary care doctor or nurse practitioner, utilizing free clinics and wellness programs.

"Make health a priority in your home. A healthy diet, exercise and stress management will prevent many of the health problems that cost a lot of money to treat," Susan states. "Budget for checkups with your primary health care provider and medications."

And, she adds, "Be smart about medications. Ask for generic medicines and free samples. Your doctor can help you access pharmacy company programs that provide free or discounted medicines."

Beware the signs and symptoms of bullying

FAITHFUL SERVANT

Stephen Guthrie

As I write this piece it is April 6, 2010, one year to the day since Carl Walker Hoover of Springfield, Mass., wrapped an electrical cord around his neck and than enduring another day at school. Before you shrug this off as a tragic but isolated event, I should point out to you that in the week leading up to the one year anniversary of Carl's suicide three other children chose to take the suicide escape route.

Shortly after an eight year old boy in Houston jumped from a building, 13-year-old Jon Carmichael of Joshua, Texas hanged himself in a barn after enduring weeks of harassment over his small stature.

And then there was Phoebe Prince, who moved from Ireland to Massachusetts only to become the target of a group of self-described "mean girls" and boys. These classmates, about 15 in all, systematically tormented her. After weeks of taunts, threats, assaults, name-calling, exclusion, and cyber-bullying she hanged herself.

Her tormentors have been charged with criminal offenses, including statutory rape.

Nearly every adult I know recalls being bullied in the years leading up to high school, the time when bullying is most prevalent.

Each was bullied in one of three traditional ways.

First there is physical bullying, in which a larger kid intimidates, threatens, and does violent physical harm to another child that is usually smaller and unable to defend themselves.

Second is verbal bullying, in which a larger kid intimidates, threatens, and does violent physical harm to another child that is usually smaller and unable to defend themselves.

Third is social bullying, in which a larger kid intimidates, threatens, and does violent physical harm to another child that is usually smaller and unable to defend themselves.

There are those in Charlevoix who believe the troubles that beset the rest of society can't happen here, that we are somehow immune or special.

But bullying is a reality for our kids.

They can list the bullies by name, and the victims who are the favorite targets.

It's baffling that in a society in which we seem keen on dealing with hate crimes, we allow the hate crime of bullying to become the daily norm for our children.

Parents describe to me a mindset here that dismisses bullying as a rite of passage in the middle school years, and routinely brushes off reports of bullying with a "boys will be boys" shrug.

Victims tell me that telling an adult often leads nowhere.

For young people across America, suicide is becoming a legitimate, even honorable, alternative to being bullied.

We must confront this hate crime for the sake of our kids, and not let bullying happen here.

Stephen Guthrie directs Christian Counseling Services in Charlevoix. By appointment at 675-4682.

I've worked with kids who feign sickness to avoid the bully on the school bus.

I've worked with kids who will avoid going to the bathroom all the school day for fear of who's waiting in there.

I've worked with kids who've experienced depression, anxiety, nightmares, bed-wetting, spontaneous crying, lost appetite, and acid reflux, all in response to being bullied.

There are those in Charlevoix who believe the troubles that beset the rest of society can't happen here, that we are somehow immune or special.

Stop in and see what's new!

Homeless share stories through art

BY BENJAMIN GOHS
EDITOR

What began with homeless laborers working at a Lansing shelter has become a state-wide traveling art exhibit enroute to Charlevoix.

"Your Story and Mine: A Community of Hope" will feature paintings, poetry, photographs and more from current and former homeless individuals in an exhibit from April 21 through May 7 at Charlevoix Public Library.

"The idea actually happened by accident," said Susan Cancro executive director of Advent House Ministries in Lansing.

Cancro said after fixing up a room in the shelter they decided to dedicate a hall with art produced by their homeless "guests."

Cancro shared the idea with some colleagues and the project was born.

"We thought it would be nice to have our guests create art and transfer it on the walls," she said. "It just exploded into a proposal we brought before the humanities council and as we developed a grant we thought it would be wonderful to take the exhibit on the road and share it with others."

Cancro said libraries were natural hosts since they so often act as informal safe zones for the homeless who may find shelters at night but must find someplace to dwell during the day.

"It helps us see this is a human being and you realize it can happen to anybody."

SUSAN CANCRO,
DIRECTOR ADVENT HOUSE MINISTRIES

"There is a whole other aspect of it (the project) which involves oral histories which we filmed and we hoped would open up dialogue in communities," said Toni Townshend, literacy director for Advent House Ministries. "The oral history aspect of this project meets the standard for social studies for Michigan so we were hoping educators would also be involved and in fact that sort of thing is happening."

At 6:30 p.m. on April 21 at Charlevoix Public Library, Martha Bloomfield will host a presentation about homelessness in conjunction with this art exhibit.

A joint project between Advent House and the Michigan Historical Museum, Your Story and Mine: A Community of Hope, will have been traveling for nearly a year when it ends its run later this fall.

Cancro said if nothing else, she hopes the exhibit will help people avoid the tendency to minimize the effects of homelessness.

"One thing that can happen when someone else is at risk in a community and appears to be different than other people; that person can be seen as less than human," she said. "When we have this kind of exhibit and see their work or hear their story, it helps us see this is a human being and you realize it can happen to anybody."

Cancro added, "It creates a greater sense of humanity among us all and helps us feel more connected to those homeless and less of a stigma in the community."

Cancro said the uplifting stories she has seen are proof that people can survive terrible events and go on to greater things.

"We had a gentleman that was in transitional housing and rehabilitation who was a terribly talented artist and he also played guitar," Townshend said. "He didn't write lyrics because he can't write, but he made them up in his head and he played guitar on the street corner for money to buy food. He totally grew under this program and he got a job and an apartment and now he sells his art in the historic part of Lansing — people are buying them and hanging them up."

The new law dictates that medical insurance packages will come in bronze, silver, gold and platinum with varying levels of coverage and costs depending upon your income.

The bronze plan will include "essential benefits and minimum cost-sharing protections where the plan covers 60 percent of the full value of the benefits."

Silver includes, "essential benefits with more generous cost-sharing protections than the Bronze plan where the plan covers 70 percent of the full value of the benefits."

Gold plan includes, "essential benefits with more generous cost-sharing protections than the Silver plan where the plan covers 80 percent of the full value of the benefits."

And, platinum plan consists of "essential benefits with more generous cost-sharing protections than the Gold plan where the plan covers 90 percent of the full value of the benefits."

Out-of-pocket expenses for preventative care are to be eliminated as well as caps on spending for individuals and families in new healthcare plans.

The new law is also supposed to end lifetime or annual limits of coverage for all. If your income is higher than what the Medicaid threshold allows, you may

Health law's immediate measures

- Coverage for uninsured with pre-existing conditions.
- Tax credit for small businesses — up to 35 percent of employer contribution/25 percent for nonprofits
- Preventative health services for all new group health plans
- Extending coverage of adult children to age 26
- Insurance companies must report cost to earnings and give rebates to customers where excessive medical loss ratios occur
- A temporary insurance program for people 55 to 64 will be created for companies which offer early retiree medical coverage

If you missed out on last month's Business After Hours, you missed out! Sponsored and hosted by Whitney's of Charlevoix, on St. Patrick's Day, March 17th, it was the social event of the month. In addition to delicious hor d'oeuvres and festive fare, there was record attendance with over 200 people! Thank you to Chuck and Gina Whitney and their staff for their preparation and hard work. Business After Hours is a premier networking opportunity for area businesses. Scheduled for the third Wednesday of the month, the next event is April

The 2010 Chamber Car Raffle Is In!

As you drive past Bridge Park, you will notice that there is a new addition to the park's landscape. It isn't a tree or shrub, it is a 2010 Jeep Wrangler Sahara — black, two doors and in need of a new home! The Charlevoix Chamber of Commerce will be raffling off the 2010 Jeep on Thursday, September 23rd at the Charlevoix Golf & Country Club. Although only one person will be driving home the new Jeep, second place will receive $500 and third and fourth place will receive $250 each.

Interested? Beginning April 19th, tickets will be available at the Charlevoix Chamber. Ticket prices are 1 for $100 or 3 for $200. If you would like to learn more or to be added to the mailing list, contact the Charlevoix Chamber of Commerce at info@charlevoix.org or 231.547.2101.

21st from 5 to 7pm sponsored by the Charlevoix Area Chamber of Commerce and hosted at Grey Gables Restaurant located at 308 Belvedere Avenue. The event is free to all Chamber members or $10 general admission. In addition to the company of your friends and colleagues, there is a 50/50 raffle, drink specials and hor d'oeuvres.

Women's Networking After Hours

Finally, a business networking organization by women, for women. Join the Women's Networking After Hours on the fourth Thursday of each month at 5pm. April's event is scheduled for April 29th at Giuseppe's Italian Grille. There is no charge to attend. Not only are members networking and passing referrals, but also experience the support of a network of women facing similar challenges and opportunities. For additional information contact Sheila at Heaven Sent Adoption Services, 237.9880.

May First Friday Biz Breakfast

It is a well known fact that breakfast is the most important meal of the day. It enables you to feel better & perform better in all daily activities. Whether you work at home, on the farm, at the office, at school, or on the road, eating breakfast sets the tone for the rest of the day. Give yourself a great start on Friday, May 7th and join the Chamber and your colleagues at the Chamber's First Friday Biz Breakfast! NWA back from D.C.

The Northwest Academy advanced band recently returned from its trip to Washington, D.C., as ambassadors of music from Charlevoix. Due to a train accident in Maumee, the train was delayed for two hours so the jazz band set up a rehearsal on the spot and played swing music and jazz for an hour for the passengers waiting to board the train. Upon arrival in D.C. the students and chaperones began touring the Capital Building and the many memorials to the country. The group also visited the Holocaust Memorial and then performed at the Fraternal Order of Police building in honor of Earl Crandall, a local police officer from Charlevoix that has been the only police officer to die while on duty in Charlevoix.

Charlevoix has once again been named a Tree City USA for its efforts in maintaining a healthy tree population.

Arbor Foundation names Charlevoix a Tree City USA

Charlevoix was recognized by the nonprofit Arbor Day Foundation as a Tree City USA community for its commitment to urban forestry.

It is the eighteenth year Charlevoix has earned this national designation.

The Tree City USA program is sponsored by the Arbor Day Foundation in cooperation with the National Association of State Foresters and the USDA Forest Service.

Charlevoix has met the four standards to become a Tree City USA community. Tree City USA Communities must have a tree board or department, a tree-care ordinance, a comprehensive community forestry program, and an Arbor Day observance and proclamation.

"We commend Charlevoix's elected officials, volunteers and its citizens for providing vital care for its urban forest," said John Rosenow, chief executive and founder of the Arbor Day Foundation. "Trees provide numerous environmental, economic and health benefits to millions of people each day, and we applaud communities that make planting and caring for trees a top priority."

Communities that earn Tree City USA recognition not only have taken the time to meet the four standards, they know that trees:

Promote healthier communities by filtering the air we breathe by removing dust and other particles.

Moderate climate, conserve water and provide vital habitat for wildlife.

Reduce the heat island effect in urban areas caused by pavement and buildings.

Increase property values and reduce energy use and add beauty to our homes and neighborhoods.

More information about Tree City USA can be found at www.arborday.org/TreeCityUSA.

About the Arbor Day Foundation

The Arbor Day Foundation is a nonprofit, environmental and education organization of nearly one million members, with a mission to inspire people to plant, nurture, and celebrate trees.

More information on the Foundation and its programs can be found at www.arborday.org.

Commission on Aging to hold third public forum

The Charlevoix County Commission on Aging Advisory Board will conduct its third community forum at 10:30 a.m. on Monday, April 19, in the East Jordan Civic Center, 101 Civic Center Lane, East Jordan.

The Board, along with the Commission on Aging Department, is holding these meetings to increase public awareness and identify potential trends affecting senior citizens in Charlevoix County.

The Board is seeking information specifically on the following topics:

Management of chronic disease and continuum of care issues among the elderly

Fall prevention and injury avoidance

Community-based aging-in-place initiatives

Prevention efforts to minimize elder exploitation

Physical and mental wellness and healthy lifestyle

The Board's recently revised bylaws have clarified and refocused the Board's role as an advocate for county seniors and advisor to County Commissioners in meeting senior needs. Providing linkage with the community and fostering awareness among public and private agencies that serve seniors is an important aspect of this role.

The COA Board and Department, and their many community partners, are hoping to see strong public participation in these meetings, particularly among senior citizens and their caregivers. The information gathered will help the Board identify current and emerging senior needs, and further strengthen relationships among the entities, public and private, to promote the collective effectiveness of senior services in Charlevoix County.

Details are still being finalized for a community meeting on April 26 in Boyne Falls and May 17 in Boyne City. Community forums were conducted recently on Beaver Island and in Charlevoix.

For more information on the COA Advisory Board, call 231-547-0866, and to learn about the services provided by the COA Department, call 237-0103 or visit the COA Web site at www.charlevoixcounty.org/coa.asp.

Family day event at the Barnard Grange

Barnard Grange Family Day will be held at the Grange Hall at 15975 Klooster Road, Charlevoix on Saturday April 24.

The event will be preceded by a Potluck Lunch to be served at noon.

This event is open to the public and there is no charge.

There will be games for the children and entertainment and games for the adults.

This is a family event to give parents and grandparents an opportunity to join with the children and others to participate in some fun activities.

There will be prizes awarded.

So make your plans to attend.

The success of the day is the participation of a host of people who come for the food, fun and fellowship.

For further information call 547-9544 or 547-5211.

I care!

I care about the environment.

I care about protecting our bay.

I grew up in Petoskey. Went to high school here. I come back with my family often, and return to great memories and many good friends.

As a young man, I remember the cement plant that used to operate along the shore of Little Traverse Bay just west of town. For decades, it created jobs for people here. Since it closed, it also has created environmental challenges for Little Traverse Bay.

For the last five years, the company I work for, CMS Land, has dedicated time, expertise, technology and enormous amounts of money to protecting the bay from the contaminants left at the plant, and the results have been excellent.

I love the fact that my family enjoys the lakes and woods like I did growing up and that generations to come will be able to enjoy it too.

I care about the Little Traverse Bay Environmental Project because I know first hand how important the bay is to this community, and I'm proud that CMS is helping protect it.

TAKE THE CHALLENGE

More than 30 spots for children in eighth-grade through graduating seniors, 33 in all, are available for this year's Colorado Challenge trip. The nearly 40-year-old program offers whitewater rafting, horseback riding and repelling down rock formations in a Christian camp atmosphere at Quaker Ridge Camp in Woodland Park, Colo. Due to fundraising efforts by event organizers, $250 of the $650 per student cost has been paid. This year's trip is from June 26 to July 4. For more information call Lawrence Bergmann at 547-2152 or Dan Lightfoot at 348-2533. Pictured are some Charlevoix area kids repelling down the side of a rock wall in Colorado while on the trip.

GENEALOGY GROUP

From 6 p.m. to 8 p.m. on the second Thursday of each month the Charlevoix Public Library will be sponsoring a genealogy/local history monthly interest group meeting in the Michigan Room at the Library.

No cost to attend.

Any questions about the new interest group can be directed to the e-mail address gsgenae@aol.com or by phone to Carol at 582-7042. Judith Ivan is the library contact.

Everyone with an interest in genealogy or local history is welcome to attend.

The group will be led by Carol McWain Goodenough, a professional genealogist, and her associate Barbara Manley Herndon.

Carol has been a family genealogist for over 40 years and a professional for over twenty years. Barbara has been a genealogist for almost

They will be available each month to assist anyone working on their own genealogy and family history or searching for local history information in the area.

Metamorphoses at JRAC

The exhibit, which opened March 28 and continues through April 30, showcases over 70 works of art in many different techniques and media, large and small—oil paintings, watercolors, calligraphy, stained glass, beading, collages, drawings, photography, pastels, dioramas, quilts, weavings, furniture, sculpture, stiltchery, clay objects, jewelry. One weaving was over 60 feet long and two feet wide morphing from black and white to the colors of the rainbow. The exhibit, open from 1 to 4 p.m., is located at 301 Main St. in East Jordan. Pictured are Paul Varga and Margie Guyot, participating artists as they discuss the works with a patron during the exhibit's opening.

ORDER FOR SERVICE OF PROCESS
BY PUBLICATION AND ORDER TO ANSWER

At a session of court held in the courthouse in Charlevoix, Michigan, on 4-12-2010.
Present: Honorable Richard M. Pajtas, Circuit Court Judge

Plaintiffs filed a Verified Ex Parte Motion for Service of Process by Publication. After reading the Motion, the Court finds that Plaintiffs have shown that service of process can not reasonably be made on the unknown Defendants who are the heirs of Heber R. Curtis, Emma B. Curtis, William L. Curtis, Constance Curtis Shaw and Martha A. Curtis. The Court further finds, pursuant to MCR 2.105(1), the service of process by publication is the best available method for service of process reasonably calculated to give the unknown Defendants actual notice of these proceedings and an opportunity to be here.

IT IS ORDERED:
1. Plaintiffs may serve process on the unknown Defendants by publishing this Order once each week for a period of three consecutive weeks in a newspaper, as defined by MCR 2.106(f), that is published in Charlevoix County, Michigan.

To: The Heirs of Heber R. Curtis, Emma B. Curtis, William L. Curtis, Constance Curtis Shaw and Martha A. Curtis

An action seeking a declaration of rights quieting title in the following described property:

PUBLIC HEARING NOTICE
Monday, April 19, 2010 —
7:00 p.m.

Council Chambers, City Hall, 210 State St., Charlevoix MI

The Charlevoix City Council will hold a public hearing on Monday, April 19, 2010 at 7:00 p.m. in Council Chambers of City Hall to receive public input on a proposed ordinance to amend the City Code. The proposed ordinance, if adopted, will amend Title VI, Chapter 61: "Nuisances", Article I.

The proposed revisions clarify language pertaining to inoperable or dismantled boats, vehicles, ATVs, snowmobiles, RVs, and similar equipment. New Sections, such as 6.1 Purpose and 6.4 Inspection help define the intent of the ordinance and administrative procedures for inspection. The new ordinance will require that any outdoor boat, vehicle, ATV, motorcycle, snowmobile, etc. be properly licensed and operable. The proposed ordinance also addresses old docks, boat lifts, and other marine equipment.

A complete copy of the proposed ordinance can be obtained from the City Clerk during normal business hours or may be viewed on the City's website:
www.cityofcharlevoix.org.

Interested citizens can make comments at the public hearing or written comments may be sent to the City Clerk's Office, 210 State Street, Charlevoix, MI 49720.

CITY OF CHARLEVOIX
REGULAR CITY COUNCIL MEETING SYNOPSIS
Monday, April 5, 2010 —
7 p.m.

210 State Street, City Hall, Council Chambers, Charlevoix, MI

The Charlevoix City Council met on the above date with Mayor Pro Tem Picha presiding. All Council members were present. Mayor Carlson was absent.

The following proceedings took place:

Motion passed that city officials and staff are authorized to sign individual contracts for fire/EMS services with one or more townships in the County when the City Manager determines that such an individual contract is in the best financial interests of the City and; when the City Manager makes this determination, the provision in the uniform fire/EMS contract which requires execution of fire/EMS contracts by all of the listed townships is waived.

Motion passed to set a public hearing on Amendments to Title VI, Chapter 61 - Nuisances for April 19, 2010 at 7:00 p.m. at City Hall.

Motion passed to approve Resolution 2010-04-01, Local Governing Body Resolution for Charitable Gaming Licenses - Serenity House/Alano Club.

Motion passed to approve Resolution 2010-04-02, Local Governing Body Resolution for Charitable Gaming Licenses - Lake Charlevoix Mariners/4H Sailing School.

Council adjourned at 8:09 p.m.

A complete copy of the Council minutes is on file at the City Clerk's Office, 210 State Street.

LIBRARY EVENTS

Held at the Charlevoix Public Library, 220 West Clinton St. 547-2651

WEEKLY EVENTS

Once the beginner has mastered these basic computer skills, the library staff invites them to move on to the intermediate level classes hosted by the library. These classes are for those who have taken the library's basic course, or can use a mouse and search the Internet. Microsoft Excel 2007, on April 27 and 29 will focus on creating a basic spreadsheet and utilizing formulas. Managing Your PC will hold May 11 and 13 and teach computer file organization, customizing the desk top and the importance of back-ups.

Ask the Techie has been developed for people who have basic hardware or software questions about their laptops, the first Thursday of each month, 10 a.m. to noon. The Library has volunteers who will be on hand for 30 minute appointments to help answer some of your questions. Call for your appointment, 237-7340.

The instructors ask that all students register for computer classes by calling 237-7340.

Story-Time is 10:30 a.m. on Thursdays for all children birth to 5 and their caregivers.

Writer's Group is 6 p.m. on Wednesdays for all writers.

Quilters and Friends meet the third Thursday of the month from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. This group of quilters and other fiber art enthusiasts is set up as a workshop, so bring along your current fiber project and all the equipment you need (yes, even your sewing machine!) and enjoy the company of friends. The group facilitator is Sue Dixon.

Northern Michigan Textile Artists meets the third Wednesday of the month, from 1 p.m. to 3 p.m. Join local fiber artist, Kathie Briggs for discussion of projects and ideas.

The Scrapbookers meet the fourth Saturday of the month from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Treat yourself to a full day away from home to work on your photos with group facilitator, Sheila Davis and other like minded scrapers.

The Book Talkers meet regularly throughout the year at 6 p.m. on Monday evenings. Beth Strawbridge facilitates this group. Call the library for upcoming dates and titles, 237-7340.

The Writer's Group meets every Wednesday at 6 p.m. in the Armstrong Conference Room. This group of writing enthusiasts (from beginner to published) encourages each other and share their work. The group welcomes all who are interested in writing for themselves, their family, and/or for publication. The group facilitator is Jim McKinney.

Schools to cut nearly $1.5M

CHARLEVOIX SCHOOLS CONSIDERING "ALL OPTIONS" IN BUDGET CRISIS

BY BENJAMIN GOHS
EDITOR

Decreased enrollment, lower property values and a state budget in peril are all contributing to what could amount to a $1.5 million deficit for Charlevoix schools next year.

Charlevoix Public Schools Superintendent Chet Janik announced the likelihood of further cuts during the Charlevoix Public School Board of Education's regular April 19 meeting.

"Based on what information we have right now we may have to reduce the 2010/2011 budget by $1.5 million," he said. "There are so many factors: per-pupil funding from the state of Michigan and if there will be a reduction in state aid, then how much?"

Janik said estimates he has heard range from no increase to a potential cut of $268 and everything in between.

"Most people are estimating there will not be a state budget (finalized) for education this summer so we will do our best guess to estimate what that will be," he said.

The current deficit anticipated by school officials is $1.04 million.

However, Michigan's School Aid Fund is, according to the Senate Fiscal Agency, $365 million in the hole with no relief in sight.

In addition to decreasing enrollment and lessened school aid payments, the cost of school employee retirement and health insurance continue to rise.

The school's operating fund is estimated to be $580,889 by the end of June when the school's budget must be adopted according to state law.

Janik

A few measures which may help the schools were passed in the Michigan Senate on April 14, but Janik said he thinks they have a "very slim" chance of passing in the house where there is strong opposition.

Money-saving proposals include a 20 percent contribution by school employees for their health insurance; schools joining the State of Michigan medical insurance pool and competitive bidding for custodial and food services.

Retirements and resignations by Dave Moyer, Marcia Murdick, Kelly Yaroch, Dick Swenor and Sue Gengle will save the schools a total of $ 394,656.

Voluntary leaves of absence by staff members Kimberly Dickinson, Aaron Gaffney, Adam Wood, Jamie Warchol, Steve Carland and Sara Jonker will save the district a total of $ 412,526.

"We've had initial dialogue with representatives from NWA to see if it makes sense to form a partnership," he said. "So, we are exploring any and all options."

Janik cautioned that the meetings have been informal and are merely exploratory in nature.

"These are challenging times for all educational institutions and we're exploring every option available to ensure we can maintain high academic standards and financial viability," he said. "I am certainly willing to listen to any and all issues but I think people need to understand it is a big step from discussions to becoming a reality or even being proposed to the board."

A representative from Northwest Academy could not be reached by press time.

Charlevoix schools' budget talks will continue on April 21 when the school's internal budget committee meets followed by an April 26 meeting of principals, administrative staff and union leaders.

There will be a board work session on May 3 with the formal recommendation being given to the board at their 7 p.m. Monday May 10 regular meeting.

Bergmann center client Tom said, "I like the computer."

His pal Paul said, "I like Bergmann Center because (of the) speech contests (and) I used to be president of Aktion Club."

Hosted in cooperation with Charlevoix Kiwanis Club, the Aktion Club is a service organization operated by Bergmann Center clients in an effort to give back to the community.

"We hold fundraising events and support different groups by purchasing supplies or sending money," Brock said. "We are purchasing some things for Haiti we are sending down with someone going heading there to help (hurricane victims)."

She added, "Our programs mean the difference between (clients) sitting home and Ironton Ferry opens with a whistle

BY STEVE ZUCKER
NEWS-REVIEW

439-9346 • szucker@petoskeynews.com

When it made its official first crossing of the season today, Thursday, the Ironton Ferry resumed sounding an audible warning at each departure, but it was a little quieter and a little higher-pitched.

Last boating season the issue of the ferry's horn generated a great deal of noise in and around the Ironton Narrows.

About half-way through last season, someone called the U.S. Coast Guard Station Charlevoix to complain that the ferry was not sounding its horn each time it departed from shore as required by Coast Guard regulations.

When ferry operators began complying with the rule at the direction of Coast Guard officials, people living near the ferry began complaining about the sound — which happens many times per hour from 6:30 a.m. to 10:30 p.m.

The neighbor's complaints prompted county officials to seek a waiver from the horn-sounding requirement, but Coast Guard officials seemed unlikely to give way.

However, Doug Way, chairman of the three-person board that oversees the ferry's operation said during the off-season the Coast Guard worked out an agreement under which the ferry may use a quieter and higher-pitched whistle instead of the horn under normal visibility conditions. When visibility is reduced by conditions such as fog, ferry operators will be required to use the louder original horn.

The fares for the ferry will remain the same as last year at $3.25 for a car, $0.50 for a pedestrian and $1 for a person with a bicycle.

Last year the transportation board raised the fare for cars by a quarter.

The fare increase, it turns was well-timed for the ferry's operational bottom line.

Way noted that during the 2009 season, the ferry carried 51,571 cars across the narrows. That's down more than 14,000 from the 66,267 vehicles that crossed during the 2008 season.

Yet, thanks to the fare increase, the ferry's revenue was $190,166, up $30 over 2008.

With about $155,000 in expenses, that left about $35,000 to be placed in savings to be used for the ferry's routine overhaul which takes place every five years.

Way attributed the 22 percent drop in ridership to the sour economy prompting a drop in tourist traffic.

Economics 101

WEEKLY POLL

EAR TO THE GROUND

Roger Knutson

I don't usually do commercials in this space, but I am about to make an exception. As a life-long biological scientist, I have often questioned whether Economics can be considered a science.

The committee that awards Nobel Prizes seems to accept the scientific nature of Economics, and they award an annual prize to the economic theorist who has provided useful insights into how the enormously complicated machine that governs our buying, selling and trading seems to work.

Most of the people who win Nobel Prizes in economics are never heard from again. A lot of them seem to be at the University of Chicago, and seldom communicate with non-economists.

This year's Nobel Prize winner is an exception. Paul Krugman has written regularly in the New York Times for some time, and since winning the prize has often written for other publications. From my point of view, he is the most communicative economist in some time.

Many conservatives would identify him as a Liberal, and curiously denounce anything he might say.

The Nobel Prize is not awarded for political ideology, but for clarity of economic thinking, and Mr. Krugman appears to manage that pretty well.

He also is a fine teacher of economics, and as an educator myself, I think someone who is trying to provide education through his work and writing is himself a prize worth attending to.

In short, I believe Paul Krugman should be read and understood by those of us for whom economic theory is nearly opaque, and maybe even by those who claim to already understand economic theory. Harry Truman famously asked for a one-armed economist, because those economist he talked to were always saying, "On the one hand this seems true, and on the other hand, the opposite is likely." Paul Krugman is clearly a two-handed economist, who is quite willing to look at the multiple facets of large economic questions, and formulate solutions by looking comprehensively at serious questions.

His analysis a couple weeks ago, of how we in the United States could and should become leaders in reducing greenhouse gases to help stem global warming was as comprehensive as anything I have read.

There is, he acknowledges, no single magic bullet to solve all the problems.

And all plans carry some costs. But costs are far lower than deniers suggest.

Spending some money and resources now, to avoid unimaginable costs later on, does seem like sound economics.

Murrah for Paul Krugman, who is using the bully pulpit of a Nobel Prize to inform and educate.

bullying part two: beware the dangers of bullycide

FAITHFUL SERVANT

Stephen Guthrie

In a recent column I sought to make the community aware of a new phenomenon among young people tormented by bullies: suicide, or, as it is becoming known, "bullycide."

Increasingly across America, anguished adolescents suffering at the hands of relentless bullies are deciding death is an honorable alternative to another day at school. But it isn't enough to sound the alarm without offering something meaningful to help combat bullying in our own community, and that's the focus here. Let's define the problem we're dealing with, then consider what we must do.

Bullying is intentional, malicious aggression by one or more persons directed against another person who is unable to mount a defense. Bullies are cowards, for they never push against anyone they think might push back.

But bullies don't look like cowards to our kids. Bullied kids are required by us adults to get on the bus for a harassing ride into a hostile environment where they expect to be hurt, humiliated, degraded, or excluded. Their options are limited. They're expected to endure, and to do it alone.

They are too small to fight back, and it takes them about an hour after the humiliation is over to come up with a clever comeback. They are excluded from every group they try to join. Their day is miserable.

And with the advent of cyber-bullying, the online and text-based torment goes on through the night. So what has to change? Although the bullying we're concerned about is kid-on-kid, it is we adults who have to change.

There are three key changes we adults have to make if we expect to bully-proof the culture in which our kids are growing up. First, we adults must fundamentally change the way we regard bullying.

Bullying is institutionalized cruelty. It is harmful, but we go on one generation after another dismissing the damage it does. What seems like teasing to one child feels like torment to another. The damage to a child's sense of themselves becomes a permanent wound in their spirit they carry through adulthood.

We must become unwilling to tolerate an environment in which are children are knowingly harmed as though it were inevitable. We must get past the attitude that "boys will be boys" (which applies equally to girls) as though children are entitled to be cruel to one another, or that anyone should be expected to endure bullying as a rite of passage to adulthood.

When we adopt the "boys will be boys" position, we wrongly assert that young people are incapable of being civil or sensitive, that they are at their core just brutes and therefore incapable of treating another person with respect or understanding how their actions impact another.

Before we do anything else we adults must adopt and enforce a zero tolerance standard for any behavior that degrades the basic human dignity of another person.

Second, we adults have to change the expectations we have of our children.

Children will rise to our standards for appropriate behavior if only we will express them as an expectation. When we adults, who are charged with raising children to become responsible grownups, are silent about our expectations our kids define their own.

We need to teach our kids that when they encounter another person who is weaker, slower, less attractive, or somehow flawed they should relate to that person with compassion, not contempt. And they need to see us model that behavior. Kids should be told in no uncertain terms that they will not pick on other people, and will experience serious consequences if they do.

Third, we have to change the environment in which our kids spend their day. It's true kids will be kids, and we will always have bullying incidents. The real issue is how adults respond. Do both bullies and victims have confidence adults will deal forcefully with a bullying incident? Are zero tolerance bullying policies established and enforced? Are known bullies confronted and counseled? Are victims supported and protected?

If your child is a bully your responsibility is to educate them in civil behavior and enforce high expectations for their conduct.

If your child is a victim, you need to defend them while they grow to the point that they can defend themselves. Your child has no other advocate, no other champion. Whether it is speaking to the parents of a child who is bullying yours, holding the schools accountable for providing a safe place for your child to spend their day, or taking civil and criminal action against cyberbullying, if you don't defend your child no one else will.

Remember, it is the child who feels alone and desperate who is most likely to become the next bullycide statistic.

IMMIGRATION MYTHS

What has happened to our acceptance or understanding of Emma Lazarus' words "Give me your tired, your poor, your huddled masses yearning to be free?"

Why does the word "immigration" become a pejorative term and generate such statements such as: "Send them all back where they came from?"

Are we not a nation of immigrants?

Now with the economy at low ebb immigrants are easy targets of attack.

This xenophobic attitude continues to be stoked by talk radio and TV commentators as well as opportunistic politicians to pontificate on this issue.

In discussing immigration we fail to factor in U.S. trade policies as being one of the important things we should be adding to the equation, a fact that is rarely discussed and it may be the most important contributing factor in perpetuating the immigration from Central America and Mexico.

The North American Free Trade Agreement (NAFTA) and the Central American Free Trade Agreement (CAFTA) were developed to counter the European Trade Bloc.

It was to increase prosperity in the U.S. and Canada, and in Mexico to increase business by encouraging foreign investment.

It is interesting that negotiations were by trade ministers without any grassroots organizations' input.

Issues like human rights, democracy, and immigration are conspicuously missing. Since NAFTA and CAFTA, Mexican quality of life has deteriorated dramatically.

NAFTA has resulted in displacement of millions of small farmers who can no longer compete with the heavily subsidized agri-business' which flood the market with cheap corn in order to increase their profits.

With lobbying by multinational corporations the U.S. government continues to push to extend the NAFTA/CAFTA models to include the whole hemisphere, and the U.S. has negotiated the use of this model in Peru, Colombia and Panama.

These models lock unequal trade relations in place.

Our elected officials need to understand the impact of NAFTA on Mexican citizens facing barbaric conditions in their journey in search of work and a better life.

Guns and fences at the borders are not the answer. An enlightened economic policy will allow them to stay in their country with the expectation that their northern neighbors will develop compassionate economic policies, not of free trade, but of fair trade.

From 3 p.m. to 5 p.m. on Sunday, April 25, at the Charlevoix Public Library, Rev. Wayne Dziekan will lead a discussion on the "Myths of Immigration—a Different Viewpoint."

Come ... let us reason together.

THANKING THE COMMUNITY

Editor:
Dear Friends and Neighbors in Charlevoix,

Our family would like to take this opportunity to publicly thank the many people that helped us care for our mother during the last years and months of her life. We are so grateful for their constancy, commitment, professionalism and most importantly their caring.

Meals on Wheels is an invaluable program here in Charlevoix. Dedicated volunteers showed up each day with food chosen by our mom, often having to bring it right into the kitchen. Our sincere gratitude goes out to each person that took their time to fill this need.

The time came during Joan's illness when she needed another person in her home on a regular basis to help with everything from personal care, appointments, housecleaning, food preparation and medication reminders. We contacted Shawn McCraney and her cast of Heavenly Helpers. What a wonderful service they provide to our community! With their assistance we were able to continue to have our mother in her own home until the end, a promise we had hoped to fulfill. These women, under Shawn's direction, worked in Joan's home in varying degrees for just over a year. They were flexible with hour changes, kind and courteous, patient and tender with our mom, under sometimes very trying circumstances. They worked tirelessly even with other family under foot at times. Shawn was always available to us to explain things that were happening and often spent long times on the phone helping to soothe worries and explain things happening to Joan. We will be forever grateful!

When the time came, Hospice services were called in and they again were some of the kindest, most caring individuals we had ever met. Each one made us feel as though we were the only patient they had, always taking their time to talk and often making after hours phone calls to give us support.

At the end of Joan's life, they, along with Shawn, helped with details so family could spend time together and to make every step as easy as possible on us.

The Hospice Organization is a warm caring, knowledgeable shoulder to lean on when you really need it!

Please remember these silent heroes that are in our midst everyday. We will be forever grateful.

Sincerely,
Tim and Stephanie Carey

VOLUNTEER WEEK

Editor:
During National Volunteer Week, I am strongly reminded of the amazing volunteer corp. we have at the library. Last year, we had 143 people post 2,442 hours of service at the library. This amounts to 1 1/4 full-time equivalent employees. Our volunteers help with many different projects at the library. One of the most vital projects is our book sale where volunteers sort and organize the used book sale which makes over $14,000 each year. Volunteers also clean up our grounds, assist at programs, prepare our mailings, provide programs, and other library projects needing attention. Without our volunteers, we would not be as vital and important a facility in the community "thank-you" to all the library volunteers.

PRAISE FOR STUPAK'S DECISION

Editor:
During the development of the health care legislation, Congressman Stupak and a group of his colleagues fought hard for inclusion of language to ensure that taxpayer dollars would not be used to support abortions.

This initiative stemmed from Congressman Stupak's long-held pro-life beliefs, beliefs that are shared by many of Stupak's constituents. When it appeared that the bill was going forward without the pro-life language, Congressman Stupak was prepared to oppose his party and vote against the legislation until President Obama agreed to provide an Executive Order providing assurance that federal dollars would not be used to fund abortions.

At this point, Congressman Stupak and his colleagues agreed to provide the critical votes needed to pass the bill even though it did not actually contain the pro-life language that they had originally fought for. In casting his final vote, Congressman Stupak reflected his belief that the health care is good for citizens of the 1st district and good for the country.

This belief is also shared by many of his constituents.

For his efforts, Stupak has received criticism from both sides.

Some of this criticism has been personal, uncivil and even threatening to Stupak and his family.

Such criticism goes well beyond the norms of ordinary human decency and although

OBITUARIES

Florence Mae Browe: Aug. 25 1919 - April 14, 2010

Florence Mae Browe, 90, of Charlevoix, died Wednesday, April 14, 2010, at the Charlevoix Area Hospital. A Rite of Christian Burial will be 11:00 Monday, April 19, at Saint Mary's Catholic Church in Charlevoix, the Reverend Jerry Hunko officiating. Burial will take place in Saint Mary's Cemetery.

Florence was born Aug. 25, 1919, in Central Lake, the daughter of Levi and Mary (Williams) Ward.

On Sept. 17, 1938, she married Wilfred R. Browe at Saint Mary's Church in Charlevoix.

They made their home in Detroit for 34 years before retiring to Charlevoix in 1979.

Wilfred preceded her in death on Feb. 14, 2003.

Florence enjoyed taking care of her yard and garden.

She especially loved spending time with her grandkids.

She is survived by her sons,

Ronald W. Browe of Munising, Barry M. (Charlotte) Browe of Horton Bay; daughters, Phyllis M. Smith of Charlevoix, Frances M. (Jim) Monhollen of Corbin, Ky; ten grandchildren; eleven great-grandchildren; brother, Ralph Stanley (Betty) Ward of St. Louis, Mo; many nieces and nephews.

Florence was preceded in death by two daughters, Marjorie Penfound in 1993, and Karin L. Blaz in 2005; brother, ers, Roy, Lloyd, Clyde, and Coral; sisters, Grace Dawson, Edith Prause, Gladys Jenkinson, Lillian Smith, Ruth Thahammer, and Laura Chew.

Visitation will be from 6 p.m. to 8 p.m. Sunday, April 18, at the Winchester Funeral Home in Charlevoix, where the Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m.

Memorial contributions may be made to Saint Mary's School in Charlevoix.

LETTERS to the editor

it has become all too commonplace, it certainly has no legitimate place in our political discourse or, for that matter, any place in our society.

In my opinion, Congressman Stupak deserves praise for his actions relative to the health care legislation.

He stood for his principles, acted in what he believed to be the best interests of his constituents and, in the end, had the courage to take a leadership position in finding a workable middle ground solution.

Isn't this exactly what we want our elected representatives to do?

And isn't this what we need too little of in these days of extremist-driven partisan politics?

To Congressman Stupak, I say thank you for your service and best wishes for the next phase of your life.

To the voters of the 1st district, I say let's fill Congressman Stupak's seat with someone who has the same characteristics of courage, vision, leadership and spirit of compromise that Congressman

Stupak displayed in the health care debate.

EAT HEALTHY, STAY FIT

Editor:

I feel that people are not getting enough exercise daily.

Exercising can decrease the risk of getting diabetes.

We need to know the risks of obesity and diabetes. Did you know that, according to diabetes.org, eight percent of Americans have diabetes?

Or that, according to diabetes-tests.com, diabetes is the sixth leading cause of death in the USA?

From eating healthy to playing outside, it all helps.

Instead of having buttery, salty popcorn, have popcorn with just a little bit of salt.

Also instead of having dessert every night, make it a special treat, twice a week, maybe.

Try having water of milk instead of sugary juice and pop. Dietpolicy.com states that junk food is known to set of high blood pressure, heart diseases, and even stroke, in a chain of actions.

But just remember, just because food tastes good, doesn't mean it's bad for your health! Look up "healthy meals" on the Internet, or check for healthy recipes in magazines.

You can enjoy what you're eating, without feeling guilty about it! Try having a day where you have no TV, maybe something like "No TV Tuesday."

Get up off the couch or the computer chair, and go play outside! All of these little things can make a drastic change in our lives. We need to live healthy lives so we can live longer and not have so many medical problems when we're older.

How many of you want to grow old and sick, lying in a hospital bed all day, every day? I know I don't! So turn off your computer, turn off your TV, throw away the junk food and pop, and get outside and enjoy the world.

Health care reform and your insurance

BY BENJAMIN GOHS
EDITOR

Espy

If you haven't read the recently passed 2,400-page health care reform hills you're not alone.

there has been much speculation on what exactly is contained in the new law, many of even the most savvy politicians on both sides of the aisle know little about this landmark legislation.

Due to the complexity of the new law and the far-reaching implications it will likely carry, Charlevoix Courier will attempt to unearth as much unbiased information as is possible in a series of articles on health care reform.

This third and final piece in the series explores how the new legislation will affect health insurance companies.

"It's early and we've really been focusing on diving into it ourselves to make sure once the dust settles our customers in Michigan are going to be able to fully understand what's going on," said Jerome Espy, director of external affairs for Blue Cross Blue Shield of Michigan. "Is what we ended up with going to increase the cost of health care for some people? We're going to continue to work to identify early unintended consequences and work with the government to address them."

He added, "There's a lot of confusion out there and we want there to be answers to those questions."

Exactly how insurance companies and hospitals will be paid remains to be seen.

"The positives and negatives of the legislation have been openly debated and documented by national media coverage. The short answer is that, positively, more Americans will have health care coverage. Negatively, the big question is how this coverage will be funded," said Bill Jackson, Charlevoix Area Hospital Board president. "We do believe that the present plan to decrease the amount of money paid to physicians will be detrimental to the overall goal of the health care reform, in that there is already a significant shortage of physicians across the nation. The cost of education needed to become a physician is staggering and the cost of medical malpractice and general overhead continue to climb. Legislators will need to assure that compensation for physicians is attractive enough to prevent our best and brightest from choosing other careers."

Espy said things should not change much in the way Blue Cross currently works with customers and care facilities because Blue Cross is Michigan's insurer of last resort.

"We already don't turn anyone away for preexisting conditions as is spelled out in the reform," he said. "We already operate the way other insurance companies will have to operate under the new law."

Most of the major changes will not occur until 2014.

According to a March 20 document prepared by the House committees on ways and means, energy and commerce and education and labor, numerous consumer protection provisions have been included in the new medical reform law.

• New health plans will be required to develop an appeals process and educate their customers on those processes.

• Both insurers and doctors and hospitals will be required to report their performance on an as-of-yet unspecified basis.

• Insurance companies will be forced to report a breakdown of what they cost on items not used for medical care.

• Coverage options must be made easier to understand to ensure people know what they are getting.

• Insurers that hike their rates leading up to the implementation of the new law will be excluded from participating in the health care exchanges which are similar to the co-op model. These would be government-run programs which allow private insurance companies to sell to individuals who wish to band together to get a better deal on health care. The exchanges would be open to companies with 100 or fewer employees and to single buyers.

• Insurance companies will be required to explain why they are increasing use of tobacco products.

Espy said reform may be a good thing, but the major reason for the high cost of health care is lifestyle choices.

"We introduced a product last week that rewards people for their healthy efforts," he said. "People that are not really concerned about their health is a drag on the total health care system."

Now that the law has been passed, Espy said care providers and insurance companies need to focus on how best to implement new practices and policies.

"It's still early and there are a lot of discussions going on," he said. "This has gotten us to the starting line and now we have to work on the implementation phase."

Ultimately both care providers and medical insurance experts agree that only time will determine the level of success or failure the new reform will achieve.

When asked if the fears by some that the new reform will cause a state of rationing in the medical services sector, Bill Jackson said, "Much like today, the amount of services the hospital and physicians will be able to provide will be directly related to how much revenue we can produce in doing so. As a not-for-profit, all of our revenue is used to provide health care to patients. If the number of physicians and nurses we have on duty is inadequate, we will need money — revenue from services provided — to hire more."

Jackson added, "Again, the question will be how the legislation is funded."

Coming together to fight poverty

TWO WORKSHOPS TO BRIDGE GAP BETWEEN THOSE IN POVERTY AND THOSE PROVIDING SUPPORT

Beegle

Community residents living in poverty and individuals concerned about helping will come together during a two-day conference April 22-23 at Boyne Mountain Civic Center sponsored by the Char-Em Poverty Reduction Initiative.

The keynote speaker for both events is Donna Beegle, Ed.D., whose moving story from poverty to national speaker is an inspiration for all. Growing up in generational migrant labor poverty, leaving school for marriage at 15, having two children and continuing to cope with poverty, Beegle found herself, at 25, with no husband, little education, and no job skills.

What followed in 10 short years were: self-confidence, a G.E.D., an A.A. in Journalism, a B.A. (with honors) in Communications, a Master's Degree in Communication with a minor in Gender Studies (with honors), and completion of a Doctorate Degree.

Beegle completed her Doctorate in Educational Leadership at Portland State University in 2000, where she taught speech communication courses for eight years.

She is currently president of Communication Across Barriers, a consulting firm devoted to improving communication and relationships.

Beegle is also founder and CEO of the new nonprofit, PovertyBridge which is dedicated to changing lives for people in poverty.

"We know that by becoming better educated about how to help those in poverty, we all can do our jobs better to support, families and individuals in need," said Jim Rummer of the Charlevoix-Emmet Intermediate School District and chair of the Charlevoix-Emmet Human Services Coordinating Body (HSCB), about the Thursday, April 22, conference for professionals. The HSCB's Poverty Reduction Initiative is sponsoring the events.

"For those in need, we will have plenty of resources at the Opportunity Conference on Friday, April 23, including a job fair, child care, and plenty of prizes for attendees," Rummer said.

Thursday, April 22, Poverty 101 for Professionals. For professionals who work with clients, students or families facing poverty, "Poverty 101: What you need to know to help reduce poverty in northern Michigan" will be presented from 9 a.m.-3 p.m. Thursday, April 22, at the Boyne Mountain Civic Center.

The session is geared toward school personnel, area human services professionals, and community leaders from throughout the region.

For school personnel in Charlevoix-Emmet Intermediate School District or Cheboygan-Otsego-Presque Isle Educational Service District, there is no fee to attend the event. School personnel should register at www.charcmisd.org and click on professional development and follow the link to Coursewhere.

For all others, the fee is $20 and registration forms are available at www.charcmpr.org.

Friday, April 23, Free Opportunity Conference for those in need.

Area residents who need work, food and support, will want to attend the Opportunity Conference from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Friday, April 23, also at the Boyne Mountain Civic Center in Boyne Falls.

Participants will listen to Beegle and also have an opportunity to attend a job fair from noon to 1:30 p.m., and be linked up with a trained navigator to help them access services they may need such as resume writing, job training, legal services, medical assistance, counseling, and more. Snacks and lunch will be served and child care is available. All activities throughout the day are free.

To register for the April 23 session and sign up your child for child care services, call (231) 582-8070.

The sessions are sponsored by Char-Em ISD, COP ESD, Char-Em Child Abuse Council, Northwest Michigan Community Action Agency, Great Start Collaborative of Charlevoix/Emmet/Northern Antrim Counties, and the Petoskey-Harbor Springs Area Community Foundation.

Other partners include Char-Em Human Services Coordinating Body/Poverty Reduction Initiative Workgroup, Northern Michigan Regional Hospital, and Char-Em United Way.

The workshops are funded in part by the McKinney-Vento Homeless Assistance Act, federal legislation dealing with the education of children and youth experiencing homelessness in U.S. public schools.

County board filing deadline

The deadline to file to run for a seat on the Charlevoix County Board of Commissioners is 4 p.m. on May 11 at the Charlevoix County Clerk's Office 203 Antrim St. For more information call 547-7200.

Care.

I care about the environment.
I care about protecting our bay.

I grew up in Petoskey. Went to high school here. I come back with my family often, and return to great memories and many good friends.

As a young man, I remember the cement plant that used to operate along the shore of Little Traverse Bay just west of town. For decades, it created jobs for people here. Since it closed, it also has created environmental challenges for Little Traverse Bay.

For the last five years, the company I work for, CMS Land, has dedicated time, expertise, technology and enormous amounts of money to protecting the bay from the contaminants left at the plant, and the results have been excellent.

I love the fact that my family enjoys the lakes and woods like I did growing up and that generations to come will be able to enjoy it too.

I care about the Little Traverse Bay Environmental Project because I know first hand how important the bay is to this community, and I'm proud that CMS is helping protect it.

America's game is the Rayders' game

NEWS-REVIEW
SPORTS DEPT.

Through the wind, rain and freezing cold temperatures, the Charlevoix High School baseball team created a baseball memory on Friday.

Alex Foster ripped a two-strike, two-out double to right-center field to score the tying and winning runs, lifting the Rayders to a dramatic 6-5 victory over Traverse City St. Francis in the first game of a Lake Michigan Conference doubleheader.

Game two was called after 2 1/2 innings because of the weather with the Rayders leading, 8-1. It will be resumed — and become an official game — only if it affects the outcome of the league championship.

Charlevoix trailed, 5-3, entering the bottom of the sixth inning in the opener, then scratched out a run when Andrew Potter singled, stole second and scored on a wild pitch.

With two out, Charlevoix's Isaac Klooster struck out, but was safe at first on a passed ball, giving the Rayders new life. J.T. Lawrence followed with a single and Myles Kerr, pinch running for Klooster, moved up to second.

Foster then delivered the game-winning hit, a blast to right-center that scored Kerr and Lawrence.

Clayton Mitchell picked up the victory in relief of Potter. Mitchell did not allow a hit and struck out five, but walked seven and hit three batters over 3 2/3 innings.

Jordan Farmer had two triples to lead the Rayders at the plate, while Lawrence finished with two hits and two RBI, and Potter had two hits and an RBI.

The Rayders were scheduled to play host to Boyne City in a Lake Michigan Conference doubleheader on Tuesday, April 20, then go to Harbor Springs for a league twinbill on Friday, April 23.

Softball
Katie Hybl, Maddie Zimmerman and Kristen Mielke had three hits apiece Friday as Charlevoix defeated Traverse City St. Francis, 11-1, in the opening game of a Lake Michigan Conference softball doubleheader.

Winning pitcher Hannah Hybl struck out seven and walked one in tossing a three-hitter. Hannah Hybl added two hits for the Rayders, while Emily Mielke had one.

Charlevoix led, 1-0, in the nightcap when St. Francis exploded for a five-run fifth inning to claim a 5-4 victory and split the twinbill.

Katie Hybl homered, singled and doubled to lead the Rayders at the plate, while Rachael Shull added two hits, and Maddie Zimmerman had one.

Hannah Hybl allowed three hits, walked two and struck out six in taking the loss. Kristen Mielke struck out three in one inning of relief.

The Rayders, 1-3 overall and in the league, The Rayders were scheduled to play host to Harbor Springs for a league twinbill on Friday, April 23.

Golf
Thomas Rich shot an 8-over 80 under dire weather conditions Saturday to lead the Charlevoix High School boys' golf team to a fourth-place finish in the 13-team Traverse City West Invitational at The Crown.

Petoskey shot 325 to win the tournament, while Rockford was second at 326. T.C. West shot 329 to place third, followed by the Rayders, 333; Cadillac, 334; T.C. Central, 335; and Gaylord,

341. The tournament was played in extremely cold temperatures, high winds, and occasional snow. "We competed pretty well," Charlevoix coach Doug Drenth said. "We went against all those Big North (Conference) schools and Rockford and Grand Haven, and we competed pretty well. "It was a good experience. As crazy as the day was, as crazy as the weather was, I think we were pleased, but we know we can get better." Petoskey's Joe Garber shot an even-par 72 to claim medalist honors. Patrick Colburn of T.C. Central shot 75 to place second. Also for Charlevoix, Ty Jones shot 83, Wyatt Drost, 84; Gunnar Whiteley, 86; Ryan Wimmer, 90; and Nick Brandi, 99. The Rayder JV team was scheduled to compete in a pair of nine-hole Lake Michigan Conference matches this week at East Jordan (on Monday) and at Boyne City (Wednesday). The Rayder varsity is slated to compete. Track & field A Nasty night, weather-wise, but some pretty nice results for the Charlevoix High School track and field teams. The Rayder boys tied for fifth and the girls finished seventh in the in-team Gary Rathbun Memorial Invitational Friday at Cadillac High School. Petoskey won the girls' meet with 105 points, while the Rayders finished with 41. Cadillac, 164, won the boys' meet, while Charlevoix and Cheboygan finished tied for fifth with 54 each. Charlevoix placed fifth in the boys' meet, seventh in the girls'. Charlevoix's Sarah Potter won the girls' shot put at 31 feet, 3 inches, and the Rayders boys won three events. Charlevoix's Casey Helstrom won the 300 hurdles 42.88 seconds, and he ran a leg on the Rayders' 1600 relay squad, which was first in 3 minutes,

45.93 seconds. Will Larson, Andrew Plude and Neil Salisbury joined Helstrom in the relay. The Rayders' Eric Buday won the 3200 in 10:40.13. Also for the Charlevoix boys, Helstrom placed third in the 110 hurdles, while Jon Boss, Jake McLean, Ace Edick and Gunnar Zipp combined to place third in the 400 relay; Kirk Acharya placed fourth in the 1600, while Andrew Plude was fifth in the 1600 and sixth in the long jump. Vinny VonLau, Trevor Sobleski, Andrew Robarge and Ryan Penfold teamed up to place fifth in the 3200 relay, while Salisbury was sixth in the 200. For the Charlevoix girls, Molly Jeakle was second in the 1600, fourth in the 800, while Potter placed third in the discus, and Allison Hankins was third in the 100; Madeline Jeakle, Molly Jeakle, Ann Dipert and Alena Purvis combined to place fifth in the 1600 relay; Madeline Jeakle was fifth in the high jump; and Sara Wilkinson placed sixth in the long jump.

Round Lake Books

BY BENJAMIN GOHS
EDITOR

Citing the need to expand to accommodate her successful business, Diane DuPont has moved her bookstore from Mason Street to Bridge Street.

Round Lake Book Store, formerly located at 107 Mason St. is now in the former location of Bridge Street Books on the main drag.

"Location, location, location," DuPont responded when asked when she moved her shop. "Back where we were there was an issue with signage and a lack of parking and all that wonderful walk-by foot traffic I now get on Bridge Street."

DuPont officially opened her doors at the new location on April 3.

"We went from 400 to 830 square feet and we have a lot more room for books," she said. "We have a lot of Michigan authors and a lot of historical fiction."

DuPont's current store hours are 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. with hours expected to increase once summer arrives. DuPont spent two years in her former location and worked for a local bookseller for several years before that.

"I feel we have a really good knowledge of what this town reads and we look forward to serving our many readers," she said.

Round Lake Book Store is now located at 405 Bridge St. in Charlevoix.

They can be reached by phone at 547-2699.

Auto Repair 101

In this day and time, people everywhere are trying to save money and cut costs where they can. Teens especially, as the job outlook for young people is worse than the rest of the population. A great way to save money is to do your own auto maintenance. The Charlevoix Public Library is offering a brief session on Auto Repair 101, at 5 p.m. on Wednesday, May 5. Eric Migda, with 10 years maintenance experience, will be on hand to teach teens how to keep their vehicles in tip top shape without breaking the bank. Participants will see basic auto maintenance demonstrated on a truck and a car. Participants will learn about tires, fluid levels, how to change a tire, and common automobile emergencies.

Fire damages Murdick's Famous Fudge

Charlevoix Fire Department officials said firefighters were called to a report of smoke in the building at 228 Bridge St. at about 10:43 p.m.

BY STEVE ZUCKER, NEWS-REVIEW STAFF

A late night fire caused extensive damage to the Murdick's Famous Fudge store in downtown Charlevoix Wednesday.

Charlevoix Fire Department officials said firefighters were called to a report of smoke in the building at 228 Bridge St. at about 10:43 p.m.

Firefighters responding to the scene were directed to the basement of the building where they found smoke but no fire.

Through further investigation, firefighters located a fire in the first floor office area of the Murdick's Famous Fudge at 230 Bridge Street.

Fire officials said the office area is in an addition to the original building on the east (back) side of the structure.

Fire officials said the fire spread into the east wall of the original building where the original building's "balloon" allowed the fire to spread into the ceiling.

(Balloon construction is a type of building framing in which studs run the entire height of the building without breaks between floors.)

Firefighters were able to stop the fire before it consumed the entire building, but not before it caused extensive damage to the office and the east end of the second floor of the original part of the building. The rest of the building sustained smoke and water damage.

Firefighters from the Charlevoix city and Charlevoix Township fire departments were on the scene for about three and a half hours.

Fire officials said the fire appears to have started in the office area and is believed to have been accidental in nature.

Jeryl Murdick, who co-owns the business with her brother Gary said although the main part of the store sustained extensive water and smoke damage, none of the specialized equipment they use for making fudge was damaged in the fire.

Murdick said Gary had

Charlevoix man accused of molesting two teens

BY BENJAMIN GOHS, EDITOR

David Dale Buckner, 33, of Charlevoix, is accused of molesting two youths: one between the ages of 13 and 16 and one under the age of 13.

Buckner, a construction worker and volunteer for the Charlevoix City Fire Department, was arraigned on Thursday, April 22, in Charlevoix's 90th District Court on one count of first-degree criminal sexual conduct and three counts of second-degree criminal sexual conduct.

"On April 20 ... (alleged victim) stated that David Buckner sexually touched (alleged victim) on two occasions. Once a few months ago and once on Saturday, April 17," stated Charlevoix County Under-sheriff Chuck Vondra in his affidavit of probable cause.

Vondra's statement went on to detail Buckner's interview with a sheriff deputy.

"Deputy (Rob) Scholey (Charlevoix County Sheriff Office) interviewed David Buckner. Buckner at first denied anything inappropriate happening with (alleged victim)," Vondra stated.

Vondra went on to state that, after a few minutes of talking about it, Buckner admitted to an incident which allegedly occurred on November 2009, but denied an alleged incident on April 17.

During a second interview, and with his wife present, Buckner denied having touched one of the alleged victims. Buckner's bond was set at $10,000 but he had not posted it as of 3 p.m. on Thursday, April 22.

If found guilty of the first-degree felony charge, Buckner could face life in prison. The second-degree felony charges could land Buckner up to 15 years in prison. A pretrial conference has been set for May 4 and the preliminary examination has been scheduled for May 11 in district court.

Buckner has retained Roy Hayes as his legal defense. Charlevoix City Fire Chief Paul Ivan said Buckner has asked for, and been granted, a leave of absence from the fire department.

Buckner is a volunteer firefighter with the city, Charlevoix Township Fire Department and a seasonal firefighter for the Department of Natural Resources Fire Department.

Buckner is also an EMT specialist for the city.

"Once the justice system has done its thing we will evaluate the situation and go from there," Ivan said of Buckner's continued employment with the city.

Buckner began with the city in 1999, the township in 1997 and the DNR in 2004.

CRASH

At 5:08 p.m. on Wednesday, April 14, at the Charlevoix County Sheriff's Office responded to a one vehicle personal injury traffic crash which occurred on Gien Road west of Blann Road in Boyne Valley Township. Both Gien Road and Blann Road are seasonal roads. 26 year old Sara Hollenbeck of Elmira, had turned onto Gien Road from a private road and traveled a short distance in a 2004 Jeep Liberty. She then tried to avoid a mud hole and lost control striking a tree head on. Rear seat passenger, 43-year-old Tracy Erber of Elmira struck the seat in front of her during the crash. She complained of pain in her left shoulder. Erber was transported to Northern Michigan Hospital by the Boyne Valley Ambulance.

The Sheriff's Office was assisted at the scene by the Boyne City EMS, the Boyne Valley ambulance and Fire Dept.

FIRE DEPT.

On Monday, April 19, 2010 at 9:42 a.m. the Charlevoix Fire Department was dispatched to a fire in the cave of a house at 215 Belvedere Avenue. Construction workers in the house were using a torch to cut some metal, and through a small hole ignited a bird's nest. The construction crew was working in a section of the house that was over Round Lake.

Firefighters were able to access the section of the cave on fire via a second story balcony, and were able to quickly extinguish the fire with minimal damage. No one was injured, and firefighters were on scene for about a half hour.

Norwood recall vote on May 4

BY BENJAMIN GOHS
EDITOR

Four of the five-person Norwood Township Board are sought for recall on the May 4 ballot.

The officials who may be voted out of office next week are Norwood Township Supervisor Frank Hamilton, secretary Dana Pajtas, and trustees David Ridenour and Doug Warner.

Hamilton has been accused of serving "special interest group the Norwood Township Citizens

For Health and Safety rather than the interests of the citizens of Norwood Township" in addition to alleged conflict of interest, Freedom of Information Act violations and placing the township at risk for lawsuits.

Pajtas' recall language is nearly identical to Hamilton's with the additional allegation that she has improperly posted meetings.

Ridenour's and Warner's recall language is similar to the two preceding.

The recall was initiated in fall last year by Norwood citizens unhappy with their board's performance.

Norwood residents may vote between 7 a.m. and 8 p.m. on Tuesday May 4, at the Norwood Township Hall, 19759 Lake St. Village of Norwood.

Beaver Island Chamber of Commerce President Kathy Speck presents Dr. Jeff Powers with the Beaver Island Citizen of the Year award.

The Beaver Island Chamber of Commerce honored Dr. Jeff Powers, DVM as Beaver Island's Citizen of the Year at an awards banquet held on April 24.

Powers has been a statewide leader in the area of cormorant control for the northern Lake Michigan area. He was instrumental during the passage of Senate Resolution 54, a resolution to request the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service extend indefinitely the degradation order for double-crested cormorants.

In addition to running several successful businesses on Beaver Island, Powers serves as the President of the Beaver Island Wildlife Club. He also serves the community as the Island veterinarian.

Powers received an inscribed plaque from the Beaver Island Chamber of Commerce and was presented with a Special Tribute, signed by State Senator Jason Allen and State Representative Kevin Elsenheimer.

Happy trails to me

It was a chilly morning and traffic was just beginning to fill the streets.

We made the journey to the train station with time to spare.

The distance between the front door of the newly remodeled station and the distance we would carry our cargo now loomed ahead.

It's quite the tactical maneuver to carry a lap top, camera, carry-on and the two regulation size 22 by 28 inch pieces of luggage.

I crossed my fingers and took a deep breath hoping I had typed all the correct information into the computer while in the comfort of my own home.

I am placed at e-mail and not much more. The sounds and smells of a busy train station brought me to attention more than the hot steaming coffee I had minutes earlier.

I was becoming anxious whether the kiosk designed to print the tickets would actually print out the correct destinations. Things got better.

A jovial white haired man yelled out from behind a ticket window, "I'll help you up here at the desk, that kiosk thing never works."

He ran them through and I could breathe again as all connecting trains and bus tickets were now in a neat folder beckoning us for an adventure of a lifetime.

The recognizable sound of an

just that.

We placed the luggage into a space the size of a phone booth and settled into our seats ready to watch the world go by.

Scenes of back yards and swing sets with children playing soon melted away and became store fronts.

Trees in various stages of budding were followed by utility lines that looked more like crosses blessing us on our journey.

We listened to the whirring of the train and let our bodies flow with the rhythm of the rocking to and fro.

We witnessed the scene changing as if done by the click of a TV remote. The cows and horses with early spring calves and fillies and foals romping near their moms was a heartwarming view.

By morning we would awaken engine churning, a whistle blowing and low hissing sound would soon be followed by what I'd been waiting for with great anticipation. "All Aboard!"

early to watch the sun rise over mountains still glistening with snow.

We made this five by seven foot compartment on the California Zephyr a home away from home.

It contained two beds; one perched very close to the ceiling with straps attached to keep its ticket holder safe.

I chose the lower bunk because I knew some how I'd end up tangled in the myriad of straps and might need to ask the porter to release me from its hold.

The room also had a small table that folded down when evening arrived, a large picture window and a very small bathroom.

This one came with a shower, hum now this could get interesting. By early morning not wanting to wake me, my husband slid; make that contorted his way out of the room after his shower and then ventured to the viewing car.

By 7 a.m., breakfast was announced and I hurriedly stepped into the 1 by 2 foot space to rinse and bathe in lukewarm water being careful to keep the toilet lid closed and a curtain drawn.

Not aware I was in the shower stall the porter arrived to make up the beds.

As he turned the corner he came face to face with a woman coming out of the bathroom. He let out a surprised cry which met with mine.

We both retreated quickly.

For the remainder of the trip his eyes would cast downward every time he saw me as the memory of seeing me must have been a bit painful.

Not having any sense of direction the train was the ideal way to travel across the country.

Unfortunately I can still get lost while on a train as I occasionally entered the wrong car.

Did I mention that traveling by train is also a great way to meet people? Community seating is the norm for every meal.

After five days on a train you become a family of sorts.

We met a couple from the UK who were raised just outside of Liverpool.

They thanked us for Elvis and we obliged thanking them for the Beatles.

An 80-year-old woman from Vancouver relished with the excitement of a child that the problems were few during the Olympics.

She attributed this to the bars closing by 4:30 p.m. every day. We also dined with a Presbyterian minister who encouraged all beliefs to attend his services and lived them up by breaking out in song the likes of American Idol.

We met a burly man with a soft voice likening him to a teddy bear. He hailed from New Orleans and in his southern drawl spoke of the various wards that still hadn't been touched since Katrina.

Then there was the college professor who insisted on plopping his 'droid' onto the dining table and using it like a black board to answer any question and to discuss any and all topics no matter how minor. And of course there was Nigel the gnome.

A garden statue stolen during a friends visit and was now being photographed in a variety of scenarios until his return.

The 88-year-old rodeo cowboy who recently had two shunts put in near his heart.

He said life was short so he was traveling the distance to see a friend he shared dreams with 65 years earlier.

Marriage and commitments kept them from finishing up a dream.

They are planning to reunite and sail the Chesapeake Bay. All the train travelers had one thing in common; the desire to see the world and experience life because they felt they had all of eternity to rest.

So right now rest will wait ... there's a world out there to see and the adventure is just beginning.

He said life was short so he

'JAM Teens 4 Africa' return to Michigan

Harbor Light Christian School students, known as "JAM Teens 4 Africa", recently returned to Northern Michigan from a mission trip in South Africa. On March 18, nine students with two adults left for 15 days to work in South Africa improving two child care day centers in Orange Farm, 45 minutes outside Johannesburg. Their project included erecting and painting two new portable "huts" for these children to have fresh, clean and bright classroom facilities. These buildings were 3/6 x 9 cm with 2 doors and 6 windows and included an insulated roof. Also included was a jungle gym set, table/chairs, carpeting, and toys for each center. Many of these African children spend from 6 a.m. to 6 p.m. at these day care facilities with 60+ other children in a 2 room shack. Everything for this project was purchased in South Africa.

The effort was coordinated in conjunction with Joint Aid Management (JAM), a South African based ministry. JAM feeds 500,000 children daily, drills water wells, set up schools, orphanages and training programs in Sudan, Zimbabwe, Mozambique, Rwanda, Angola, and South Africa. (jamint.com).

Two of the students from Charlevoix, Christopher and Suzannah Simon, are carrying on the work of their late father, Albert Simon, who started feeding children and working with this ministry 25 years ago. He passed away in 2007. "We had an awesome experience working together to Murdick said one option they might explore is temporarily moving the business to a location they own across the street. She explained that they bought the second building many years ago because of a city ordinance that said that any building on the east side of Bridge Street that burned down beyond a certain point could not be rebuilt.

She added that the building, which they have rented out over the years, happens to be vacant now. However, moving all of the equipment, including the large marble tables would be quite a chore.

Murdick said her brother has already met with representatives from the and they have already started looking for someone to come in and remove the water from the building.

"We've been in business for 50-some years there and never had a fire. We figured sooner or later our time would come," Murdick added.

K OF C THANK-YOU
Editor:

On behalf of the Charlevoix Knights of Columbus Council 7172, we would like to thank the many people who supported the 34th Annual Cash Raffle party held April 17, 2010 at Castle Farms.

The event is billed as a fundraiser for area needs and we are grateful to the ticket purchasers and attendees who gave so generously during these tough economic times.

With the proceeds from the event, we will be able to continue funding over 24 area programs which assist area youth, the area schools, the community at large and special needs and programs for the disadvantaged.

Our summer parking program will begin in June and the proceeds from our reserved parking during major community events are also used to fund these same programs and projects.

The 2011 Cash raffle party will be held Saturday May 7, 2011, at Castle Farms. We hope to see you there.

Thank you once again to everyone who made this a great success!

Keep Charlevoix Beautiful, Inc. has been working hard to ensure that our community and its visitors continue to enjoy the stunning display of petunias that Charlevoix the Beautiful is known for. The response to an outreach for community support has been overwhelming. It is certain that the gratitude to those who have contributed will be extended by everyone, young and old alike, who experience the display.

The board, led by Joseph Vogelheim and Bo Boss, has also been creatively seeking ways to maintain, and "grow" this fine tradition in an atmosphere where the simple beauty of flowers can be lost in a fragile economy. To that end, cost effective measures are being implemented without compromising what the community has come to expect from this group. The combined efforts of Keep Charlevoix Beautiful, Inc., the city of Charlevoix with Pat Elliott, and most importantly, the contributions of local businesses, year-round and summer residents has made it possible to keep the tradition alive. We will be able to continue to cover the entire area with petunias. In addition, the 79 floral baskets that have lined downtown's Bridge Street as well as the main walkway will be observable two short weeks after planting da on May 27. Keep Charlevoix Beautiful, Inc. wants to again thank everyone for making "Operation Petunia" possible for it 28th year.

Rick and Margaret Arnold of Charlevoix are pleased to announce the engagement of their daughter, Megan to Roger Pittman, son of Rod Pittman of Charlevoix and Jane Holm of Ellsworth.

The wedding is planned for July 2010 at Michigan Beach Pier, followed by a reception at Castle Farms.

Megan is a 2003 graduate from Charlevoix High School, a 2005 graduate from Up North School of Cosmetology and is self employed at New Creation Hair Designs.

Robert is a 1998 graduate from Charlevoix High School and is employed at Lakeshore Tire as a certified mechanic.

Storybook raises money

With only three months left until the 'Crossings' drawing for $5000, Lyn Jenks counts only seven correct entries. "We are urging those that have the book to get their entries in soon," said Jenks. There is only a short time left until a lucky 'Crossings' reader will win. Monies collected from the sale of the beautifully illustrated historical storybook written by Patti Aikin will benefit the Charlevoix Area Hospital Foundation and the Crooked Tree Arts Council.

Fundraising for the Charlevoix Area Hospital

The Charlevoix Area Hospital Foundation Holly Daze Committee has been meeting once a month since the last 'Holly Daze' evening of dining excellence and distinguished auctions. This year's theme is 'Catch the Grinch, How the Grinch Stole Holly daze'. Pictured are Gloria Barnes, Brandy Malpass, Marge McGoff, Anne Golski, Mary Faculak, Kathy Galbraith, Donna Looze, Amy Laewitz, Tracey Sherman, and Sarah Malpass who display wanted signs that will be posted as the event draws nearer. Funds raised at the Holly Daze evening of excellence are used to purchase needed equipment and to fund community programs at Charlevoix Area Hospital, a not-for-profit organization.

May is Mental Health Month Activities

North Country Community Mental Health is announcing, "May is Mental Health Month." The theme for this year's observance is "Live Your Life Well." This initiative from Mental Health America is aimed at increasing the number of people who take positive actions to protect their mental health.

Visit www.LiveYourLifeWell.org for more in-depth information about 10 specific research-based tools to promote individual resiliency during major life changes and/or times of stress. One of these tools is to get physically active.

North Country CMH has planned the following activities during the month of May: Saturday, May 1, - 13th Annual 5 K Run/One Mile Walk at the Bayfront Park, Petoskey Waterfront Area. Late registration will take place on the day of the run/walk from 8:30 - 9:30 a.m. at the Petoskey Waterfront. The Governor's Council on Physical Fitness, Health and Sports has endorsed the event.

The run will begin at 10 a.m. and the walk at 10:10 a.m. Registration fee for the run is $15.

Trophies will be awarded to the overall male and female winners - medals to the first three finishers in each age group. There is no charge for the walk. Other events during the Run/Walk include: featured speaker, Luis Oxholm, DO; door prizes for all registered participants; consumer recognition awards; community recognition awards; and music by The Worker Bees.

Log on to www.norcoemh.org for registration forms and more information on May is Mental Health Month or call North Country CMH at 347-0740.

Tuesday, May 11, - Consumers from North Country CMH will participate in the sixth statewide "Walk a Mile in My Shoes Rally" in Lansing from 1:30 - 2:30 p.m. at the State Capitol. Consumer representatives hold county flags and deliver a statement about mental health from the steps of the state Capitol.

Friday, May 14, - "Day of Recovery Education" from 10 a.m. - 3 p.m. at Treetops, Gaylord.

The Day of Recovery Education is focused on learning about and celebrating recovery from mental illness and this year's theme is "Spring to Life." For more information, contact Carol Balousek at (231) 439-1274.

North Country Community Mental Health provides services to residents of Antrim, Charlevoix, Cheboygan, Emmet, Kalkaska and Otsego Counties experiencing a severe emotional problem, serious mental illness or developmental disability.

Free parking in DeWitt after all

BY BENJAMIN GOHS
EDITOR

After what seemed like a slam-dunk decision over the DeWitt parking lot off Park Avenue in Charlevoix, council changed its collective minds.

During their Regular Monday April 19 meeting Charlevoix City Council voted 4-2 to maintain the DeWitt lot as-is for at least another year.

"The conversation was focused primarily on enforcement," said Charlevoix Downtown Development Authority executive director Keith Carey. "There was some disagreement among council as to how to move forward, but ultimately their decision was reflective of the sentiment of my board."

He added, "I think it's wise to take a wait-and-see attitude to determine what the usage of the space is going to be upon doubling its current capacity."

Both council members Jill Picha and Brian Vollmer dissented from the board's decision to charge no fees for parking once the lot's construction is completed later this summer.

Vollmer did not return calls by press time, but Picha opined on the $80,000 parking project.

"There is no reason not to charge," Picha said. "If the lot stays open (free) then it's going to be all employees in there and next year when they meter it they're going to be right back on Park Avenue."

Overnight parking will be prohibited and enforced with $15 tickets.

"We should have tried to get some money from it this summer," Picha said. "My idea was to try to sell 10 of the parking spots for $250 from May to October."

The argument over the revenue generating ability of parking enforcement has not escaped the notice of Charlevoix officials. Charlevoix Police Chief Gerard Doan said permits, parking tickets and coinage from meters is a lucrative business.

In 2009 the City of Charlevoix took in $21,549.50 in parking tickets and $23,419.75 in coins and permits.

However, Doan said, he has no problem leaving the DeWitt lot free of charge.

"I can understand council's decision on making it a free parking lot," he said. "Due to the fact that it may draw vehicles that park all day on Park Avenue and Bridge Street."

Doan said this will not affect how his department enforces the lot.

Council had originally considered purchasing and installing a pay and display computerized kiosk for nearly $13,500 to meter nearly 40 of the DeWitt's parking spaces.

However, after considering that construction costs will run well into $80,000, the low return on investment just couldn't be justified at this time according to Carey.

Even at full capacity charging a premium rate for parking the lot might only bring in around $700 per summer season.

Picha said the issue will likely be revisited later next winter or spring.

The DeWitt parking lot project will be the final phase in the Park Avenue street and sewer infrastructure project which began shortly after the demolition by fire of the 108 Park Ave. house located on the footprint of the DeWitt lot.

The nearly $800,000 street and sewer project had the DeWitt lot project added to it in an effort to lower the cost of the parking project.

Do you have livestock losses

Got Losses on Livestock, Farm-Raised Fish or Honeybees?

Christine White, executive director of USDA's Farm Service Agency (FSA) in Michigan announced today that USDA will accept late-filed applications for the Emergency Assistance for Livestock, Honeybees and Farm-Raised Fish Program (ELAP) for losses that took place in calendar years 2008 and 2009. However, because of changes to program eligibility provisions, FSA is now accepting late-filed applications for 2008 and 2009 livestock, honeybees, and/or farm-raised fish losses through May 5.

"ELAP provides emergency assistance to eligible producers of livestock, honeybees and farm-raised fish that have losses due to disease, adverse weather or other conditions, including losses due to blizzards and wildfires," said White. "With such a short window to file late-file applications, it is imperative any producer who missed the first sign-up visit their local FSA county office."

ELAP eligibility provisions have been amended for both honeybee and farm-raised fish producers. The modifications include allowing honeybee and farm-raised fish producers who did not replace their honeybees or fish that were lost due to a natural disaster to be eligible for ELAP payments based on the fair market value of the honeybees or fish that were lost.

For more information or to apply for ELAP and other USDA Farm Service Agency disaster assistance programs, please visit your FSA county office of www.fsa.usda.gov.

New fire and emergency medical services building in East Jordan

JENNIFER RICHARDSON
NEWS-REVIEW

At the Tuesday, April 20 meeting of the East Jordan city commission, Tad and Tracy Malpass of the East Jordan Iron Works delivered the news that the Malpass Foundation would be building a new Fire and Emergency Medical Services (EMS) building in East Jordan.

Interim city administrator Dennis Jason said the building would replace the existing fire station, which was rebuilt in 1946, and eliminate the need for EMS to rent space at the DURA building, where it is currently housed. The new building will be located on the corner of Maple (M-32) and Bartlett streets, and include garage bays for both fire and EMS vehicles, increased storage space, classroom and meeting rooms, bunks, fitness and shower areas, as well as office space.

"It's going to be a tremendous thing for the city," said Jason.

The Malpass Foundation has agreed not only to construct the building, but provide the necessary engineering services, permits and inspection services required for the project. Also, asphalt drives, landscaping, flag poles, a site sign and yard lighting will be included. After a planning session to legally define the agreement, City attorney Scott Beatty said.

"The end result is one I'm happy to recommend to the commission."

Commissioners also approved separate drug and alcohol policies for city employ-employees have been, and will continue to be involved in the planning process.

"We want this to be the community's building, not ours," said Tad Malpass.

The Malpass Foundation has agreed not only to construct the building, but provide the necessary engineering services, permits and inspection services required for the project. Also, asphalt drives, landscaping, flag poles, a site sign and yard lighting will be included. After a planning session to legally define the agreement, City attorney Scott Beatty said.

"The end result is one I'm happy to recommend to the commission."

Commissioners also approved separate drug and alcohol policies for city employees. The alcohol policy states that employees should not consume alcohol while on duty, established a prohibited level of .02 grams per 100 milliliter of blood for employees who may have consumed alcohol before reporting to work, and prohibits employees from refusing to submit to an alcohol test or tampering with testing procedures or equipment.

Employees may be tested for alcohol use randomly, after being involved in a work-place accident, if there is reasonable suspicion the employee is in violation of the alcohol policy, as a follow-up to voluntarily disclosed alcohol problems or entry into or completion of a rehabilitation program or as a condition of employment for new hires.

The commission also approved a "zero tolerance" policy for illegal drug use, with the same testing guidelines as the alcohol policy. The new policy also emphasizes responsible use of prescription drugs, such as checking with a physician regarding the effects of that drug in relation to the employees work duties or operation of vehicles and machinery.

The issue of water and sewer rates was re-visited.

Jason presented different scenarios for commissioners to consider, breaking down the numbers of several proposed water rate increases. Commissioners have considered lowering the rates because of the large fund balance, but Jason said, "We have a couple of projects that will use up a couple hundred thousand dollars.

We have to keep funds coming in, in order to serve the community."

Commissioners decided to table the issue until their next meeting, in order to have more time to discuss the issue with city residents.

Carron Rogers was appointed to fill the seat vacated by the resignation of Deneille Moes at the April 6 meeting. Rogers has lived in East Jordan for 18 years, and formerly worked for the sheriff's department and Charlevoix County. Rogers said she was interested in bringing in new ideas and helping the city improve.

At the end of the meeting, commissioners went in to closed session to discuss union contract negotiations.

Public Health Week 2010 celebrates local heroes

LANSING - The Michigan Department of Community Health (MDCH) - in conjunction with its partners in local public health across the state - will celebrate Michigan Public Health Week April 11-17. This year's theme, "A Healthier America: One Community at a Time," embraces the concept of improving America's health system in one generation. If every person commits to promoting good health in their community, we can create momentum to improve one community at a time. Healthier communities create a healthier nation.

MDCH will highlight the week at 11 a.m. on Wednesday, April 14, at its annual Hometown Health Heroes celebration in the Capitol Rotunda. During the event, the department and its partners will recognize five legislators as "Public Policy Champions" for their efforts in championing the new Clean Air Bill into law. MDCH also will recognize 12 Hometown Health Heroes who have worked collaboratively to make their communities healthier places to live and grow.

"I congratulate our Public Policy Champions and Hometown Health Heroes," said MDCH Director Janet Olszewski. "These individuals and groups are premier examples of what it means to be a health advocate for the people of Michigan. Our honorees have done everything from establishing and operating free health clinics to spearheading the development of a 48-mile nature trail in the Upper Peninsula. All of their actions have made our state a healthier place to live."

2010 PUBLIC POLICY CHAMPIONS INCLUDE:

- Senator Ray Basham of the 8th district
- Senator Thomas George of the 20th district
- Senator Ron Jelinek of the 21st district
- Representative Joan Bauer of the 68th district
- Representative Gary McDowell of the 107th district

2010 HOMETOWN HEALTH HEROES INCLUDE:

- Dr. Lisa Harrington - Grayling Family Practice Clinic and Mercy Hospice in Grayling
- Dr. Roderic Tinney - Pediatrician - Charlevoix
- Barb Grinwis, PA - Oasis of Hope, Grand Rapids
- Angela Stevenson - Wayne County Department of Public Health

Dr. Rod Tinney named "Hometown Health Hero"

A Charlevoix County pediatrician is one of 12 "Hometown Health Heroes" recognized for their extraordinary efforts to improve the health of their communities across Michigan by a coalition of public health organizations. Rod Tinney, MD, received the honor for his advocacy of immunizations. He received the award from Greg Holzman, MD, Michigan's Chief Medical Executive, at a reception on April 14 at the Capitol Rotunda in Lansing celebrating National Public Health Week. Tinney is a true partner of public health," said Joshua Meyerson, MD, Medical Director for the Health Department of Northwest Michigan. "As the only pediatrician in Charlevoix County, he has an extremely busy practice, yet he works closely with the Health Department to assure his patients are enrolled in programs such as the WIC Nutrition Program and the Maternal Child Health Program."

CHARLEVOIX 6, KALKASKA 0

The Rayders knocked off conference foe Kalkaska on Monday 4/19. Three raiders scored twice, Madison Way, Taylor Smith and Hallie Bills. Freshman Hanna "Herbie" Herboldscheimer connected for two assists, Hannah Doan one and one each for Smith and Way.

Bailee Stevens made two saves on the net to earn her second shutout of the year. Herbie was named Rayder player of the game.

TRAVERSE CITY ST. FRANCIS/LIBERTY 3, CHARLEVOIX 3 (2 OVERTIME)

The Rayders fought to a 3-3 tie with The Liberty at Traverse City on Thursday. Against a strong wind, Charlevoix managed to come away at the half down just 2-1 thanks to a score off a corner by junior Hannah Doan and aggressive play at the net by fellow junior Hallie Bills.

The Rayders scored in the first 6 seconds of the 2nd half to knot the score at 2-2 when freshman Anna Way sent a cross to junior Taylor Smith for the score.

Charlevoix took the lead with 12 minutes left in regulation on a direct kick by senior co captain Madison Way.

With just 3 minutes to go, the Liberty tied the score at 3-3, capitalizing on defensive mistakes.

The match ended at 3 all through an additional 30 minutes of overtime play.

"It was a good match for the entire team against a quality foe who had knocked the Rayders out of Regional's in 2009," said assistant coach Tom Conlan. "Freshman Bailee Stevens made 19 saves in the net for Charlevoix. Anna Way was named player of the game."

Charlevoix, 2-1-1 overall and 2-0-1 in conference, travels to Boyne City for a conference match on Monday and entertains Elk Rapids on Thursday, 4/29.

Stingray joins Michigan Team Swim League

COURTESY PHOTO

Charlevoix Stingray Swimmer Brad Klinger after he became the 1st Charlevoix Stingray Swimmer to win 1st place at the Michigan Team Swim League State Swimming Championships in March. Brad went to win a total of two events.

There is still a celebration going on at the Charlevoix Pool after the splash Charlevoix Stingray Swim Team member Brad Klinger made at the Michigan Team Swim League (MTSL) State Championships in March.

Klinger who has since turned 11, competed in the 9/10 boys age group at the Championship Meet held in Midland.

Brad qualified in every single event in his age group. That is an amazing accomplishment for him. It was his goal all season, and it helped give him an extra sense of accomplishment heading into the Championship meet," said Stingray coach Betsy Granstra.

Swimmers are only able to swim three individual events at the State meet.

Brad swam the 50 Freestyle, 100 Freestyle and the 50 Backstroke.

"Brad was seeded first going into the 50 Freestyle. We told him that we had never had a Stingray get first at the state meet. The smile on his face was priceless. He knew he was going to win," she said. "Brad finished the race almost 2 seconds ahead on the second place swimmer and his time was 2 seconds faster than his best time ever. Brad Klinger became the first Charlevoix Stingray MTSL State Champion."

Brad's winning 50 Freestyle time was 31.97.

Brad's second event was the 100 Freestyle.

He was seeded seventh in this event and finished third with a time of 1:12.51; six seconds faster than his previous best time.

For Brad's third event he swam the 50 Backstroke.

Brad was seeded second in this event and he won the event with a time of 38.40.

It was over 2.5 seconds faster than his previous best time.

Brad concluded his State Meet swimming in the 200 Freestyle Relay with teammates, Ray Cunningham, Colin Davis and Spencer Haan.

The team finished in third place.

"It was a very special day. Brad is an amazing athlete. You can't ask for anything better than a swimmer swimming their best at the State meet. It's pretty neat when swimming your best is two first place medals," Granstra said.

The Charlevoix Stingrays are a year-round age group swim team.

The Stingray swimmers range in age from 5-18 years old. We encourage any swimmer who is able to swim the length of the pool to come out and try our swim practice.

Swimmers work on skill proficiency and endurance all in a fun and safe environment.

If you have any questions regarding the Stingrays swim team please call coach Betsy Granstra at 547-0982 or e-mail her at Betsy@charlevoixpool.org

Rayder spring baseball preview

BY ALAN TELGENHOF
BASEBALL WRITER

The question for the 2010 edition of the Charlevoix Rayder baseball team is whether the glass is half full or half empty.

On the pessimistic side, last year's team was 7-26 and several key players, including all-stater Michael Heckendorn, graduated after the season.

The reasons for optimism are that the 2010 team

Telgenhof

Foster, Bill Ivan and J.T. Lawrence.

Fifth year head coach Allen Telgenhof chooses to look at the bright side. "Last year was tough from a won-loss record standpoint but we had a lot of guys who gained very valuable experience," he noted. "With no junior varsity team last year, we had freshmen learning at the varsity level and that is tough. We improved all year long and that's all we can ask for."

Mitchell will start in centerfield as well as pitching in the starting rotation. He has earned all-district and all-conference honors previously.

Foster, another all-conference selection, will pitch and play in the middle infield.

Lawrence starts at second base and Ivan returns at first base.

Sophomores Coby Herriman (pitcher/third base), Andrew Potter (pitcher/shortstop), Jordan Farmer (catcher) and Isaac Klooster (outfield) will be back in the starting lineup as well.

The battle for the other starting spot will likely be between outfielder Morgan Stewart who Telgenhof called "the hardest worker on the team", newcomer Myles Kerr who has impressed thus far and freshman Tommy Zipp.

The bench is anchored by returnees Alex Waha,

Jesse Drost and C.J. Kunkle as well as rookies Hunter Johnstone and Greg Bishaw.

"Our team has a great energy this season," Telgenhof said.

"We have a boatload of sophomores (eight) this year, but we will go as far as our senior leaders take us."

Lady soccer players coming out kicking

BY BENJAMIN GOHS
EDITOR

Despite being a little light on athletes this season, Carol Madson is excited about Rayder soccer.

She'll be doing the job with 15 girls on varsity and 13 on junior varsity this year.

"We're happy to have enough girls to have a junior varsity program and we've got a good mix of girls on varsity," Madson said. "And that's good because we have some big holes to fill after losing Tammy Potter and Meredith Rich and KC McCary in the middle and Olivia Catt too — we lost one from each line who were really significant players."

But, she added, "WE have some really great returning players as well."

So far the lady Rayders are undefeated in the conference with a tie against Traverse City Liberty with a score of 3-3 in double overtime last week.

"We definitely have some good strengths on our defense and our freshmen are showing a lot of promise," she said.

Big competition to look for will include Elk Rapids, Harbor and Gaylord.

"We came in second to Elk Rapids last year and we won districts before losing to T.C. Liberty," Madison said. "But, this is really a great group of girls. We have some really good leadership and our girls are really committed to working hard."

Madison is coaching for her 10th year in soccer. Jon Boss is the junior varsity coach and Tom Conlan assists Madison with varsity.

"We have a very good group of returning runners that include state qualifiers from years past: seniors Madeline Jeakle, Taylor Storm; juniors Karinne Smolenyak, Kathryn Sell and sophomore Molly Jeakle," she said. "Also to this list are some other quality returning athletes like Sara Wilkinson, Krista Pischner, Makenzi Kage, Hilary Way, Annie Dipert,

Rayder girls running down a dream

BY BENJAMIN GOHS
EDITOR

After qualifying for the state level last year and placing seventh, Mary Plude's lady Rayder track team is striding for first.

Plude's team is veritabily packed with seniors and sophomores and she also has a nice mix of freshmen and juniors.

"We have a very good group of returning runners that include state qualifiers from years past: seniors Madeline Jeakle, Taylor Storm; juniors Karinne Smolenyak, Kathryn Sell and sophomore Molly Jeakle," she said. "Also to this list are some other quality returning athletes like Sara Wilkinson, Krista Pischner, Makenzi Kage, Hilary Way, Annie Dipert, Stirling Witthoeft and Nataleigh Musser."

Plude said she also has some promising new athletes on this year's team.

"We have added in seniors Sarah Potter and Isis Hang in the throwing events; sophomore sprinters Whitney Drost, Jenna Way, Allison Hankins and Christina Russell," she said. "The distance crew is strengthened by the addition of Alaska Dhaseler and Crystal Batdorff."

Plude added, "Areas we need to work on are the blending of the experience part of the team with the new teammates. We also need to restock the sprint relays and come together as a cohesive racing unit."

Plude said her girls are solid in all the events, except for the pole vault.

"We will either need to make up the points in other events or find some vaulters," she said. "Our strength will be our depth in 16 out of the 17 events. We have strong scorers at the top in several events and the relays have always been a strong area for us."

The lady Rayders' main competition for conference action is usually Harbor and St. Francis, while in the regional it is Benzie Central, Kingsley and LeRoy-Pine River.

"We were second in both the conference and the regional last year."

Plude has 38 girls: 10 seniors, six juniors, 17 sophomores and five freshman.

GOLF TEAM'S DEPTH A REAL STRENGTH

BY BENJAMIN GOHS
EDITOR

Due to the sheer abundance of players he had turn out for this year's Rayder boys golf team, coach Doug Drenth was forced to make cuts.

"I have a great deal of athletes this year — 19 — and those great numbers are good but I can only play six guys at a time," he said. "It's a great problem to have."

Drenth said his team's depth and a nice mix of new and returning golfers should lend to strong showings on the links this spring.

"I have four strong seniors and about five juniors and some really strong underclassmen," he said.

Drenth's team finished last year with a qualifier for the state championships.

"We are hoping to use that momentum from last year and build upon it," he said. "Success builds success."

Drenth looks to Grayling and Traverse City to put up a tough fight.

"It's such an individual sport you're competing against yourself but there is also the team factor because each guy comes into play with their own strengths," he said. "Harbor fields a good team and Petoskey's great as well. We love to compete against Petoskey and we're also looking at the state level to Big Rapids."

Drenth said his team is well aware of their weaknesses on the individual level and work every day to improve their game.

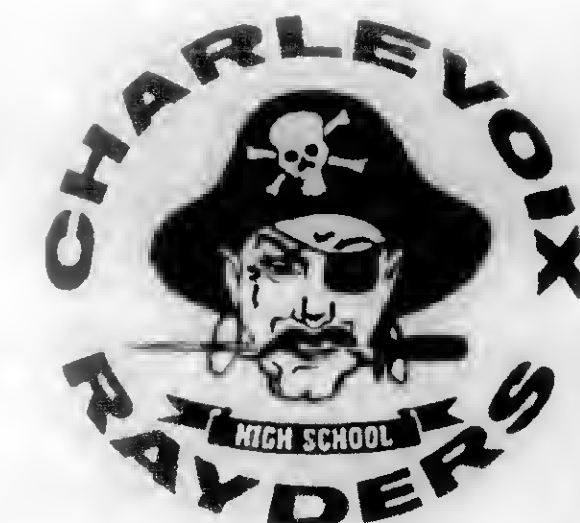

"Whether its chipping or putting, every guy will tell you they can do better," he said.

The Rayders' golf program finished 12th in the state last year, but Drenth said he wants to make the top 10.

"I just have a great group of leaders and they're really fun to work with," he said. "I think the guys have really high aspirations and the ability to achieve those things."

Drenth has been a coach for 16 years total in both running and golf combined.

Early spring a boon on the court

BY BENJAMIN GOHS
EDITOR

Tennis coach Audra Randall's team may be young overall, but an early spring has given them more much needed time on the clay.

Out of 18 girls, three are returning seniors, six are juniors and the rest are underclassmen.

"This weather has really given the girls the upper edge to get out and get court time for the season," Randall said. "In their weeks of practicing they have improved tremendously and during a scrimmage in Petoskey on March 31 they played really strong and held their own."

Megan Menoskey and Bailey Chamberlain are number one doubles.

"A lot of girls played doubles last year and are now moving into the singles categories," Randall said. "They showed their ability to move all over the court and they can read into the other players game better."

She added, "We will be working on the finer points of strengthening our serving to make that actually a scoring aspect of the game, not just getting the ball over the net."

Randall has coached junior varsity volleyball for six seasons and this is her first year coaching tennis.

Governor's Council Encourages Community Participation at 16th Annual Sue DeYoung/Judy Edger Memorial Breast Cancer 5K Walk/Run

The 16th Annual Sue DeYoung/Judy Edger Memorial Breast Cancer 5K Walk/Run has been recognized as a quality physical activity event by the Governor's Council on Physical Fitness.

The event honors two courageous local women: Sue DeYoung, a young mother of four children that died in 1992, and Judy Edger, who was a driving force behind this event until her death in March 1999. Monies raised this year will go to the Charlevoix County's Circle of Strength Foundation, to provide mammograms for women in need, and the Health Department of Northwest Michigan, to be used for the free cervical screening program for Charlevoix County residents.

The event takes place May 8, 2010 this year in East Park, Charlevoix. Registration begins at 8 a.m. and the walk and run begin at 9 a.m. Individual walkers, runners and teams can collect "pledges" for participating in the walk, or sponsor themselves with a one time donation. All entries with $25 or more in donations will receive a commemorative t-shirt (please pre-register by April 24). Participant and sponsor forms are available at this website: <http://suedeyoungjudyedgerwalk.nexo.com/> and also at local Chambers of Commerce, libraries, and fitness centers.

The Governor's Council endorses local, regional and state events to acknowledge an organization's ability to plan and carry out a quality event that significantly contributes to the health and well-being of Michigan residents. The Sue DeYoung/Judy Edger Memorial Breast Cancer 5K Walk/Run exemplifies this core value and is endorsed by the Governor's Council.

"We are so pleased to have this endorsement for this very important community event this year," said Kendall Hayes, Chair of the Event. "Our participants can register for the opportunity to be one of the runners selected to participate in the sixth annual Labor Day Run over the Mackinac Bridge. For more information and to register for your chance to participate, visit: www.michiganfitness.org."

"By endorsing local events all across the state, we hope to bring attention to the importance of physical activity and encourage our citizens to take responsibility for their health," said Marilyn Lieber, president and CEO of the Governor's Council. "These local events can have a tremendous impact on health care costs that present a significant challenge for our state's economy."

There are several ways you can take part in this year's 5k walk/run:

1. Individual walkers, runners and teams can collect "pledges" for participating in the walk, or sponsor themselves with a one time donation. All entries with $25 or more in donations will receive a commemorative t-shirt

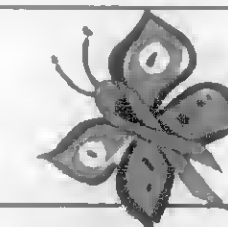

2. Individuals can volunteer their time the day of the walk (please contact kendallhayes@gmail.com).

3. Those wishing to simply make a contribution may do so follow this link <http://www.c3f.org/misc/misc-makeagift.htm> to the Charlevoix County Community Foundation Website and make sure to note Charlevoix Area Memorial Cancer Fund.

4. Corporations and individuals can also direct their contributions to the endowment portion of the Charlevoix Area Memorial Cancer Fund. By electing to do this, the donor is eligible for a 50% tax credit as well as a charitable deduction on their federal tax form for those who itemize deductions.

Technology providing safety and security

BY MARK L. MAYNARD

The Commission on Aging (COA) calls it Community-based aging in place: Creating an accommodating environment and providing safety, security and supportive services at home and throughout the community.

The goal is to allow our elderly or infirm loved ones to remain in their homes for as long as possible. Staying in the home usually benefits all of those involved. The psychological impact of maintaining a familiar quality of life and feeling of independence cannot be over emphasized. Limiting their dependence on others to family, friends and trusted caregivers goes a long way toward maintaining the sense of security, comfort and familiarity.

There are a number of common-sense and do-it-yourself activities that can contribute to creating an environment of safety, security and support as indicated in the COA definition. Some of the easiest things you can do will improve safety and help avoid injury. You can start by maintaining clear walkways and providing snow and ice removal services. You can look for and eliminate trip-and-fall obstacles like slippery rugs, loose steps and uneven walkways. Also insure that light bulbs and smoke alarm batteries are changed to prevent your loved one from taking the matters into their own hands.

On the specific subject of reach and fall make sure there is a grabber claw or two in strategic places in the home. For the inevitable time where an elevated platform will be needed make sure to have one of those two step folding ladders that have a safety bar above the top step to assist with balance. Better to provide a safe step ladder than risk the inevitable alternative of the closest kitchen chair.

Check some of the many resources you can find by typing "elder safety" or "elder proof your house" into your favorite search engine. There are many local resources available at your local health department and local hospice. There are technology solutions available to assist with calls for help to a designated care giver, central dispatch or local emergency services. These systems are loosely referred to as Personal Emergency gency Response Systems (PERS). The easy illustration is the Life-Alert commercial where the lady says "all senior citizens should have life alert!". If you already have a telephone line you can purchase your own system and not have to deal with the contracts and monthly payments associated with a national call system. With your own system you can call your preferred care giver rather than some stranger at a national call center.

Home PERS systems have the ability to add useful options besides a call pendant. A simple example is a "fall sensor". If you fall and don't right yourself after a specified time it can call your care giver and you can talk to them through your call pendant. Other options include home security alerts like water, temperature and even lack of motion or activity.

Some of the newer models include voice reminders for medicine, appointment or self test reminders. The newest innovations use wireless networking technology for telemedicine monitoring of things like blood sugar and ECG. If readings move outside of a programmed range the PERS system will notify your care giver.

Home automation systems technology can be used to help you ascertain the your loved one is up and about throughout the day and safe and secure at night. Home automation systems allow you to check status or report problems. These systems can provide the notification abilities of a PERS system and also the security capabilities of a security panel. They will also allow you to determine that dad made it to the kitchen this morning or that the door was closed after he checked the mail. They can be set-up to monitor temperature under the range hood to ascertain that the stove was shut off after breakfast or that there is no water on the bathroom floor. Sensors can help you determine that the garage door is closed and house or grounds are secure. Notifications and status can be performed through the internet, telephone or through an iPhone or SmartPhone interface.

Technology provides alternatives that could significantly delay entry into a managed care situation. Coupled with resources available from community organizations and private service providers the move from the family home might often be avoidable altogether.

I see your name on the wall
A name I gave when you were small.
I held you close and never knew the years we'd have would be so few.
As I turn to walk away
I feel the urge to turn and stay
And yet I turn and walk away.
For I know that it is true,
That you are gone and
There is nothing I can do.

I care about the environment.
I care about protecting our bay.

My roots grow deep here in our community. No pun intended, it's just the truth.

My mother was part of one of the first farming families to settle here. I've lived here my entire life and today my sons live and go to school here too.

Generations ago, families like mine came here for the farming. Today, families visit and settle in the Petoskey area for the beautiful bay and the sunsets, they appreciate the outdoors.

Now that I've been running a business in this community for 14 years, I'm reminded every day as I drive along the water that tourism and the outdoor beauty of our region drives our economy. The beauty of the bay keeps my 20 employees and me busy all summer long.

I care about the Little Traverse Bay Environmental Project because I'm a local business owner, and I know the bay needs to be clean and our economy needs the bay.

Booktalkers

Charlevoix Public Library BookTalkers, a group of readers who read different books each month and gather to discuss them, meet twice per quarter at 6 p.m. in the Armstrong Conference Room of the Charlevoix Public Library, 220 W. Clinton Street. New members are always welcome.

On Monday, May 3, The Yiddish Policeman's Union, by Michael Chabon will be the topic of discussion. This "alternative history" is the story of a world in which Alaska has become the temporary home for displaced Jews following World War II (a premise drawn on the obscure historical fact that FDR once proposed that Alaska, not Israel, become the Jewish homeland). In Chabon's telling, that's exactly what happened, except, inevitably, it hasn't gone as planned. Throw in washed-up police detective Meyer Landsman, the death of a heroin-addicted chess prodigy, Orthodox black-hat gangs and crime-lord rabbis, and you have a "page-turning noir, with a twist of Yiddish", that satisfies on many levels.

On Monday, June 14, BookTalkers will discuss The Freshwater Boys, by Michigan native Adam Schuitema. In this collection of short stories Schuitema explores the lakeside life of his home state with deep enthusiasm, candidly recounting the passage through childhood, youth, and adulthood. A variety of fears are laid out as his characters come into contact with several incarnations of the inscrutable, from the hermit of 'New Era, Michigan,' who lives in a school bus in the woods, to the struggle in 'The Lake Effect' of a man's attempt to balance fatherhood, marriage, and work during a nasty blizzard. On July 8th, author Adam Schuitema will read excerpts, answer questions and sign copies of his book.

Charlevoix Township Fire Chief Curt Thompson said firefighters were called to the Tim LaBlance residence at 4324 Barnard Road at about 5:20 p.m. Saturday when a neighbor called 9-1-1 to report a barn on fire.

Horses uninjured in Barnard Road barn fire

WRITER

No animals were injured in a fire that destroyed a barn in Charlevoix County's Marion Township Saturday.

Charlevoix Township Fire Chief Curt Thompson said firefighters were called to the Tim LaBlance residence at 4324 Barnard Road at about 5:20 p.m. Saturday when a neighbor called 9-1-1 to report a barn on fire.

The old, wood-frame barn was fully engulfed in flames when the first fire crews arrived on the scene, Thompson said. He said none of the horses that are kept in the barn were in the structure at the time of the fire. Thompson called in the Charlevoix city and Banks Township fire departments for mutual aid.

He said fire crews concentrated their efforts on protecting the LaBlance home which he estimated is located about 100 feet away from the barn. Thompson said despite the wind pushing flames and embers in the direction of the house, fire crews were able to limit damage to some melted vinyl siding.

Thompson said it took fire crews, using water shuttled from the department's station on U.S. 31 south of Charlevoix, about an hour to put out the bulk of the fire.

He said later Doug Bergman from Bergman Marine responded to the scene with a front-end loader to help firefighters put out hot spots in the smoldering rubble. Firefighters were on the scene until about 9 p.m.

Thompson said no firefighters were injured in fighting the fire, but one was taken to Charlevoix Area Hospital to be checked for over-exertion.

He said the cause of the fire remains under investigation, but said the fire appears to have been accidental in nature.

Castle spearheads liquor license issue

BY BENJAMIN GOHS
EDITOR

Castle Farms of Charlevoix officials are urging Marion Township residents to sign their liquor petition.

Currently, Marion Township is considered a "dry" township meaning that, while wine and beer can be sold there, liquors like whiskey and schnapps may not.

"Marion Township has been a 'dry township' since November 1974, when voters passed a referendum prohibiting the sale of 'spirits and mixed spirit drinks for consumption on premises' within Marion Township," said Castle Farms assistant manager Anora Ruehle. "Castle Farms would like to reverse current law, thereby allowing liquor to be sold during events held at the Castle."

According to Ruehle, the castle's owners are pushing the effort after receiving numerous requests by patrons to have the ability to include liquor in their cash bars during events at the castle.

"Changing the current law would not increase alcoholic consumption at the Castle. Liquor is already being served. The only difference would be that event organizers would have the option of hosting cash bars for charities," she said. "They'd be able to raise more money, instead of giving away free liquor as they now do, included within the price of an admission ticket."

Ruehle added, "Castle Farms ... has no interest in pursuing a Liquor License at this time, or in the foreseeable future."

For the existing law to be changed, the castle must secure 250 names of Marion Township residents on a petition to be presented to the Marion Township Board by June 3 to make the Aug. 3 vote.

According to Marion Township secretary Tim Matchett, the board has not taken an official position on the issue.

"This is not a Marion Township law and the board has nothing to do with it. This is up to a vote of the people; the people voted it in 1974 and they can vote it out," he said.

Grey Gables co-owner Darren Romuno said he supports the move.

"Now a nonprofit will have the ability to have a one-day liquor license and receive funds per drink instead of giving it away," he said. "This won't affect me either way because I don't sell liquor off-premises."

Petitions are available at Castle Farms, 5052 M-66 south of Charlevoix or Kusina Farm Bureau Insurance Agency at 107 W. Huribut St.

"Please help Castle Farms support our charity and community-friendly events," Ruehle said. "If you are a Marion Township resident, please help us by signing the Petition, and by voting 'yes' on Aug. 3.

Criminal sexual conduct alleged of East Jordan man

BY BENJAMIN GOHS
EDITOR

Levi Lucius Antoine, 20, of East Jordan, was arraigned on Tuesday April 27 and charged with five counts of third degree criminal sexual conduct with a 13-year-old.

According to Charlevoix Deputy-Chief of Police Scott Hankins' affidavit of probable cause, the alleged victim, on April 25, reported sexual contact with Antoine.

"(I) interviewed (alleged victim) and she reported that she was with Levi Antoine at her house," Hankins stated in his affidavit of probable cause.

Antoine

and (alleged victim) but then admitted that they were in the house," Hankins stated. "Levi Antoine then stated that he had been dating for one to two months."

According to Hankins' statement, Antoine then admitted to sexual conduct with the alleged victim on April 24 and 25.

"On April 26, (I) interviewed Levi Antoine who at first denied anything happening with him and (alleged victim) but then admitted that they were in the house," Hankins stated. "Levi Antoine then stated that he had been dating for one to two months."

Antoine's bond was set at $10,000. His preliminary exam is scheduled for May 11 in Charlevoix's 90th District Court.

Antoine had not posted bond as of Wednesday April 28.

Three charged in home invasions

BY BENJAMIN GOHS
EDITOR

Authorities say on April 25, Lisa Renee Dean, 34; Cody James Dean, 17; and Robert William Dwyer, 43 broke into a Korthase Road home with intentions of thievery.

According to the Charlevoix County Sheriff's Office, Dwyer of Warren and the Deans of East Jordan, were spotted breaking into the home.

"The home at 4874 Korthase Road was being broken into by two males wearing red and one female. (Witness) stated that the older male had a crow bar and that the younger male was getting into the home through a window or door and his legs were hanging out," it was stated in the affidavit of probable cause.

According to police, Dwyer told them he had permission of the Realtor to be at the house and remove property for his personal use.

Police then called the Realtor and were told that Dwyer had worked for them in the past but that he did not have permission to be at the house or to remove property.

Police on the scene then observed pry marks on a window and door and discovered a pry bar, black gloves and a small bag with "other burglary tools" in the trunk of Lisa Renee Dean's car.

The three now each face charges of third-degree home invasion, possession of burglar's tools and larceny less than $200.

Home invasion is a $2,000/ five-year felony; possession of burglar's tools is a 10-year felony and larceny less than $200 is a 93-day misdemeanor with fines of up to $500 or three times the value of the property stolen.

W.A.T.C.H. wants Charlevoix idle-free

BY BENJAMIN GOHS
EDITOR

Charlevoix City Council unanimously approved a measure encouraging motorists to turn off their engines while waiting for the bridge in downtown Charlevoix in the name of cleaner air and energy conservation.

Originally requesting an idle-free week, Water Air Team Charlevoix (W.A.T.C.H.) executive administrator Michelle Rick-Biddick was actually granted an "idle-free season" by council on Monday May 3.

"We want to bring education and awareness to this issue," Rick-Biddick said. "If 50 cars turned off their engines for five minutes each time the bridge went up, over the summer that would save 3,000 gallons of gas."

W.A.T.C.H. will now work with the city, at W.A.T.C.H.'s cost, to determine what size banners and/or signs directing motorists to turn their engines off when stopped will be permissible along Bridge Street in downtown Charlevoix.

The motion made by council is merely a symbolic one as no new laws have been enacted.

"It's not a zoning ordinance or any kind of traffic violation or anything to that effect," said Mayor Norman Carlson Jr.

"We're just doing our part to make people aware of what's good for the environment. It's something simple people can do — and they can still make up their own mind."

Carlson pointed not only to the approximately $9,000 which could collectively be saved over a summer by motorists, but to the health of those downtown as well.

"I didn't realize it was such a big deal, but hearing from business owners downtown like (former) Shop of the Gulls owner, they said it really made a difference when people shut their engines off," he said. "If you think of the proximity there are not a whole lot of alleys for air flow when you have traffic stopped."

Rick-Biddick said she does not yet know how many signs there will be or what they will cost, but that they will likely be strung from the light poles downtown.

'Translucent' art exhibit

GRAPHIC EDITOR

Light and dimension share the spotlight in "Translucent," the latest exhibit at Charlevoix Circle of Arts.

Opening May 7, the display will incorporate the work of various area artists. Featured artists will be Charlevoix resident Trish Morgan and East Jordan-based Jordan Valley Glassworks.

"By branching into the 'Translucent' show, we're getting more into the glass and getting to show some of the other art forms that people may not be as familiar with," noted Heidi Dietrich, vice president of the organization's board and chairperson of the exhibits committee.

Jordan Valley Glassworks is owned by Jay Bavers and Glena Haney. Bavers' son, Bill, recently joined the team full time after graduating from Bowling Green State University with a bachelor's in fine arts, specializing in glassblowing. Their contributions to the exhibit will include a glass bowl, waterfalls, chandelier and ceiling and wall installations.

Bavers grew up in Brooklyn, N.Y., above his grandfather's glassblowing shop. He was mesmerized by the glass growing up, and has been crafting works in East Jordan for 38 years.

Fifteen years ago, Haney joined the team part-time. She learned the art through hands-on training, and became a partner in the business 11 years ago.

Teamwork is key, and often the favorite finished pieces are ones that have required three or four sets of hands.

Haney noted, "It's like a dance. We work together, have to read each other's minds ... I hear the sounds of the jacks hitting the bench, and I know what to do ... It's a little hectic, but it's exhilarating."

One of the qualities of glass that Bavers finds intriguing is how it works with light. Depending on how a piece is lit — with askewed, transmitted or reflected light — the coloring of the piece is completely different.

"When it comes to something transparent or translucent, nothing shows color as well as glass," he said.

Charlevoix resident Trish Morgan, the other featured artist whose studio is named Peach Blossom Hill, has spent about 15 years concentrating on watercolor, after graduating from Kendall College of Art and Design.

Her works have been accepted and honored at shows around the country, and are known for their transparent quality.

"My work has been described as having a very delicate touch, so they're very light washes, transparent. In watercolor (sometimes) the paints are more thickly applied, but I tend to use a lot of water, clear washes," Morgan noted. "And, a lot of people also say that I show a lot of light, the colors are bright, so it lends itself to a very translucent quality."

She added that she's interested to see the range of art at the exhibit because in the past, her pieces generally have been part of watercolor-only shows.

"I think it's a very creative idea to have a theme such as translucent and incorporate all these different mediums and anything that signifies translucent," she said.

The opening reception is 5-7 p.m. Friday, May 7. "Translucent" will be on display May 7, through Sunday, July 4.

Charlevoix Circle of Arts summer hours are 1-5 p.m. Tuesday through Sunday starting Friday, May 7. The gallery is located at 109 Clinton St., Charlevoix.

Knutson on weird science

For some of our congressmen the ridicule of what seem to them worthless scientific research projects is a frequent form of sport. In years past one of them annually presented what he called "Golden Fleeces Awards" to those federally supported science works that he considered to be especially useless, suggesting that the scientists were fleeing the taxpayers. Recent reports from the world of biological science force me to conclude that efforts at such ridicule should themselves be ridiculed as foolish and/or ignorant.

EAR TO THE GROUND

Roger Knutson

Science sometimes moves in ways that are as mysterious as those of God.

It is impossible to know just what sorts of apparently "worthless" science will be most important.

As someone who spent most of his professional biological research studying the early spring heat production of a plant called the skunk cabbage, and the rest of it measuring how fast fallen leaves in a forest turn into soil, you can imagine that I am somewhat sensitive to common sense appeals about just how foolish the work of some scientists is.

Consider for example the study of how the surrounding walls of microscopic yeast cells are formed.

Should anyone but wine or bread makers be concerned with that?

And should our hard-earned tax dollars be spent on such research?

Dr. Edward M. Marcotte

at the University of Texas is studying those yeast cells.

It would probably surprise you to hear that the same set of five genes that are involved in making yeast cell walls are involved in controlling the growth of blood vessels in humans. And, if we can control the growth of blood vessels in humans we can easily starve a growing cancer tumor without harming the rest of the human. We could all support that.

How is it possible that we have genes in common with yeast cells?

The most likely answer is that we and yeast cells had a common ancestor some billion years in the past, and those genes have been carried on through all the evolutionary twists and turns since then.

The common sharing of groups of genes is, it turns out, frequent in the living world. Dr. Marcotte has found many other genes worthy of examination for their control of human diseases. Close relatives of human genes are found in a common weedy mustard plant called Arabidopsis.

In Arabidopsis, those genes are involved in sensing gravity so the plant can grow upright. In humans the same set of genes can affect hearing and produce serious development problems.

Arabidopsis has 48 groups of genes that are shared with humans.

We don't yet know what most of those genes do in the plant or in humans.

Groups of genes that affect the development of nerve cell connections are found in tiny, single-celled plankton from the world's oceans. I could make a much longer list of shared genes that we already know about, any of which might be useful in treating or healing human diseases or conditions.

Then, there are, of course, the literally thousands of genes we do not yet know about.

Does it now seem reasonable that we might withhold ridicule or judgments of uselessness until we finally find out how useful such research might be?

The next time someone speaks disparagingly about some scientist's foolish explorations of things not related to human needs, remind them that all the living things on earth are related and that we share a number of not-so-obvious characteristics.

Genes of special concern for human health are likely to be found in any of the world's creatures.

That makes them all worth our attention and study. A lot of our congresspeople don't know that; they should.

THANK YOU FOR YOUR SUPPORT!

On behalf of the Charlevoix Elementary School PTO, I would like to thank the teachers, staff, parents, students, community members, and the local businesses for your support of our 2010 Spring Carnival/ Basketball Auction. It is wonderful to live in a community that is willing to come out and show support for the children. The proceeds will be used to enhance the students' learning experiences at the school. The PTO has been able to sponsor many events, including our upcoming "Author Visit" with Lisa Wheeler on May 7th. Thank you to our Carnival Chair, Kim Vannemeter and Co-Chair Carol Ochs for taking on the responsibilities of one of the school's largest fundraising events. I would also like to thank Baskett Auction-Chair Barb Sheets for her efforts on this year's auction. We look forward to the 2010-2011 school year.

Sincerely,
Charlevoix Ele. PTO, President

A FIRST FOR CHARLEVOIX

In May of 1976, during Michigan Week and winners of The Governors Award that year, as well as our National Bicentennial, a National Record was set in the making of the World's Largest Cherry Pie and recorded in the Guinness Book of World Records.

During Michigan Week this year, thanks to Connor Currier who chose for his Eagle Scout service project, the renovation of the Cherry Pie site, which is listed in Roadside America's unique places to visit.

Located in Charlevoix Township, at the townships Fire Station #2, just under the colorful red and white water tower you will find the cherry pie tin and oven that was used in 1976 to bake the original pie for which fed 5,500 visitors during Michigan week in 1976.

The site was recently renovated by Eagle Scout Connor Currier, where presently you can enjoy a moment of history. Stop by for a short visit where you can see the recipe ingredients and other information about the site.

It is an honor to have a local historical site available to everyone to enjoy. Hoornay for Charlevoix County, Charlevoix Township, Connor Currier and Dave Phillips (originator) and the First World's Largest Cherry Pie.

LOCAL CHEF TEAM WINS TOP HONORS

Saturday, April 24, marked the 3rd Annual Chefs Challenge benefiting Challenge Mountain.

The event was held at Boyne Mountain with several distinct attractions.

Those attractions included vendors, seminars by experts throughout the State of Michigan on various food and beverage related topics, a Tasting Event, and resulting in a Cook-Off between the top two teams while attendees dined on a fabulous four course meal prepared by Chad King, Boyne Mountain Sous Chef.

Boasting the finest culinary teams in the State, wineries, micro-brewers, and distilleries, the competition is quickly becoming a favorite event of people throughout the State.

Attendees came from as far north as Drummond Island and as far south as Detroit.

Fascinating seminars were provided by Michelle Bommarito, Grant Woods, Chef Angus Campbell, Ruth Mossok Johnson, Timothy Fitzgerald Young, Ed Brehm, John Leonardo, and Rafino Valentine.

Six celebrity judges including Chef Michelle Bommarito, Chef Hermann Suhs, Ruth Mossok Johnson, Barb Tholin, Chef Angus Campbell, and Chef Rob Haney chose the ultimate winning team of this year's event.

Top honors went to the Odawa Casino and Resort team. Team members included for the Tasting event: Chef Rob Sargent, Chef Roger Cooley, Chef Thomas Vachon, and Todd Makela.

For the Iron Chef Competition the team included Chef Rob Sargent, Chef Roger Cooley, Chef Thomas Vachon and Mike Bodjick, Odawa Casino Resort's Director of Hospitality. Huge congratulations to the team for Winning Best in the State.

The event raised more than $24,000 for Challenge Mountain programs.

We are so very thankful to the people who sponsored the event.

It was amazing to have so much of Michigan represented in such a fine way.

Springtime is a special time in Michigan and we are proud to be part of a great way to celebrate all the season has to offer.

We have so many people to thank for their support but a special thank you goes to Chef Chris Kibit, Michelle Bommarito, Chris Woodruff, Becky Harris, Beth Breidenstein, Julie Ard, Jessica White, Steven Scribner, Erin Ernst, Chef Jeff Minkwic, Sous Chef Chad King, and Scott McKenzie for their tireless efforts to make this event happen.

Planning has already begun for next year's event, please plan to attend.

BUILDING SAFETY MONTH

Editor:

During the entire month of May the world will celebrate Building Safety Month. The theme of Building Safety Month, this year is "Building Safety: Commemorating a 30-year Legacy of Leadership." First observed in 1980 as Building Safety Week, Building Safety Month 2010 will highlight four areas during the month: Energy and Green Building; Disaster Safety and Mitigation; Fire Safety and Awareness; and Backyard Safety. The goal is to raise public awareness of critical safety issues such as the structural soundness of buildings, reliability of fire prevention and suppression systems, plumbing and mechanical systems, and energy efficiency and sustainability. These issues affect every person, regardless of age or occupation.

Building Officials, Inspectors, Plan Reviewers and others in your community work to ensure the safety of the structures in which all of us live, work, attend school, worship and play. These officials provide the first line of defense against building disasters. While un-noticed by many, we are considered to be silent but vigilant guardians who work daily to ensure safety and reliable construction practices in the buildings in your community. Each day that homeowners awaken, warm in their homes, your Mechanical Inspector has done his/her job to ensure a safe installation of the heating and ventilation equipment installed in the buildings in your community. Each day that a building does not fall victim of an electrical fire, your Electrical Inspector has performed his job to ensure that a safe installation of electrical equipment has taken place in your community. Each day that the plumbing system brings fresh water to your faucet, and carries the waste water away through the drain system without issue, your Plumbing Inspector has performed his/her job to ensure a code compliant installation of plumbing equipment. And each day that a life is saved by a smoke alarm, carbon monoxide detector or fire sprinkler system, or a combination of those safety devices, your inspectors have worked together as silent, yet vigilant guardians, to protect the occupants of the buildings in your community.

The sponsor of Building Safety Month, The International Code Council, develops the most widely used building safety and fire prevention codes in the nation. Many states have now adopted the ICC codes for use to protect the citizens of this country. Additionally many countries are incorporating the ICC code standards into their building and safety codes. The codes being used throughout the state of Michigan are based on the ICC codes. Using these building codes we, your local building code enforcement agencies, work together to maintain uniformity in the application and enforcement of the codes on all building and construction projects in each of our communities.

The public is encouraged to learn about the essential safety work of your local Building Safety and Inspection Departments. Your local Building Safety and Inspection Departments are staffed with competent individuals, ready to assist those in the community with building projects, to aid in the construction of safe, structurally sound, code compliant buildings. As your local Building Officials, we encourage those who plan to start a building project, or who have questions regarding the codes, to contact our offices. Your local Building Safety and Inspection Department can, and should be your best source of building code information. By observing the theme of Building Safety Month in our communities, not only during the month of May, but throughout the year, we remind our communities that we are available to serve and assist the public in any way that we can, to aid contractors, homeowners and do-it-yourselfers to achieve code compliance in their construction projects. By building in compliance with the codes we can all be assured that the buildings in which we live, work and play in meet the minimum standards of safe construction. Working together, we can provide a safe built environment throughout northern Michigan.

Harbor "Kids To Work" Day

Harbor Industries of Charlevoix observed "Take Your Kid to Work Day" on Thursday, April 22nd. This year's event featured 29 children accompanying their parents (AND grandparents) on a plant tour, and included a pizza lunch and Harbor "goody bag". This occasion is a huge success every year and just another way Harbor "takes care of its own".

OBITUARIES

Vivian Louise Beattie: Dec. 18, 1916 - Apr. 28, 2010

Vivian Louise Beattie, 93, went home to be with the Lord on April 28, 2010.

She was born Dec. 18, 1916 to Henry W. and Mable E. (O'Neil) Fike in Boyne Falls, Michigan. She graduated from Boyne Falls High School in 1935 and attended Midland Business College. She married her high school sweetheart Carl W. Beattie December 20, 1935 in Midland, Michigan. They began 10 years of Navy life during World War II. She was a devoted homemaker sharing her cooking expertise with family and friends. Vivian was also an excellent seamstress making her daughter's wedding dress, veil, attendants' dresses and her own dress besides baking and decorating a beautiful wedding cake. She was also active in church women's groups. Vivian became a Weight-Watcher lecturer, inspiring many for several years in the Flint area. She moved from Michigan to Cottonwood, Arizona with her daughter Bonnie (Jack) Bryan in 2001, enjoying many back road Jeep rides and trips around the state including the West Coast as far as Victoria, Canada.

Survivors include a daughter Bonnie, Son-in-law Jack, grandson Todd in Houston, Texas, granddaughter Lisa (Matthew) Hebl and two great grandchildren in Camp Verde, Arizona, a great grandchild in Michigan, brother JC (Doris) Fike in Michigan and many loved ones. She was preceded in death by her husband, parents, and her brother Neil. She has left a legacy of beautiful memories to all of us. She was a member of the Barnard United Methodist Church in Charlevoix and has requested in lieu of flowers, memorial donations to the Barnard Methodist Women would be appreciated. The funeral will be 1:00 PM, Monday, May 10, at the Barnard United Methodist Church in Charlevoix, where friends may meet the family beginning at 11:00 AM. The Reverend Eugene Baughan will officiate. Burial will be in Brookside Cemetery in Charlevoix. The Winchester Funeral Home in Charlevoix is handling the arrangements.

Duane L. Herriman: Jan. 20, 1938 - Apr. 28, 2010

Duane L. Herriman, 72, of Alanson, died Wednesday, April 28, 2010, at his home. Funeral will be 11:00 AM, Saturday, May 1, at the Winchester Funeral Home in Charlevoix. The Reverend James Jordan of the Lighthouse Missionary Church in East Jordan will officiate. Visitation will be from 10:00 AM Saturday until the time of the service.

Duane was born January 20, 1938, in Elkton, the son of Nathaniel and Beatrice (Severn) Herriman. He grew up in Elkton, and served in the US Army from 1958-61, during the Korean War. He lived in Port Huron for a short time, where he married Patricia Ann Alexander. They made their home in Charlevoix in 1963. Duane retired in 2000 from American Mold in Charlevoix, then he and Pat moved to Alanson.

Duane enjoyed gardening, working in his shop, playing cards, and spending time with his grandkids and family. He liked to listen to country music.

On December 16, 2009, Pat preceded him in death. Duane is survived by his children, Mary K. Holm of Charlevoix, Duane Lee (Kathy Keller) Herriman of Charlevoix, Kelly (Gary) Stebe of Charlevoix, Nancy (Russell) Pawlowski of Petoskey, Harold (Karmen) Herriman of East Jordan, grandchildren, Amy, Luke, Randy, Samantha, Chrystal, Christopher, Elizabeth, Gabrielle, Casandra, Alex, Emma, Alexandra, and Mathew; great-granddaughter, Lillieanna; brother, Howard Herriman of Charlevoix; step-brothers, Ron (Elaine) Grunch, Robert (Ruth) Grunch, Rick (Nancy) Grunch, Roy (Midge) Grunch, Roger (Ethel) Grunch, Russell (Jeanie) Grunch; sisters-in-law, Judy Herriman, Louise (Leo) Catenzero, and Kathy (Michael) Kelley. Duane was also preceded in death by his brother Nate Herriman, and sister-in-law Sharon Herriman.

Memorial contributions may be made to the Hospice of Northwest Michigan, 220 W. Garfield, Charlevoix, MI 49720.

Dorothy May Kaskey: May 20, 1918 - Apr. 26, 2010

Dorothy May Kaskey, 91, of Charlevoix, died Monday, April 26, 2010, at her home.

She was born May 20, 1918, in West Lake, Oregon, the daughter of Robert and Augusta (Kent) Howe, and grew up in Charlevoix.

On August 10, 1946, she married Ed Kaskey in Charlevoix.

Dorothy was a member of Saint Mary's Church in Charlevoix, and the Fraternal Order of the Eagles in Petoskey.

She is survived by her husband, Ed of Charlevoix; daughters, Marguerite May (Jerry)

Trujillo of Socorro, NM, Pat Colburn of Charlevoix; son, Edward J. (Greta) Kaskey, Jr. of Deer Park, Washington; seventeen grandchildren; forty-seven great-grandchildren; seventeen great-great-grandchildren. Dorothy's daughter Donna Jean Sobleskey preceded her in death.

A private service will be held. Memorial contributions may be made to Hospice of Northwest Michigan, 220 W. Garfield, Charlevoix, MI 49720.

The Winchester Funeral Home in Charlevoix is handling the arrangements.

Janet M. Stephenson Neal: Jun. 14, 1919 - May 1, 2010

Janet Mary Stephenson Neal, of Indianapolis, was welcomed into the arms of the Lord on Saturday, May 1, 2010.

She leaves a legacy of grace, love and laughter and will be greatly missed by all who were blessed to know her.

Born June 14, 1919, in Washington, D.C., to Charles and May Stephenson, Janet's childhood was spent in Washington, D.C. and Westmoreland County, Virginia.

She graduated from McKinley High School in Washington, D.C. and was employed by the American Automobile Association in the nation's capital prior to moving to Indianapolis in 1949.

Janet married Wade L. Neal on Oct. 7, 1950 and enjoyed nearly 60 years together.

In that time, Janet raised her children and spent many of her summers in Eveline Orchards Resort on Lake Charlevoix in East Jordan, Michigan, where her friends were like family to her.

An avid sailor, Janet logged thousands of miles sailing with family and friends.

Janet's laughter and wit were hallmarks of her endearing personality, making it impossible not to love "Gammie."

She was at her best when surrounded by the family and friends she adored.

Throughout her life, Janet was active in many organizations including Beta Sigma Phi, Daughters of the American Revolution, Indianapolis Cruising Club, Great Lakes Cruising Club, Stansfield Circle, Contemporary Club, Indianapolis Museum of Art, Antiquarian Club, Meridian Street United Methodist Church and East Jordan United Methodist Church.

Janet is survived by her husband, Wade L. Neal; brother, Stephen (Linda) Stephenson; brother-in-law, Henry Gass; children, Susan Neal, Linda (Robert) Cichocky, George (Susan) Neal, and Stephen (Meagan) Neal; grandchildren, Mary (Josh) Adamson, Ann Cichocky, Tyler Neal, Stephanie Neal, Jordan Neal, Rachel Neal, Cullen Neal and Owen Neal, and by many nieces and nephews. Janet was preceded in death by her parents and her siblings, Charles Stephenson, John Stephenson, Walter Stephenson and Elizabeth Gass.

Visitation will be Tuesday, May 4, 2010, from 4:00 p.m. to 8 p.m. at Flanner and Buchanan Funeral Center - Broad Ripple.

Funeral Services will be held on Wednesday, May 5, 2010, at 11 a.m. at Meridian Street United Methodist Church. Burial will follow at Crown Hill Cemetery.

Memorial contributions may be made to Meridian Street United Methodist Church or East Jordan United Methodist Church.

Those who wish to share thoughts with the Neal family may do so by visiting: www.flannerbuchanan.com.

DEATH NOTICE

Sue Anne (Gregory) Soulliere, 61, of Charlevoix, died Tuesday, April 27, at Northern Michigan Regional Hospital in Petoskey. A graveside service will be held at 11 a.m., Friday, May 7, at Saint Mary's Cemetery in Charlevoix. The Reverend Jerry Hunko will officiate.

A grand earth day gathering at camp daggett

Students working on camp grounds.

On Earth Day, April 22nd, a beautiful partnership was formed by Camp Daggett with two northern Michigan schools. Thirty-five 5th and 6th grade students to improve the program grounds.

Last year the Atlanta Science Camp teachers (in their 44th year of providing a science camp experience for their students) approached the executive director of Camp Daggett and expressed their desire to give back with volunteer efforts as a way of saying thank you for the camp's hospitality. The Boyne City 7th graders want to improve the campus for the upcoming Boyne City 6th grade's annual retreat to Camp Daggett as well as say thank you for their experience in 2009. In short, both schools had it in their hearts and minds to make it better for the other fellow/ to celebrate Earth Day. Camp Daggett's motto* "is, in fact, /"The Other Fellow First."

The two schools split into groups of ten to twelve volunteers, displaying remarkable levels of cooperation and teamwork. "It was a beautiful sight to see the students from the two different schools work together, wonderfully with phenomenal results," reported Brent Marlatt, Camp Daggett's Executive Director. The project's completed included spreading 40 yards of woodchips for the Camp Daggett Adventure Center's Outdoor Ropes Course, weeding rock and flower gardens, trimming plantings, spreading eight yards of mulch on flower gardens and around a variety of shrubs, hauling brush, relocating 24 mattresses to cabin bunks for the summer season, moving 25 yak-boards out of storage, hauling and stacking firewood, and raking and hauling leaves. Much gratitude and sincere thanks go to both schools for their selfless contributions to support Camp Daggett. For information on how you can support Camp Daggett or enjoy their hospitality and programs, visit www.campdaggett.org <<http://www.campdaggett.org>> or call 231-347-9742.

Michigan Youth Livestock Scholarship and Educational Awards

Application deadline for the Michigan Youth Livestock Scholarship and Educational Awards is June 18.

Application details available at www.michigan.gov/mda-myist.

Since 2000, the Michigan Youth Livestock Scholarship Fund (MYLSF) has awarded more than $61,000 in scholarships and $201,000 in educational awards to outstanding youth who have exhibited at the premier livestock events in the state of Michigan.

To be eligible for either the MYLSF general scholarship or the statewide scholarship, the applicant must be a resident of Michigan and a graduating high school senior or a high school graduate continuing their education at an accredited institution in the year in which they are applying.

For the general MYLSF scholarship, the applicant must be a youth exhibitor at the Michigan State Fair, Michigan Livestock Expo or the Michigan Dairy Expo for a minimum of three calendar years prior to the year of application.

For the statewide scholarship, an applicant must be a youth exhibitor at a local, county, or statewide exhibition for a minimum of three years prior to the year of application.

Specific proceeds from the Michigan State Fair Youth Livestock Auction and the Michigan Livestock Expo as well as charitable donations help fund the scholarships.

The fund is governed by an 11 member board comprised of volunteers from Michigan's agricultural community with the corpus of the fund held at the Battle Creek Community Foundation.

The 2009 MYLSF $1,500 general scholarship winners were: Shanna Acker of Middleton; Aaron Balowski of Coldwater; Justin Kennedy of Nashville; Ryan Smoes of Hamilton; and Patricia Vaassen of Ann Arbor.

The statewide $1,000 scholarship's inaugural winner was Emily Sovey of Fair Haven.

Applications and qualification requirements for the MYLSF and the statewide scholarship can be obtained at www.michigan.gov/mda-myist. Applications must be postmarked no later than June 18, 2010.

If you have any questions, please contact Jeff Haarer, Michigan Department of Agriculture's Producer Security Section Manager, at (517) 241-2865 or Ernie Birchmeier, Michigan Farm Bureau's Livestock & Dairy Specialist, at (517) 323-7000.

Horse training instructor's clinic

For the first time ever in Northern Michigan, The Bay Harbor Equestrian Club will be hosting a Dressage Symposium.

This event is a clinic that will develop foundational training of horse instructors, increase the knowledge that the dressage rider's poses, and finally it will allow auditors a chance to improve upon their observation skills.

Suzannah Simon describes it as "A foundational training of horses."

The Symposium is a two-day event on May 15 and 16 that is sponsored by Karin Offield and BreknRidge Farm.

One local participant, Suzannah Simon of Harbor Springs is eager for the event to begin.

Suzannah made the decision to join the event as she is passionate about the sport and wants to gain as much knowledge as she can.

Even though this event is a first in Northern Michigan, Suzannah is very familiar with the clinics.

As a participant in the Symposium Suzannah will have a chance to meet with a trainer who will help her set goals and work with her to achieve them.

The trainers will be brought in from all over the world.

In order to participate in this event you must have previously completed a Dressage Show and meet the qualifying standards. If all of the standards are met, then you will have three different options for how you can participate. First, you can come and observe the training as it goes on, you can be a lower level exhibit rider, or third, you can be an upper level exhibit rider.

In order to be sure that she is ready for the event, Suzannah has been riding three to four days a week in addition to working with her trainer who critiques her riding skills.

Suzannah hopes that all of her hard work will pay off this summer as she is striving "to qualify for Regional Nationals at 4th level and to have a better understanding of the sport."

For more information on what Suzannah and the other participants will be doing during the Symposium, visit www.lingh.nl and click on the link Tool Box Symposium or you can go to www.bayharbor.com/equestrianclub and click on the link clinics and shows.

Scholarships for junior golfers

Several lucky youngsters that participated in the Charlevoix County Junior Golf Association's 2009 summer program will be awarded scholarships to attend the prestigious golf camp at Ferris State University this summer.

Dean Davenport, executive director of the popular summer program, announced that the association's board members approved renewing the scholarship program with FSU. Awards will be likely made to six deserving youngsters for scholarships enabling them to spend a week on the campus of Ferris State.

Applicants must have participated in more than half of the past summer's sessions and be at least 12 years of age to be eligible.

Application packets were mailed recently to over 60 youngsters that qualified for consideration.

Winners are selected based on their dedication and interest in golf, their potential and the manner in which they respond to the official application questions.

During the past 15 years, 90 junior golfers from the Charlevoix area have been awarded scholarships.

Applicants are reminded of the May 20 deadline.

Local PGA professional from the Belvedere, Marty Joy, added greatly to the camp scholarship fund by taking pledges for his "Hickory 100 Holes in a Day" fundraiser last fall.

Davenport said, "Marty's effort is greatly appreciated by all of us connected to the program. His dedication and interest in young golfers is typical of the excellent cooperation we get from everyone including the courses that host our golfers: Antrim Dells, The Belvedere, Municipal and the Charlevoix Country Club.

Recently, two scholarships were awarded to deserving seniors that displayed outstanding character and provided younger golfers a good role model.

The scholarships allowed them $500 toward their freshman college book expenses.

The Charlevoix Lions Club sponsors on stipend and the Junior Golf Program the other. This year's winners are Beau Boss and Nikki Speigl.

More information regarding this year's program regarding the need for volunteer mentors and the June 12 registration procedures will be announced soon.

ture. Saturday's call came a little more than 17 hours after the responsibility for fire coverage in Marion Township switched from the Charlevoix city fire department to Charlevoix Township. The switch took place at midnight Saturday.

Both Thompson and township clerk Tim Matchett, who lives near the LaBlance residence, said everything seemed to run smoothly following the transition in fire coverage.

'Trailing for Triumph' benefits patients

When Lisa McFarlan started a small horseback ride in a field near her Boyne City home five years ago, she never imagined it would become a significant fundraiser to help local patients in their fight against breast cancer.

Since 2005, Lisa and her sister, Lori, have held "Trailing for Triumph" each fall, raising more than $70,000 for area healthcare providers, including Northern Michigan Regional Hospital, to help women undergoing treatment for breast cancer.

For Lisa and Lori, Trailing for Triumph has a close, personal meaning.

"We lost our mother, Beverly, to breast cancer 24 years ago at the age of 50. Our sister-in-law is a six year survivor," said Lisa with tears in her eyes. "I know personally how breast cancer affects the whole family."

The organization recently donated $3,000 to the Northern Michigan Regional Hospital Foundation for breast cancer services - money which can be used to provide gas cards to those with long commutes for treatment or for the purchase of special creams and deodorant that are necessary for women undergoing radiation.

"We are so grateful for the generosity of Trailing for Triumph. The Hospital will be able to use the money in a fashion that positively impacts patients," said Annie Gunderson, RN, Radiation Oncology at Northern Michigan Regional Hospital.

Julie Jarema, Senior Director of Development at the Northern Michigan Regional Hospital Foundation, said the flexibility of the Trailing for Triumph donation directly benefits patients.

"We're thankful to Trailing for Triumph for helping us provide for the many needs our breast cancer patients have," Jarema said.

Allowing Breast Health staff, via the Foundation, to use the money to meet those special needs makes the donation even more significant.

"It is a great thing that the McFarlans have dedicated the funds to breast cancer patient support so we can use the money where it is needed most," said Gunderson. "This will make a huge difference in the lives of a lot of women."

Trailing for Triumph is a week-end event held in September at Ranch Rudolf in Traverse City. Festivities include a meet-and-greet on Friday and breakfast and 10-mile horseback ride on Saturday, followed by dinner, dancing, a silent auction, and a raffle. Participants gather pledges and donations prior to the ride.

The 2010 event is scheduled for September 17-19, 2010. Call Lisa McFarlan at 231.582.6165 for more information, or email her at info@trailingfortriumph.org. She also has a website, www.trailingfortriumph.org.

"The more participants we can get," said McFarlan, "the more money we can raise to help patients in our community."

Northern Michigan Regional Hospital Foundation raises, manages, and dispenses funds to support the mission of Northern Michigan Regional Hospital and provides programs that enhance the well-being of the community.

When Investing, Learn All Aspects of Risk

Benjamin Muladore
Financial Advisor

In life, you can't avoid all risks — and you shouldn't try, because endeavors that carry risk also bring the prospect of reward. And it's certainly the same in the investment world. So instead of trying to invest risk-free, which is impossible, learn to recognize the different types of investment risk while becoming familiar with your own risk tolerance.

To start with, let's quickly look at some of the most common forms of investment risk:

• Risk of losing principal — This is the type of risk most commonly associated with investing. You could lose some, or even all, of your principal if you sell an investment, such as a stock, whose value has dropped lower than the purchase price. You can't eliminate the risk of losing principal, but you may be able to reduce it by buying quality stocks and holding them long enough to overcome short-term market drops.

• Inflation risk — With an investment that pays a fixed rate of return, such as a certificate of deposit (CD), you run the risk of not keeping up with inflation, which means you could lose purchasing power over time. Consequently, it's a good idea not to "overload" on these types of investments.

• Interest-rate risk — When you own a bond, your investment is somewhat at the mercy of changing market interest rates. For example, if you buy a bond that pays four percent interest, and market rates rise so that newly issued bonds pay five percent, the relative value of your bond will go down; no one will pay you face value of your bond when they can get new ones that pay higher rates. Of course, if you hold your bonds until maturity, which is often a good idea, you can avoid being victimized by interest-rate risk.

• Concentration risk — This type of risk, occurs when you have too much of your money concentrated in one area, such as in a particular stock or in one industry. If a downturn strikes that stock or industry, your portfolio could take a big hit. To combat this type of risk, you need to diversify your holdings among stocks, bonds, government securities and other investments. While diversification, by itself, cannot guarantee a profit or protect against a loss, it can help reduce the effect of volatility. In addition to understanding the above types of risk, you also need to be familiar with your own risk tolerance and how it affects your investment strategy. If you are constantly worried about "the market," you've probably got too many investments that are at risk of losing principal. At the other end of the spectrum, if you're always concerned that your portfolio won't grow enough to generate the income you'll eventually need for retirement, you may be investing too conservatively — and, as a result, you're inviting inflation risk.

Ultimately, you need to match your own risk tolerance with a strategy that allows you to achieve your goals. This will require self-awareness, patience, discipline — and, at times, a willingness to move outside your own "comfort zone." By learning to balance and manage risk, you can ultimately put yourself in a position to pursue your investment strategy.

The Charlevoix County Veterans Affairs Committee monthly meeting, scheduled at 5 p.m. on the third Wednesday of each month at the county building. Any questions concerning Veterans Affairs or this meeting change please contact Director Ed Holm at 547-7220.

LIBRARY EVENTS

Held at the Charlevoix Public Library, 220 West Clinton St. 547-2651

Weekly events

• Once the beginner has mastered these basic computer skills, the library staff invites them to move on to the intermediate level classes hosted by the library. These classes are for those who have taken the library's basic course, or can use a mouse and search the Internet. Managing Your PC will held May 11 and 13 and teach computer file organization, customizing the desk top and the importance of back-ups.

• Ask the Techie has been developed for people who have basic hardware or software questions about their laptops, the first Thursday of each month, 10 a.m. to noon. The Library has volunteers who will be on hand for 30 minute appointments to help answer some of your questions. Call for your appointment, 237-7340.

The instructors ask that all students register for computer classes by calling 237-7340.

• Story-Time is 10:30 a.m. on Thursdays for all children birth to 5 and their caregivers.

• Writer's Group is 6 p.m. on Wednesdays for all writers. • Quilters and Friends meet the third Thursday of the month from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. This group of quilters and other fiber art enthusiasts is set up as a workgroup, so bring along your current fiber project and all the equipment you need (yes, even your sewing machine!) and enjoy the company of friends. The group facilitator is Sue Dixon.

• Northern Michigan Textile Artists meets the third Wednesday of the month, from 1 p.m. to 3 p.m. Join local artist, Kathie Briggs for discussion of projects and ideas.

• The Scrapbookers meet the fourth Saturday of the month from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Treat yourself to a full day away from home to work on your photos with group facilitator, Sheila Davis and other like minded scrappers.

• The Book Talkers meet regularly throughout the year at 6 p.m. on Monday evenings. Beth Strawbridge facilitates this group. Call the library for upcoming dates and titles, 237-7340.

• The Writer's Group meets every Wednesday at 6 p.m. in the Armstrong Conference Room. This group of writing enthusiasts (from beginner to published) encourages each other and share their work. The group welcomes all who are interested in writing for themselves, their family, and/or for publication. The group facilitator is Jim McKinney.

Relay For Life planning session

At 6 p.m. on May 5, the American Cancer Society Relay For Life of Charlevoix County will officially get underway as event volunteers and participants gather at Boyne City Hardware - (Historic Building Next Door) for a kickoff rally to launch their fundraising efforts for the year.

Although the Relay For Life of Charlevoix County is more than three months away, now is the time to get involved. Residents are invited to attend the kick-off celebration to learn more about the upcoming Relay For Life and how they can become part of an exciting overnight event that can lead to world with less cancer and more birthdays.

Relay For Life is the Society's signature event, dedicated to increasing awareness and raising funds to fight cancer. Teams of family, friends and co-workers camp out overnight, taking turns walking the track. During the event, participants and visitors will have a chance to: celebrate the victory of area cancer survivors during the Survivors Lap; remember those we have lost to the disease during the poignant Luminaria Ceremony; and participate in the Fight Back Ceremony that gives everyone a chance to proclaim their way of taking action against the disease.

Donations can be made to this local Relay For Life event by visiting www.relayforlife.org. Community members can also start or join a team by following the links to our local Relay event on www.relayforlife.org.

The 2010 Relay For Life of Charlevoix County will take place on August 14, 2010 at Boyne City Rotary Park, Boyne City at 10 a.m. For more information on how you can get involved or about the kick-off event, contact Diane Jorgensen at 866-364-6284 or diane.jorgensen@cancer.org

PUBLIC NOTICE

Request for information about the Former Hat Island Target

The U.S. Army Corps of Engineers is conducting Site Inspections at the former Hat Island Target located two miles east of Hog Island and 27.8 miles west of Mackinaw City, Charlevoix County, MI. Between 1943 and 1945, the 12-acre island was part of a large area of islands used by the U.S. Naval Air Station at Traverse City for high altitude bomb tests. These tests included weapons such as early heat-seeking and radio-controlled bombs. Training activities were discontinued in October 1945 and the Navy terminated leases in June 1946. The Navy continued to make periodic inspections of the island through 1951 and warning signs were posted. Currently, the island is part of the Michigan Islands National Wildlife Refuge.

The former Hat Island Target is just one of many former military installations throughout the United States that will be reviewed under the Department of Defense's Munitions Response Site Prioritization Protocol. This protocol is used to assess sites that may have unexploded ordnance, discarded military munitions or munitions constituents, and to assign priorities for any additional investigation or munitions removal that may be required.

For more information or if you have information about past activities related to the former Hat Island Target, please contact:

Accused school vandal pleads

BY STEVE ZUCKER
NEWS-REVIEW STAFF
WRITER

Charlevoix County Chief Assistant Prosecutor Shaynee Fanara confirmed that Austin Wilhelm, 20, of Charlevoix pleaded no contest

Thursday in 33rd Circuit Court to a misdemeanor charge of malicious destruction of a building, less than $200, a 93-day misdemeanor.

Nearly two years after a Charlevoix High School building trades project house was vandalized by an overnight intruder, the young man accused of the crime has taken advantage of a plea agreement.

Charlevoix County Chief Assistant Prosecutor Shaynee Fanara confirmed that Austin Wilhelm, 20, of Charlevoix pleaded no contest Thursday in 33rd Circuit Court to a misdemeanor charge of malicious destruction of a building, less than $200, a 93-day misdemeanor.

In exchange for his plea, the original charges of breaking and entering a building with intent to commit a felony, a 10-year felony, and malicious destruction of a building, $1,000-$20,000 was dismissed.

A no-contest plea is similar to a guilty plea in that the defendant is held responsible for the crime, but he or she does not admit guilt. Such pleas are typically only permitted in cases where the defendant either cannot remember the circumstances surrounding an event or when there is a potential for civil litigation to arise out of the charged event. In this case, the reason for the no-contest plea was the possibility of civil litigation, Fanara said.

Circuit Court Judge Richard M. Pajias sentenced Wilhelm to serve four days in jail and to pay $3,200 in restitution costs. Wilhelm began serving the jail sentence immediately following Thursday's plea hearing.

Fanara said the plea agreement was offered with the approval of the Charlevoix school district officials.

Charlevoix Public Schools Superintendent Chet Janik confirmed Thursday that the district was in favor of the plea agreement, and had in fact, asked the court to reduce the 30 day-sentence that had been recommended by the probation department to the four-day sentence that the judge ultimately handed down.

"This has been an unfortunate situation for the district, the students and everyone involved," Janik said. "We're just glad that the legal process is complete and we have some closure on this issue."

The charges stem from an incident that took place on or about May 20, 2008, at the construction technology class' project house in which paint was splashed throughout the building and spray paint was

Charlevoix schools approve $1.4 million in cuts

STEVE ZUCKER
NEWS-REVIEW STAFF
WRITER

Facing an unprecedented financial crisis, the Charlevoix School Board on Monday cut more than $1.4 million — including 18 percent of its teaching staff from its 2010-11 budget.

The board unanimously approved the cuts in front of a packed audience who said little about the massive cuts.

In all, the cuts included 14 teaching positions, 1.5 administrative positions, one support staff position and $166,000 in non-personnel reductions including cuts to the budgets for food service, tech equipment, legal fees, maintenance, conferences and a few others.

Two of the teaching position reductions were accomplished through retirements, six through direct layoffs and another six through a voluntary leave of absence offer. Under the offer, teachers were given the opportunity to voluntarily take a year's leave of absence and agreed not to file for unemployment in exchange for which they will be paid $500 per month.

The teaching staff cuts alone account for a little more than $1.1 million in the reductions. Administrative cuts include the district's personnel coordinator position which was not filled after Kelly Yaroeh left earlier this year and the part-time high school assistant principal's position. Elementary school secretary Sue Gengle will also not be replaced when she retires at the end of the school year.

District superintendent Chet Janik said next to talking to a couple of parents of students who had died, Tuesday's cuts were the most difficult thing he's done in his more than 30 years in education.

And district officials warned that for as painful as the cuts approved Tuesday were, there will likely be more needed just for the district to break even.

Janik explained that using "worst case scenario" projections — which include another $268 cut to the per-student foundation grant and the loss of another 40 students to the district's

Throwing in the Crying Towel

Wow, it's been six-and-a-half years since I made the phone call that would change my life forever.

It was November, 2003, and I had recently quit my job at the Flapjack Family Restaurant in Charlevoix to pursue a writing career.

I wrote a few hundred poems, a couple wowed a college professor; my childhood story, which entertained my brothers but horrified my wife and every publisher I pedaled it to, and a slew of short stories and other ramblings which today occupy two large steamer trunks in the basement.

Desperate to get published, I made a call to the local newspaper and then editor Jeremy McBain.

With his help we whipped my sloppy scribbling into my first feature story: a piece on New Year's resolutions which appeared in a January, 2004, edition of the Charlevoix Courier.

Slowly and surely I would write and interview and rewrite — he would cut and underline and cross out and comment.

After five pieces polished and published in the Courier, he shoved me out of the proverbial nest (he really hates it when I use the word "proverbial") and told me I was ready to try some other publications.

After working for the Northern Express, continuing with the Courier, adding a credit with the Los Angeles, a few more for the Express, some ad copy writing for Castle Farms, The Graphic and the News-Review and I landed a job as staff writer right here at the Courier in April, 2005 and later the editorship in spring, 2008.

This column is the last thing I'll write as editor of the Courier, but enough about me.

For what it's worth, I want to thank my longtime mentor, friend and greatest nemesis McBain. He knows more about how to write a good news story, how to get a wishy-washy source to spill the beans (by God he hates clichés almost as much as the word "proverbial") and how to keep from getting the paper sued than anyone I've met in the last six or so years.

I also have to thank my second mentor and most favorite boss Julie Withoef. I had more fun working under her here than any other job I've had — and working the night-shift at the casino up north was a lot of fun.

Julie has a nose for news, a great sense of humor and is one tough chick.

I also have to thank Charlevoix itself.

One of the perks of this job has been meeting seemingly never-ending cast of characters this town has to offer: From Vince Currier and Ellis Boal to Mayor Boogie Carlson and John Haggard — from Jo Anne Beemon and David Clink to Jimmy LeMans and Jane Brannon.

There are far too many people and situations for me to even begin to list, but suffice it to say this has been the strangest, most stressful, most exciting and most rewarding job I have ever had.

I only hope my next stop — running my own humor/variety publication, Modern Caveman Magazine — will even come close to the level of adventure I've come to know and love in this editor's seat.

SCHOLARSHIP WELL SPENT

Editor:
"Best of the Best Physician" Receives Lyman Briggs College Distinguished Alumni Award

Lee P. Begrow, D.O., has received the 2010 Distinguished Alumni Award from Lyman Briggs College (LBC) at Michigan State University. In making the Selection, Dean Elizabeth Simmons remarked, "Dr. Begrow is recognized for achieving the highest level of professional accomplishment and making a positive impact in his community. The recognition that he has received from his peers and patients has led him to be named as a top family physician in both 'The Grand Rapids Press,' and 'Grand Rapids Magazine.'"

A family physician with Spectrum Health Primary Care Physicians in Grand Rapids, Mich., during his nearly 25 years in practice Dr. Begrow has come to be recognized by both peers and patients as a stellar physician and member of the community. He is a 1981 graduate of LBC, an undergraduate residential college for the study of science in the context of society. He received his Doctor of Osteopathic Medicine in 1985, from the Chicago College of Osteopathic Medicine.

"Dr. Begrow has always demonstrated a sincere interest in his patients' well being. He has an outstanding reputation for taking great care of patients and their families. He is truly a doctor's doctor and his practice is full of physician's families and friends," says a Donald Condit, M.D., "He truly represents MSU in an exemplary way with unquestionable personal and professional standing in his community, and as someone who demonstrates an ongoing commitment to the common good." Michael Crete, D.D.S. said: "His genuine caring nature, thoroughness in treatment and care and his stellar reputation amongst his peers, all give me the confidence to know I am being looked after by the best-of-the-best physicians."

His patients have come to rely on his excellent diagnostic skills, and genuine caring nature shown in his habit of calling his patients to check on them and even making occasional house calls. From the many notes of gratitude that Dr. Begrow receives, one patient's words sum it up: "We were not at all surprised to see that you have been recognized as one of the top doctors in West Michigan, as well as ranking in the top 4% nationwide! We've known that you're the best for years.

Thank you for 15 years of the best care we could have asked for. Your kindness, compassion and continuing care for your patients are a true credit to your profession and to who you are."

A leader in organized medicine, Dr. Begrow has made significant contributions through the Kent County Medical Society and as a delegate to the Michigan State Medical Society. He has been involved in community service and a frequent volunteer with "Project Access," for those without insurance in West Michigan. East Grand Rapids High School and numerous other community organizations. When Hurricane Katrina hit, Dr. Begrow loaded up his truck with medical supplies and drove to New Orleans to help in any way possible.

Dr. Begrow is also recognized as a wonderful example of a dedicated husband and father. He has been actively involved with all the sports teams his 3 sons participate in. He was recently proud to be able to celebrate with his son Wade, who is a member of the Lyman Briggs College Class of 2009.

Lyman Briggs College at Michigan State University is a residential college for the study of science in the context of society. Briggs students take advantage of the wealth of opportunities MSU has to offer while living and studying together in a focused and supportive environment. There are multiple opportunities for LBC students to participate in undergraduate research activities with MSU faculty mentors. An integral component of the LBC curriculum is the History, Philosophy and Sociology of Science which encourages students to study the expanding human dimension of science.

ENVIRONMENTAL RESOURCES

The first edition of the Charlevoix County Environmental Resources Directory has been very well received.

The purpose of the publication was to provide useful information to Charlevoix County residents to assist them in getting rid of stuff while protecting the natural resources by being good stewards.

This handy directory provides: detailed recycling information, contact information for environmental agencies & organizations, invasive plant/species alerts, several reduce & reuse suggestions, answers to frequently asked questions such as what questions

RECYCLING PROGRAM

Charlevoix County Recycling Program
Once again, the Recycling Program is offering all the residents of Charlevoix County an opportunity to properly dispose of appliances containing Freon for free.

The procedure is even simpler than before — with no vouchers involved. Partnering with East Jordan Auto Parts, appliances can be dropped off during business hours throughout the year.

Mr. Slough will log your name and address, remove the Freon and recycle the scrap metal. East Jordan Auto Parts is located at: 210 Elm Street in East Jordan (near the pool). The Phone number is (231) 536-2322, business hours Monday - Friday 9 a.m. — 4 p.m., Saturday 9 a.m. — 3 p.m.

CLEANUPS

Several townships & municipalities still offer spring clean up programs. It's been noticed by members of the Charlevoix County Recycling committee, that many items placed by the road could and should be RECYCLED rather than land filled.

Most notably old televisions, computers, and microwaves. Due to the hazardous material they contain they should not be land filled. They should be properly disposed of at one of the HHHW collections, held twice a year for residents of Charlevoix County.

Other non-hazardous recyclable items:

Horticultural Plant Plastic
Tin & aluminum
Scrap Metal
Building Materials
Old Tires

Refer to the new Charlevoix County Environmental Resources Directory for information on where these items can be taken to be recycled and/or reused. The Directory is available online at: www.charlevoixcc.org under Partners and Related Links.

Youth Orchestra Annual Spring Concert

The Crooked Tree Youth Orchestra and Dorothy Gerber Strings Program will present their annual spring concert on Sunday, May 16. The concert will begin at 3 p.m. Sunday, May 16 at the John M. Hall Auditorium in Bay View and is free to the public.

The concert will feature the students who have participated in this year's Dorothy Gerber Strings Program in the schools. Each fall, students from schools in Alanson, Beaver Island, Boyne City, Boyne Falls, Charlevoix, East Jordan, Ellsworth, Harbor Springs, Petoskey and Pellston, are given the opportunity to learn how to play a string instrument in their own school surrounded by their peers. After seven months of practice and rehearsals, these young string players are looking forward to performing in the spring concert before they graduate to the next level in the strings program.

The Crooked Tree Concert Orchestra, Symphony Orchestra, and Jazz Ensemble will also be performing at the concert with the musical theme being the celebration of the International Year of Astronomy. The Symphony Orchestra, under the direction of Robert Dudd and guest conductor Henry Duitman from Grand Valley State University, will perform "Also Sprach Zarathustra" by Richard Strauss from the film 2001: "A Space Odyssey," and "Jupiter" from the "Planets" by Holst. The Symphony Orchestra will also perform "Hall of the Mountain King" from the "Peer Gynt Suite" by Grieg and Star Wars the Revenge of the Sith by John Williams.

The Concert Orchestra, conducted by directors Robert Dudd and Jennifer McAndrew with guest conductor Peter Schindler, will perform "St. Anthony Choral" by Haydn arranged by Sandra Dackow, "Mystical Quest" by Jeremy Woolstenhulme, "Hiawatha" by Soon Hee Newbold.

The strings program is funded through the generosity of the Dorothy Gerber Family and the Gerber Programs for Children and Music.

For more information regarding the strings program contact Crooked Tree Arts Center at (231) 347-4337 or visit its website at www.crookedtree.org.

11 school districts benefit from biotech talk

BY TINA SUNDELIUS
SPECIAL TO THE COURIER

Students from eleven Northern Michigan school districts had the opportunity to investigate the biotechnological sciences first hand because of a little side business and a Professor from Ferris State University loves teaching.

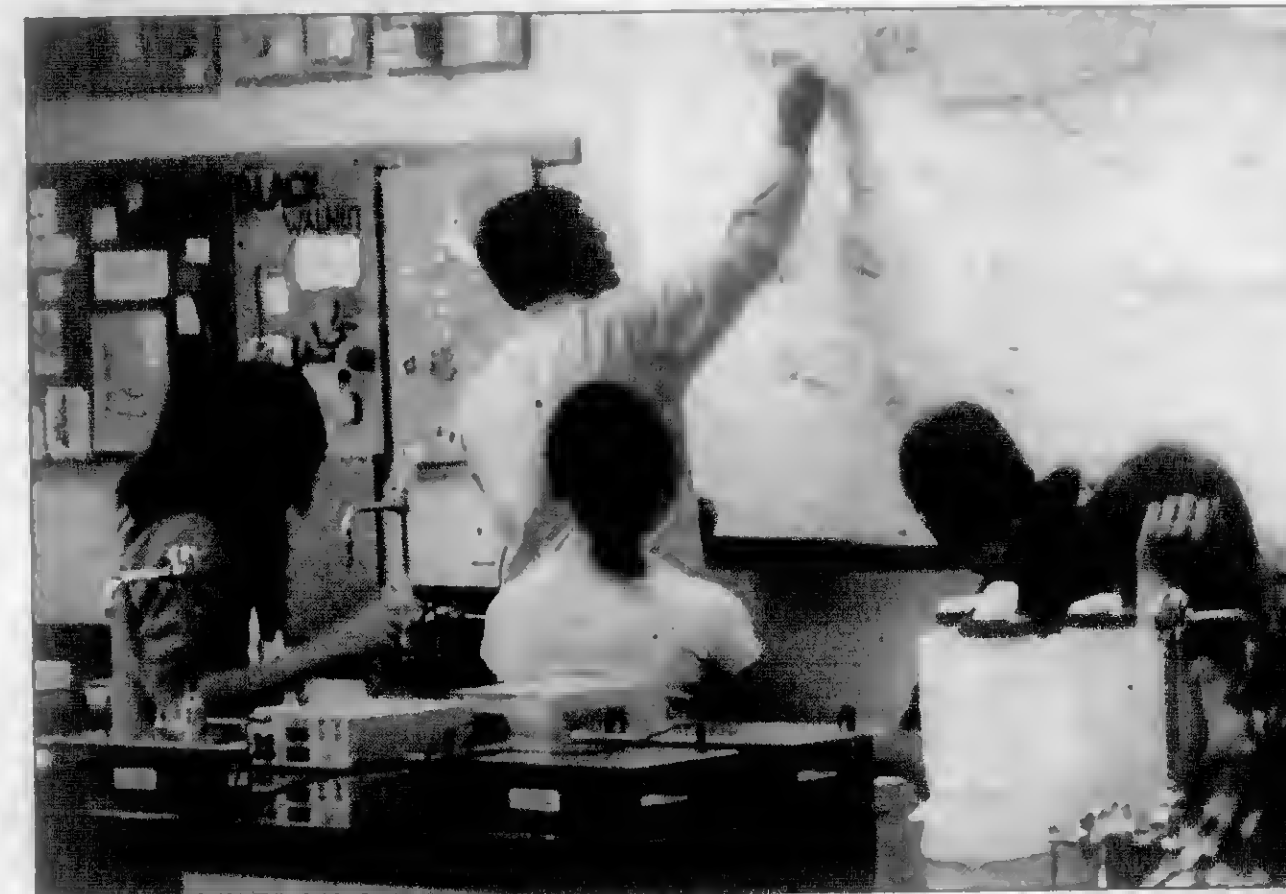

Char-Em ISD sponsored James Hoerter, biotechnology professor from Ferris State University and scientist with Bio Lab, to conduct a four day hands on science workshop.

"I expose these students to a big expanding field," said Hoerter. "Students need to realize this is an industry that is going to play a very big role in our economy in the future."

Hoerter moved the workshop between Harbor Springs, Petoskey, Charlevoix and East Jordan High Schools.

Students conducted three experiments each day during the workshop using equipment brought in by Hoerter and provided by Bio Lab, a small company dedicated to using information that has been published to develop products that can be used in the average home.

First students learned how to use the restrictive enzymes, isolate DNA and cut it out using the molecular "scissors" discovered by Francis Collins, director of the ten year Human Genome project completed in 2005 out of the University of Michigan.

Secondly, students learned how to isolate proteins like insulin.

Thirdly, they conduct experiments in transformation to apply what they have learned.

"I try to teach them how they can change life by introducing a new gene into a cell," said Hoerter. "If I take a human insulin gene and put it into a bacterial cell and let it grow, it produces insulin antibodies."

"This has been more in depth than we can do in a regular classroom," said Miranda VandenBrook, Ellsworth High School student.

"There's more equipment that we're not usually able to use," said Nathan St. Pierre, hands on learning and open their eyes to career opportunities they don't see every day," said Hoerter. "We also want to promote a bridging between the high school and university levels."

Biotechnology offers career opportunities in the fields of education, documentaries, law, research, business, anthropology and agriculture.

"I like that he's a college professor come to teach high school students because this gives them an idea of what to expect when they get into college," said Faivor.

Chelsea Randall, an Ellsworth High School student said, "He kept it lively, he had us do the stuff instead of just talking about it."

"Instead of just writing down the notes we actually got to use the equipment, so you get a more concrete understanding," said Benjamin Veenstra, Ellsworth High School student.

Hoerter added, "It's fun, I enjoy it, young people don't have blinders on or preconceived ways of thinking that kind of prevents them from making discoveries."

OBITUARIES

Edward G. Nedwicki: Mar. 12, 1916 - May 7, 2010

Edward Gregory Nedwicki M.D., 94 of Charlevoix, left this earth to be the Lord and with his wife on May 7, 2010 at Charlevoix Area Hospital.

Born March 12, 1916 in Detroit, Michigan, son of Frances and Stanley Niedzwiecki he was predeceased by his parents, his loving wife of fifty-one years Bernice (Huesman) in 1993 and by his sisters, Mary Ann Niedzwiecki, Sr. Marguerite, Eleanor Slavin (Niedzwiecki) and brother Anthony. He is survived by his children; Patricia Nedwicki Conlon of Kalamazoo, Gayle (Nedwicki) and Lyle Gennett of Charlevoix and Stephen and Mary Louise (Ireland) Nedwicki of Dearborn. Grandchildren: John and Kelly Conlon of Byron Center, Luke Conlon of Royal Oak, Mark Conlon of Los Angeles California, Mary Conlon of Kalamazoo, Christie and Heath Meir of Boyne City, Melinda and Matthew Spalding of Eagle, Robert, Matthew, and Elynn Nedwicki of Dearborn.

Great-grandchildren Benjamin, Alexis and Brianna Spalding, Kaden, Koleton and Kale Meir, Brody and Caleb Conlon. Numerous nieces, nephews and close friends including Gayle's birth mother, Bobbe Freeman.

Ed worked his way through college picking cherries in Traverse City, gardening for Henry Ford, driving a candy delivery truck and doing research for professors at the University of Detroit. He graduated from the University of Detroit in 1938 and completed his medical degree at the University of Michigan in 1943.

His wife Bernice was completing her registered nursing program at Providence Hospital when they met. She began working at St. Joseph's Hospital in Ann Arbor to be closer to his medical school. When of Detroit in 1938 and completed his medical degree at the University of Michigan in 1943.

His wife Bernice was completing her registered nursing program at Providence Hospital when they met. She began working at St. Joseph's Hospital in Ann Arbor to be closer to his medical school. When Pearl Harbor was attacked December 7, 1941, he proposed to Bernice and they married April 11, 1942.

He finished his medical degree in 1943 and they moved to San Francisco, California which soon became his beloved city. He was assigned to the Marine Construction Battalion (See Bees) in the Philippines and Hawaii for the remainder of the war. "Bern" as he lovingly called his wife was his best friend and a constant traveling companion on their trips to California, Hawaii, Florida and Japan.

His medical background and interest in research led him and his fellow colleagues to develop a cure for Tuberculosis, earning him the prestigious Bruce Douglas Award which honors outstanding work in Pulmonary Medicine. Dr. Nedwicki worked most of his life at the V.A. Hospital in Allen Park retiring as Assistant Chief of Staff.

He spent his free time writing articles for the American Medical Journal while listening to opera on the Public Radio Station.

After retiring from the Veterans Administration Hospital in Allen Park, Michigan he taught at Wayne State University Medical School and was Chief of Pulmonary Medicine at Detroit General Hospital. In the latter part of his life he volunteered at Herman Keifer working with veterans who began contracting T.B. and AIDS.

Ed or "Doc" and he was fondly referred to, was a 3rd degree member of the Knights of Columbus, Bishop Foley Council No. 2660. He spent the last few years of his life in Charlevoix after he had fallen and broken his neck. He will be missed by his family, and those who assisted him in the last few years of his life. His son and daughters would like to thank Shawn McCrancy, Lisa Herriman, Lil Left, Jenn Evans, Dr. Jim Gels and Carol, Rose Peters and the staff's at Sunnybank, Boulder Park Terrace and the Charlevoix Area Hospital for their care and compassion. In lieu of flowers, donations may be made to the Knights of Columbus www.kofc.org.

He spent his free time writing articles for the American Medical Journal while listening to opera on the Public Radio Station.

New MSU extension director

Michigan State University Extension (MSUE) is pleased to announce that Patrick Cudney has been appointed as the district coordinator for District 3 which covers Cheboygan, Emmet, Charlevoix, Antrim, Leelanau, Benzie, Grand Traverse, Kalamazoo and Manistee counties. Cudney brings 14 years of experience to this position and will officially begin his district coordinator position on July 1, 2010.

"District coordinators are critical to MSUE's ability to move Michigan forward. Working with local governments, nonprofits, school systems and neighborhood groups, MSUE is focused on providing the knowledge resources necessary to identify community challenges and propose and implement successful solutions," said Michelle Rodgers, associate director of MSUE. "These leaders will represent extension in communities across the state and serve the role of linking Michigan State University's vast research and teaching resources to Michigan communities."

Creating the thirteen districts was part of extension's redesign to improve the efficiency and effectiveness of the organization. Five regional director positions and 82 county Extension director positions were eliminated in the redesign and replaced with the redefined district coordinator role. Some staff members are being reassigned as education specialists increasing extension's capacity to get relevant and essential information critical to improving our communities and assisting individuals out to Michigan residents.

"My vision for District 2, within MSUE's restructured organization, is to insure that MSUE stay proactively engaged with the communities in District 3 and Michigan's needs. MSUE Extension has long prided ourselves on our responsiveness to locally identified needs through researched based educational learning opportunities," said Cudney. "I am honored to have had the opportunity to serve as the regional administrator for MSUE Extension for the past 8 years and I look forward to bringing the same passion, commitment and energy to the newly created role of district coordinator and focusing my efforts in the nine county areas and engaging with our staff, stakeholders, elected officials and clients."

Cudney's direct areas of expertise and interests include community engagement in public policy and the science of public administration. He has served the last 8 years as regional director, providing administrative oversight and leadership across the 21 counties of Northern Lower Michigan, has served as county Extension director for 4 1/2 years in Benzie County, and has served 1 1/2 years as a 4-H youth agent in Kalamazoo County. Cudney received his bachelor's degree and master's degree in administration from Central Michigan University.

Cudney will join other district coordinators in training and program planning during the transition period leading up to July 1.

MSUE Extension is pleased to announce that Patrick Cudney has been appointed as the district coordinator for District 3 which covers Cheboygan, Emmet, Charlevoix, Antrim, Leelanau, Benzie, Grand Traverse, Kalamazoo and Manistee counties. Cudney brings 14 years of experience to this position and will officially begin his district coordinator position on July 1, 2010.

"District coordinators are critical to MSUE's ability to move Michigan forward. Working with local governments, nonprofits, school systems and neighborhood groups, MSUE is focused on providing the knowledge resources necessary to identify community challenges and propose and implement successful solutions," said Michelle Rodgers, associate director of MSUE. "These leaders will represent extension in communities across the state and serve the role of linking Michigan State University's vast research and teaching resources to Michigan communities."

Creating the thirteen districts was part of extension's redesign to improve the efficiency and effectiveness of the organization. Five regional director positions and 82 county Extension director positions were eliminated in the redesign and replaced with the redefined district coordinator role. Some staff members are being reassigned as education specialists increasing extension's capacity to get relevant and essential information critical to improving our communities and assisting individuals out to Michigan residents.

Help hospice continue its mission

BY BENJAMIN GOHS EDITOR

Hospice of Northwest Michigan hopes its 27th annual benefit auction will be its biggest.

The event, scheduled from 6 p.m. - 10 p.m. June 4, will feature music, food and one of the area's largest auctions.

"Our operations are dependent on fund raising and donations. This is our major fund raising event," said Cheri Hoffman, executive director of Hospice of Northwest Michigan. "The fund are used for general operations and in support of our bereavement and volunteer programs. We also provide 'extras' for hospice patients and families such as gas cards so families can travel to be with a loved one in their last days, hospice respite care to give caregivers a needed rest for a few days, nutritional supplements, etc."

Hospice hopes its event will raise awareness about their programs and benefits, educate the people in our service area about the programs and benefits, honor Margaret Lasater who has been with the organization for 27 years and to financially support the organization.

The target audience is anyone who believes in and would like to support the work of hospice in the area.

The event will occur at Charlevoix's Castle Farms. "The castle has an atmosphere all its own, which makes it an almost magical venue for an event. The castle is one of the few facilities in our area that can accommodate the crowd we anticipate. Charlevoix is central to the service area of Emmet, Charlevoix, Antrim and Otsego counties, so the location is convenient for people coming from all directions," she said. "We will be playing heads or tails in which the participants stand and demonstrate which way they think the coin will fall by placing their hands on their head or tail. Those who guess correctly remain standing, those who guess incorrectly are seated."

This continues until there are only a few remaining players. The MC invites the remaining players to the stage and play continues until there is one player left. The winner will win $100 cash."

Hoffman added, "We are also featuring a wall of wine. The numbered bottles of wine will be sealed in bags. Players will choose the number(s) they wish and record their choice on a chart. When the last bottle is sold, all of the bags will be unsealed. There will be two very nice bottles of wine, and everyone else will have a bottle of wine worth at least the cost of participation. We are offering five raffle opportunities. For the cost of a raffle ticket, participants will have the opportunity to win an item or experience that might have gone to the live auction."

Hoffman urges people to support hospice, which provides end of life care for patients and their families during and after life limiting illness.

"No one is ever denied service because they do not have financial resources. Our dedicated team truly cares for and about the patients and their families, and we go the extra mile to meet their needs as well as we can. Our bereavement services are available to anyone, not just hospice patients and families. We provide compassionate companionship for families and friends are grieving the loss of a loved one," she said. "We are still accepting donated items or experiences for the auction. We could still use some frequent flyer miles to complete one of our travel packages. We are a 501 (c) (3) nonprofit and always welcome donations."

For more information call Hoffman at 547-7659 or go to www.hospiceenwm.org.

Hoffman said they will also offer express checkout. "Register your credit card when you check in and your purchases will be waiting for you at the end of the evening," she said. "You will receive a statement with your purchases. Your credit card will be billed the following week."

MAY

Dispose of your old drugs properly

Coordinated by Great Lakes Clean Water Organization, a Michigan based non-profit, the Yellow Jug Old Drugs program began in May 2009 in Northeast Michigan. The program has gone very well and is now expanding to provide the service to more communities in Michigan.

Up until now when a person wanted to dispose of unused/unwanted/expired drugs the only option available in many communities was to flush down the drain or send to a landfill. In Michigan and across the country this has led to an emerging problem of trace amounts of chemicals showing up in our water. The Yellow Jug Old Drugs program is providing a positive solution to help address the issue. Individuals can bring unused/unwanted/expired drugs to participating pharmacies. Collected drugs are then taken to a Covanta Energy-from-Waste (EFW) facility for safe and proper disposal.

Chris Angel, President, volunteer board of directors for Great Lakes Clean Water states, "Disposing of the drugs collected by the Yellow Jug Old Drugs program at a Covanta Energy-from-Waste facility ensures proper disposal with the added benefit of the energy produced in the process. The support Covanta has generously provided will help us expand the program to more communities throughout Michigan."

The Yellow Jug Old Drugs Program is currently available at pharmacies in Northeast Michigan, Bay City, the Thumb Area and in Northwest Michigan

later this month. Funding from Northern Michigan Substance Abuse Services is provided through the Prescription Drug Abuse Prevention Task Force. This funding will allow the program to expand to Northwest Michigan. Great Lakes Clean Water and Northern Michigan Substance Abuse Services will also be partnering to sponsor a workshop for law enforcement agencies on regulations regarding collection of controlled substances. Workshop is scheduled for Sept. 8 in Gaylord. The funding provided by Covanta Energy will assist Great Lakes Clean Water Organization to begin to offer the Yellow Jug Old Drugs program to communities in southeast Michigan. Pharmacies in Wayne, Macomb and Oakland counties will begin offering the program in May. Interested pharmacies who would like to participate in the Yellow Jug Old Drugs are encouraged to contact Great Lakes Clean Water for details.

In addition to the funding provided by Northern Michigan Substance Abuse Services, and Covanta program costs are also supported by United Water, The Community Foundation for Northeast Michigan, support from local pharmacies and donations. There is no cost for individuals to bring unused/unwanted drugs to a participating pharmacy for proper disposal.

The program has been well received by pharmacists, customers and those concerned with the issue of safe and proper disposal of unused/unwanted drugs including Congressman Bart Stupak who has sponsored legislation on this issue.

Congressman Bart Stupak stated, "As drugs that are no longer needed sit around in household medicine cabinets, millions of Americans - particularly teenagers - are turning to these unused pharmaceuticals at an alarming rate as an alternative to illegal drugs," Stupak said. "By implementing a safe, controlled, and environmentally-friendly means for disposing of unwanted drugs, we can make it harder for teens to abuse prescription drugs, while at the same time cleaning up our lakes, rivers, and streams."

The Yellow Jug Old Drugs program accepts non-controlled drugs only at pharmacies. Participating pharmacies have a complete list of accepted/non accepted items and can help customers who have any questions. Locations and dates for collection of controlled substances coordinated by law enforcement agencies will be posted on Web site as received. A complete list of participating pharmacies is available on the Great Lakes Clean Water Web site www.greatlakescleanwater.org.

For more information on the Yellow Jug Old Drugs program go to www.greatlakescleanwater.org or call 989-736-8179.

Controlled substances can be taken to the Charlevoix County Sheriff's department.

Great Lakes Clean Water Organization Mission Statement: To promote the collection and disposal of unused/unwanted drugs in a safe and approved manner. This will keep harmful effects of drugs out of ground water, surface water and municipal water systems in Michigan and the Great Lakes region.

Celebrate the wonderful water resources of our State and region. Our streams, rivers, inland lakes and the Great Lakes are treasured resources. They also supply us with our source for drinking water-whether through municipal water systems or ground water. Every time we get a drink of water, catch a fish or simply contemplate the beautiful blue of the lakes we should be reminded to do all we can to keep our water clean.

One of the easiest and most important things we can do to help keep your water clean and improve our environment is to keep unused/unwanted drugs from entering our water.

WHAT YOU CAN DO TO HELP:

Do not flush or dump drugs down your drain.
Bring unwanted/unused drugs to a participating Yellow Jug Old Drugs pharmacy or other safe and approved collection program.

Help spread the word about the importance of keeping harmful drugs out of our water.

Help support Great Lakes Clean Water Organization so we can provide the Yellow Jug Old Drugs program to more communities in Michigan.

Participating pharmacies in Charlevoix County:

Boyer City Glen's Pharmacy (231) 582-4545

Charlevoix Central Lake Pharmacy 547-2424
East Jordan East Jordan Family Pharmacy (231) 536-2207 (to be added soon)

For information about bringing the Yellow Jug Old Drugs program to your community, contact GLCW info@greatlakescleanwater.org.

LEADs Institutes over two years which will develop and train a network of business leaders on education issues, network organization, and communications to empower them to be effective advocates for improving America's education system.

The Institute for a Competitive Workforce (ICW) is the non profit, non partisan affiliate of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce. ICW promotes the rigorous educational standards and effective job training systems needed to preserve the strength of America's greatest economic resource, its workforce.

The Charlevoix Chamber of Commerce is delighted to have Bemis representing the community and looks forward to sharing her experiences!

A Hawaiian Luau at May After Hours!
In the business world, many answers or opportunities come down to who you know! The more people you know, the more opportunities you have to promote and grow your business. The Charlevoix Chamber of Commerce is here to facilitate exactly that at Business After Hours - a premier networking opportunity for area businesses! Scheduled for the third Wednesday of the month, the next event is May 19th from 5 to 7pm sponsored by Beacon Dental Center and hosted at Stafford's Weathervane Restaurant with a Hawaiian Luau theme! The event is free to all Chamber members or $10 general admission.

In addition to the company of your friends and colleagues, there will be complimentary hors d'oeuvres, a pig roast, cash bar, 50/50 raffle, and a variety of door prizes including free-whitenings!

It will be an evening of food, friends and fun - we hope to see you there!

Women's Networking After Hours
Finally, a business networking organization by women, for women. Join the Women's Networking After Hours on the fourth Thursday of each month at 5pm. May's event is scheduled for May 27th at Giuseppe's Italian Grille. There is no charge to attend. Not only are members networking and passing referrals, but also experience the support of a network of women facing similar challenges and opportunities. For additional information contact Sheila at Heaven Sent Adoption Services, 237.9880.

Do You Have the Winning Ticket?
As you drive past Bridge Park, you will notice that there is a new addition to the park's landscape. It isn't a tree or shrub, it is a 2010 Jeep Wrangler Sahara - black, two doors and in need of a new home! The Charlevoix Chamber of Commerce will be raffling off the 2010 Jeep on Thursday, September 23rd at the Charlevoix Golf & Country Club. Although only one person will be driving the new Jeep home, second place will receive $500 and third and fourth place will receive $250 each.

Tickets are now available at the Charlevoix Chamber. Ticket prices are 1 for $100 or 3 for $200. If you would like to learn more or to be added to the mailing list, contact the Charlevoix Chamber of Commerce at info@charlevoix.org or 231.547.2101. What are you waiting for?

Bemis Selected to Attend US Chamber Business LEADS Institute

Erin Bemis, President of the Charlevoix Area Chamber of Commerce, was selected by the U.S. Chamber of Commerce's Institute for a Competitive Workforce to attend the Business LEADS Institute, a three-day seminar in Washington, DC on May 10-12, 2010. Selected for her leadership in the community, Bemis is one of 35 business leaders from around the nation to learn how the business community can utilize its assets to drive positive transformation in communities across America in education and workforce training.

The seminar, part of a $2.6 million grant from the Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation, is one of five Business Learn & Grow With the Chamber!

The Charlevoix Chamber of Commerce is here to help your business grow. Through our business education seminars you can learn new skills, stay informed or get motivated! The seminars are organized by various Chamber committees and area organizations based on the needs and interests of our Chamber members. Below are a couple of the upcoming seminars and workshops:

Social Networking for Business Seminar
Friday, May 21st, 3 to 4:30pm - The Charlevoix Chamber is partnering with the Boyne and Petoskey Chambers to bring to you a Social Networking for Business Seminar - and happy hour! The event will be held at 220 Lake Street, Boyne City. Admission will be $5 for members of any northern Michigan Chamber and $10 for general admission. The fee covers hors d'oeuvres and a cash bar will be available.

Creating the Customer Experience
Thursday, May 27, 9am to 12pm - The Inn at Bay Harbor - A Renaissance Golf Resort will host a morning of Customer Service Training by General Manager and Service Guru, Bill Quiseng. You and your staff will be entertained while learning the need for great service when dealing with customers and fellow employees. Topics covered in this three-hour seminar are an overview of topics covered in the half-semester course that Mr. Quiseng teaches at North Central Michigan College. So send your staff and yourself to this emerging seminar today! It is just $15 per person for chamber members, or $25 general admission. If your schedule is already packed for the May 27, then be sure to leave Tuesday, June 22nd open! Mr. Quiseng will be presenting the second half at Castle Farms on Tuesday, June 22nd from 8 to 10am - the time is tentative.

Expand your business knowledge and reserve your spot today by contacting the Charlevoix Chamber of Commerce at 231.547.2101 or manager@charlevoix.org.

The Charlevoix Photography Club announces a two year book project. Our goal will be to record our community and our focus will be Charlevoix. The book will showcase the beauty of Charlevoix and its neighbors within a 25 mile radius. We will photograph the people, businesses, churches, schools, unique homes, farms, sports, parks, beaches, animals, arts, events and, most of all, the natural beauty that surrounds us throughout all four seasons.

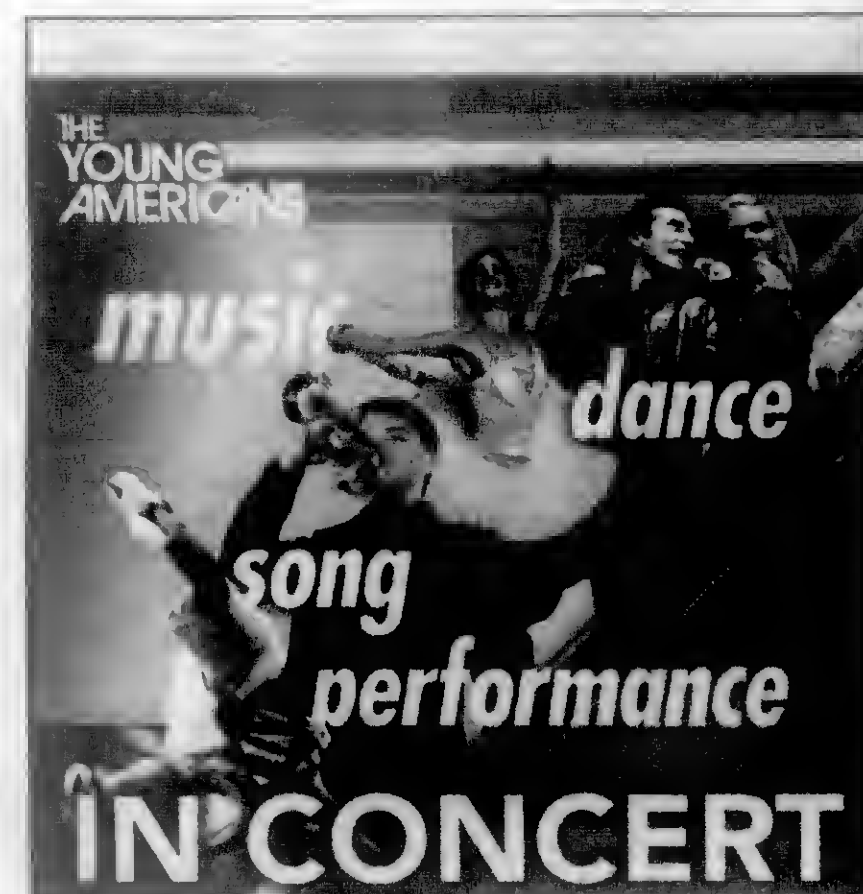

This will be a nonprofit project and we will depend solely on donations and book sales to make it successful. All proceeds will be distributed to the arts program at the Charlevoix Circle of Arts.

A win-win for all, this book will be a keepsake that everyone will want to have on display or give as a gift to family and friends. The photography club will benefit from the learning experience and challenge of capturing the beauty of the Charlevoix area. The Circle of Art's art program will thrive and expand as a result of the donated funds.

Every photographer will have photos in the book and photographers of all ages are welcome. Each photographer will receive credit for each image that appears in the book, but you must be a member of the Charlevoix Photography Club. Don't miss out on this once-in-a-lifetime opportunity to have images published in the finest illustration of our wonderful community.

Our chairperson for this project is Kris Balasz ktbjeh@chartermi.net. For more information, contact Kris Balasz or Mike Schlitt mike@schlitt.com. We are currently working on our website www.charlevoixcircle.org that will soon have all of this information as well as a calendar of events. Watch a video of the photography club's book announcement at www.petoskeynews.com/multimedia.

Watershed survey

If you live in the Lake Charlevoix Watershed you may receive a survey in the mail this summer. The Charlevoix County MSU Extension office will be conducting a survey of people in the Lake Charlevoix watershed.

The purpose of the survey is to identify the needs and concerns in the community regarding the water quality of Lake Charlevoix. This is part of a larger project that the Tip of the Mitt Watershed Council is coordinating with other local partners. The information collected will show people's awareness and attitudes concerning non-point source pollution in Lake Charlevoix. It will also show their willingness to change behaviors that would protect the water quality of the watershed. If you receive a survey, please take the time to complete it. Your input is very important. The results of the survey will help guide the direction of future education efforts, protecting the water quality of the Lake Charlevoix watershed.

If you have any questions, contact Chris Anderson at MSUE, 231-582-6232.

I care!
I care about the environment.
I care about protecting our bay.

Like a lot of people in our community, I first came to Northwest Michigan as a child to spend my summers. My grandfather worked for the Coast Guard in Charlevoix. He retired there after 28 years of service. We spent our summers with family 'up North,' and I loved it.

It was a great community then and it's a great community now. Northwest Michigan has so much to offer visitors and residents. It's why I settled here 20 years ago.

There is no denying that there is something special about the place we live. All you have to do is look around. There are few places like it.

I care about the Little Traverse Bay Environmental Project because I remember the fun and beauty of the water I loved as a kid. Those things drew me here as an adult and I am grateful they're being protected for others to enjoy in the future.

Janine Warner

Canine massage now offered

Janine Warner is announcing the opening of the Maple Way Canine Massage Therapy Company, located at 05847 Maple Grove Road, Charlevoix. She is open evenings and weekends. Appointments may be made by calling (231) 547-7384 or (231) 675-0762.

Warner studied canine massage 1 and 2 from Integrated Touch Therapy, Inc. for Animals at Synergy Farms in Circleville, Ohio.

She offers therapeutic and relaxation Swedish massage for canines.

Canine massage therapy became an interest of Warner at an early age. She grew up with dogs in the house and her father was always bringing home a stray.

She currently has four dogs: two German shepherds and two border collies. In showing her border collie, Jove, in conformation, she became very familiar with canine structure and movement.

She is active in agility with both of her border collies, Jove and Mari.

She realized the benefits of massage after having rotator cuff repair surgery, which has a long healing process. With the assistance of her physical therapist at Northern Michigan Sports Medicine Center and her own personal massage therapist, Jenn Evans of Energenies, she was able to recover faster and regain 99 percent use of her arm even though she was only given to expect a range of 70 percent recovery.

Recognizing the benefits of human massage and her love of dogs, she combined the two and attended the Integrated Touch Therapy, Inc. for Animals (ITT) at the Synergy Farms in Circleville, Ohio, where she received the highest marks in her training as a canine massage practitioner.

Extensive course work included application theory of and physiological effect of many Swedish massage techniques, anatomy and skeletal structure of the canine, study of the body language of the animal receiving the massage to ensure the safety of both practitioner and canine, behavior modification through a touching experience, and human and animal bonding.

She is fully trained in general relaxation and pre-event and post-event massage techniques.

Benefits of canine massage: Achieve full range of movement through increased flexibility.

Increase circulation and removal of toxins.

Reduce muscle tension, cramping and soreness.

Enhance muscle function and efficiency.

Reduce recovery time from injury, surgery, or sore muscles.

Increase human/animal awareness.

Massage rates are $20 for a 30 minute massage and $35 for a 60 minute massage. Introductory offer - free 30 minute canine massage until June 30.

The massage can take place at your home if a quiet place is available to use, otherwise, you will need to bring your canine family member to Janine's house. If you would like to learn more or to schedule an appointment, contact Janine at 547-7384 (cell) (231) 675-0762.

Northern Michigan Benefits acquired

Fox Insurance Agency, based in Grand Rapids, announced today its April 30th acquisition of Northern Michigan Benefits, formerly located at 05998 U.S. 31 South, Charlevoix from Timothy Bruce. Northern Michigan Benefits has been a part of the Charlevoix business community for 20 years. Bruce will now serve as the director of business development - Northern Region for Fox Insurance, which is owned by Dan DeVos, of Grand Rapids. DeVos also owns two auto dealerships in Charlevoix (Fox Charlevoix Ford and Fox Charlevoix Chrysler/GM) and several dealerships in Traverse City (Mercedes-Benz of Traverse City, Fox Grand Traverse (Ford/Lincoln/Mercury, BMW, Mazda), and Fox Yamaha), all of which are part of the Fox Motors group of dealerships. Bruce will now provide insurance services from the Fox Charlevoix Chrysler/GM dealership, which is located at 6684 US-31.

"This acquisition is a great thing for Northern Michigan Benefits' customers. Joining Fox Insurance will ensure that our customers continue to receive the excellent service that they've come to expect from us, while receiving tremendous support and expertise from the wonderful staff at Fox Insurance," said Bruce.

DeVos echoed Bruce's excitement, commenting that, "We are excited to expand Fox Insurance's presence in Charlevoix and Northern Michigan, and we will strive to provide the same level of high-quality, first-rate service Northern Michigan Benefits has provided for years. We have tremendous confidence in Tim. Fox Insurance and our entire organization are committed to Northern Michigan, and we look forward to serving Charlevoix and the surrounding communities for many years to come."

Bruce will work closely with Paul Freihofer, vice president of Fox Insurance, to continue to provide the highest level of service to existing customers while also working to grow Fox Insurance's business throughout Northern Michigan. Bruce will remain the primary contact for all of his existing customers, with the support of the rest of the Fox Insurance staff.

Fox Insurance offers a wide variety of employee benefits services and individual insurance products, with a primary focus on health, dental, life, and disability coverage. Based in Grand Rapids, Fox Insurance has clients throughout Michigan, including a growing presence in northern Michigan. This is the second northern Michigan transaction for Fox Insurance in the last two years, after having completed a merger with Complete Benefits Designs in DeTour Village, Michigan in 2008. Fox Insurance and Mr. Bruce can be reached locally at (231) 547-3423.

PUBLIC NOTICE

Request for information about the Former Hat Island Target

The U.S. Army Corps of Engineers is conducting Site Inspections at the former Hat Island Target located two miles east of Hog Island and 27.8 miles west of Mackinaw City, Charlevoix County, MI. Between 1943 and 1945, the 12-acre island was part of a large area of islands used by the U.S. Naval Air Station at Traverse City for high altitude bomb tests. These tests included weapons such as early heat-seeking and radio-controlled bombs. Training activities, were discontinued in October 1945 and the Navy terminated leases in June 1946. The Navy continued to make periodic inspections of the island through 1951 and warning signs were posted. Currently, the island is part of the Michigan Islands National Wildlife Refuge.

The former Hat Island Target is just one of many former military installations throughout the United States that will be reviewed under the Department of Defense's Munitions Response Site Prioritization Protocol. This protocol is used to assess sites that may have unexploded ordnance, discarded military munitions or munitions constituents, and to assign priorities for any additional investigation or munitions removal that may be required.

For more information or if you have information about past activities related to the former Hat Island Target, please contact:

Couple start new travel guide in area

Resort Maps, creator of 98 customized travel maps across the United States, England, Costa Rica and Puerto Rico, recently announced Traverse City residents Rob and Sue Wallace as the new owners of the new map to be published for The Petoskey Area of Michigan. The map will include the towns of Petoskey, Harbor Springs and Charlevoix.

Resort Maps are colorful, hand-drawn maps of towns and cities, distributed free to area visitors at rest and travel information areas as well by advertisers. The Best of the Petoskey Area Map will highlight local attractions, restaurants, accommodations, retail shops, marinas, real estate and other services in all three towns. Each advertiser on the map will be represented with a display ad surrounding the perimeter of the map, including a color-coded grid locator and their actual building drawn, highlighted and labeled, making it easy to locate.

"I first started coming to this area for ice boating, which is a hobby of mine," said Wallace. "The Petoskey, Harbor Springs-Charlevoix area is just incredibly beautiful. It really is a place you have to see to appreciate. With our new map, we're hoping to help tourists and residents find those hidden treasures and charming businesses that make up the area."

Prior to owning a Resort Maps franchise, Wallace worked as an IT professional for the past three decades for Broadview Savings and Loan and National City Bank. After finding himself displaced after the National City/PNC Bank merger, he and his wife relocated to Traverse City. After seeing the Best of Traverse City map and learning more about the Resort Maps opportunity, he knew the perfect place to start a map.

"There's not a brochure out there that can accurately depict the Petoskey-Harbor Springs-Charlevoix area. With our new map, we're going to try," said Wallace.

Rob and Sue Wallace opens Best of Northern Michigan Resort Maps franchise for Petoskey, Harbor Springs and Charlevoix.

The Best of The Petoskey Area map will offer a treasure trove of things to do for people vacationing in the area or just down for a day or two. Resort Maps free 'souvenir style' maps will be on display at local advertisers' shops but also at many non-advertiser locations throughout the Petoskey-Harbor Springs-Charlevoix region.

The Petoskey Area map will also be available online at www.resortmaps.com, along with interactive maps to all 98 Resort Maps. These interactive maps allow the viewer to read a description of each business as they scroll over each building and to connect to the website of the business for further information.

For information on how to advertise on the first edition of The Best of Petoskey Area Resort Map Michigan, you can e-mail Rob Wallace at robw@resortmaps.com.

About Resort Maps Headquartered in the Green Mountains of Vermont, Resort Maps has been creating and publishing advertising maps in the northeastern U.S. since 1986. In 1993, Resort Maps expanded its reach by creating a franchise model for distribution of its colorful, hand-drawn maps of resort towns and cities. Today, that network of franchises has grown to 98 Resort Maps in publication in the U.S.,

Puerto Rico, Costa Rica and the UK, with several more in the process of being published. More than 18 million Resort Maps will be printed and distributed in 2010.

For more information on Resort Maps and/or the franchise opportunity, visit www.resortmaps.com or call (802) 496-6277.

Horse Liniment Erases Pain

HALEAH, FL. An ingredient often used to treat inflammation in racehorses' legs, is now back on the market in its original doctor recommended clinical strength formula.

According to a national drug store survey, the formula at one time became so popular that it rose to the top of pharmacy sales for topical pain relievers. But the company marketing the product at the time changed the formula and sales plummeted. One of the inventors of the original formula has brought it back to the market under the trade name ARTH ARREST and says it can relieve pain for millions.

ARTH ARREST works by a dual mechanism where one ingredient relieves pain immediately, while a second ingredient seeks out and destroys the pain messenger signal before it can be sent to the brain. Considered a medical miracle by some, the ARTH ARREST formula is useful in the treatment of painful disorders ranging from minor aches and pains to more serious conditions such as arthritis, bursitis, tendonitis, and more. ARTH ARREST is available in a convenient roll-on applicator at pharmacies without a prescription or call 1-800-339-3301. Now at:

Walgreens
ARTH ARREST is also available in Charlevoix at: Central Rexall Drug 301 Bridge St. 547-2424

Local parlor scoops up new ice cream company

Sugar N Spice at 204 Bridge St., will soon introduce a new ice cream brand to the neighborhood: Ashby's Sterling Ice Cream, a rich, old-fashioned ice cream parlor ice cream will be served. Ashby's Sterling Ice Cream, based in Shelby Township, has been recognized on numerous occasions by its peers at the National Ice Cream

Retailers Association with awards for its quality and innovative flavors. Amaretto Cherry, Raspberry Chip Cheesecake, Mt. Blackberry, Ultimate Peanut Butter Brownie, Magic Cookie, and Pineapple Upside Down Cake are six of its award winning flavors.

In 2008, 2006 and 2005 Ashby's Sterling was awarded a Blue Ribbon for chocolate ice cream at the World

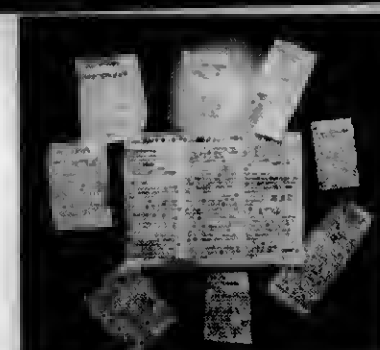

Dairy Expo. Six Gold Medals were awarded at the LA County Fair in 2005.

Over 60 creamy, premium flavors are loaded with the good "stuff" such as butters, roasted and salted pecan halves, chewy Mackinac Island Fudge, large black or maraschino cherries, and fresh-frozen strawberry halves. You're sure to find a favorite among the flavors served at Sugar N Spice.

An explanation of ostomy surgery: It is performed because of disease, injury or birth defects to over 100,000 people in the United States each year. A stoma, or opening, is created on the abdominal wall, usually with the intestine, for the elimination of body wastes with a collecting device worn in most cases. As a support group, our prime concern is to aid patients and their families in the return to normal living following the surgery. You can understand and the appreciation of our chapter for your assistance in this goal. Thank you.

Petunia power

Generosity, efficiency fuels signature flower program in the face of funding cuts

STEVE ZUCKER
NEWS-REVIEW STAFF
WRITER

When the city of Charlevoix reduced its usual $47,000 participation in the community's signature summer petunia program by more than half earlier this year in an effort to cut more than $500,000 from the city's budget, many feared the coming summer would be far less floral, especially in the downtown.

has overseen the annual petunia plantings since the program's inception in 1982, said of the organization's increased fund-raising efforts.

"We get calls from all over from people wanting to contribute," Vogelheim said. "I'd say about half of our donations are coming from people who are seasonal residents or visitors to the area."

"It's the little (contributions) that are really adding up and making a difference," he said. "I walked into a local shop the other day and a woman handed me $10 out of the blue."

The contributions have also included many area businesses who have not only offered money but also free products and services toward the effort.

When volunteers for this year's edition of "Operation Petunia" take to the streets starting around 4 p.m. on Thursday, May 27, he expects they'll be planting the full complement of about 62,000 flowers along the five miles of U.S. 31 from the city's northern to southern city limits.

Preparations for this year's plantings began in earnest Monday as crews began preparing the flower beds by removing debris.

"We've also gotten better by becoming more efficient," Vogelheim said.

He explained that the organization expects to see cost savings from several changes it has made.

First, it will save on costs by not removing all the dirt from the flower beds, just the debris and the top few inches of soil are being removed in advance of the plantings. He said by lowering the level of the soil in the flower beds, the beds will hold water better, reducing those costs as well.

He pointed out the area where the organization expects to see significant costs savings: Weeding the flower beds.

In the past it has cost about $16,000 to $18,000 per year to have the beds weeded. This year, the organization has received permission to have inmates from the Charlevoix County Jail do the work. The only cost to the program will be for the sheriff's office staff to oversee the inmates. Vogelheim expects to save $8,000 to $10,000 through that program alone.

In another cost-saving effort, Vogelheim noted that the 79 hanging baskets for the downtown area have been ordered but will arrive about two weeks after the planting is complete. This will cut even more from the flower upkeep budget, he said.

Life lesson spring up among the 'weeds'

With the beginning of the 2010 mowing season, I have again had the opportunity to examine the uncultivated area around our home. We do not usually call it a lawn, since the word implies closely mown grass.

EAR TO THE GROUND

Roger Knutson

We have too many non-grass plants for it to qualify.

This year I have taken note of three exotic, alien, invasive plants that now make up a noticeable part of our yard.

The first and most obvious this time of year is the low, white English daisy, a plant with the lovely Latin name Bellis perennis. It began as one small clump outside the door of my small greenhouse and is now found all over the back yard. It has invaded a lot of Charlevoix yards and is abundant in the older lawns in the Chicago Club. The plant is only a few inches high and so survives the mower nicely. Even though it is clearly alien and invasive, no one seems to object much to its lovely presence.

The second invader is a perennial arctic poppy that started as one plant in a far corner of the back yard and now can be found almost everywhere behind the house. It has furry gray-green leaves and lovely salmon colored blooms on slender stalks that can be nearly a foot tall. It too survives mowing because most of the plant is a small rosette of leaves clinging to the ground. The flowers pop up almost as fast as the spring Dandelions, so there are always a few seeds produced that carry the plant to new locations. No one has so far objected to this invader.

The final new alien invader in this year's yard survey is another perennial. This one is a yellow primrose with a single stalk above another rosette of leaves, close enough to the ground to evade mowing. These plants are spreading from five plants I installed a few years ago next to our front porch. The seeds are small and don't fly far from the parent plant, but the cheery yellow flowers are now growing over much of the front yard and even coming up in the cracks of the sidewalk. I look forward to its continuing spread.

Maybe alien, invasive plant species are only troublesome if we don't like how they look. It is difficult not to be reminded how we in America have responded to human aliens arriving at our shores. We have historically welcomed some groups and almost absolutely rejected or severely restricted access for others we deemed less desirable. We continue such policies, even though history would suggest that many such alien humans have turned out to be completely desirable, even beautiful.

I suppose I could set out to eliminate my yard aliens, but I would rather wait a while and see how well they do. They seem compatible with the other plants in the yard, although to be fair, almost all the plants in almost any lawn, even the most carefully trimmed and maintained, are themselves alien plant species that have been here long enough so we no longer recognize them as unusual.

I believe there is a lesson in there somewhere, even if I am not completely sure what it is.

NO CONTEST

Editor:
Austin Wilhelm's acceptance of a "no contest" plea is in no way an admission of guilt. The prosecutors had offered in the past to reduce the charge to a misdemeanor in exchange for a guilty plea, but Austin was unwilling to lie in court and say he had done the crime when he had not. Finally, on the last day that a plea could be entered, the offer was changed to a "no contest" plea. All Austin was required to say in court was that he understood what the sentence would be. The prosecutors allowed him just a few hours to decide. If he did not take the plea and the prosecution won at the trial, the felony charge carried a 15 year maximum sentence.

This travesty has caused great financial hardship and emotional trauma to Austin and his family for nearly two years. His parents have had to use all their savings and sell their home to pay for his defense. So, although innocent of the crime, Austin decided to sacrifice 72 hours of freedom to have it be over. Even the so-called restitution of $3,200 was less than the likely cost of going ahead with a trial. At least now this fine young man and his family can start rebuilding their lives.

Welcome home, Austin!
Vince Chew

THANKS TO THE COMMUNITY

Editor:
Last Saturday, May 8, the 16th Annual Sue DeYoung/Judy Edger Breast Cancer Memorial 5k Walk/Run event took place in Charlevoix and raised over $12,500! The proceeds will benefit the Circle of Strength Foundation to provide mammograms for women in need and the Health Department for free cervical cancer screening program in Charlevoix County.

On behalf of the Walk/Run Board and the Kappa Sigma group, we would like to extend a heartfelt thank you to the community, businesses and individuals for continued generous support and involvement. This event could not take place without our wonderful community. We also express our gratitude to the event chairperson, Kendall Hayes, for her many hours of dedication and hard work on this event.

Sincerely,
Lisa Hoyt
Kappa Sigma member

TIME TO SPEAK THE TRUTH

Editor:
I read Steve Zucker's article, "Accused school vandal pleads" in last week's Petoskey News Review with special interest as I have been following the development of this case in Charlevoix since the accused, Austin Wilhelm, was first charged with the crime 18 months ago, a full six months after the incident took place.

It is my firm belief that Austin Wilhelm spent time in jail here last week, not because he was guilty of any crime, but because the Charlevoix County Prosecutor and the Sheriff's Department have collectively and deliberately misled us in their very focused quest: winning this case at all costs, including making a mockery of truth and the justice system. I believe that losing is not an acceptable option for them.

There are several young people in Charlevoix today who know that Austin Wilhelm is innocent but have not been forthcoming with county investigators because they don't feel it is honorable to "snitch" on their peers. Remember what being an adolescent was like? Many of them never dreamed that Austin would actually be found guilty because, of course, they know he is not and because they still, in their naiveté, have faith in the system. At 67 years old, I have lost any such naiveté. I know that innocent people go to jail in this country every day as a result of the work of officially sanctioned grown-up bullies.

It's time for those who are guilty, as well as for those who know who the guilty parties are, to reconsider what a fundamental honor it is to speak truth.

Dale Hull, Petoskey

THANKS AND GOOD LUCK

May I offer my thanks and "well done" to Ben Gohs. He did a tough job well. His many loyal readers will miss his Crying Towel columns and his accurate balanced reporting. We are looking forward to his new magazine, Modem Caveman. Operating a good, informative and profitable community newspaper is a bigger challenge every day. Hopefully as our economy and ad income improve the Courier will be able to once again have a news gathering staff of two. Best wishes from a Beaver Island subscriber.

Memorial Jam set for Ellsworth

The 16th annual Memorial Fund Benefit, honoring the memory of the late Bryan Roloff will take place from 1 p.m.-midnight on Sunday May, 23, at the Gold Nugget in Ellsworth.

The event will feature performances by The Push, Audio Circus, Charlie's Root Fusion, Queenie's Groove, Jelly Roll Blues Band, Peril, Paper Plane Pilots, Miss Conduct and the Sleeping Gypsies.

Door open at 1 p.m. A $10 cover charge includes food from 5-7 p.m. Bands will start playing at 2 p.m. The event is for those age 21 and older.

The event will include 50-50 drawings, door prizes and a silent auction. All proceeds from the event will benefit the Roloff Memorial Medical Fund, which is held at Charlevoix State Bank. The event and fund are named in honor of Bryan Roloff, an up-and coming guitarist who won the "Hot Licks" contest in 1993 and who also had the opportunity to open for the bands Foghat and Nazareth in that same year. A short time later, Roloff died from a brain tumor.

Library to host historical society program on photographer Bob Miles

The Charlevoix Historical Society will be presenting an illustrated program on long-time photographer and historian Bob Miles at 7 p.m. on Tuesday, June 1, in the community room of the Charlevoix Public Library. The program will be presented by his son David Miles, co-director of the society's Harsha House Museum and its photo archivist. Bob Miles captured the town and region for 42 years beginning in 1931. He took thousands of photographs, hundreds of which survive in the society's collections. He was also instrumental in saving hundreds of vintage photos, many of them classics, that preserved Charlevoix's pictorial heritage forever. This program will narrate his life and times using many of these images along the way, and how they are now the foundation of many of the society's projects.

There will be no admission charge for the event but donations are appreciated. Light refreshments will be served. For more information call (231) 547-0373.

OBITUARIES

Russell J. Green: Dec. 24, 1928 - May 12, 2010

Russell J. Green, age 81 of Beaver Island, died Wednesday, May 12, 2010, at his home surrounded by his eight loving children.

He was born on Beaver Island on Dec. 24, 1928, to Mary (Boyle) and Anthony Greene on the family farm, where he spent his childhood. Russell was very proud of his Irish heritage. All four of his grandparents came to Beaver Island from Ireland. Over the years, Russell became a storehouse of island traditions and family connections. He was one of the last of the islanders to grow up on the numerous self-sufficient farms on the island.

On Sept. 15, 1956, Russell married the love of his life, Joy McDonough, who preceded him in death on Oct. 30, 2007.

He was a veteran of the Korean War, serving in the 25th Infantry Division. He worked on Great Lakes freighters for several years before returning to Beaver Island to work for the boat company, captaining the Beaver Islander for many years. Russell often joked about how he spent 40 years on ships in the Great Lakes, but he never did learn to swim.

Russell is survived by his 8 children, Mike (Kitty) Green of Beaver Island, Mary T. Delgator, Bernadette (Dave) Cole, Rose Peters, Kathleen (Dana) Dvoracek, all of Charlevoix, Beth Anne (Steve) Lucas of Blanchard, Kevin (Snowe) Green of Chattanooga, Tenn., and Amy Bair of Chesterfield; 17 grandchildren, and 2 great-grandchildren. Also surviving are his siblings, Bernell Burke, Rose Connaghan, Anthony (Betty) Greene, Lill Left, and Mary Margaret (Ed) Breden, his great friend and sister-in-law, Skip McDonough, and countless nieces and nephews. Russell was preceded in death by brothers

Dan, Peter, Hubert, and infant sister Francis.

Visitation took place at the Beaver Island Holy Cross Catholic Church on Saturday May 15 from 7-9 p.m. with a rosary at 7:30 p.m. The funeral Mass took place at 1 p.m. Sunday, May 16, also at the Holy Cross Church. Interment will follow at the Holy Cross Cemetery. Arrangements are being handled by Winchester Funeral Home of Charlevoix. In lieu of flowers, donations can be made to the Ellen Welke Memorial Fund, c/o Holy Cross Church, or Holy Cross Cemetery.

Dorothy J. Baker: Died Feb. 25, 2010

Dorothy Jean (Tracy) Baker, 86, of Piper's Landing Golf & Country Club in Palm City, Fla. and a summer resident in Midland and Charlevoix, died February 25 in Florida. She was born in Vincennes, Ind. and is survived by her husband George R. (Bob)

Baker of Midland. They were married 68 years. Memorial services took place Wednesday, May 12 (her birthday) at the Ware-

Smith-Woolver Funeral Home. Rev. Dr. Brent McCumens officiated. Interment has taken place in Midland City Cemetery.

Maureen Sievertson: Died May 11, 2010

Maureen Sievertson passed away on May 11, 2010, at her home in Ironton. Maureen grew up in Garden City, and moved north with her husband Roger in 1983. She began her working career in the hospital supply business, which is where she met her husband, and after moving north enjoyed occupations in sailmaking, customer and patient services, and most recently as administrative assistant for the East Jordan Family Health Center. She also operated her own sail repair and canvas business for over 16 years.

Maureen enjoyed many years of sailing and motorcycling with her family. Maureen will be remembered for her upbeat outlook, her love of laughter, and her persevering nature.

She was preceded in death by her husband, Roger, with whom she shared 24 years of marriage. They were the loving parents of their son, Joe, whose accomplishments they were quietly proud of. She is survived by her son, Joseph; step-son Paul (Christina) Sievertson and their children,

Andrew and Alex of Southfield; parents, Karen and Larry Hitchcock of Lake Mary, Fla.; mother-in-law, Sarah Sievertson of Charlevoix; sisters, Debbie Fox and her daughter, Katie of Pinckney, Shawn (Mike) McKay and their children, Amy and Brian of Houston, Tex.; brother, Michael Connolly of Walled Lake; great-grandmother, Pearl Valerius of Lake Mary, Fla.; numerous friends, cousins, aunts, uncles and her very special church family. Maureen's close friend since the seventh grade, Yvonne Sieichen of Belleville, also survives.

A memorial service took place at 11 a.m., Saturday, May 15, at the Ironton Congregational Church, Michael Smith officiated. Interment took place in Saint Mary's Cemetery in Charlevoix. Those wishing to remember Maureen may direct contributions to the Ironton Congregational Church, c/o Sherm Chamberlain, 210 E. Lincoln, Charlevoix, 49720. The Winchester Funeral Home in Charlevoix is handling the arrangements.

Women's Resource Center planning annual fundraiser

The Women's Resource Center will host its fourth annual Women Can/Women Do fundraising luncheon on Wednesday, June 16, at Castle Farms in Charlevoix.

Thirty Charlevoix County designers are donating their talents in creating themed tables for the luncheon. Each table will seat eight guests who donate a minimum of $150. The luncheon will be catered by Grey Gables.

Last year's luncheon raised more than $29,000 for the Women's Resource Center, which serves women and families in need in five northwest Michigan counties. Programs and services offered include rape, sexual assault and domestic abuse assistance, 24-hour crisis line, transitional housing, career and educational counseling, personal and family counseling, and licensed child care.

This year's table designers include: A Touch of Spring, Bartlett's Home Interiors, Boyne USA/Solace Spa, Castle Farms, Charlevoix Area Garden Club, Charlevoix Circle of Arts, Charlevoix Area Hospital, Charlevoix Zonta Club, Deer Creek Junk and Backdoor Florist, Designworks, Discovery Toys, East Jordan Girl Scouts, Elements, GaGa for Kids, Gold Mine Resale Shop, Hearts to Holly Quilt Shop, Inspired Living, J. Cross Enterprises, Jordan River Arts Council, Kiltwin's of Charlevoix, Lake Street Market, Marvin's Gardens, MerryMakers, Petals Custom Floral Designs, Raven Hill Discovery Center, The Rainbow Shoppe, Beyond Borders and Upsy-Daisy Floral.

Women Can/Women Do

committee members include Chris Kempton, Brandy Malpass, Jan Mancinelli, Pat Poineau, Nancy Porter, Denise Schlitt and Deb Smith.

Limited space is still available for table designers and table captains. Anyone interested in designing a table, being a table captain, or attending the luncheon should contact the Women's Resource Center at (231) 347-0067.

Blissfest arts scholarships available

Want to learn to play the fiddle, make homemade glazes for a clay pot, carve a fish lure, or dance Cajun style? Traditional arts scholarships are available to help you build your skills in traditional, folk and roots music, dance, oral history and crafts. For more than a decade, the Blissfest Music organization, a non-profit charitable arts organization headquartered in Petoskey, has made scholarship funds available for Northern Michigan children and adults. Wheatland Music Organization, a nonprofit based in Remus, Michigan, receives and distributes the Blissfest allocation. Its El-ye Fishman Scholarship Committee reviews all scholarship applications and makes awards based on the applicant's financial need, potential for growth and likelihood of preserving a traditional art. Traditional arts are learned person to person, passed from generation to the next, and influenced by culture, family, ethnicity, and era. To obtain a scholarship application, go to www.wheatlandmusic.org, e-mail scholarship@wheatlandmusic.org or call (989) 967-8879. Brass Band to perform in Bellaire

Dennis L. Horton, professor of trumpet and conductor of the Brass Band at Central Michigan University, will be the featured guest artist with The Northern Michigan Brass Band at 3 p.m. on Sunday, May 23, in the Bellaire High School Auditorium.

Horton

In addition to conducting several of his own original compositions for brass band, Horton will also conduct music by Eric Ball and William Himes. Rounding out the program will be music for tuba ensemble, several marches, and two Glenn Miller swing classics. Horton will conduct four of his original compositions for brass band including "Let's Gather," a fanfare written in 2001 for the Flint Citadel Band of the Salvation Army based on a familiar thanksgiving hymn; a spirited march, "Spring Festival," a prelude based on the hymn "Laudes Domine;" and Remembrances featuring Patrick Jarve, Director of bands at Gaylord High School, as cornet soloist. Horton will also conduct "The Undaunted," a major piece for brass band by Eric Ball, and "Rolling Along," a delightful march by William Himes. The remainder of the program includes an arrangement of the beautiful contemporary choral classic "O Magnum Mysterium" by Morten Lauridsen, "George Washington Bicentennial March" by John Philip Sousa, and "The Bridge on the River Kwai" by Malcolm Arnold. A highlight of the concert is sure to be a performance of Arthur Frackenpohl's "Pop Suite" for an unusual quartet made up of only tubas and euphoniums. The concert will conclude with Glenn Miller's swing classics "Moonlight Serenade and In the Mood."

Dennis L. Horton has been a member of the Central Michigan University School of Music faculty since 1968, teaching applied trumpet, brass techniques, brass choir, trumpet ensemble, and theory related subjects. He has been principal trumpet of the Midland Symphony Orchestra as well as a member of the Grand Rapids Symphony Orchestra trumpet section. He also served as principal trumpet in a 1977 PBS broadcast of a revival of Aaron Copland's opera "The Tender Land" with the composer as conductor.

Centered in Gaylord, the all-volunteer Northern Michigan Brass Band has attracted enthusiastic adult brass players from across Northern Michigan.

Admission is $10 for adults and $5 for students and senior citizens. Tickets are available online at www.Treatickets.com and at the door.

CHARLEVOIX COURIER 11

Little Traverse Youth Choir presents "A Joyful Noise"

The Little Traverse Youth Choir will present its spring concert, "A Joyful Noise," at 7:30 p.m. on Saturday, May 22 at St. Francis Xavier Church in Petoskey. The concert, directed by Heather Marvin of Petoskey, will feature classical, contemporary, and sacred works. Young singers ages 10-18 from throughout the Northern Michigan area have been rehearsing since February for the event, which will be their third performance of the year.

Marvin, who is the enrichment coordinator at Petoskey Middle School and Petoskey High School has been appointed music director of the new Little Traverse Youth Choir. She has been the director of the Petoskey Middle School musicals for the past three years and formerly directed church children's and adult choirs. Gertrude Fairbairn is the choir's accompanist.

The Little Traverse Youth

Choir is a program of Voices Without Borders, Inc., a local non-profit organization, which produced last summer's highly successful Children of the World in Harmony International Youth Choir and Dance Festival. The Little Traverse Youth Choir and Dancers Without Borders are both outcomes of that festival. VWB, Inc. was founded to promote, support, and sponsor choral music and dance performances and other performing arts activities for young people in our schools and communities. Voices Without Borders will sponsor a mini-festival again this summer with choirs and dance troupes from across the United States, Vietnam, Mexico, and Canada. The singers and dancers will join with these groups to present combined concerts and recitals in late July.

Following the May 22 concert, the choir will take a two-week break and will then resume their rehearsal schedule to prepare for their summer concerts. While most singers will be returning for the summer programs, Marvin will audition new singers ages 10-18 who may be interested in joining the group. Auditions will be take place from 4-5 p.m. on Thursday, June 3, and from 10-11 a.m. on Saturday, June 5, at the Petoskey Middle School. Students only need to attend one audition session. Summer rehearsals will run once a week through the summer concerts which will take place on July 20-23.

Singers interested in auditioning for the choir should come prepared to sing in a small group and individually. They will be asked to sing through a familiar song, which will be provided at the audition. It is not necessary to have a prepared piece for the audition. For now, this will remain a treble choir for girls as

Dear Friend of Charlevoix DUCKS UNLIMITED:

Charlevoix Ducks Unlimited held their annual banquet on May 6 at Giuseppe's. It was once again a wonderful event that raised funds for Ducks Unlimited to use protecting our wetlands. With every $250 raised, 1 acre of wetlands is saved.

We would like to thank the following donors. Without them and our attendees this banquet would not be possible.

Charlevoix's Clayton Mitchell digs for first base as he runs out a bunt he put down late in the Rayder's first game victory over Elk Rapids on Tuesday, May 11.

Rayders take two from Frankfort, one from Elk Rapids

Reliever Alex Foster pitched out of a sixth-inning bases-loaded jam in the opener, and Coby Herriman tossed a one-hitter in the nightcap as the Charlevoix High School baseball team swept a non-league doubleheader from Frankfort on Friday, improving to 8-16.

The Rayders won game one, 3-0, and took the nightcap, 4-0.

Starter Andrew Potter went 5 1/3 innings for the win in game one. He allowed four hits, walked five and struck out three. Foster came on to record the final two outs for the save.

Foster and Clayton Mitchell each singled for the Rayders.

Herriman struck out three and walked two for the win in the nightcap. He also led the Rayders at the plate with two hits, while Alex Waha and Foster each singled.

Charlevoix left fielder C.J. Kunkle helped preserve the shutout with a diving catch with one out and the bases loaded in the bottom of the fifth inning. From his back, Kunkle threw to Potter, the shortstop, who relayed to third to complete the double play and end the Frankfort threat.

The Panthers, state quarterfinalists last spring, are ranked ninth in the Division IV state coaches poll.

"These were two nice wins for us," Charlevoix coach Allen Telgenhof said. "We pitched and fielded very well and took advantage of our opportunities. Frankfort has a great program."

The Rayders play host to Pellston in a non-league doubleheader on Friday, May 21, and to Ellsworth 10 a.m. Saturday, May 22.

Previously, the Rayders split a pair of one-run nail-biters with Elk Rapids in a Lake Michigan twinbill.

Bill Ivan scored the winning run on a balk in the opener, a 3-2 Rayder win. Elk Rapids came back to outslug the Rayders in the nightcap, 9-8.

The Rayders trailed, 2-0, heading into the bottom of the sixth (final) inning in game one. Alex Foster singled, Andrew Potter walked and they moved to third and second, respectively, on a Clayton Mitchell bunt. Ivan singled home Foster to cut Charlevoix's deficit to 2-1, then Coby Herriman hit a sacrifice fly, bringing home Potter with the tying run.

With Jordan Farmer at the plate, the Elk Rapids pitcher balked on a two-ball, no-strike pitch, sending Ivan—who had stolen second and moved to third on Herriman's sacrifice fly—home with the winning run.

Foster struck out three, walked four and allowed five hits for the victory.

Ivan's first-inning double was Charlevoix's only other hit in the game.

Herriman started and went 3 1/3 innings in taking the loss in the nightcap. He allowed two hits, walked five and struck out four. Foster went the final 2 2/3 innings, striking out two, walking one and surrendering five hits.

Herriman had two hits and an RBI to lead Charlevoix at the plate, while Ivan and JT Lawrence each had a two-run single, Jordan Farmer had an RBI single, and Foster and Mitchell each singled.

It marked the third time the Rayders finished with a 322 team score, five better than runner-up Petoskey. Traverse City West was third with 337, while Lake Leelanau St. Mary and Big Rapids both shot 338 to tie for fourth. Traverse City St. Francis posted a 339 to place sixth.

Petoskey is ranked sixth and Cadillac is seventh in the Division II state coaches poll, while Big Rapids is second in Division III and Charlevoix is ninth. Lake Leelanau St. Mary is ranked third in Division IV.

Also for Charlevoix, Thomas Rich shot 80, Nick Brandt shot 87, Ryan Wimmer shot 89, and Gunnar Whitley shot 92.

Rayders nip Northmen for third tournament title of season

Wyatt Drost and Ty Jones each earned a medal Friday in leading Charlevoix to a first-place finish among a strong field in the 17-team Traverse City Central Golf Invitational at Traverse City Country Club.

Drost shot 77 to tie for third and Jones shot 78 to finish sixth. Petoskey senior Joey Garber shot a 3-over 75 to share medalist honors with Carter Marsh of Cadillac.

The Rayders finished with a 322 team score, five better than runner-up Petoskey. Traverse City West was third with 337, while Lake Leelanau St. Mary and Big Rapids both shot 338 to tie for fourth. Traverse City St. Francis posted a 339 to place sixth.

Petoskey is ranked sixth and Cadillac is seventh in the Division II state coaches poll, while Big Rapids is second in Division III and Charlevoix is ninth. Lake Leelanau St. Mary is ranked third in Division IV.

Also for Charlevoix, Thomas Rich shot 80, Nick Brandt shot 87, Ryan Wimmer shot 89, and Gunnar Whitley shot 92.

It marked the third time this season the Rayders have won a tournament.

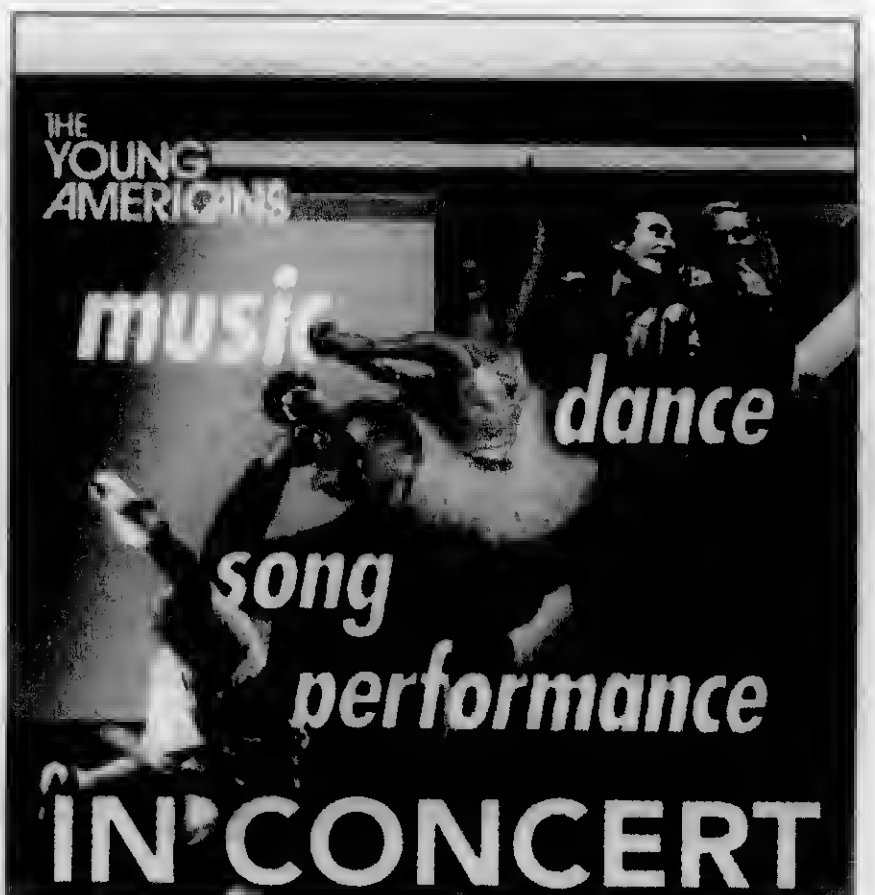

"It was great, really fun for the guys," Charlevoix coach Doug Drenth said. "I think they're seeing their hard work pay off and that's really rewarding as a coach. They spend a lot of time on the range and on the practice green. These guys really work at their games and I think it's really rewarding to win a tournament with such a quality field."

The Rayders face an important week beginning with the Gaylord Invitational on Wednesday, May 19. On Friday, May 21, Charlevoix will play in the Lake Michigan Conference championship at Antrim Dells in Ellsworth.

"We're really looking forward to continuing to progress," Drenth said. "I think we're playing well, but every one of the guys feels like they can play better."

After the league final, the Rayders turn their attention to the Division III district tournament at Crystal Mountain, on Thursday, May 27.

Charlevoix wins two thrillers

Katie Hybl scored the winning run in the opener on a passed ball, and the Rayders came from behind with three runs in their final at-bat in the nightcap as they won a pair of thrillers to sweep a Lake Michigan Conference double-header.

Charlevoix improved to 14-6 overall and finished 8-6 in the league.

Katie Hybl reached on an error in the sixth (final) inning, moved to third on a Hannah Hybl single, and scored on a one-out passed ball to lift the Rayders in game one.

Hannah Hybl struck out 10 in tossing a four-hitter for the victory.

Hannah Hybl and Anna Moon finished with two hits apiece for Charlevoix, and Nikki Spiegel added a single.

The Rayders trailed, 6-4, heading into the bottom of the eighth in the nightcap, then got an RBI single from Katie Hybl and a run-scoring triple from Maddie Zimmerman to tie it.

With two out and the bases loaded, Zimmerman raced home with the winning run on Addie Loper's infield single.

Hannah Hybl earned the win in relief of Kristen Mielke. Hannah Hybl struck out two in two innings. Mielke went the first six innings, walking one and striking out three.

The Rayders play host to Pellston in a non-league doubleheader on Friday, May 21, then go to the Christy Hoe-sli Memorial Tournament at Petoskey — hosted by Harbor Light Christian — on Saturday, May 22.

Rayders gear up for track regional

And now, on to the region-als.

The Charlevoix High School girls' and boys' track teams are headed to the Division III regional on Saturday, May 22, at Benzie Central High School.

Both are legitimate contenders to win their respective titles.

"It's going to be a very competitive regional," said Charlevoix boys' coach Ken Plude, who listed the host Huskies along with Leroy Pine River as the Rayders' chief competition on the boys' side. "It's a tossup between the three schools. We have a slight edge, I think, because of our ability to score in just about all of (the events). But we've got to do it. Half the team is quite experienced, the other half, this'll be their first regional."

"If you win it, you know you're one of the top five teams (in the state)."

The top two in each event advance to the state meet Saturday, June 5, at Comstock Park High School. Athletes and relay teams not finishing among the top two may also qualify for state by meeting a pre-determined time, distant or height.

The regional isn't the only big meet that looms for the Rayders. Charlevoix will host the Lake Michigan Conference championship 5 p.m. Wednesday, May 26.

The Rayders boys are seeking their first regional title since 2007. They were second last year, fourth in 2008.

And they go in having won the last two times they've taken to the track. On Saturday, Eric Buday won the 1600- and 3200-meter runs in leading the Rayders to a first-place finish in the eight-team Boyne City Invitational at Boyne's Earl Broth-erston Field.

The Rayders finished with 153 points to edge second-place Cheboygan, which finished with 127. Harbor Springs was third with 116, while Inland Lakes was fifth with 33, and Boyne City placed sixth with 26.

Cheboygan won the girls' meet with 116 points, while Harbor Springs was a close second with 107 1/2. The Rayders, 70 1/2, were fourth; Inland Lakes, 70, was fifth; and Boyne City placed sixth with 52.

Buday won the 1600 in 4 minutes, 39.32 seconds, and the 3200 in 10:33.30. Also for Charlevoix, Andrew Plude captured the 800 in 2:03.52; Dylan Putman won the high jump at 5 feet, 7 inches; Gunner Zipp was first in the long jump at 19-1 1/2; and Bill Ivan won the shot put at 47-9.

Charlevoix won two individual events in the girls' meet. Molly Jeakle won the 1600 in 5:38.31, while Madeline Jeakle captured the high jump at 4-10. The Rayders also won the 800 relay in 1:56.16.

Also in the boys' meet for Charlevoix, Jake McLean was second in the 100, Gunner Zipp was second in the 200, Putman was second in the long jump; and Casey Helstrom finished second in the 110 hurdles. The Rayders were also second in the 400, 800 and 3200 relays, and were third in the 1600 relay.

Rayder thirds: Brian Shutler, 300 hurdles; Cam Canupp, high jump; Clayton Mitchell, pole vault. Charlevoix's Alex Gooch placed fifth in the 3200.

In the girls' meet for Charlevoix, Karinne Smolenyak was second in the 200, and Sarah Potter was second in the shot put. The Rayders were also second in the 400 relay.

Rayder fourths: Molly Jeakle, 800; Makenzi Kage, 300 hurdles. Rayder fifths: Allison Hankins, 100 hurdles; Sara Wilkinson, long jump; Jenna Way, discus. Kage was sixth in the high jump and Taylor Storm tied for sixth in the pole vault.

On Thursday, May 13, the Rayder boys won the Division II portion of the East Jordan Invitational at Boswell Stadium. Helstrom won two events, Buday captured the 800, and the Rayders won two relays as Charlevoix finished with 154 points. Harbor Springs was second with 114.

St. Ignace won the girls' meet with 157, while Harbor was second, 96; and Charlevoix placed third with 72.

Helstrom won both the 300 (41.74) and 110 hurdles (16.82), while the Rayders also took first in the 3200 (8:21.56) and 800 relays (1:37.20). Zipp won the long jump (18-9).

In the girls' meet Molly Jeakle captured both the 1600 (5:41.08) and the 800 (2:31.80), and Potter won the shot put (33-3).

In the boys' meet, Charlevoix's Ivan was second in the shot put, Putman was second in the long jump, Jonathon Kelly was second in the 3200, and Neil Salisbury was second in the 400. The Rayders were also second in the 400 relay.

Rayder thirds: Putman, high jump; Clayton Mitchell, pole vault; Vinny Von Lau, 1600; 1600 relay. Rayder fourths: Zipp, 100; Will Larsen, 400. Charlevoix fifth: Russell, 300 hurdles. Charlevoix sixths: Chris Levens, shot put; Alex Foster, long jump; Chris Young, 110 hurdles.

In the girls' meet, the Rayders' Karinne Smolenyak was second in the 200 and the Rayders were second in both the 400 and 800 relays.

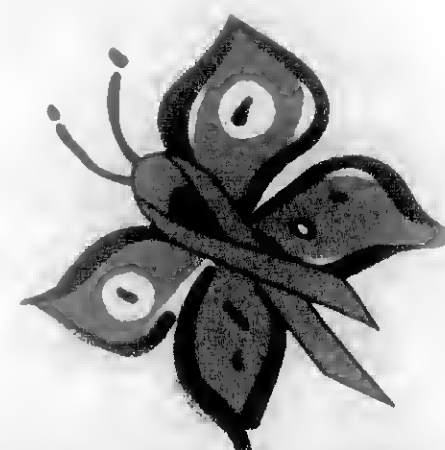

Charlevoix third: Madeline Jeakle, high jump. Rayder fourths: Way, shot put. Charlevoix fifths: Storm, pole vault; Wilkinson, long jump; 3200 relay. Charlevoix sixths: Hankins, 100 hurdles; Wilkin-son, 200.

Soccer team opens big week with a win

A good start to a big week for the Charlevoix High School girls' soccer team.

Madison Way scored both goals as the Rayders defeated the Traverse City Liberty, 2-1, in a Lake Michigan Conference contest on Monday.

With the win, the Rayders improve to 10-3-2 overall, 8-1-1 league. It was the first loss in league play for the Liberty, which played the Rayders to a 3-3 tie in their first meeting this season.

The Rayders play host to Boyne City in a league match on Thursday, May 20, then go to Harbor Springs for another league game on Friday, May 21. Harbor is 6-1-2 in the conference and handed the Rayders their lone league loss of the season, 3-1, two weeks ago.

"It was a great team win," Charlevoix coach Carol Madison said of Monday's win. "After we scored in the second half to take the lead, we dug in and held on defensively."

Way gave the Rayders a 1-0 lead with a goal on a first-half corner kick. Addie Meachum scored for the Liberty to knot it at 1-1 at halftime.

Way then scored her second goal of the game in the same fashion as the first — via a corner kick — which proved to be the game-winner.

"Both teams battled back-and-fourth in the second half," Madison said. "I thought we controlled the tempo of the game and the play and our passing was good. It was a good game, really back-and-forth and we had the wind in the first half and they had it in the second half."

Freshman goalkeeper Bailee Stevens turned aside seven shots in earning the win. Madison lauded the defensive efforts of Kelly Greyerbiehl, Savannah Joseph, Caroline Dupuis and Carolina Elowsky.

Offensively, Hallie Bills and Taylor Smith both generated scoring chances, while midfielders Abby Barnes and Anna Way also turned in solid performances, Madison said.

On Friday, the Rayders rolled past Kalkaska, 8-0, in a league match as junior Taylor Smith and freshman Anna Way scored three goals apiece.

Bills and Madison Way also scored, while Abby Barnes, Madison Way, Anna Way and Bills had one assist apiece.

Stevens posted the shutout in goal with strong defensive support from three freshmen called up from the JV, Grace Glenn, Katie Paramo and Elowsky.

Madison said.

7th grade Junior League opens with loss

The 7th grade Junior League baseball team opened its season at home with a 7-4 loss to Grayling with Nate Moon pitching

3 1/3 strong innings and giving up only one run. Hits for Charlevoix included a triple by Kenan Borths and singles by Noah Certs, Nate Moon and Spencer Bruce. RBI's included Spencer Stewart, Borths and Bruce. Runs were scored by Adam Michaud, Borths and two by Moon.

I care about the environment.
I care about protecting our bay.

My roots grow deep here in our community. No pun intended, it's just the truth.

My mother was part of one of the first farming families to settle here. I've lived here my entire life and today my sons live and go to school here too.

Generations ago, families like mine came here for the farming. Today, families visit and settle in the Petoskey area for the beautiful bay and the sunsets; they appreciate the outdoors.

Now that I've been running a business in this community for 14 years, I'm reminded every day as I drive along the water that tourism and the outdoor beauty of our region drives our economy. The beauty of the bay keeps my 20 employees and me busy all summer long.

I care about the Little Traverse Bay Environmental Project because I'm a local business owner, and I know the bay needs to be clean and our economy needs the bay.

Alliance honors those promoting economic development

The Northern Lakes Economic Alliance took time Monday, May 10, to recognize people and projects that recently have helped promote Northern Michigan's economic development.

More than 200 people were on hand for Northern Lakes' annual luncheon at Boyne Mountain, which featured presentations of several awards. The economic alliance, which is supported by both public and private organizations, works to foster business growth and development in Emmet, Charlevoix, Antrim and Cheboygan counties.

The economic alliance's Project of the Year Award for 2010 was presented to Gaylord-based Catt Development for its One Water Street complex in Boyne City. This $12 million waterfront complex, which has its first phase opening this spring, will include restaurant, retail, hotel and marina components.

In presenting the award to Catt Development president Glen Catt, Northern Lakes vice-chairman Don Voisin and board member Randy Frykberg noted that the developer took an approach to the project which balances the local quality of life and the area's natural resources.

"This is a benchmark project, setting the standard for future development in Northern Michigan," Voisin said.

Also among Monday's awards was the alliance's annual "Maniac of the Year" honor. This lighthearted title reflects strong commitment by one or more individuals to economic development.

Receiving the "Maniac" award were members of the Breezeway Taskforce. This group works to build awareness of Atwood, East Jordan, Ellsworth and Boyne Falls and the attractions along county road C-48 (dubbed "The Breezeway"), which links the four communities.

Chris Christensen, a Northern Lakes board member, noted that the task force's volunteers have shown dedication in promoting the four communities.

The economic alliance also presented special recognition to the Procurement Technical Assistance Program that's part of the Northwest Michigan Council of Governments. This program is aimed at helping companies bid on and obtain government contracts.

"Although PTAC has been around for many years, it didn't really 'take off' until Todd Olson became program director for our region in April 2008," Northern Lakes board member Stephanie Baldwin said.

During Olson's tenure, Baldwin noted, the program has established training sessions in the northern part of the region to eliminate the need to travel to Traverse City, and that Olson works directly with companies on a day to day basis.

Currently, 84 businesses in the region have an active registration for federal government contracting, with 49 having worked with the local Procurement Technical Assistance Program since Olson joined it in 2008 and 32 clients are now active in Antrim, Emmet and Charlevoix counties. The program has seen $16.4 million in government contracts reported since January 2009.

Answering Five Questions Can Help You Pursue Your Goals

Benjamin Muladore
Financial Advisor

As you strive to achieve your long-term goals, such as a comfortable retirement, you may, at times, feel frustrated over events you can't influence, such as the up-and-down movements of the financial markets. Yet there is much you can control — once you determine the answers to just five key questions.

Where am I today? Take stock of all your assets — your IRA, 401(k) and other savings and investment accounts. Then, do the same for your debts, such as your mortgage and any other financial obligations. On your financial journey through life, it's essential that you know your starting point.

Where would I like to be? Once you've established where you are today, you'll need to identify where you'd like to be tomorrow. How much will you need to pay for the retirement lifestyle you've envisioned? Will you be able to help pay for your children's or grandchildren's college education? Will you need to support any other family members? At this stage, you'll want to write down all your goals and put a price tag on each one.

Can I get there? After you've identified your goals, determine if they are, in fact, achievable. By considering a variety of factors — including your likely future income stream and your family situation — you should be able to determine if you can attain your goals or if you need to modify them in some way.

How do I get there? Now it's time to put a strategy into action. Specifically, you need to choose those investments that can help you pursue the goals you've selected. Your ideal portfolio will depend on your risk tolerance and time horizon, but in general, you'll want a diversified mix of quality investments. While diversification, by itself, cannot guarantee a profit or protect against loss, it can help reduce the effects of volatility.

As you put together your holdings, make sure you understand what you can expect from your investments. For example, growth stocks may offer the highest potential returns, but they also carry the greatest risk. On the other hand, investment-grade bonds can offer a steady income stream and, barring the default of the issuer, will repay your principal when they mature.

How can I stay on track? Once you've built your investment portfolio, you'll need to review it regularly — at least once a year — to help ensure it's still meeting your needs. After all, many things can and will change in your life, such as your family situation, your goals, your employment and your risk tolerance. To address these changes, you'll need to adjust your portfolio over time.

As you can see, answering all these questions will take both work and expertise. That's why, you may want to work with a professional financial advisor to help you identify your goals and create a strategy for pursuing them.

In any case, though, start asking — and answering — these five key questions as soon as you can. It's easier to reach your financial goals if you put time on your side.

Staying cool at the beach

Mother Nature gave much of Northern Michigan an early taste of summer weather as temperatures soared into the 90s in some areas earlier this week. Pictured above, the hot weather brought a number of people out to Charlevoix's Michigan Beach to cool off Monday afternoon.

Discussing disc golf

STEVE ZUCKER
INTERIM EDITOR

The Charlevoix City Council is looking for ways to safely cater to two popular activities at the Mount McSaubia Recreation Area: Hiking and playing disc golf.

City recreation director Ike Boss brought the matter to the city council for its consideration at its May 20 meeting following a recent incident in which a hiker was struck in the head by a flying disc, very close to her eye.

For those who don't know, disc golf is similar to regular golf except that instead of using clubs to hit a little ball into a hole, disc golf players throw discs similar to Frisbees at a target, such as a post, tree or suspended basket and try to do it in the fewest throws possible.

Boss said back in the early 2000's, a disc golf course, complete with baskets, had been established at Mount McSaubia, but city staff took the course out in 2003 when problems with bad behavior in and around the course cropped up.

However, Boss noted that the activity remains very popular at McSaubia. So much so, in fact, that players have made their own ad-hoc courses using ribbons to mark trees or light posts along some of the trails that are also most popular with hikers.

Boss told the council he, himself, was narrowly missed by a flying disc while working

Police: Duo conspired to rob man at gunpoint

STEVE ZUCKER
INTERIM EDITOR

Police say an armed robbery that took place on Mercer Road in Charlevoix Township early Monday, May 17, was part of a conspiracy by two Charlevoix residents to steal drugs they believed the victim had.

Brandon Michael Story, 22, and Brooke Claire Baker, 18, are both facing charges of conspiracy to commit armed robbery. Story, who is accused of being the gunman in the robbery, is also facing a charge of armed robbery. Both charges carry a maximum penalty of up to life in prison.

In an affidavit filed in the case, police say it was Baker and Story who orchestrated a plan to rob a 22-year-old Charlevoix man as he walked along Mercer Road around 3:30 a.m. May 17.

Police were called to that area shortly after that time when the man called 9-1-1 reporting that he had just been robbed a gunpoint.

Police said the victim reported that he had been walking along Mercer Road with a female acquaintance when a man wearing a mask approached them with a gun and took his wallet, cell phone and shoes.

Police said the victim reported that the robber had let the female acquaintance go.

According to the affidavit, the victim told police that during the robbery, after letting Baker go, Story sat on his back, put the gun to his head and pulled the trigger.

When the gun didn't discharge, but instead only "clicked," Story allegedly said, "that one was a blank, the next one is a kill shot," according to the affidavit.

In the court documents, police said their break in the case came around 3:30 p.m. Monday when a man came forward saying he had been with Story and Baker when they hatched the robbery plan early Monday.

Although the affidavit doesn't explain how Story and Baker knew the victim, police said the informant reported that their plan was for Baker to lure the victim out from the apartment where he is staying on Mercer Road and then Story would then rob him at gunpoint for drugs they believed he was carrying.

Police also said the informant turned over the items allegedly stolen in the robbery to police saying that Story had given him the items when he became concerned that he would be caught by the police.

Police obtained arrest warrants for both Story and Baker on Tuesday, May 18. They took Baker into custody that same day and arrested Story a day later.

Story's bond was set at $50,000 and Baker's at $20,000. As of Monday, both remained in custody in lieu of bond. They have been scheduled to face a preliminary examination in their cases at 2:30 p.m. on Tuesday, June 1.

Buckner pleads in CSC case

STEVE ZUCKER
NEWS-REVIEW STAFF
WRITER

A Charlevoix construction worker and volunteer firefighter who was accused of sexually touching two underage girls has taken advantage of a plea agreement.

Charlevoix County Chief Assistant Prosecutor Shaynee Fanara said David Dale Buckner, 33, pleaded guilty in 90th District Court Tuesday, May 18, to one count of attempted third degree criminal sexual conduct. The charge is a misdemeanor which carries a maximum penalty of up to one year in jail.

In exchange for his plea, the other charges Buckner was facing, including three counts of second degree criminal sexual conduct and one count of third degree, will be dismissed. The four charges that will be dismissed were 15-year felonies.

Buckner had been accused of having improper sexual contact with two children.

Fanara said in his plea on May 18, Buckner admitted that he was in a position of authority over one of the victims when sexual touching took place.

As part of the plea agreement, Buckner registered on the state sex offender registry the same day as his plea, Fanara said.

She added that the family of the victims were supportive of the plea agreement.

"I think it was important in this case for the victims to hear (Buckner admit to his actions in court)," Fanara said. "The family members were relieved that they won't have to go through the trauma of testifying."

Fanara noted that emotions ran high in the courtroom as Buckner made his plea as one of the victims ran out in tears and friend of the family became upset and had to be restrained by others.

Buckner had worked as a firefighter and emergency medical technician for the City of Charlevoix since 1999 and a firefighter for the Charlevoix Township Fire Department since 1997.

He had been placed on a leave of absence from with the city and on suspension from the township fire department shortly after his arrest in April.

Contacted by the News-Review Wednesday, May 19, Charlevoix Fire Chief Paul Ivan said based on his plea Tuesday, Buckner has been terminated from his employment with the city. Also on Wednesday, Charlevoix Township Fire Chief Curt Thompson said he had not yet conferred with the township supervisor on the new development in Buckner's case, but said he expect he'll be terminated from the township fire department as well.

As of Monday, a sentencing date had not yet been set for Buckner. In the meantime he remains free from custody on bond.

Charlevoix man injured in motorcycle crash

A Charlevoix man was injured in a motorcycle-deer crash near Bay Shore early Monday.

Charlevoix County Sheriff Don Schneider identified the injured man as Stephen Gawne, 44. Police said Gawne was transported to Northern Michigan Regional Hospital by Allied EMS where he was treated for abrasions he sustained to his right leg and knuckles on both hands.

Deputies said the crash happened at about 4:45 a.m. as Gawne was traveling north on U.S. 31 near Murray Road in Hayes Township. Police said Gawne reported that he was unable to avoid a deer that crossed in front of him.

Police said Gawne was wearing a helmet at the time of the crash.

Deputies were also as-

A time to say goodbye

Editor's note: Dr. Edward Nedwick, father of longtime Courier columnist Gayle Gennett, died on May 7 at Charlevoix Area Hospital at the age of 94. Gayle wrote the following column about her father shortly before his death.

His voice would boom across the room but his words could be tender when you were injured or struggling with the day's events. He was firm with his discipline and you knew he was in charge, but if someone had been unfair to you there was undoubting support. Maybe it was the twinkle in his clear blue eyes or that signature space in his front teeth that looked at you when he smiled, because you always knew that even if you were in big trouble, he still loved you. Dad enjoyed his many years as Chief of T.B. and Assistant Chief of Staff at the V.A. Hospital; his work ethic compared to that of a dedicated soldier. He led by example and to my sister and brother and I to this day take pride in what we do, and have inherited his quality of in-charge persona when it comes to decision making and quality work.

A LOOK AT LIFE

My favorite moments with him were simple and usually educational. Every question we asked was answered with a lengthy lecture comparable to any college professor's dissertation and only ended when mom broke in to say, "Now Ed, that's enough, they just wanted a short answer."

I enjoyed the little pleasures of carting grass clippings to a nearby field after he was finished mowing the yard. That same field became the cemetery for all of my assorted pets who passed on through the years. Dad would make certain each little creature on their judgment day was carefully laid to rest into a shoe box lined with cotton. It became a ritual for the two of us to create little funerals for everything from cats to lizards. It seems to be the simple things have become the big things that I remember best.

As a young child, I looked forward to fall arriving and awakening my senses to the sights and sounds I love the best. When crimson colored leaves turn crisp in Charlevoix, I return to a time where I can smell autumn in the air and see in my mind's eye the flames flickering in the leaves that were carefully piled up on the curb by our home. Just minutes before we had worked so hard to gather them and relish in the joys of falling in them as well. I did the falling, dad did the encouraging, "Here's another pile to jump in," he'd exclaim. Winter would arrive and he would faithfully shovel up the snow in the backyard creating a make shift bunny hill for us to sled upon. A few of those winters he took on the ambitious feat of creating a skating rink. Small as it might have been, it was an Ice Capades winter wonderland to me, where I could twirl and twirl and usually fell. Thank goodness I didn't have far to go to take care of my bruises and cuts with my dramatic swan dive on skates. My God given name is Gayle, not Grace.

Only a father could be accepting of his daughter who loved horses so much that at times she would imitate one, running around the backyard, flipping her pony tail as if it were a mane and pretending to rear by trying to touch the sky. When a neighbor mentioned my doings, Dad would just reply, "Isn't it fun to see how creative she is?" Thanks dad, for not letting anyone think I needed psychological attention. Dad took my interest in cap guns, horses, and lariats into a learning opportunity and taught me how to use a lariat. To this day I can still swing that rope into a beautiful circle and catch an animal, husband, or a loose grandchild.

I loved to watch him polish his shoes — a simple chore but his method was slow and methodical. I relished in his attention to detail except when it came to homework time. Homework was difficult and having a father with a Roman Catholic upbringing and years taught by the Jesuits, you couldn't get away with plagiarism or incomplete work. Even to this day, I hear his voice when balancing my check book, "Remember to line up your numbers before adding."

Family trips in the summer to California were always an adventure. Whether by rented car, train or flight there isn't a one us kids who today still doesn't love to see the rest of the world. Thanks, dad, for encouraging us to venture from the safe haven of our homes and realize that there is a world out there to discover past our own backyard. Time has passed and his bright blue eyes are dimmed with macular degeneration. A mind that could swiftly deduce what ailment you had and what medicine to take has turned to his worrying about remembering to take his own medicine at meals and bedtime. A man who seemed so tall at 5-foot-10 and-a-half has become frail and smaller in size but he's still large in stature to his children — all three of us. As we grow older we realized that his modeling of dedication to work and volunteering as well as his involvement with the Catholic Church, has rubbed off on us in some form or other. Thanks dad, for being the man you are and the examples you have set. Your life will never be forgotten as it's reflected in your children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren. Margaret Trudeau sums it best, "It's only when you grow up and step back from him, or leave him for your own career and your own home — it's only then that you can measure his greatness and fully appreciate it."

DON'T FORGET THE MEANING OF MEMORIAL DAY

The true meaning of Memorial Day is all but forgotten. Memorial Day is not Flag Day, the Fourth of July, Armed Forces Day or Veterans Day. It's a day to remember the war dead and you don't do that with parades, picnics, pompous speeches, brass bands or hype for the current war. "Celebration" and "Memorial" are not synonyms and the day was intended for visiting cemeteries, not beaches or amusement parks. The degrading of the event began decades ago when the federal-employee unions persuaded Congress to make federal holidays into three-day weekends and it was a stupid decision that has decreased the value of the concept of patriotism. Not many Americans are really patriotic anymore and, for some, it's saluting whichever cheap politician happens to be occupying the White House or rooting for whatever the current war happens to be. It doesn't seem to matter if the war is just or unjust or if the politician is honest or a deviant liar. We are all going to die, but it has always seemed the worst death is the unnecessary death. It should be the goal of American politicians to never send young men and women to an unnecessary war and that means you don't go to war against a country that is not a threat to the U.S. No American takes an oath to defend a foreign country or overthrow a foreign tyrant. We take an oath to defend our Constitution and our country and nothing else. American patriotism has become so diluted that when politicians publicly proclaim "undying support" for a foreign country, we don't even give it a second thought or remind them that they are Americans in America running for an American office to represent and serve the American people. If they love a foreign country more than their own, then they are free to emigrate, but they should not be free to sacrifice the lives of young Americans on behalf of any foreign country. Memorial Day should be a solemn and sad day as we remember all the young men and women who were denied the joys of a normal life span. War is vicious and cruel, but whether the war is just or unjust, necessary or unnecessary, those who die in it die honorably in service of their country. Never blame the soldier for the politician's war, and never allow anyone else to do so in your presence. This Memorial Day, while attending services in our communities and cemeteries, we all need to show respect to all who repose there by conducting ourselves in a solemn and dignified manner and being aware of where we stand or sit during the ceremonies that honor those who have answered the final call.

Hansen named next foundation president

The Charlevoix County Community Foundation Board of Trustees recently named Robert "Chip" Hansen, current superintendent of East Jordan Public Schools, as foundation's next president.

Hansen, who has served as the school district's superintendent for more than 20 years will step down from that position in July. He will take over for current foundation president Bob Tambellini, who is retiring after serving as the foundation's president since it was formed 18 years ago.

Foundation officials said Hansen will officially assume his new position on July 1. In the meantime he will work closely with Tambellini to ensure a smooth transition.

According to a community foundation news release, Hansen was selected for the president's position from a field of more than 65 applicants.

"But it was Hansen — a Mancelona native, local resident, and 21-year head of the East Jordan schools — who most impressed the committee and got the nod," the release reads.

"I look forward to working with donors, grantees, and community partners," Hansen said. "The foundation is already firmly established and well-respected. Now, we can focus on growing our grantmaking capacity so the foundation can remain flexible for years to come, and respond to this area's changing needs."

Honoring local pastors

Hospice volunteers needed

Compassionate and caring individuals are needed to help two area hospice organizations meet the needs of patients and families facing end-of-life issues.

A volunteer training program for both Hospice of Little Traverse Bay and Hospice of Northwest Michigan will be taking place beginning Thursday, June 3. The two organizations provide hospice services in Antrim, Charlevoix, Emmet, Cheboygan, and Otsego counties.

The program runs for six weeks, meeting from 5-8 p.m. on Monday, Wednesday, or Thursday evenings. Classes will take place at the New Hope United Methodist Church, located at 4516 U.S. 31, Levering (1.5 miles South of Levering on U.S. 31 North).

There is a place for everyone in the Hospice family of volunteers. The training sessions will include an orientation to Hospice and discussion of the roles of volunteers. Each class will deal with a different aspect of training: grief and bereavement, death and dying, communication skills, understanding the family, spiritual care of the family, care and comfort measures, ethical issues, and advanced directives.

Hospice officials say that volunteers are the backbone their local organizations, providing in-home respite care, errands, companionship, activities, office assistance, and fundraising opportunities. Those interested in attending the upcoming volunteer training, or those seeking more information, should contact the Hospice of Little Traverse Bay volunteer hotline at (231) 487-7225 or Hospice of Northwest Michigan volunteer coordinator Cheri Hoffman at (231) 547-7659.

DISC GOLF

on one of the trails recently.

He said he doesn't favor an outright ban on disc golf at the park both because enforcement would be very difficult and because it's an activity well-suited to a park setting.

"There are a limited amount of recreational activities in the community," Boss said. "To foster (disc golf) is a good thing to do if you can delineate the two activities."

Ultimately, the council gave Boss permission to start working with some area disc golfers on a plan for re-establishing some kind of a disc golf course at the park, which he would then bring back to the council for their final approval.

Boss said his short term solution would be to not put up any baskets this year, but instead work out a course using posts, starting perhaps over in the area of the ice skating rink and working from there.

He suggested guidelines that would close the course when daycamp activities are in session.

"Let's give them the summer and see how they police themselves," Boss said.

In the meantime, Boss has put up three signs around the park this week asking people to not play disc golf on the hiking trails in the interest of safety.

In other business, the council approved spending $32,000 in funds from the city's portion of the county-wide road millage to repave the southbound lane of State Street from Hurlbut Avenue to Garfield Avenue. The work is expected to take five to eight days to complete and will start after the Park Street project is completed.

The council also approved a lease agreement with Seaports Great Lakes. Under the proposed agreement, Seaports Great Lakes would lease city-owned property at the Michigan Department of Natural Resources and Environment's Fisheries site at the end of Grant Street. The organization has proposed to use the land to build a period-correct boathouse to house materials for building and maintaining mackinaw boats.

The council also awarded a bid for $15,839 to Haggard's Plumbing and Heating to install four gas-fired heating units in the city's fire and ambulance hall bays. About 73 percent of the cost of the units will be paid for through a grant and the units are expected to save the city about $750 per year in heating costs.

Charlevoix library kicks off literacy bag program

The Charlevoix Public Library has new interactive literacy bags for parents to use in the library with their children. There are 12 bags, each on a different topic, including: ABC's, colors, cooking, counting, drama, emotions, fractions, lacing, manners, money, nutrition, and weather. Each bag has activities and "books" matching the theme. The interactive bags, which are all age appropriate, were donated by Alicia Giudice.

Alicia, with assistance from Jill Haan, the Charlevoix-Emmet Intermediate School District early education coordinator, worked for a year creating the literacy bags. Together they came up with appropriate topics for each bag, and all the books and activities that the bags would include. Alicia solicited donations for supplies, and through fund raising activities, purchased the items that were not donated. Alicia also designed and embellished each individual bag.

Alicia created the bags for her Girl Scout Gold Award project. The Girl Scout Gold Award, the equivalent to the Boy Scouts' Eagle Scout, was awarded to Alicia last summer at the Girl Scouts of Michigan Shore to Shore banquet in Grand Rapids. The Gold Award is the highest honor a Girl Scout may receive. Only 3 - 5 percent of all Girl Scouts achieve this highest scouting honor.

The literacy bags are located in the youth department of the Charlevoix Public Library. For more information, contact the library at (231) 237-7350. For information about the local Girl Scouts, check out their website at www.gsmists.org.

Garden club hosting plant display awards program

The Charlevoix Area Garden Club is encouraging the beautification of Charlevoix by sponsoring a program to reward those merchants who have the most attractive outdoor natural plant display. Plants can be either in a window box or container located outside their business. Judging is based on color, texture, originality and design and scored from 1 to 5 with five being the highest. The beautification group will judge on Monday, July 12 and present awards on Tuesday, July 13. Those wishing to participate should call Kirsten Berwick at (231) 547-3526 or Susan Flanders (231) 547-4887.

Hospital 'planting pink' for breast cancer awareness

Charlevoix Area Hospital will be "planting pink" for breast cancer awareness this year in the hospital's Meditation Garden.

Hospital officials have scheduled a "planting event" for 1 p.m. on Thursday, May 27, in the gardens. (Friday is the rain-day).

The Circle of Strength members are joining with the Charlevoix Area Garden Club in this special planting, which will include a plot in the shape of the breast cancer ribbon.

Beginning genealogy classes offered

Four classes will be offered to beginners interested in learning the techniques to trace their own family genealogy. Carol McWain Goodenough, professional genealogist, and her associate, Barbara Manley Hernden, will be the instructors.

The first class will be on Wednesday, June 2, and it will be an overview of genealogy, local and family history. Definitions of terms used throughout the course will be introduced and personal research for each participant will begin. Basic research techniques will be discussed.

On Thursday, June 3, the class will feature the different types of research necessary to trace family lines. Building on the materials that the participant has already found, they will learn which types of research will be the most successful.

On Monday, June 7 the third class will introduce the participant to a system of organization to maximize search results. Computer research and use of the Internet will be discussed but because of time constraints, there will not be time to use a computer for research. Medical genealogy and use of DNA for research will be introduced and correspondence and oral history will be explored.

The fourth class on Tuesday, June 8, will conclude the series by learning how to put together a good research plan and how to document the findings. Lastly, ideas for writing up the family history will be discussed.

The cost for all four classes will be $25 or $10 for an individual class. Detailed handouts and charts are included and distributed with each class. For further information or to register, contact at (231) 582-7042 or e-mail to ggsge-nea@aol.com.

The classes will be offered at the Ironton Congregational Church, 03582 Washington St., in Ironton. All classes will take place from 7-9 p.m. Participants are encouraged to bring with them as much family history information that they already have.

From 6:30-7:30 p.m. on Monday, June 21, an additional class will be offered at the Charlevoix Public Library taught by Goodenough Hernden. This class will be an introduction to "Genealogy on the Internet" and will be in the computer lab at the library. This "hands on" workshop will give the participants an opportunity to begin searching for their family lines by researching popular websites on the Internet. Techniques for successful research will also be discussed. Participants should register with the library directly to take this class.

Goodenough has been a family genealogist for more than 40 years and a professional for more than 20 years. She graduated from Central Michigan University with a bachelor of science in education and taught school at the high school level. As a professional Girl Scout with the Singing Sands Council she was a program specialist and often taught classes in genealogy to girls and adults. She formed Goodenough Genealogical Services about 10 years ago to aid more people in finding their family "roots." Since moving to the Charlevoix area in 2001 she has taught many classes at the local libraries and other locations. She enjoys working with those people that are just starting their "Genealogical Journey" and she tries to help them be organized to make their search more successful.

Barbara Manley Hernden has been a genealogist for almost 15 years and is experienced in how to research and find results. She has been to England twice to research her mother's family and has direct connections to the royal family. A British cousin has been featured several times on English television for his genealogy research work. When she began her work, the only family knowledge she had on her father's side was on a 3x5 sheet of paper. She has also helped in publishing a book on the James Manley family of Kentucky.

Anyone wishing to be on a e-mail mailing list for the Goodenough Genealogical Services Newsletter or updates on upcoming classes or the monthly interest group at the second Thursday of the month at 6 p.m. at the Charlevoix Public Library should contact Carol Goodenough directly.

Doug Drenth stands outside Charlevoix Elementary School, where he will begin his role as principal in the fall of 2010.

New principal, familiar face

Doug Drenth named as Dick Swenor's successor at Charlevoix Elementary School

STEVE ZUCKER
NEWS-REVIEW STAFF

When classes at Charlevoix Elementary School resume in the fall, the face behind the desk in the principal's office might be different from the one that's there this year, but it will be far from unfamiliar.

At its May 10 regular meeting, the Charlevoix School Board unanimously approved hiring current Charlevoix High School Assistant Principal and math teacher Doug Drenth, 46, to replace soon-to-retire elementary school principal Dick Swenor.

Drenth is far from a stranger to the Charlevoix community and school district.

A 1982 Charlevoix High School graduate, Drenth has 20 years experience in education. After graduating from Central Michigan University in 1989, he moved to Franklin, Ind.; where he taught math and social studies.

In 2002 Drenth realized a goal of his when he returned to Northern Michigan landing a job teaching math at Petoskey High School. In 2003, he came back to his home school district when he accepted a position teaching eighth-grade social studies and math. For the past two years he's been splitting his time between the high school assistant principal's position and teaching math.

"I feel really blessed to have been able to come back to the area and teach," Drenth said.

Although this will be his first assignment at the elementary school level, Drenth said he's looking forward to working with the younger students.

"I love the twinkle in the eyes of the younger children," Drenth said. "I look forward to their energy and their excitement."

Drenth added that he expects the transition in the principal's office to go smoothly thanks to the strong program that's already been established by Swenor and his staff.

"I feel humbled to be able to follow (Swenor)," Drenth said. "Considering all the great things I've heard about Charlevoix Elementary School, I'm really looking forward to working with the staff."

Drenth added that, although the strength of the existing program should make for a smooth transition, he plans to continue looking for areas where the school can improve.

"We should always strive to do better. It's something we should ask ourselves on a daily basis," he said. "We'll continue with the priorities that have already been set — reading and math — and we'll keep looking at the data, looking for ways to get better."

Drenth who has coached cross country, track and golf, has asked the school board for a one-year leave of absence from those duties while he makes the transition into his new position.

Charlevoix notches three weekend non-league baseball wins

The Charlevoix Rayders' varsity baseball team had a successful weekend notching three victories over two non-league foes.

The Rayders started the weekend off Friday in dramatic style as Alex Foster executed a perfect suicide squeeze to score Jordan Farmer with one out in the bottom of the sixth inning, lifting the Rayders to a 6-5 victory over Pellston.

Farmer led off the inning with a single, was sacrificed to second by Tommy Zipp, and went to third on Morgan Stewart's infield hit.

Foster earned the win in relief of Clayton Mitchell.

Mitchell started and went 5 1/3 innings, allowing five runs on five hits, while walking three and striking out one. Foster allowed one hit in 2/3 of an inning.

Senior Bill Ivan smacked a two-run homer in the first inning for the Rayders. It was the first Charlevoix varsity over-the-fence homer at the Rayders home field since it opened eight years ago.

Mitchell finished with three hits, Foster had two and an RBI, and Andrew Potter and Coby Herriman each added a single for the Rayders.

The Rayders finished out their weekend games with two convincing victories over Ellsworth. In all Charlevoix pounded out 27 hits in claiming the 19-4 and 17-2 victories over the Lancers on Saturday.

Both games were called after three innings because of the mercy rule.

Isaac Klooster had three hits and three RBI, and Andrew Potter had three hits including a triple to pace Charlevoix's 16-hit attack in game one.

Coby Herriman had three hits including a triple, while Tommy Zipp had two hits, two RBI; C.J. Kunkle singled, doubled and drove in two runs; Jesse Drost had a two-run single; and Chris Waha and Morgan Stewart each singled.

Herriman and Waha combined on a three-hitter with six strikeouts.

Potter singled, doubled and drove in three runs to lead the Rayders in game two. Herriman had two hits, two RBI; Waha singled and doubled; Kunkle had a two-run single; Jordan Farmer had two hits; and Stewart and Drost each singled.

Potter allowed two hits and struck out five for the win.

The Rayders play next at home at 4:30 p.m. on Thursday, May 17 against Central Lake and again on Friday at Traverse City Christian.

Rayders take league golf titles

Wyatt Drost shot 78 to tie for second and Ty Jones shot 82 to tie for fourth at Antrim Dells on Friday, leading Charlevoix to a first-place finish in the Lake Michigan Conference boys' golf championship, and the overall league title.

The Rayders shot a 331 team score, eight better than runner-up Grayling. Traverse City St. Francis was third with a 353, edging fourth-place Harbor Springs, which shot 354. Boyne City was fifth with a 372, and East Jordan shot 410 to place seventh in the eight-team event.

The Rayders won the league championship based on Friday's tournament, which counted for double points in the standings, and the previous three 18-hole tournaments this season. Grayling was second, followed by St. Francis, Harbor, Boyne, Kalkaska, East Jordan and Elk Rapids.

Taylor DesEnfants of Grayling shot 77 to capture medalist honors.

Harbor Springs' Trevor Neelis shot 78, the first sub-80 round of his varsity career, to tie Drost for second place. Evan Miller of St. Francis shot 82 to tie Jones for fourth.

Other Charlevoix scores: Thomas Rich, 83; Gunner Whitley, 88; Ryan Wimmer, 89; Josh Nitchman, 89.

Other Harbor scores: Teddy Hackman, 85; Drake Doherty, 94; Rourke Sylvain, 97; Kerry Fitzpatrick, 98; Louis Wash, 101.

Boyne City scores: Brian Wonski, 90; Eddie Fouchia, 93; Devin Fortune, 94; Dillon Perry, 97; Parker Ameel, 106.

East Jordan scores: Wesley Ricker, 87; Jimmy Morgan, 100; Matt Hasselst, 104; Richard Laser, 119; Joseph Manville, 123.

Jones, Drost and Rich, all of Charlevoix, along with Harbor's Neelis, were named to the all-conference first-team along with DesEnfants of Grayling, and Mike Bork and Miller of St. Francis.

Hackman, Wimmer, Nitchman and Fouchia earned honorable mention.

Charlevoix will compete in the Division III district tournament on Thursday, May 27, at Crystal Mountain.

Golf scramble for breast cancer prevention

The third annual Antrim County High Tea for Breast Cancer Prevention Golf Scramble will take place at The Legend Golf Course at Shanty Creek Resorts on Monday, June 7. Registration starts at noon with a shotgun start at 1 p.m.

The $80 per person entry fee includes 18 holes of golf with a cart. Score a hole in one on hole 12 and win $5,000. Many prizes will be awarded for the longest drive, closest to pin and longest putt for both men and women.

Each golfer will receive a "goodie bag" with a Schuss Mountain golf coupon and some other surprises. In addition, the entry fee includes a pasta dinner (cash bar) after golf where the awards will be handed out.

I care about the environment.
I care about protecting our bay.

Northwest Michigan is like a magnet for me. It has been my entire life. I started coming here to visit with my family in the 1960s. So when it came time for me to start my business and settle with my family, Northwest Michigan was really the only place we considered. I started Kane Construction 20 years ago and have been building homes and businesses in this community ever since.

I remember the old cement plant and how bad it once looked sitting on the shore. I know how good the redeveloped area looks today and there is no comparison. The work done to clean up that site and protect the bay is a benefit to our entire community.

I care about the Little Traverse Bay Environmental Project because I came here for the water and my family spends countless hours swimming and boating in Lake Michigan. I need to have confidence that the environment is being protected. Because of past and current work, I'm confident the right things are being done for the environment, our families and the future.

Rayders knocked from league race

A goal in the waning seconds of overtime effectively knocked the Charlevoix Rayders' girls soccer team from contention for the league title as they fell, 3-2 to Elk Rapids Monday.

The Elks scored the game-winning goal with just 15 seconds remaining in overtime to earn a Lake Michigan Conference win over Charlevoix.

After taking a 2-0 lead in the first half, Charlevoix surrendered three unanswered goals to the Elks.

Charlevoix is 11-5-2 overall, 9-3-1 league and closes the regular season at home Wednesday against East Jordan.

"This game could really help us going into the district," Charlevoix coach Carol Madison said. "It was a good learning experience for the girls and we have a young team. We had to learn to play smart with the lead and when we're under pressure."

Hannah Herboldschmiere scored the Rayders' opening goal with help from Sydney Carlson, while Taylor Smith put Charlevoix in front 2-0 at halftime as she finished off a feed from Hallie Bills.

"We played an outstanding first half," Madison said. "We had a good plan going in and we stuck to the plan, we rotated defensively and did some good things. After Elk Rapids scored about 20 minutes in the second half, we started to getting down a little bit."

Madison lauded the strong play of freshman goalkeeper Bailee Stevens, who made several outstanding saves including a key stop in overtime.

"She (Stevens) saved one that the entire Elk Rapids bench thought went in," Madison said.

Madison also lauded the play of defenders Carolena Elowsky, Savannah Joseph and Kelley Greyerbiehl along with stopper Caroline Dupuis.

On Friday, the Rayders lost another exciting game, falling 2-1 to Harbor Springs in double overtime at Harbor's Ottawa Stadium.

And the teams could very well meet for a Division IV district championship on Friday, June 4, at Harbor.

"It was a nice win to get," first-year Harbor coach Ed Fantozzi said. "I was more happy that we got the win for the seniors. It was senior night and we were celebrating."

Haley Kloss' put in the game-winner for the Rams off an Emily Ford assist. Ford gained possession of the ball and booted a long pass to Ford, who let loose a shot from the right side from about 30 yards out that found the back of the net.

"It was going to happen either to us or them, both teams were getting tired," Fantozzi said. "We ended up on the lucky end of that one. Either team could have won."

"It's always going to be an interesting game against them. How it sets up our district, it's going to be a nail-biter, no better way to say it."

The much-anticipated match was played on a beautiful night for soccer under the Ottawa Stadium lights. And the rivals delivered a classic.

"Both teams had some good looks at the goal," Fantozzi said. "It went back and forth, somewhat of a midfield battle, but once the ball got locked in at one end or the other, the pressure was evident."

Bobbie Molter scored late in the first half for Charlevoix off an Abbey Barnes assist. Kloss scored unassisted about eight minutes into the second half to tie it.

"It was a really good game, really exciting game," Charlevoix coach Carol Madison said. "It really went back and forth. It could have gone either way. We may have gotten off a few more shots, but as far as quality opportunities, they were fairly even."

Freshman Bailee Stevens made six saves in goal for the Rayders.

"She made some amazing saves," Madison said. "I think she had her best game of the season. She really played with a lot of composure."

Madison also lauded the play of center/mid Madison Way, along with Taylor Smith and Barnes. She also praised her defensive line of Savannah Joseph, Kelly Greyerbiehl, Carolena Elowsky and Caroline Dupuis.

City seeks contributions for Camp McSauba scholarships

With the need continuing to climb each year, organizers of the City of Charlevoix's popular summer day camp, Camp McSauba, are seeking donations to fund scholarships to the camp.

Charlevoix Recreation Director Ike Boss said the scholarships pay the camp cost for children whose families would otherwise not be able to afford to send them to camp.

The cost of the camp is $85 per week and an additional $30 per week for campers who need to be dropped off before and/or picked up after the camp's normal hours of 9 a.m.-3:15 p.m. Boss said last year the city gave out 80 scholarships and he expects the need to be closer to 100 this year.

The City of Charlevoix Recreation Department has run Camp McSauba on the 54-acre Mount McSauba Recreational Area since 1976.

The nine, five-day long sessions include many activities such as archery, BB gunnery, field sports, campfire programs, sand castle building, arts and crafts and many others.

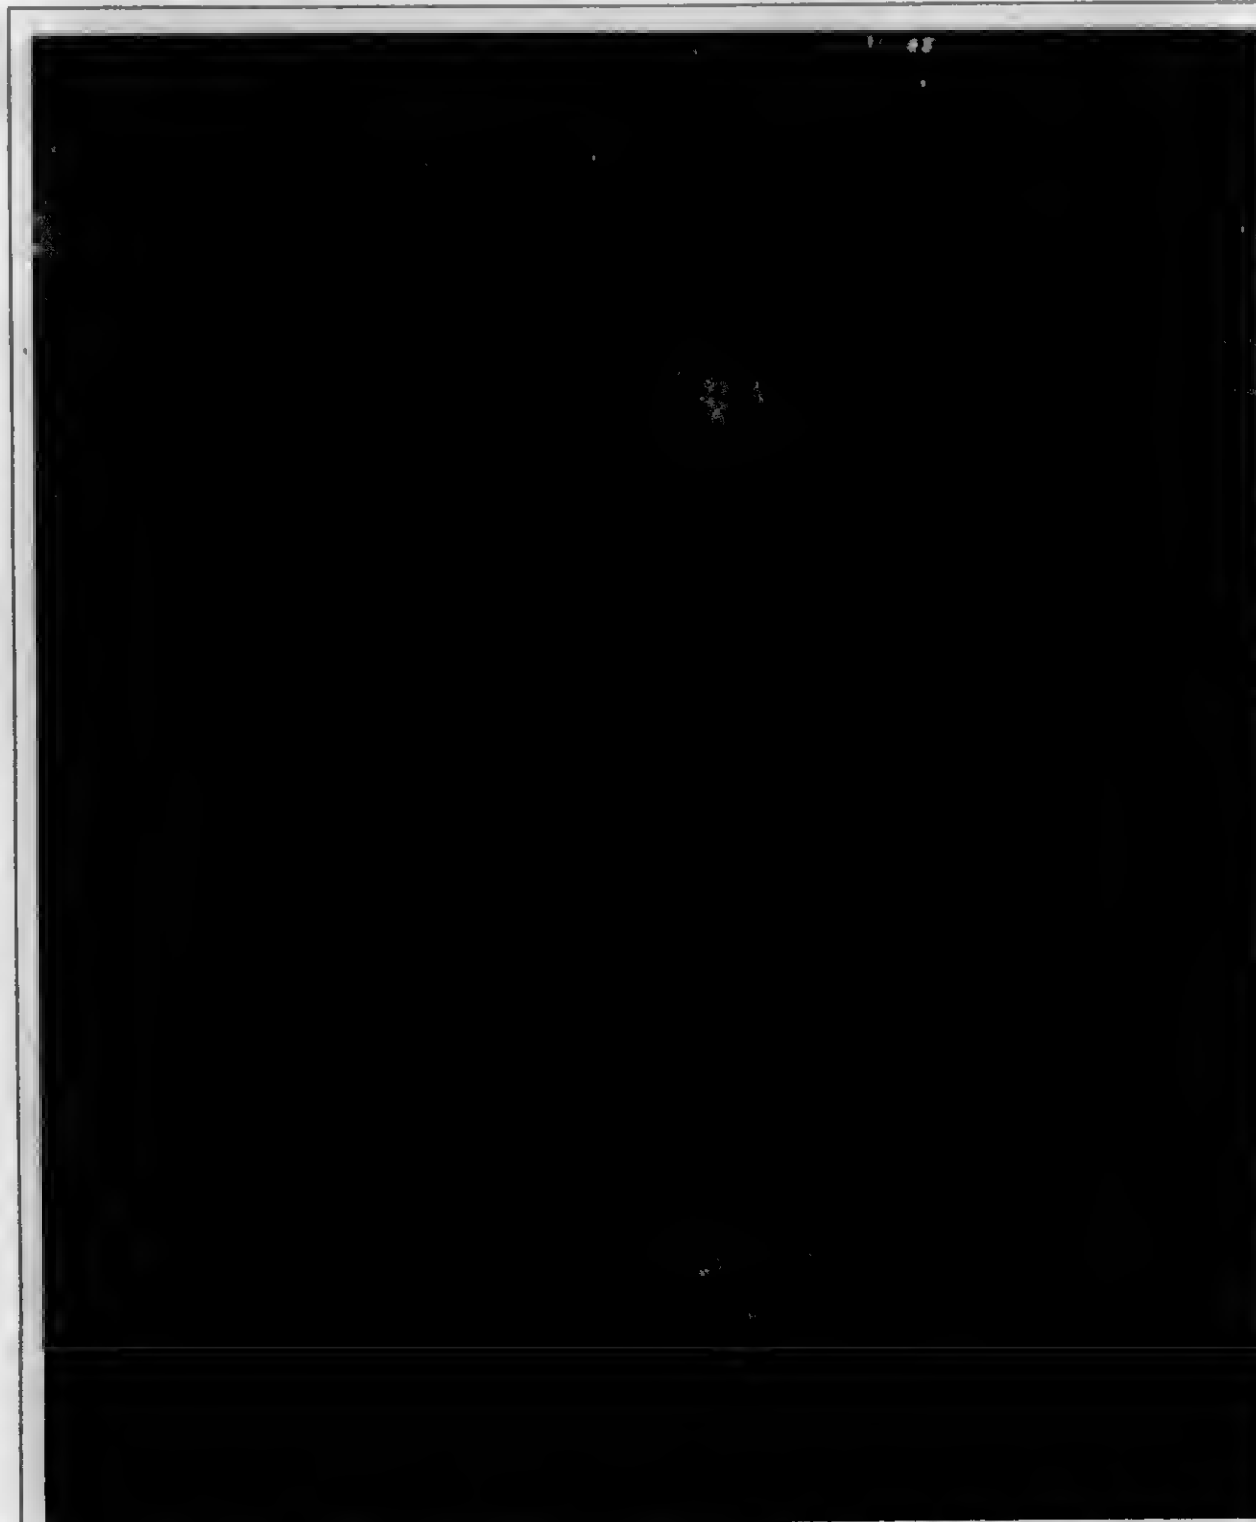

Each camp session also includes an a sleep-over on Thursday night.

This summer session runs weekly beginning on June 14 and ending on Aug. 20. However, there is no camp the week of July 19-23 because of Venetian Festival.

Camp themes this year (in order of weeks) are, Back to Camp Party, Native American, United We Stand, Super Sports, Survivor, Fun Factor, Camp Hawaii, Camp Olympics and Wacky Week.

For more information about Camp McSauba or how to contribute to the camp's scholarship fund, call the recreation department at (231) 547-3253 or visit the city's website at www.cityofcharlevoix.com and click on the recreation department's link.

Char-Em United Way wraps up campaign

Giving up 4 percent from last year

Char-Em United Way officials recently announced the completion of the organization's 2009-2010 fundraising campaign, with $337,427 donated and/or pledged. This amount includes $322,427 from local businesses, employees, and individuals, and a $15,000 challenge grant pledged by the Frey Foundation. The total is 4 percent more than the amount of funds raised the previous year and an all-time record.

"We are thrilled with the success of the campaign and extremely grateful for the generosity of the community," Joanne Curtis, of Raymond James Financial Services said. She along Dale Hull, co-chaired the United Way campaign.

"Although we reached only 97 percent of our ambitious campaign goal, we raised 4 percent more funds than last year. In the face of the recession, this is a huge accomplishment," Curtis said.

"The success of the campaign will enable Char-Em United Way to make significant investments in local agencies that help meet the health and human service needs in Charlevoix and Emmet Counties," continued Curtis. "These needs continue to be very serious, and the ability of local agencies to respond is significantly challenged."

Martha Lancaster, the organization's executive director added, "While we are still hoping for a windfall gift of the final $10,573 toward our goal, we are very grateful with the results of this campaign, especially in the current economic conditions. Most of our workplace campaigns were even or up from last year."

Lancaster said several new campaigns joined the program this year including Fletch's, Emmet County, Friendship Centers, and Charlevoix Public Library. She said giving by the Leadership Circle of donors of $500-plus was also up.

The organization plans to soon announce the results of its community investment allocation process. Citizen Review Panels made up of 35 community volunteers recently met to review applications of local agencies for United Way funds. These local volunteers consider the applicant's potential impact on identified community needs, ability, financial management, and track record. They then make recommendations to the United Way Board of Directors, which determines the community impact investments made to agencies.

In addition to directly supporting health and human services programs of local agencies, United Way is involved in many other initiatives - Volunteer Connections, Day of Caring, Stuff the Bus, Project Connect, 2-1-1, Friends Enhancing Emmet Transit and more.

The success of the United Way campaign will be marked at a Celebration Breakfast on at 8 a.m. on Thursday June 17 at the Ozone, hosted by the Odawa Casino Resort. At the event, United Way officials will present awards to volunteers and donors, including the annual John Newton Awards, and distribute community investments to 2010 partner agencies. Charlevoix County taxable value dips more than 5 percent

BRANDON HUBBARD
NEWS-REVIEW STAFF
WRITER

Charlevoix County will see about $514,000 less in revenues from county allocated millage this year, after the Charlevoix County equalization report showed a 5.12 percent decrease in taxable value across the county this month. The decrease fits the regional average.

Betsy Mason, the director of equalization for Charlevoix County, said Charlevoix County had the same kind of decreases as many of the counties in the region.

"It was pretty much in the range of the surrounding counties," Mason said. "So, we didn't see anything unusual from the other counties."

By comparison, Emmet County saw a 5.2 percent decrease in taxable value, which represents about a $730,000 drop in tax revenue for the general fund in the coming year.

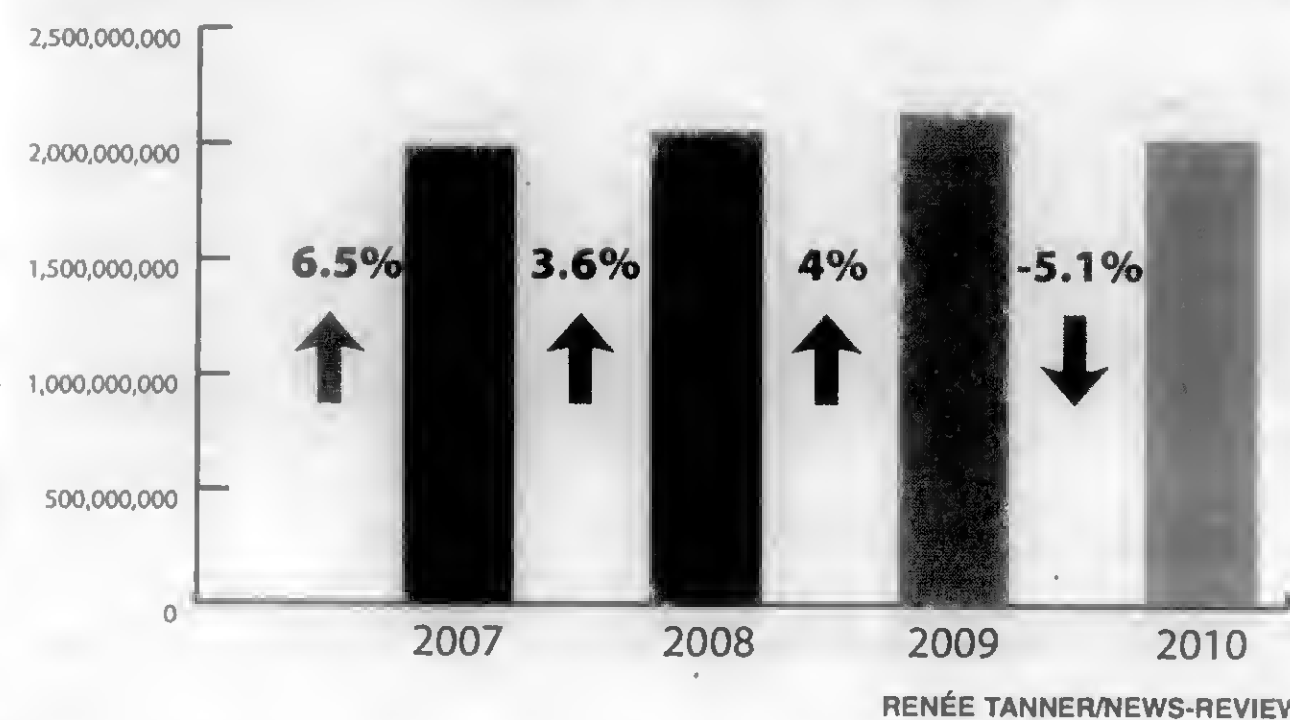

Other county decreases were reported by equalization officials as 4 percent for Cheboygan County, 1.93 percent for Grand Traverse County, 0.89 percent for Presque Isle County and 0.70 percent for Mackinac County.

While the overall county taxable value decreased, there was some growth.

Both Eveline Township reported a 0.21 percent increase and St. James Township on Beaver Island enjoyed a 0.57 percent increase.

"It was all the large home construction," John E. Vron dran, Eveline Township supervisor and assessor.

Vron dran said several homes estimated at a value more than $6 million each helped keep the township in the plus column. The large construction aside, he said, the rest of the township had an overall decrease.

Taxable value changes by municipality in Charlevoix County for 2010:

TOWNSHIPS

Bay — 4.04 percent decrease
Boyer Valley — 7.79 percent decrease
Chandler — 3.36 percent decrease
Charlevoix — 7.91 percent decrease
Eveline — 0.21 percent increase
Hayes — 7.42 percent decrease
Hudson — 4.49 percent decrease
Marion — 7.06 percent decrease
Meirose — 3.54 percent decrease
Norwood — 4.54 percent decrease
Pealine — 3.39 percent decrease
St. James — 0.59 percent increase
South Arm — 9.14 percent decrease
Wilson — 10.34 percent decrease

CITIES

Boyer City — 3.71 percent increase
Charlevoix — 7.22 percent decrease
East Jordan — 2.27 percent decrease

JUNE 4

Hospice of N.W. Michigan Leans Heavily on Auction Benefit

The annual hospice fundraising auction is the evening of June 4 at Castle Farms in Charlevoix. It is the fundraiser for the organization, and is critical for the continuance of services for Antrim, Charlevoix and Emmet counties. Tickets are $50, and include a multi-course meal from Lulu's/Siren Hall's Michael Peterson.

Extravagant live and silent auction items will inspire a lively evening.

Tickets by phone at 547-7448 or online at www.hospicewm.org.

JUNE 5

The Wagbo Farm and Education Center will host a bird walk and potluck. The hike will start at 8:30 a.m. with a breakfast potluck to follow. Bring binoculars and bird guides if you have them. Dress for outdoor conditions. Birds of all skill levels are welcome. Feel free to attend with or without a dish to pass. For more information, call (231) 536-0333, or e-mail wagbo@torchlake.com. The center is located three miles south of East Jordan at 5745 North M-66.

JUNE 13

Charlevoix Children's House will host its third annual Golf Scramble at the Belvedere Golf Club. The cost is $60 per person or $240 per foursome and includes 18 holes of golf with a cart. The event will be a best ball format and will include skills contests including a $5,000 putt for dough challenge, and closest to the pin and longest drive contests. Team check-in will be at noon with a shotgun start at 1 p.m. After golf, the event will conclude with a casual dinner with live music by the Northwest Academy Jazz Band. All proceeds from the event will benefit Project Playground. For more information, call Shelby Kolka (231) 944-6051 or Jami Miller (231) 330-0731. Entry fees may be mailed to Charlevoix Children's House 8700 Mercer Road, Charlevoix, Mich. 49720

JUNE 16

Women's Resource Center planning annual fundraiser

The Women's Resource Center will host its fourth annual fundraising luncheon on Wednesday, June 16 at Castle Farms in Charlevoix.

Featured this year will be up to 30 talented designers throughout Charlevoix County who donate their talents in designing themed tables for the luncheon.

Each table consists of eight guests who donate a minimum of $150 and the luncheon is catered by Grey Gables.

Charlevoix County women who attended last year's luncheon raised over $29,000 for the WRC that serves women and families in need in five northwest Michigan counties.

Programs and services offered by the WRC include rape, sexual assault and domestic abuse assistance including advocacy and safe, emergency shelter; a 24-hour crisis line; transitional housing; career and educational counseling; personal and family counseling; and quality, licensed child care at the Children's Learning Center.

Limited space is still available for table designers and table captains.

Anyone interested in designing a table, being a table captain or attending the luncheon should contact the WRC office at 347-0067 no later than May 1st.

JUNE 5 - JULY 12

Bunting safety classes

The Charlevoix County Sheriff's office will be offering 2010 boaters safety classes on the following dates:
9 a.m. to 1 p.m., June 5, Charlevoix Yacht Club
9 a.m. to 1 p.m., June 26,

Walloon Lake Country club (Grandma's)

2 p.m. to 6 p.m., July 12, Jordan Valley District Library Proctored Exam Time:

Noon to 1 p.m. June 5, Charlevoix Yacht Club

5 p.m. to 6 p.m. July 12, Jordan Valley District Library

This is only for those who have an online boating safety certificate. Individuals will take the state exam and are free to leave upon successful completion of exam.

The class is free of charge and pre-registration is not required. Minimum age for class attendance is 12 years of age. Students should bring date of birth information with them for registration purposes. It is recommended that students eat prior to class or bring a small snack to class.

Because of the short duration of the course, there will be no meal time. Students receiving a satisfactory test grade will receive their Michigan Boating Safety Certificate at the conclusion of the course. If you currently have an online boating safety certificate, you must take a proctored test and receive a state honored boating safety certificate. The state only honors online course completed certificates that have been verified by a proctored Michigan exam.

Completion of this class is MANDATORY for individuals: (1) born after Dec. 31, 1978 to operate a personal water craft (jet ski), (2) for juveniles between the ages of 12 and 16 to operate a boat, and (3) for PARENTS that allow their children between the ages of 12 and 14 to operate a personal water craft. A Parent must be riding with the child during operation.

For further questions call the Charlevoix County Sheriff's office Marine Division at 547-4461, ext. 320.

100 years of amazing Grace

STEVE ZUCKER
INTERIM EDITOR

If you ever needed a reason to get some regular exercise, Ironton's Grace Fairbanks has 100 of them for you.

Grace, a mother of three, grandmother of 14, great-grandmother of 40 and great-great-grandmother of three turned 100 on Friday, May 28.

And as she passed the century mark, she's in better health than many people decades younger.

Born Grace Kubesh on May 28, 1910 on a small farm outside Traverse City, Grace had one older brother. Her mother died when she was 5, and she had four more half-siblings when her father remarried.

Life on the farm was tough, with no electricity, indoor plumbing or tractors to help with the work. She attended a one-room school where all eight grades were taught under one roof.

She met her husband Ron when she was about 21 at an Eagles Club dance.

The couple married in 1932 at the height of the Great Depression. They moved to Detroit where Ron hoped to find a job at the Kelvinator Company. Grace recalled the day when Ron came home with his first earnings from that job, about $60.

"I was pregnant at the time and I was sitting on the porch and he came up behind me and dropped the money in my lap, and, my gosh, it seemed like about a million dollars," Grace said.

Their first son, Chuck, was born in 1933 while they lived in Detroit. Chuck went on to a notable football coaching career including several years as the head coach of the New England Patriots in the 1970s.

The Fairbanks moved back to Northern Michigan and bought and operated a bakery in downtown Charlevoix until about 1951.

The family then moved to Grand Rapids where they bought another bakery, which grew over the years into large commercial operation.

Grace helped out in the business, doing all the bookkeeping and payroll.

About 26 years later, they sold the business and retired when Ron's bad knees started getting the better of him.

The couple bought a home in Ironton and began spending their summers there and their winters in Florida.

When Ron died in 2007, at the age of 93, they were just four months away from their 75th anniversary.

Over the years, Grace has stayed busy with many things besides raising a family and working for the bakeries.

For many years she was an avid bowler and gardener and for about 30 years she walked four miles every day.

She credits her years of walking as a big part her long, healthy life.

"I was walking before walking was fashionable," Grace said. "I just liked to get out. I enjoyed walking and seeing people. I walked fast. It just felt good."

Today she still stays very active, living on her own, doing her own housekeeping, planting her flowers and riding her three-wheeled bike whenever she can.

She still splits her time between Ironton in the summer and, now Arizona in the winter.

In recent years she's been in the habit of decorating her other three-wheeled bike and riding it in the St. Patrick's Day parade in Arizona.

She also continues her hobby of quilting and stays active in her churches both here and in Arizona.

And Grace has one last secret for longevity — both for a long life and a long marriage.

She explained that for many, many years — including the most hectic times of their life together when Ron was working long hours at the bakery — the couple would always set aside some time when Ron got home from work to have a glass of wine together. "If we didn't do that, there might have been times we wouldn't have even talked to each other," Grace said.

That was long before anyone did any research about the possible health benefits that might be contained in glass of red wine.

Grace continues the practice to this day, setting aside some time every afternoon for a glass of wine alone with her thoughts of Ron.

Reflecting on her century-long life, Grace said, "It's been a long journey and a lot of things have happened. God has been good to me. I have a wonderful family and I had a wonderful husband and we had a wonderful life together ... I thank the Lord every day."

She also continues her hobby of quilting and stays active in her churches both here and in Arizona.

Man charged for selling heroin near school

STEVE ZUCKER
INTERIM EDITOR

A Charlevoix man is facing up to 60 years in prison amid charges he was selling heroin out of his apartment on Upright Street in Charlevoix.

Earl Santonio King, 30, is facing one count each of delivery of a controlled substance in a school zone and possession with intent to deliver a controlled substance in a school zone. The charges are punishable by 2 to 60 years in prison and 2 to 40 years in prison respectively.

According to an affidavit filed in the case by Charlevoix Police Department deputy chief Scott Hankins, on Tuesday, police met with a confidential informant who said he had met with King earlier in the day and King said he had $50 packs of heroin available.

Police said they set up a "controlled buy" in which the confidential informant went to King's apartment at 103 East Upright St., where King allegedly sold a package of heroin to the informant.

Police said after the "buy," the informant reported that King had 10 more packs of heroin at the apartment.

Based upon the information from the controlled buy, police obtained and executed a search warrant at King's apartment a short time later.

Police said during the search they found additional packets of heroin, small amounts of marijuana and some cash, including they money used in the "controlled buy."

Police said after his arrest, King admitted to some heroin sales but did not admit to any sales on that day. Police said King told them he gets his heroin from downtown.

The charges against King carry an increased penalty because his apartment is within 1,000 feet of a school, namely Northwest Academy, Charlevoix Middle School and St. Mary's School.

King remains lodged in the Charlevoix County Jail in lieu of a $50,000 bond.

Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof, or abridging the freedom of speech, or of the press, or the right of the people peaceably to assemble, and to petition the Government for a redress of grievances.

A kernel of wisdom: Hybrid humans should be celebrated

Some months ago I wrote of my pleasure in our several hybrid grandchildren and made the case that we should expect human hybrids, just like corn hybrids, to be superior to their parents. It is time for an update and a little more information.

One of the granddaughters is now 14 years old and is already taller than either of her parents; demonstrating what is genetically called hybrid vigor.

While we may be pleased with hybrid plants and animals, we are more likely to refer to human hybrids as "mixed blood" or even "half-breeds," neither of which is particularly appealing as an identifier.

What can we learn from hybrid corn, for example, which has the same sort of DNA and genetic recombination as do most of the plants and animals on earth. If you want to produce really superior hybrid corn you begin with several varieties of pretty ordinary corn, some of which may have particular characteristics that are beneficial (wide leaves, drought resistance, etc.). If you begin with four such varieties, you must grow each one of them in circumstances where they can cross only with themselves, producing a seriously inbred strain from each of the four varieties. It is more or less common knowledge that inbreeding is not a good thing (among humans, brother-sister and cousin marriages are illegal in most places.)

EAR TO THE GROUND

Roger Knutson

After five to seven years of inbreeding for each of our four corn varieties, they don't look so good. Plants are generally short, grow poorly and produce very low yields of seed. But each variety retains, sometimes in hidden form, its unique characteristics. If we grow these depleted varieties in a situation where each of two pairs of them can cross only with each other, we get seeds that will grow into clearly superior plants; tall, green and high yielding. If we now repeat that process, crossing the two, now improved varieties, the offspring grown from seeds of this double cross are likely to demonstrate the best possible characteristics of all four original varieties. The seeds produced by that double cross are the seeds that corn growers will pay large amounts of money for, since they know the plants will be superior.

The more modern processes for producing corn hybrids are somewhat different and more efficient, but the idea is the same: Combine the characteristics of two or more distinctly different inbred strains and get superior plants.

With humans, there are no inbred lines, but groups of people long separated from one another and from different parts of the world carry unique genetic characteristics, not present in people from other geographic areas. The combination of those characteristics from different geographic groups of people is likely to produce somewhat hybrid, superior human beings, by almost any measure. Taller, smarter, somewhat darker-skinned people are the result of such combinations. It is time we celebrated such offspring, rather than giving them derogatory names.

The other lesson to carry away is that Adolph Hitler and his Nazi cohorts were absolutely wrong about the best way to produce superior human beings.

A friend from India told me many years ago, that if America survived as long as India had, everyone here would be some shade of tan. That is something I believe we should look forward to. Hybrids rule!

computer screen whenever it's at rest. The oil spill in the Gulf of Mexico is beyond my ability to fathom. Crude oil spiraling downward towards the ocean floor and sliding over fish and fauna as if they were getting dipped into melted butter. British Petroleum as well as others will try in vain to stop the crude oil coursing through the gulf but loss of human life as well as countless jobs of fisherman and sea life has already occurred. The demise of humans will be humans, not nature.

For many years I've been concerned with the destruction that cruise lines dish out with their plastic garbage bags filled to the brim with waste. Now I wonder how our beautiful gulf will struggle to renew itself with this latest man made catastrophe. This is all the more reason to protect what we have in our Great Lakes. Never have I felt so blessed to have pristine waters surrounding our community and so inspired with the desire to protect what is left of this natural resource.

Far below the oil slicked seas, numerous organisms will struggle and the ecosystem will change as we know it. Financially, this will again be another burden on tourism and the fishing industry, not to mention the loss of wildlife and sea creatures. The changes we will be faced with will be challenging to our children and grandchildren for years to come.

Human nature dictates tragedy to occur for changes to be made. Thus the reason for traffic lights, seat belts, guardrails and refrigerators without locking handles to name a few. Safety provides some guarantee that we will not be harmed. But sometimes we become a bit lax because if something does happen restitution will be provided monetarily and life goes on.

We finally have a cap on listening to "Drill baby drill" but not on the containment dome. One of the many ideas shared was a plan to stuff the blowout full of golf balls. Geoff Mohan mentioned "we have one hole in the ground and now their solution is to shoot hole in one." It's not a joking matter. With all our technology and the guidance of the EPA it seems that this is taking too much time to fix.

Trying to look on the bright side, someone will eventually come up with answers, more than likely a group and not one individual. Hopefully more safe guards will be put in place before any more off shore drilling occurs. I thought about the warmth of the Gulf and couldn't imagine how much more difficult this would be to clean or repair if had happened in the frigid waters near Alaska.

From this tragedy I am reminded that we agree too easily, trust too many and sometimes do not question when we should.

Bright Beginnings visits the fire department

The students from Charlevoix's Bright Beginnings Preschool recently visited the Charlevoix Fire Department, where assistant chief Bob Roloff (far right) showed the children many of the fire trucks and the equipment that firefighters use to fight fires.

'Plant plastic' recycling event scheduled

The Charlevoix County Recycling will host a special collection day for plant containers from 8 a.m.-noon on Saturday, June 26.

The drop-off locations for this special program include Boyne Avenue Greenhouse in Boyne City, Marvin's Gardens in Charlevoix and the East Jordan transfer station.

During the event, plastic containers for horticulture products, such as flowers and other plantings, will be collected for recycling. The containers will ultimately be used by EJ Plastics to make new horticulture containers.

Organizers ask the containers be rinsed free from excess soil and that like items be stacked together. Organizers also ask that plant containers not be dropped off at the standard recycling bins, as they can't be recycled through that program. Anyone with questions about the program may call Shirley Roloff at (231) 547-6169.

Through Nov. 15, the recycling program is also offering a program for recycling old freon-containing appliances such as freezers and refrigerators.

Under the program residents may deliver their old appliance to East Jordan Auto Parts, 210 Elm St. in East Jordan. Residents need only provide their name and address and East Jordan Auto Parts will safely remove the freon from the appliance and scrap the rest for recycling.

The cost of the freon removal will be covered by the Charlevoix County Recycling Program.

Charlevoix High School names 'Senior Scholars'

Charlevoix High School officials have named nine of the 83 members of the class of 2010 as "Senior Scholars."

The school recently began using the Senior Scholar program in lieu of naming a valedictorian and salutatorian. Students qualify as a Senior Scholar through a formula that factors in their grade-point averages and their ACT test scores.

The school's graduation ceremony will take place at 2 p.m., Sunday, June 6, in the high school gym.

The Senior Scholars for the class of 2010 are:

— Caitlin Bryant is the daughter of David Bryant and Suzanne and Robert Muma. She will graduate with a 3.907 grade-point average.

While in high school Caitly was a member of the Academic All-Conference Team. She was active in band, serving as its drum major; the school's performing arts program and cheerleading.

After graduation she plans to attend Michigan State University where she plans to study nursing.

— Bailey Chamberlain is the daughter of Ron Chamberlain and Erica and Brett Marlatt. She will graduate with a 3.92 grade-point average.

While in high school Bailey earned the Outstanding Spanish Student Award for four years and Business Applied Technologies Award. She's been active in band, tennis, volleyball and volunteering at Camp Daggett, her church, throughout the community.

After graduation Bailey will attend Central Michigan University where she plans to study Spanish and anthropology.

— Caroline Dupuis is the daughter of Mark and Molly

Dupuis. She will graduate with a 3.843 grade-point average.

While in high school Caroline was editor-in-chief of the yearbook and school newspaper.

She was active in student council, National Honor Society, soccer (including playing with the Petoskey Breakers travel soccer team), cross country and the Freshman Mentoring Program.

After graduation Caroline will attend Loyola University Chicago where she plans to study business.

— Madeline Jeakle is the daughter of James and Rebecca Jeakle. She will graduate with a 4.0 grade-point average.

While in high school Madeline has been active in student council, National Honor Society, cross country and track.

After graduation Madeline will attend Michigan State University where she plans to study nursing.

— Jonathan Kelly is the son of Scott and Celia Kelly. He will graduate with a 4.0 grade-point average.

While in high school Jonathan was named to the school's Academic All-Conference Team. He's been active in National Honor Society, Freshman Mentor Program, track and cross country and has spent many hours volunteering for the Red Cross.

After graduation Jonathan will attend Ferris State University where he plans to study biology.

— Megan Menosky is the daughter of Jeff and Charlene Menosky. She will graduate with a 3.902 grade-point average.

While in high school Megan was active in student council, National Honor Society, tennis and volleyball, and was named to the school's Academic All-Conference Team. She also volunteers at various outreach programs in Charlevoix.

After graduation Megan will attend Central Michigan University where she plans to study psychology.

— Roberta Molter is the daughter of Robert and Kimberly Molter. She will graduate with a 3.958 grade-point average.

While in high school Bobbie has been active in the Health Occupations Student of America, National Honor Society, volleyball, soccer, track, concert and jazz band. She was also named to the school's Academic All-Conference Team and volunteers at her church and elsewhere in the community.

After graduation Bobbie will attend Michigan State University where she plans to study biology.

— Tricia Reibel is the daughter of Theron and Molly Reibel. She will graduate with a 3.87 grade-point average.

While in high school, was active in the school's performing and visual arts programs, quiz bowl and was named to the school's Academic All-Conference Team and After graduation Tricia will attend Illinois Institute of Art where she plans to study photography.

— Katherine Young is the daughter of John and Anna Young. She will graduate with a 4.0 grade-point average.

While in high school Katie was active in National Honor Society, the National Society of High School Scholars and received the Harvard Book Prize. She has also been active in concert band, jazz band, theater, forensics, Spanish club and volunteering in many capacities.

After graduation Katie will attend Grand Valley State University where she plans to study pre-medicine.

Northwest Academy falls in quiz bowl final

The Mount Pleasant Sacred Heart Irish defeated the Northwest Academy Navigators and won the Gold Division Championship Game on the academic quiz-show "Quiz Central" last week.

The Irish's "perfect ten" in the "Perfect Ten" round helped them defeat the Navigators and gain points for a final score of 280 to 80.

The Irish will now advance to a "Quiz Central" grand championship semifinal game next week as they take on the Red Division champions, the Midland High Chemics.

Central Michigan University's Public Television's original program, "Quiz Central," now in its fifth season, includes 40 teams from Central and Northern Michigan. Teams compete on "Quiz Central" in four divisions, based on school size. Division champions are awarded four $2,500 one-year scholarships to Central Michigan University.

OBITUARIES

Edward James: Jan. 16 1931 - May 22, 2010

Edward James, 79, of Charlevoix, died Saturday, May 22, 2010, at Boulder Park Terrace Nursing Home in Charlevoix.

Thomas Edward James was born Jan. 16, 1931 in Charlevoix to Thomas and Rose (Enos) James. He served as a Sergeant in the U.S. Army during the Korean War and was awarded the Purple Heart. Edward was self-employed working in yard maintenance. He enjoyed playing bingo and going for a good walk. He was a member of the Grand Traverse Band of Ottawa and Chippewa Indians.

He is survived by his son,

Troy William Clark, and daughter, Tresa Anne Clark; four grandchildren; sister, Lena Wabanimkee of Pellston. He was preceded in death by a brother Enos and sister Ella.

His funeral took place at 3 p.m., Friday, May 28, at Greensky Hill United Methodist Church in Charlevoix, where visitation began at noon on the same day. Paul Raphael officiated. Burial took place at Greensky Hill Cemetery.

The Sacred Fire will burn at Lena Wabanimkee's home in Pellston.

The Winchester Funeral Home in Charlevoix is handling the arrangements.

Howard D. Horton: May 29 1933 - May 28, 2010

Howard Dean Horton, 76, of Charlevoix died May 28, 2010, at Charlevoix Area Hospital from complications of Parkinson's disease. He was born May 29, 1933, in Toledo, Ohio, to John Roland Horton and Majorie Lois Waterbury and moved to Alpena, Michigan with his parents when he was one month old. He graduated with the class of 1951 from Alpena High School and always kept in touch with many members of that class.

He served from 1953-1955 with the 82nd Airborne at Fort Bragg, N.C. and was proud of that service.

On his return from the service, he worked for 10 years at the Huron Portland Cement Co. in Alpena, then at Corduroy Rubber, in Grand Rapids, and came to Charlevoix in 1967 to work in the lab at the Medusa Cement Company. He retired from there in 1995.

He was very active in union and community activities. He was secretary and president of Local 480 at Medusa; president of Top of Michigan Labor Council in Petoskey and Thunder Bay Labor Council in Alpena; president, secretary, and long-time board member of the Alano Club; member of the American Legion Post 226; the Masonic Lodge in Alpena and of Charlevoix Lodge #282 where he was Mason of the Year in 2007; the zoning board of appeals; board of canvassers; the veterans board; former chairman of the Charlevoix County Democratic Party, and member of the 82nd Airborne Division Association, Inc. Mid-Michigan chapter.

Everyone knew Howard. He was the guy who took candy bars and chocolates to the gals in the dentists' office, credit union, bank and floral shop; the one who took flowers to someone feeling down or having a bad day; the one with the corny jokes and fast comebacks; the one who played an Irish ditty on his harmonica or played "This Old Man" on the guitar for his grandkids to dance to when they were toddlers; the one who took an hour buying a loaf of bread because he had to talk to everyone he saw. He was the guy who was your friend the first time he met you. And he was a wonderful husband, father, and fantastic grandpa. He was greatly loved and will be sorely missed by his family and scores of friends across the country.

He is survived by his wife of 49 years, Rosemary; his daughter and son-in-law, Dr. Daniel and Mary Farrell of Norton Shores; a son, William, of Tar-zana, California; three grandchildren, Laura, Margaret, and Jack Farrell, and two nieces and two nephews. He was preceded in death by his parents, a brother, and two sisters and a son, Michael in 1998.

Cremation has taken place. Visitation was Tuesday, June 1 from 2-4 p.m. and 6-8 p.m. A memorial service will be at 11 a.m. Wednesday, June 2, at the Winchester Funeral Home in Charlevoix, the Reverend Celia Hastings officiating. A Masonic service will be conducted by the Charlevoix Lodge #282 F&AM, and military honors will be presented by Charlevoix area veterans at the conclusion.

The family and Howard have requested that memorials in his name be directed to the Charlevoix Community Food Pantry or the Charlevoix Alano Club.

Robert A Elzerman: Jan. 11 1939 - May 29, 2010

Robert Anthony Elzerman, 71, of Charlevoix, died Saturday, May 29, 2010, at Charlevoix Area Hospital. Visitation will be from 6-8 p.m. Wednesday, June 2, and Thursday from 9 a.m. until the time of the funeral at the Walloon Lake Community Church. Funeral will be 11 a.m., Thursday, June 3, the Rev. Jeff Ellis officiating. Burial will be in Brookside Cemetery in Charlevoix.

Rob was born Jan. 11, 1939, in Detroit, the son of Anthony and Elizabeth (Leibsch) Elzerman. He graduated in 1956, from Lakeview High School in St. Clair Shores, and earned a bachelor of science degree in accounting and marketing from the University of Detroit in 1967. Rob worked for General Electric Carbonyl Division from 1959-69; and owned Superior Metal Finishing in Detroit from 1969 until the present. He was a member of the Walloon Lake Community Church.

On Nov. 5, 1960, he married Joyce Hittenberger in Grosse Pointe. They made their home in Canton, wintered in Scottsdale, Ariz., and since 1976, have spent their summers in Charlevoix.

Joyce survives him as do his daughters and their husbands, Robin (James) Petty and Laura (Daniel) Smith; grandsons, Austin and Connor Smith; and his father, Anthony "Tony" (Aleda) Elzerman of Kalamazoo.

Memorial contributions may be made to the Walloon Lake Community Church. The Winchester Funeral Home in Charlevoix is handling the arrangements.

Charlevoix Middle School to host anti-bullying forum

STEVE ZUCKER
INTERIM EDITOR

Officials with Charlevoix Middle School will host a forum for parents and student on preventing bullying at 7 p.m. on Thursday, June 3, in the school's media center.

Middle school principal Keith Haske said the forum will include a presentation by Vicki Seger, a behavior specialist with the Charlevoix-Emmet Intermediate School District.

Haske said Seger will be presenting information on how to recognize the signs that a child might be the victim of bullying and strategies to help reduce the incidence of bullying.

Haske said the forum, to which both parents and students are invited, is intended to give school officials and parents head start on plans for the start of next school year.

Haske said that bullying — continued harassing or threatening speech or actions directed toward one or more students — is on the increase at schools around the country. And Charlevoix Middle School is no exception.

He said studies have found that as many as 90 percent of middle school students nationally report that they have been the victim of bullying.

"It used to be something that mostly happened at school and when you went home, you could get away from it," Haske said. "But today with things like Facebook and text messages, it's more difficult to get away from it."

Haske said he expects the forum to last about an hour.

Charlevoix Junior Golf registration

The Charlevoix Junior Golf program will host registration for its upcoming summer program on Saturday June 12 at the Charlevoix Municipal Golf Course.

Boys and girls ages 8-11 will register at 11 a.m. and ages 12-17 will register at 11:45 a.m.

All enrolling children must have an adult accompany them to hear the orientation message and sign the insurance waiver.

The cost of the program is $50 for the whole program or $5 per week. Players are asked to bring a putter.

The emphasis of the program is on learning the proper grip, stance and swing as well as basic rules and golf course principles.

The program will again be directed by Dean Davenport with help from teaching professionals Joan Waha, Steve Braun, Marty Joy, Keith Grunch and Scott Blechel.

Advanced players will also have the opportunity to earn a free season ticket to the municipal course. This opportunity began recently as a tribute to retiring Belvedere Club golf professional Steve Braun in honor of his many years contributing to junior golfers in both Charlevoix and Flint.

To be eligible to apply for consideration for the free pass program, players must be at least 12 years old and enrolled in the summer program. Recipients will be selected on the basis of their potential and dedication to learn as much as possible about golf.

Boost Your Savings and Investments during "Empty Nest" Years

Benjamin Muladore
Financial Advisor

You've finished paying your children's college bills. Maybe you've even paid off your mortgage. So now that you're in your "empty nest" years, you don't have to worry about where the money is going, right? In reality, you may be caring for aging parents and possibly even dealing with "boomerang" kids returning home. Nonetheless, at this stage of your life, you need to focus your efforts on saving and investing for the retirement lifestyle you've envisioned.

If you're concerned about whether you'll be able to afford retirement, you aren't alone. Consider the following figures from the 2009 Retirement Confidence Survey, published by the Employee Benefit Research Institute:

• Just 13% of the workers surveyed said they are very confident about having enough money for a comfortable retirement. This represents the lowest level since the Retirement Confidence Survey began in 1993.

• Seventy-two percent of workers — up from 66% in 2007 — are planning to supplement their income in retirement by working for pay.

These figures are probably driven, in part, by the recent recession, but they also reflect a general uneasiness among workers about how well they've saved and invested for retirement. As you know, it's not easy to save for retirement and pay for your kids' college and make your mortgage payments. Like many people, you might have just done the best you could for all these years. But if you've finished paying off some major expenses, you might have more chances to boost your retirement savings.

Here are a few suggestions:

• Increase your contributions to your employer-sponsored retirement plan. In 2010, you can put up to $16,500 into your 401(k), 403(b) or 457(b) plan, or $22,000 if you're 50 or older. Your contributions are typically made with pretax dollars, so the more you contribute, the lower your taxable income. Plus, your earnings can grow on a tax-deferred basis.

• Increase your IRA contributions. Even if you have a 401(k) or other employer-sponsored retirement plan, you may still be eligible to contribute to a traditional or Roth IRA. In 2010, you can put $5,000 into an IRA, or $6,000 if you're 60 or older. A traditional IRA grows tax deferred, while a Roth IRA can grow tax free, provided you've held your account at least five years and you don't start taking withdrawals until you're age 59½.

• Rebalance your investment portfolio. Maintaining the right mix of investments can be a balancing act. On one hand, you'll need to own a reasonable percentage of growth-oriented vehicles to potentially boost your retirement savings. On the other hand, if you are within, say, five years of retirement, you may also want to reduce the effects of volatility on your portfolio, which means you'll need some income-producing investments that carry a relatively lower level of investment risk. There's no magic formula for achieving the correct balance, so you'll want to work with a professional financial advisor — someone who knows your goals, risk tolerance and time horizon, and who has the expertise and experience necessary to help you make the right choices.

Becoming an empty nester may provide you with opportunities to do things you haven't done before — such as concentrate your resources on building the type of retirement you deserve.

Rayders on the run

Charlevoix boys capture conference track crown, girls place third

Next for Charlevoix, the state finals.

The Rayder boys' track team captured the Lake Michigan Conference championship in convincing fashion on its home track — Kipke Field — last week.

The Rayders won seven events en route to 177 points.

Defending league champion Traverse City St. Francis was second with 113.5, while Harbor Springs was third with 101.

St. Francis edged Harbor Springs, 132-122, to win the girls' title. Charlevoix was third with 117, while Boyne City placed fourth with 64.

The win for the Rayder boys came four days after they finished second behind host Benzie Central in the Division III regional. The Charlevoix girls were sixth.

Several Rayders qualified for the state meet at the regional. The state meet is Saturday, June 5, at Comstock Park High School.

School.

Eric Buday headlines the Rayders headed to state. At the regional, he was second in the 800-meter run in 1 minute, 58.40 seconds, and third in the 1600, 4:31.80. He teamed with Andrew Plude, Neil Salisbury and Will Larsen in the 3200 relay, which finished second in 8:20.80.

The Rayders got wins in the regional and the ensuing state-meet berths from Casey Helstrom, 110 hurdles, 16:10; Bill Ivan, shot put, 50 feet, 6 inches.

Helstrom was second in the 300 hurdles, Dylan Putman was second in the high jump, Gunner Zipp was second in the long jump, and the Rayders' 1600 relay team of Plude, Salisbury, Helstrom and Buday finished third and came in under the qualifying time to earn a trip to the finals.

While the Charlevoix girls failed to qualify any athletes for the state meet, coach Mary Plude said it was a satisfying day.

"Not getting anyone to states is a disappointment, but we really did have some great performances," she said. "I'm the most proud of that. It was great to see they went out and performed. We knew we were in an uphill battle."

In the league meet, Buday won both the 1600 and the 800;

Helstrom won the 110 and 300 hurdles; Ivan captured the shot put; and Charlevoix won both the 1600 and 3200 relays.

"We had a good plan coming in and some of the teams here were a little sore," coach Ken Plude said. "I know St. Francis pulled some guys out of key events and I ended up having to move some guys around as well."

Andrew Plude, Kirk Acharya, Will Larsen and Vinny VonLau teamed up to win the 3200 relay, while Jake

McLean, Neil Salisbury, Plude and Larsen won the 1600 relay. It was the first time that those four athletes, in both relays, competed together.

"We had people that were injured and we had some guys fill in for some relays that don't normally get the limelight and they ended up being conference champs," coach Plude said. "It was a great team effort."

In the girls' meet, Charlevoix's Sarah Potter won the shot put.

Fourth straight district golf title

This is what they've been playing for.

The Charlevoix High School golf team will look to take the next step on Thursday, June 3, when it goes to the Division III regional tournament on Katke Golf Club on the campus of Ferris State University in Big Rapids.

The Rayders shot 343 Friday on the Betsey Valley Course at Crystal Mountain to win their fourth consecutive district title. Thomas Rich carded a 6-over par 78 to capture medalist honors and lead the Rayders.

"A phenomenal round," second-year Charlevoix coach Doug Drenth said of Rich's day. "He played smart, kept the ball in play.

The course was narrow with lots of water, and he did a great job of course management. I'm just really proud of the way he played. He really came through."

The Rayders needed Rich as all four of his teammates shot 87 or higher, uncharacteristically high numbers for the Rayders, who are ranked ninth in the Division III state coaches poll.

"Like we said Friday, 'This (district) is over with put it behind you and let's go,'" Drenth said. "We really feel like we have some great rounds left in us. If we play like we did on Friday, we'll be in trouble at the regional. I think we will (play well); I'm excited, the guys are excited."

"We just have to play our own game and I think if we do, we'll be fine. They know Katke well. They've all gone to the camp at Ferris State."

The Rayders' chief competition at the regional will likely come from host Big Rapids, the defending state runner-up which is ranked second. Charlevoix was second, by five shots, to the Cardinals last year at the regional.

Remus Chippewa Hill, Benzie Central and Roscommon are also among the likely contenders.

"We just want to go down and compete," Drenth said. "All year we've been preaching one shot at a time and I think if we do that, the kids' preparation will take care of itself. We just have to manage the course well and be real steady. We don't want to get too high or too low."

Also for Charlevoix in the district, Boog Nitchman shot 87 to place ninth, Wyatt Drost shot 88, Ty Jones shot 90, and Gunner Whitley shot 91.

Benzie Central was second with 352, and Roscommon placed third, one shot behind the Huskie. Kalkaska shot 366 to place fourth, Houghton Lake shot 377 to fifth, and Grayling shot 380 to place sixth. The top six teams advance to Thursday's regional. Manistee shot 383 to place seventh, followed by Mason County Central, 402; Boyne City; Kingsley, 413; and Elk Rapids, 422.

Districts could bring high drama for Rayder soccer team

Pretty much every storyline one could imagine, if everything falls into place.

Revenge. A championship on the line. Longtime rivals. Win-or-go-home.

That's the way it shapes up for the Charlevoix High School girls' soccer team as it entered the Division IV state tournament this week.

The Rayders, 12-5-3, were scheduled to play Burt Lake Northern Michigan Christian Academy, 15-3, in the district opener on Tuesday. The winner was slated to play Boyne City 7 p.m. Wednesday at Harbor Springs. The winner of that game advances to Friday's 7 p.m. championship game at Harbor's Ottawa Stadium.

The likely opponent? The host Rams, who last week wrapped up the Lake Michigan Conference championship. Harbor defeated Charlevoix twice in the regular season, 3-1 and 2-1. The second matchup went to double overtime.

Those were two of Charlevoix's three losses in the league. The other came last week, 3-2, to Elk Rapids in overtime when the Elks scored with just 15 seconds remaining. The Rayders finished tied for third place at 10-3-1 in the Lake Michigan Conference with the T.C. Liberty.

None of that, however, matters now as Charlevoix focuses squarely on the tournament, and its opener with NMCA.

"One of the things the girls brought up in a meeting we had was we need to play to win, and not play to lose," Charlevoix coach Carol Madison said. "We have to attack the ball and be thinking to win."

"Being a young team, the girls have learned a lot of lessons and a some tough lessons. I've been pleased with the girls' focus and the goals they've set for themselves and the team."

olena Elowsky added one assist apiece.

It was the first varsity goal for Brandi, a freshman. Anna Way posted the shutout.

Coach Madison lauded the play of stopper Katie Parano, sweeper Savannah Joseph, defenders Cristin Cole and Grace Glenny, midfielders Megan Pe-Rayders squandered a 2-0 lead.

Herboldschiemer scored the Rayders' opening goal with an assist from Carlson, then Smith tallied off a feed from Hallie Bills.

"We played an outstanding first half," coach Madison said.

"We had a good plan going in and we stuck to the plan, we rotated defensively and did some good things. After Elk Rapids scored about 20 minutes in the second half, we started getting down a little bit."

Madison lauded the strong play of freshman goalkeeper Bailey Stevens, who made several outstanding saves including a key stop in overtime.

She also lauded the play of Elowsky, Joseph and Kelley Greyerbiel along with stopper Caroline Dupuis.

Taylor Smith scored two goals, while Abbey Barnes, Madison Way and Maura Brandi also scored. Way finished with two assists, and Hallie Bills and Carters and Sydney Carlson, along with Brandi and Elowsky.

The Rayders' heartbreak of their loss to Elk Rapids was compounded by the fact that the Elks scored the game-winner with just 15 seconds remaining in overtime, and the fact that the

I care!

I care about the environment.
I care about protecting our bay.

It's been 62 years since my father founded Boyne Resorts, beginning with Boyne Mountain.

As tourism has grown and the region has developed over the decades, our business has grown too. Now more than 600,000 people visit our three northern Michigan resorts each year and at peak times, we are the region's largest employer.

It's our family business. We've been here for decades, and we're going to be here for many generations to come.

I care about the Little Traverse Bay Environmental Project because the work being done to protect the bay is benefiting and will continue to benefit our communities and the valued visitors who come year after year.

Taking action to protect the bay is an investment of time and resources that goes to the very heart of our community's long-term interests and our economy. And I believe that by keeping the bay clean, we are protecting northwest Michigan's most treasured asset.

Rayder baseball, softball teams in district title hunt

Potentially, there are a pair of trophies out there for the taking for the Charlevoix High School baseball and softball teams.

But, as always, there are hurdles — some higher than others — along the way.

Both teams were scheduled to play Boyne City on Tuesday in pre-district games. The winners advance to the district semifinals/finals on Saturday, June 5, at East Jordan.

The Rayder-Rambler winner in softball is scheduled to play East Jordan — co-champions of the Lake Michigan Conference — in a semifinal game 11:30 a.m. Saturday. The winner advances to the title game against either Harbor Springs or Mancelona.

In baseball, the Charlevoix-Boyne winner will take on East Jordan at 10 a.m. Saturday with the winner moving to the title game, which is scheduled to begin at 2 p.m. The other semifinal, which begins at noon on Saturday, features Harbor Springs and East Jordan.

Based on regular-season performance, Boyne City (baseball) and East Jordan (softball) would appear to be the favorites in the district.

The Rayder baseball team went 1-3 last week, splitting with Newberry and then dropping two to Central Lake, 3-1 and 12-2, in its final regular-season game.

Against Newberry, Alex Foster struck out six and walked two in firing a one-hitter in the opener, a 4-0 Rayder win.

Jordan Farmer had two hits and an RBI to lead Charlevoix at the plate, while Clayton Mitchell doubled, and Foster and Andrew Potter each singled.

Charlevoix rallied with three runs in the top of the sixth inning to tie the nightcap, 4-4.

The Indians pushed across the winning run in the bottom of the seventh, using a hit batsman, a single, a bunt single and a fielder's choice to hand Charlevoix a 5-4 loss.

Coby Herriman had three hits including a double to lead Charlevoix at the plate, while Bill Ivan had three hits, Potter added two, and C.J. Klunkle, Mitchell and Isaac Klooster each singled. Klooster finished with two RBI, while Ivan and Herriman had one each.

Foster took the loss in relief of Herriman, who allowed four runs on six hits, while walking three and striking out six over 5 2/3 innings.

Against Central Lake, the Trojans used a seven-run second inning to break open game two. Mitchell had the lone hit for the Rayders.

In game one, Mitchell had two hits, while Ivan, Foster, Potter and Farmer each singled.

Ivan and Foster each picked up an RBI.

Farmer, Charlevoix's catcher, threw out two baserunners attempting to steal, bringing his season total to 20 caught stealing. Mitchell allowed nine hits, walked one and struck out six in taking the loss.

The Rayder softball team entered Tuesday's pre-district riding a four-game win streak that began with a 6-0, 6-1 sweep of Newberry.

Hannah Hybl tossed a three-hitter in the opener and Kristen Mielke threw a four-hitter in the nightcap to lead the Rayder sweep.

Hybl struck out nine in game one. Katie Hybl, Maddie Zimmerman, Hannah Hybl, Anna

Moon, Emily Mielke and Nicole Pischner each had a hit to lead the Rayders at the plate.

Kristen Mielke struck out seven and walked two in the nightcap. Moon doubled and Pischner had two hits to pace Charlevoix at the plate, while Megan Klooster, Maddie Zimmerman and Katie Hybl each singled.

The Rayders closed the regular season with a sweep of Central Lake, 7-1 and 4-2.

Hannah Hybl singled and doubled and was the winning pitcher in the opener. She struck out six in tossing a three-hitter.

Kristen Mielke added two hits, Zimmerman doubled, and Moon and Megan Klooster each singled.

Mielke struck out eight in throwing a four-hitter in game two. Nicole Pischner had the Rayders' lone hit.

The Rayders were 19-10-1 entering their pre-district with Boyne.

Hundreds of People Cash In at the Petoskey Roadshow Yesterday

By Jason DeLong
Treasure Hunters Roadshow
STAFF WRITER

Yesterday at the Holiday Inn Express, hundreds lined up to cash in on the Roadshow. The free event is in Petoskey all week buying gold, silver antiques and collectibles.

"It is unbelievable, I brought in some old coins that had been in a little cigar box for years and some old herringbone necklaces and in less than fifteen minutes I left with a check for $712.37."

One visitor I spoke with yesterday said "It's unbelievable, I brought in some old coins that had been in a little cigar box for years and some old herringbone necklaces and in less than fifteen minutes I left with a check for $712.37. That stuff has been in my jewelry box and dresser for at least 20 years." Another gentleman brought an old Fender guitar his father bought years ago. "Dad had less than fifty bucks in that guitar." The Roadshow expert that assisted him, made a few phone calls and a Veterinarian in Seattle, Washington bought the guitar for $5700.00. The seller continued, "I got another $150.00 for a broken necklace and an old class ring, it's not everyday someone brings six thousand dollars to town with your name on it."

Jeff Parsons, President of the Treasure Hunters Roadshow commented, "Lots of people have items that they know are valuable but just don't know where to sell them.

Old toys, trains, swords, guitars, pocket watches or just about anything old is valuable to collectors. These collectors are willing to pay big money for those items they are looking for."

This week's Roadshow is the place to get connected with those collectors. The process is free and anyone can bring items down to the event. If the Roadshow experts find items their collectors are interested in, offers will be made to purchase those items. About 80% of the guests that attend the show end up selling one or more items at the event.

Antiques and collectibles are not the only items the Roadshow is buying. "Gold and silver markets are soaring," says Archie Davis, a Roadshow representative. "Broken jewelry and gold or silver coins add up very quickly. I just finished working with a gentleman that had an old class ring, two bracelets, and handful of silver dollars... his check was for over $650.00. I would say that there were well over 100 people in here yesterday that sold their scrap gold."

One gentleman holding his check for over $1250.00 in the lobby of the event yesterday had this comment, "I am so happy I decided to come to the Roadshow. I saw the newspaper ad for the event and brought in an old German sword I brought back from World War II and some old coins and here is my check. What a great thing for our community. I am heading home now to see what else I have they might be interested in."

The Roadshow continues today starting at 9am. The event is free and no appointment is needed.

Bergmann Center, Inc. of Charlevoix would like to extend a huge THANK YOU to the community for their continued support, making our 8th Annual "Starlight" Dinner and Live Auction a great success. Over $13,300 was raised at this event that took place on May 2, 2010 at the Emmet County Community Building in Petoskey. We would like to give a special thanks to John Murray for providing his wonderful auction expertise, Grey Gables for the great food, Chris Copeland's Jazz Trio for the music, the staff, clients & Board Members at Bergmann Center, our volunteers and the many supporters who turned out to help support us. We appreciate you!

Patrons/people who donated items for the auction, their time and talents!

4 chambers join for Business After Hours on June 23

Four area chambers of commerce are joining together to sponsor a regional business after hours networking extravaganza from 5-7:30 p.m. on Wednesday, June 23, at the new One Water development on the waterfront in Boyne City.

The event will feature networking among chamber members from Boyne City, East Jordan, Charlevoix and Petoskey. More than 200 business people are expected to attend. Admission is $5 for members of any participating chamber, or $10 for non-members. No RSVPs are necessary.

Hors d'oeuvres will be provided by the new Café Santé restaurant, a casual, European-style bistro which is now open in the One Water development. The event will include a cash bar and entertainment by Pete Kehoe.

In addition to Café Santé, One Water includes a 24-hour marina on Lake Charlevoix, Alpine Chocolat Haus, Kidd & Leavy Real Estate and administrative offices for Michigan Community Dental Clinics.

A 37-room hotel will be built in the second phase of the development, which is owned by Catt Development of Gaylord.

For information about the Business After Hours, call the host Boyne Area Chamber at (231) 582-6222.

Harbor Industries among service award finalists

Harbor Industries, a manufacturer of product displays, is among the top five finalists for Michigan's Governor's Service Award in the Corporate Community Leader category.

This award honors businesses that demonstrate excellent corporate citizenship by giving back to their community through corporate volunteer programs, monetary contributions, in-kind gifts and employee-driven volunteer service.

Harbor Industries, which is based in Grand Haven and has a factory in Charlevoix, was nominated by Char-Em United Way for the award.

"Char-Em United Way is pleased to nominate Harbor Industries for this award," says Martha Lancaster, executive director. "We always cite them as an excellent example of a firm which encourages volunteerism and philanthropy throughout its entire corporate culture. The local Day of Caring originated with Harbor Industries and they are the impetus for United Way's year-round Volunteer Connections project."

Harbor Industries takes part in community-wide events such as the Pink Ribbon Ride, American Red Cross blood drives, Relay for Life, Project Connect, Day of Caring, Project Petunia, Toys for Tots, Mr. and Mrs. Claus for Harbor Kids at Boulder Park, Grand Haven Basket Luncheon Fund-raiser, the Boomerang Event, the Coast Guard festival and food and clothing drives.

The company also contributes financially to programs that improve lives. In 2009, Harbor Industries' employees pledged $25,329 to Char-Em

United Way, and the corporation matched $2,500 — totaling 9 percent of the campaign's goal. Campaign proceeds are allocated to health and human service programs serving many residents of Emmet and Charlevoix counties.

More than 130 nominations were submitted for the service awards, making note of exemplary efforts by Michigan's citizens and organizations.

A celebration reception to honor all finalists and announce the winner is planned for June 24 at the Gem Theater in Detroit.

Pine River Inc. wins recognition

Pine River Inc. is among 12 companies selected to receive the 2009 Best Small Business Award from the Michigan Small Business & Technology Development Center.

These honorees were chosen from among the more than 15,000 which the center provided with confidential counseling and training last year.

Award recipients were chosen not only upon the basis of their success in terms of sales, employment and business strategy, but also on the company's economic impact and the involvement of the Michigan Small Business & Technology Development Center in providing assistance to reach their goals.

Charlevoix-based Pine River's main product is the "e-log," a man-made building piece that simulates the look of log siding. E-log siding has an appearance similar to solid wood and offers significant energy saving compared to a traditional log home. Pine River has had its products featured three times on the ABC television show: "Extreme Makeover, Home Edition."

Theresa Sickles of the MI-SBTDC Manufacturing Assistance Team helped the company to fully understand its financial direction. She assisted the company in making educated decisions to determine the types of markets to pursue and to improve overall cash flow management.

Joe Battieger of the MI-SBTDC Growth/Tech Team worked with Pine River's president Mike Way to recognize viable distribution channels and refine an overall sales message and business plan.

Framer gets honorable mention at convention

Georganna Monk of Frar Tuck's Gallery and Frame in Horton Bay received an honorable mention at Nelson's Moulding and Frame's annual Print Frame Competition on May 15. Monk competed against eight other framers. The print was called "Barbed Wire Blues" by Michael Monroe. Monk created a contemporary piece utilizing two inner fillets and a brown frame with real barbed wire to accent the print. Call Frar Tuck's Gallery at (231) 883-9867 in Horton Bay to set up an appointment to view the winning piece.

Haske steps down as principal and coach

ANDY SNEDDON
NEWS-REVIEW SPORTS
EDITOR

It didn't take long for Keith Haske to find a new job.

On Monday, Haske announced his retirement as Charlevoix Middle School principal and resigned as the Rayders' boys' basketball coach, ending a long and highly successful run on the basketball court at the school. Monday evening, he was in the gym at Traverse City St. Francis, putting his new boys' basketball team through a workout. "Absolutely crazy that I was standing in there last night," Haske said this morning. "Truly excited about the opportunity from a coaching standpoint. We're looking at whole new way of changing the way they play basketball there. ... I thought that's why it was important I got down there and got things going."

Haske, 52, will become the dean of students at St. Francis and teach two classes. In retiring from Charlevoix, a public school, he may now begin drawing on his pension while working full-time as an administrator/teacher/coach at St. Francis, a parochial school.

Haske said he began weighing his options and looking long-term when he was turned down for the job as Charlevoix Elementary School principal in early May.

Haske, who has been with the district for 13 years, the last nine as middle school principal, said the possibility of the district eliminating its middle school building, and, therefore its middle school principal position, led him to consider his options.

"There's nothing protecting me

Man dies while cycling

Authorities in Charlevoix County believe it was likely a medical condition that led a downstate man's death while cycling north of Charlevoix Sunday, May 30.

Charlevoix County Sheriff Don Schneider identified the deceased as Michael Terry Harris, 63, of Okemos.

Schneider said Harris was riding a bicycle on the Charlevoix-to-Petoskey non-motorized trail along U.S. 31 near Villa Road in Hayes Township when he apparently collapsed, ran off the trail and struck a tree. He said a passer-by found Harris and called 9-1-1.

Harris was transported to Charlevoix Area Hospital by Allied EMS where he was pronounced dead.

Police are treating the death as an accident.

Deputies were assisted in the investigation by the Michigan State Police.

if the middle school disappears," he said. "I felt a little bit uneasy about that."

Haske asked the Charlevoix School Board members at their May meeting if they were considering closing the middle school and going to a two-building district. Board members assured him that would not happen for the 2010-11 school year, but didn't rule it out beyond that.

When news spread in the educational/athletics community that Haske did not get the elementary principal's job, St. Francis began making overtures, he said, adding that the move comes at a professional crossroads for him. He has been Charlevoix's middle school principal for nine years.

"I was looking to maybe do a little something different professionally when that (elementary job) fell through," Haske said. "I kind of said maybe there's something else out there for me."

In Haske's first four years at Charlevoix, he was an assistant principal and the athletic director in addition to coaching. He said talk of Charlevoix implementing a rule barring administrators from coaching also weighed in his decision. That talk became more pronounced over the past couple of years, he said.

"It was something that I guess I was pretty frustrated with, let's just say that," he said, refusing to get into specifics. "It's frustrating because of all the time you put in and the commitment you make in the team and the community. It was just frustrating."

Haske, one of the most successful basketball coaches in Northern Michigan history, leaves an incredible legacy at Charlevoix.

He came to Charlevoix from St. Johns, taking over the Rayders' boys' basketball program in 1998. In 13 seasons, he guided the Rayders to 10 Class C district championships, six regional titles, four state semifinal appearances and state runner-up berths (2001, '04).

He compiled a 239-78 record (a .753 win percentage) and led Charlevoix to four Lake Michigan Conference championships and five runner-up finishes. The Rayders tied for fifth place in the league in Haske's first year, 1997-98, and never finished below third thereafter.

In '97-98, the Haske-coached Rayders finished 6-15 and he never had a losing record after that. In fact, the Rayders never lost more than nine games in a season in Haske's final 12 years. He coached the Charlevoix girls' program from 2004-06, leading the Rayders to a 27-1 record and a state runner-up finish in 2004.

District superintendent Chet Janik, who is finishing his third year in Charlevoix, said he will miss working with Haske.

"I've enjoyed working with Keith on personal and professional basis," Janik said. "I think he really set a legacy here both in the classroom and on the basketball court."

Janik said Haske middle school principal's position is posted within the school district with a June 18 application deadline. The coaching position will be posted later.

Charlevoix and St. Francis were perennial contenders for the conference championship while Haske was on the Rayder bench, and they also met several times in the state tournament.

"It's a bittersweet pill," Haske said. "We had great kids coming back here. I work with a great teaching staff, just great people I work with every day. To walk away from that, that's as hard as walking away from basketball. We had quality kids, kids you like spending time with, and kids who you want to be a part of their life."

Haske said he and his family plan to remain in Charlevoix. His wife, Barb, is a teacher in Harbor Springs. Their daughter, Chelsy, graduated from Charlevoix on Sunday, and their son, Ty, graduated in 2007.

"We love the community, we love Charlevoix, we love the people here," Haske said. "At this point, we're planning on staying."

Motivating win

Charlevoix's Nicholas Williams and partner win state-wide scholarship contest

STEVE ZUCKER
EDITOR

Who says that watching TV is a waste of time?

Certainly not Charlevoix's Nicholas Williams who, along with his friend and project partner Tarun Koshy, recently won the first-ever Motivate Michigan scholarship competition.

On May 24, Williams and Koshy won the state-wide contest for college students and its top prize of a $20,000 scholarship with their proposal to manufacture underwater electric turbines and install them in Michigan's rivers.

Williams, 19, is a 2008 Charlevoix High School graduate and just completed his sophomore year at the University of Michigan where he is majoring in engineering. He is the son of Kurt and Linda Beuthin of Charlevoix.

Williams said Koshy, who he met in the dorms his freshman year, came to him with the idea for their contest entry after watching a short piece on the Discovery Channel about underwater generators being used in the Hudson River to provide power for a shopping center and parking garage.

The two students then created a presentation for the competition showing how the production and use of this fairly new technology could help recharge the state's economy both in the manufacturing sector and through the renewable energy they would supply.

Williams said their research on the project showed that similar turbines in Norway generate enough power to supply about 30 houses each. According to the organization's website, the objective of "Motivate Michigan" is to initiate creative ideas to improve the economy of Michigan. Incoming freshmen and students enrolled in Michigan's colleges and universities competed for scholarships and internships provided by sponsoring companies and organizations. The ideas were judged on creativity, originality, practicality, and the potential economic impact to the state of Michigan.

More than 300 ideas were received from virtually every university in the state that were pared down to 10 semifinalists. An online vote that attracted more than 5,000 participants produced the five finalists that made their presentations to a panel of judges on May 24.

Williams, who is back in Charlevoix for the summer working at Esperance, said his $10,000 share of the scholarship is nice, but the exposure to the business community and resume boost he and Koshy got from the contest are probably worth as much or more.

COMPLEMENTS TO GAYLE

Editor:
I am writing to extend sincere compliments regarding a recent article written by Gayle Gennett in the Charlevoix Courier titled, "Water, Water Everywhere and Not a Drop to Drink" (June 2). As a prominent and recognized writer in our area, I appreciate Ms. Gennett's efforts to stimulate local awareness, appreciation, and concern for our precious water resources. What she eloquently contributes through this article reaffirms the "think-globally, act-locally" mantra so perfectly!

For over 31 years, Tip of the Mitt Watershed Council has worked to maintain the environmental integrity and economic and aesthetic values of lakes, streams, wetlands, and ground water. The Watershed Council has been an effective voice both locally and across the Great Lakes Basin, assisting citizens, organizations, and influencing policy makers. By coupling our local perspective with regional initiatives, we are able to protect your water resources on all fronts.

Most recently, we have played a major role in infrastructure improvements and reconstruction of Park Avenue and State Street in downtown Charlevoix to include the installation of storm water treatment facilities to clean runoff, a serious nonpoint source pollution problem in watersheds. It is estimated that the Park Avenue drainage basin alone contributes 1,788 pounds of sediment and 8.5 pounds of phosphorous annually. This project, now underway will greatly reduce pollution into Lake Charlevoix and strengthens our partnership with the City of Charlevoix for future collaborations in heightened protection of our water quality.

Tip of the Mitt Watershed Council is also working with partners in Charlevoix County and throughout our service area to establish long-term programs to safely dispose of unwanted or expired pharmaceuticals. An Associated Press five-month investigation concludes a vast array of pharmaceuticals have been found in drinking water supplies of at least 41 million Americans. According to the United States Geological Survey, over 80 percent of waterways tested in the United States show traces of common medications such as acetaminophen, hormones, blood pressure medicine, codeine, and antibiotics. The continuous exposure to low levels of pharmaceuticals can harm aquatic communities. The Watershed Council recently received a grant from the Charlevoix County Community Foundation to develop a community pharmaceutical collection program in Charlevoix County which will include a medicine drop-off collection event tentatively scheduled for Sept. 11.

In our outreach and education efforts, we have just successfully launched the 16th annual Experience Lake Charlevoix with the Lake Charlevoix Association. Over 300 area students were invited to board the Beaver Island on May 18 and 19 learning awareness, protection, and stewardship of Lake Charlevoix. On June 29, we join our friends at the Inland Seas Education Association to implement another Day on the Bay. This day-long experience in Charlevoix will include discussions about some major threats facing the Great Lakes and specific ways to help implement solutions to these problems.

I encourage readers to consider joining Tip of the Mitt Watershed Council as a member this year. As a nonprofit, your financial support is vital to the continued success of these important programs along with our ongoing education and advocacy efforts towards the battle over aquatic invasive species. Invasives such as nonnative phragmites eventually becomes the sole dominant plant in many wetlands at the expense of native flora, and Asian carp, which continues to be a tremendous threat which could devastate our Great Lakes ecosystem.

Readers are encouraged to contact our office in Petoskey at (231) 347-1181 or visit us on the Web at www.watershedcouncil.org for more information.

SENIOR PARTY

Editor:
The parents of the 2010 CHS Senior All Night Party Committee would like to extend our deep appreciation and gratitude to the Charlevoix Elks Club and to Chee Peng Restaurant for their help in our fundraising efforts for the class of 2010. We thank the Elks for allowing us to host a Texas Hold 'Em tournament and silent auction in April, and we thank the Hang family for making the all-you-can-eat buffet available in early May. These two fundraisers, along with support from community businesses, parents, and a Little Caesars Pizza sale, made it possible for us to fund our plan for the all-night party following graduation. Finally, we cannot forget to thank all the members of the community who came out to participate in these fundraisers. Without your support, a safe, drug and alcohol free party, would not have been possible.

Sincerely,
Judith Ivan, member of the CHS Class of 2010 Senior All-Night Party Committee

BOAT LAUNCH AT FERRY BEACH

Dear Editor:
Every single time my family launches a boat at the Ferry Beach boat launch, there is a very long line. If we were to put in more launches there would be less of a wait and more people would be able to use Lake Charlevoix. I think it would be a very good idea to put in more boat launches.

One of the main reasons we should do this is for safety. This would be able to cut down on the number of clogs at the launches and increase the number of people using them. Boats would be safer with more of them too because less boats would come speeding in. Personally, I would not want to dent or even scratch my $70,000 boat for a spot in line.

Another reason we should do this is to make it more convenient to get in and out of the water. Since it would be easier more people would pay to go out of that launch instead of a private one and not paying anything. More people would be able to participate in the trout tournament this would let tourists know about Venetian so they would spend more money in Charlevoix.

The last reason we should do this is to allow people and tourists from other towns on the lake easy access to Ferry Beach. This would help our small businesses on the lake, for example Irish Boat Shop and Kelsey B's. It would also spread out the tourist population instead of all of them downtown. More residents of Charlevoix would move to that area so it would help real-estate.

For these reasons and more, I think we should put in more launches at Ferry Beach, mainly for safety, convenience, and to allow more people to come to Charlevoix. So please support my idea.

Sincerely,
Ben Boss

should go back to horse and carriage life.

Car accidents happen. Who wants to get in a car accident? I don't. First of all, cars hit the back of other cars. When cars go too fast, they will hit the car ahead of them. When people text or talk on their cell phones they can go into another lane and they can go head on and that is very dangerous.

If we stopped using cars we would have no pollution. There are a lot of reasons why we should stop polluting. We would be helping save the rain-forest and every car counts. It's better for the wild animals, they have to breathe in that stuff. Car pollution kills the wildlife. It is better for us to breathe if we stop using cars.

There's a lot of things getting hit by cars. First of all people get hit by speeding cars when people are crossing the street. Animals get hit by speeding cars. When going too fast or someone is a bad driver they are most likely to hit the other car.

I hope you can see that we should stop using cars and go back to horse and carriage life.

Sincerely,
Hannah Ennis

INDOOR/OUTDOOR SKATEPARK

Dear Editor:
Indoor/outdoor skate park in Charlevoix.

Where? No where.

Well, I think they should add on to the skatepark, and make an indoor half to the skate park.

My first reason is adding an indoor part to the skatepark. Skateboarders could skateboard all year long. But the only way we could do that is if they had an indoor half. The skate park would have an income on a lot that the Charlevoix Skate Park pays for all year. They could have more people in the park at one time.

The skate park now is too small. By expanding the skate park, it would make the park bigger. How the park is now, it can only fit about 15 to 20 people at one time. If adding an indoor, you could fit about 15 to 20 more people. The indoor half would double the size of the park.

It would help keep skateboarders from skateboarding in town. Instead the skaters would skate in the park. If they still had a problem they could add a street area in Skate Park. More people would come to town with less skateboarders.

That is why I think we should have an indoor/outdoor skate park. Thanks for reading.

City to unveil draft master plan

STEVE ZUCKER COURIER EDITOR

After months of gathering community input, Charlevoix city officials are ready to unveil a draft of a proposed city master plan at a meeting slated for 7 p.m. Monday, June 14, at the Charlevoix Public Library.

City planner Mike Spencer said this next big step in the master plan process will include a presentation on how the draft document was created, where the process goes from here and an overview of what's in the document.

Spencer explained that a master plan is a document that will help city leaders make both long- and short-term decisions in the coming months and years.

He said although city leaders are not legally bound to follow the direction laid out in the master plan when it is finally approved, it can be very useful for officials making decisions on everything from planning and zoning issues to which projects the city should undertake and how.

Spencer said Monday's is intended to be merely an introduction and overview of the 100-page draft master plan.

He said later this month the city's planning commission will be expected to revisit the document to consider any revisions that may come up for discussion. He said, perhaps at the city council's first meet-

EVENT DETAILS

WHAT: Draft master plan unveiling meeting

WHEN: 7 p.m., Monday, June 14

WHERE: Charlevoix Public Library

WHO: Charlevoix Planning Commission

WHY: To introduce a draft version of the city's proposed new master plan ing in July, the draft document could officially be "released" for a required 62-day public review period.

The planning commission expects to conduct a public hearing on the draft plan at 7 p.m. on Monday, Sept. 13, to take oral public comments and evaluate all written comments received through the review period. The planning commission then may make changes based on public comments and finalize the draft for possible adoption by the city council in October.

Once approved, the new master plan will replace the city's existing plan, which dates back more than two decades.

The draft master plan will include the following sections:

— an introduction, including discussions on the purpose of the plan, how it was created and the importance of the plan

— a community profile including summaries of its history, environment, demographics, existing land uses, "character areas," development, transportation, infrastructure, and other elements

— a community vision and goals section including a discussion on public involvement, "smart growth," visions and goals.

— a "Charlevoix Tomorrow" section that discusses areas such as community and neighborhood character, commercial development, employment areas, transportation, and community facilities

— a section on implementing the goals set out including priority projects, zoning analysis an "implementation matrix" and funding sources — appendices with reports and data from which were used in creating the draft document.

City officials plan to post the draft master plan on the city's website, www.charlevoixcity.org

OBITUARIES

Nellie Mae Holborn: April 11, 1923 - May 31, 2010

Nellie Mae Holborn, 87, of Charlevoix, passed away Monday, May 31, 2010, at the Charlevoix Area Hospital. She was born April 11, 1923, in Charlevoix, the daughter of Walter and Edith (Russell) Vosburg. She spent her childhood years living in both Charlevoix and Detroit. After graduating from high school she moved back to Charlevoix where she met and married the love of her life, Earl Holborn.

On Aug. 23, 1944, they married in Petoskey and made their home in Charlevoix. Earl preceded her in death on Feb. 16, 1983.

Nellie had a great love for music and dance and was always up for a party. She dearly loved her extended family and friends. She had the gift of staying young throughout her life which gave her many friends from all age groups.

Nellie is survived by her son, Melvin D. (Marilynn)

Holborn of Hobbs, New Mexico; daughter, Sherry L. (Gale P.) Sheldon of Charlevoix; grandchildren, Ty (Heather) Holborn, and Chris (Tracey) Holborn all of Manhattan, Kan.; Nicole (Bernie) Garigan of McKinleyville, Calif.; Matthew P. Sheldon of Traverse City; great-grandchildren, Parker and Pierce Holborn, Brody and Finn Garigan; sister and best friend, Hilda Beach of Traverse City; many special nieces and nephews and grand-nieces and nephews. Nellie's son David preceded her in death in 2007. She was also preceded in death by two sisters and a brother.

A memorial service will be announced in July. Memorial contributions may be made to the charity of choice or the Charlevoix Area Hospital. Arrangements are being handled by the Winchester Funeral Home in Charlevoix.

John E. Donalds II: February 17, 1925 - March 4, 2010

John E. Donalds II, 85, passed away peacefully at The Lodge Care Center in Loveland, Ohio, on March 4, 2010.

John was born Feb. 17, 1925 to Helen T. Donalds and John E. Donalds in St. Croix Falls, Wis. John served in WWII as a pilot in the Army Air Corps. Upon his honorable discharge as 2nd Lieutenant, John received his bachelor of science degree in chemical engineering from the University of Minnesota and his masters degree from the Harvard Business School. John enjoyed a long and illustrious career with Dow Chemical Company in Midland, Mich. He retired in 1985 as the manager of the genetics research division to become the CEO of collaborative research in Lexington, Mass. An avid sailor all his life, John officially retired to his homes in Stuart, Fla. and Charlevoix, in 1987. John is preceded in death by his wife, Amanda Perry Donalds, and daughters Elizabeth Donalds and Linda Voll. John is survived by his daughter, Katherine D. Stone, his son, John E. Donalds III, grandchildren Paul J. Hopkins, Jeffrey R. Hopkins, Stephanie M. Donalds, Christopher J. Donalds, and great grandchild Kerry N. Hopkins.

A memorial gathering will take place at 2:30 p.m. Friday, June 11, at St. Mary's Church, 1003 Bridge Street, Charlevoix. In lieu of flowers, donations can be made to CurePSP, Executive Plaza III, 11350 McCormick Road, Suite 906, Hunt Valley, MD 21031.

The family was served by Schmidt-Dhonau-Kuener Funeral Home, Cincinnati, Ohio.

Household hazardous waste drop-off day

Charlevoix County residents will have the opportunity to properly dispose of unwanted household chemicals and other items at the Charlevoix County Household Hazardous Waste

Drop Off Day slated for 9 a.m.-2 p.m. on Saturday, June 12. Common household hazardous wastes include oven cleaners, drain openers, metal cleaners and polishes, used motor oil, paint thinners, insecticides, fertilizers and much more. Also, for those who have mercury thermometers, they may be exchanged for new and improved digital thermometers. Electronics are also accepted. You may bring three for free and a monetary donation is expected for additional items. A reservation is required so be sure to get a time slot by calling (231) 582-6193.

The drop-off will take place in Charlevoix. The exact location will be given to people when they call for their reservations. Questions may be directed to Shirley Roloff at (231) 547-6169 or Kelly at (231) 582-6193.

Riding big wheels to school

Recent Northwest Academy graduate Evan Themm celebrated the completion of a school project and the end of his senior year when he drove his recently restored 1940 Farmall H tractor to school from his family's home on Beatty Road on one of his last days of school. Evan has been restoring the tractor, given to him by Ken Mousseau, in neighbor Denny Way's shop since last fall.

East Jordan won't budge on city administrator contract

JENNIFER RICHARDSON
NEWS-REVIEW STAFF
WRITER

At its Tuesday, June 1, meeting the East Jordan City Commission voted down adjustments to an employment contract that had been offered to Robert Anderson of South Carolina, the commission's top pick for the city administrator position vacated by David White last fall.

Commissioner Thomas "Tinker" Breaky called Anderson's requests, "totally out of line."

At issue were adjustments to the salary — the commission offered $68,500; Anderson countered with $70,000. Additionally, Anderson requested 10 vacation days to be used between the time he takes on the job and the end of December 2010. For subsequent years, Anderson requested 20 vacation days.

"I plain don't like it," said Breaky.

In a 4-3 decision, the commission voted down Anderson's requests. Voting yes to accept Anderson's requests were commissioners Ray Fisher, Carron Rogers and Jane Booz. Voting against were Breaky, Tina Spence, Paul Timmons and Russ Peck.

It took Torrez about 45 minutes to land the huge fish.

Young Americans coming to Charlevoix

The Young Americans will bring their high-energy singing and dancing performance to the Charlevoix Performing Arts Center at 7:30 p.m. Saturday, June 12.

Two Northern Michigan residents will be among the cast who will tour the area for a week of performances before beginning their 33rd season of dinner theater at Boyne Highlands in Harbor Springs on June 25.

Angelo Santini, 20, a 2008 graduate of Concord Academy in Petoskey, and Erika Anderson, 18, a 2009 graduate of Harbor Springs High School, will perform with the musical group as they tour the areas.

Both are finishing up their first year with the Young Americans, and have been rehearsing and performing with the group near the Young Americans' home base in Southern California.

In addition to the Charlevoix show, the Young Americans will perform the following other shows as part of their 2010 Northern Michigan Tour:

— 7:30 p.m., Friday, June 11, at the Cheboygan Opera House

— 7:30 p.m., Saturday, June 12, at the Boyne City Performing Arts Center

— 4 p.m. and 7:30 p.m., Sunday, June 13, at the Harbor Springs Performing Arts Center

— 7:30 p.m., Friday, June 18, at the Bay View Auditorium

Admission is $20 for adults and $12 for students. Tickets for the Cheboygan show are available at the Cheboygan Opera House, (231) 627-5841. Tickets for all other concerts are available by calling, (231) 526-3152.

For more information on the Young Americans and their upcoming shows, visit www.youngamericans.org.

Trout tournament casts-off

It's time once again for area anglers to get their fishing gear ready to vie for thousands of dollars in prize money in the city's annual fishing extravaganza.

Based in Charlevoix's East Park, the 2010 Lake Charlevoix Area Trout Tournament will take place Friday through Sunday, June 11-June 13.

Returning this year is the walleye division, which was new last year, and fishing for kids in East Park's trout stream.

The children's fishing event will take place from 10 a.m.-4 p.m. Saturday. For a cost of $5 per person, poles, bait and tackle and a whole lot of fun are provided.

Registration for the event is noon-8 p.m. Wednesday and Thursday, June 9 and 10 in East Park. Actual fishing in the tournament will begin 5 a.m., June 11 and ends at noon, June 13. The awards ceremony is 1 p.m., Sunday, June 13, in East Park.

The cost to register is $30 for adults, $10 for children ages 6 to 14 and free for kids 5 years old and younger, but they still need to register.

Paid registrants will get a trout tournament T-shirt and will be entered into the grand prize drawing.

A mandatory meeting of team captains will take place at 8 p.m., Thursday, June 10 in the Odmark Pavilion in East Park. Call (231) 330-0867 if you are unable to attend or need more information.

Weigh-in cards must be picked up by 10 a.m., June 12. Steelhead and brown trout must measure at least 20 inches. Lake trout, salmon and walleye must measure at least 24 inches.

For more information on the tournament, visit www.fishcharlevoix.com.

Were you able to attend the May 25th Customer Service Seminar in Bay Harbor? If yes, you can attest to the fact that you left with a renewed sense of providing customer service excellence! If not, we have excellent news! Bill Quiseng, Inn at Bay Harbor General Manager and Service Guru, will present another installment in his popular Customer Service Training, designed for any type of business, from food service to sales and everything in between on Tuesday, June 22nd from 8 to 10am at Castle Farms. Our favorite guru will entertain you and your staff, while instilling the need for great service when dealing with customers and fellow employees. Topics covered in this three-hour seminar are an overview of topics covered in the half-semester course that Mr. Quiseng teaches at North Central Michigan College.

So discover what the talk is all about and send your staff and yourself to this energizing seminar today! Cost is just $15 for Chamber Members, or $25 General Admission. Time and time again attendees leave with a renewed passion for delivering great service. Come see for yourself! Call the Petoskey Regional Chamber of Commerce at 231.347.4150, or email chamber@petoskey.com to reserve your spot today or the Charlevoix Chamber of Commerce at 231.547.2101 or manager@charlevoix.org.

Countywide Networking Opportunity
Four Chambers of Commerce are joining together to sponsor a Regional Business After Hours networking extravaganza at the new One Water development on the waterfront in Boyne City on Wednesday, June 23. The Business After Hours will be held from 5 to 7:30 p.m. and will feature networking among Chamber members from Boyne City, East Jordan, Charlevoix and Petoskey. More than 200 business people are expected to attend. Admission is $5 for members of any participating Chamber, or $10 for non-members. No RSVPs are necessary.

Hors d'oeuvres will be provided by the new Café Santé restaurant, a casual, European-style bistro which is now open in the One Water development. The event will include a cash bar and entertainment by Pete Kehoe.

Business After Hours at the Charlevoix Golf & Country Club

Kick off the summer season at June Business After Hours! Hosted at the Charlevoix Golf & Country Club and co-sponsored by Fox Motors, it is the last Business After Hours networking event until September. It is sure to be an evening of fun for all! Rayders fall in pre-district baseball tourney

The Charlevoix High School baseball team gave it a valiant effort, before seeing its season come to an end last week with a 6-4 loss to Boyne City in a Division III pre-district game at East Jordan High School.

Charlevoix finished 14-20. "We were disappointed to lose, but we played one of our best games of the season in the biggest game of our season," Charlevoix coach Allen Telgenhof said.

"(Alex) Foster really threw well against (Boyne City), especially considering they scored 34 runs in the two games we played against them earlier this year. (Clayton) Mitchell had another huge game for us in his last game as a Rayder." Dustin Field's three-run triple in the bottom of the sixth inning was the difference as it brought the Ramblers back from a 4-3 deficit. Foster struck out two in taking the loss. Mitchell had three hits and drove in two runs to lead the Rayders at the plate, while Bill Ivan had a two-run single, and Foster singled. One of Mitchell's hits was a first-inning solo homer.

Sweet repeat: Rayder take second straight district softball crown

The Charlevoix softball team upended Lake Michigan Conference co-champion East Jordan then disposed of pesky Mancelona on Saturday at East Jordan High School to win their second consecutive Division III district championship.

The Rayders won both games by a 2-1 margin.

The score of last year's district semifinal win over East Jordan — which was then coming off an outright league championship? Again, 2-1.

"This 2-1 jinx is starting to make me wonder," said East Jordan coach Mcg (Fowler) Kitson, a Charlevoix High School graduate and one of the school's all-time great softball players who went on to an outstanding college career at Alma. "I was really pleased with how our girls played. Other than an unearned run in the first inning, our defense was solid."

Charlevoix sophomore Madison Zimmerman's sixth-inning solo home run was the difference in the East Jordan game as the Rayders could muster just two hits off of Peters, but made them both count.

Nikki Speigl's first-inning RBI double gave the Rayders

a 1-0 lead. East Jordan tied it with a run in the third. "We just wanted to play fundamentally strong and play the best we could," Charlevoix coach Liz Grunch said. "I thought coming in we were the underdog against East Jordan. We lost to them twice in the regular season and we tried to do a couple of different things with our hitting and it paid off."

It stayed 1-1 until the bottom of the sixth when Zimmerman hit her first career home run, clearing the fence in left-centerfield.

"Maddie had her biggest hit and Nikki (Speigl) had a big hit and they just went up and made contact," Grunch said. "We won the game at the plate and stepped it up offensively."

Hannah Hybl earned the win as she struck out six and scattered four hits. Peters struck out 12 in taking the loss.

"We knew Shaina was a great pitcher and she supplies a lot of power," Grunch said. "We just had to get our bats around on her and make contact and see what would happen."

Charlevoix scored both of its runs in the sixth inning of the championship game against Mancelona, overcoming a 1-0 deficit. Nicole Pischner had an RBI double and Megan Klooster also drove in a run with a sacrifice for the Rayders.

Katie Hybl finished with two hits, while Hannah Hybl singled. Speigl also made a fine diving play to record an out in the top of the seventh inning to stop a potential Mancelona rally.

"Our players really stepped it up," Grunch said. "Emily Mielke and Nikki Speigl on the right side (of the infield) played well and it was a great team win. We have such a young team and we needed everybody to step up and they did."

Hannah Hybl again was the winning pitcher as she struck out one, walked two and gave up just two hits.

Mancelona reached the title game with a 3-2 win over Harbor Springs.

The Rayders, 22-10-1, will play Gladstone in a Division III regional semifinal at 10 a.m. Saturday, June 12, at Mancelona High School. In the other semifinal, Kalkaska will face Tawas at noon. The final will follow.

Rayders take district title in another thriller

The third time was the charm for the Charlevoix Rayder soccer team as they defeated conference rivals Harbor Springs Friday to win the Division IV girls' soccer district title at Ottawa Stadium.

It was the third time this year the two teams played a nip-and-tuck, edge-of-your-seat thriller. Charlevoix senior Madison Way scored the game-winning goal four minutes into overtime on a cross from Bobbie Molter as the Rayders claimed their third straight Division IV soccer district title.

Charlevoix, 15-5-2, advances to a Division IV regional semifinal at 5 p.m. Tuesday, June 8, against Grand Rapids North-Pointe Christian, 21-2-0, at the Traverse City Coast Guard Soccer Fields. In Tuesday's other semifinal, Maple City Glen Lake, 17-1-2, will play Hart at 7 p.m. The final is 6 p.m. Friday, June 11.

Earlier this year, the Rams, who won district titles in 2006 and 2007, defeated the Rayders 3-1 and 2-1 en route to claiming the Lake Michigan Conference title.

"They've beaten us twice before, so it was kind of nice to return the favor," Charlevoix coach Carol Madison said. "We knew coming in it was going to be a really tight game and we knew coming in we were going to have to have our best game."

On the winning goal, Way one-touched a long crossing feed from the right wing off the foot of Molter and tucked the ball inside the near post past Harbor goalkeeper Alley Bartosh.

"I wasn't even thinking I could score at the time," said Way, a second-year captain and four-year varsity veteran. "I just saw the ball, got a foot on it and luckily their goalie wasn't coming out on the play. It was just a great cross from Bobbie."

Harbor started the game strong and took a 1-0 lead just three minutes in as junior Haley Kloss took a Cullip feed near the top of the penalty area, cut the middle, and beat Rayder freshman goalkeeper Bailee Stevens.

After generating some good offensive pressure and earning a pair of corner kicks, the Rayders tied the game with just six minutes to play in the half as Molter scored on a rebound in front.

Molter punched in a ball that was initially taken from Taylor Smith and rang off the crossbar.

Charlevoix continued to generate more offense in the second half and pressured Harbor's defense with a number of corner kicks.

Golfers take second at regionals, qualify for state finals

Senior Ty Jones shot 76 to tie for third as the Charlevoix High School boys' golf team turned in a solid and consistent performance Thursday in placing second in the Division III boys' golf regional at Katke Golf Club on the campus of Ferris State University.

Big Rapids, which is ranked second in the state coaches poll and is the defending state runner-up, shot 309 to win the tournament, edging the Rayders by two strokes.

Remus Chippewa Hills shot 316 to place third. Big Rapids, Charlevoix and Chippewa Hills advance to the state finals on Friday and Saturday, June 11-12, at The Meadows on the campus of Grand Valley State University in Allendale.

It is the second straight year the Rayders finished second to the host Cardinals in the regional, and the second straight year they have qualified for state. Two years ago, Charlevoix missed out on qualifying for state by one stroke.

"No matter how well you play, you still think you can play better, and I think the guys felt that way," Charlevoix coach Doug Drenth said. "It's 'I could have done this. I could have done that.'"

Still, Drenth said, it's hard to find fault with the results the Rayders — who are ranked ninth — produced on Thursday. Thomas Rich shot 77, Boog Nitchman posted a 78, Gunner Whitley shot 80, and Wyatt Drost carded an 81. In tying for third, Jones, a senior, earned a spot on the all-region team.

Blaze Hogan of Big Rapids shot 73 to capture medalist honors. Rich finished in a tie for sixth; Nitchman, normally the Rayders' fifth player, finished in a group tied for seventh.

"We always knew that he had that capability so it was neat to see that," Drenth said of Nitchman's performance. "It's great to have a fifth guy know he can score in our top four, and he's been there the past couple weeks."

That the Rayders were so tightly packed and their highest score was an 81 was a remarkable accomplishment, particularly under the pressure of the regional tournament, Drenth said.

"It's hard to make an analogy of how (close) two shots are in golf. It's kind like getting beat at the buzzer. I do think they were disappointed; we were that close."

"The ultimate goal is to qualify (for state) and I think there's a silver lining and it's motivational to see how close we are. We can play, we can play with these people. I think they got over (second place) very quickly and we're looking forward to next week already."

Buday earns three medals at state track meet; two Rayder relays place

Charlevoix junior Eric Buday earned three medals in the Division III boys' state track and field meet at Comstock Park High School on Saturday, turning in a Yeoman effort in increasing to six the number of All-State track honors he has earned in what is unfolding as a sensational high school career.

Buday placed third in the 800-meter run and ran the anchor leg on the Rayders' 1600 and 3200 relays, which placed fifth and eighth, respectively.

Buday broke his own school record in placing third in the 800, finishing in 1 minute, 56.33 seconds. He set the previous standard, 1:57.3, in placing fourth in last year's state meet.

Buday was joined by senior Neil Salisbury, sophomore Andrew Plude and senior Casey Helstrom in the 1600 relay; and by Plude, Salisbury and junior Will Larsen in the 3200 relay.

The Rayders finished in 3:38.35, their best time by 2.5 seconds, in the 1600 relay. Frankennmuth won the event in 3:23.50. The Rayders came in at 8:07.20 — besting their top time this season by 11 seconds — in the 3200 relay. Mason County Central won in 7:54.74.

Ben Wynsma of Suttons Bay won the 800 in 1:55.64.

By medaling in all three events, Buday earns All-State honors in all three, making him a six-time All-Stater in his career.

"Outstanding because in both relays we were out of the medal count when he got the baton," Charlevoix coach Ken Plude said. "The (3200) relay he brought us from 11th to eighth and actually got us to seventh before the Benzie kid caught him at the end."

"In the (1600) relay, we were fourth and he got us up to second in our heat."

Buday came from well behind the front-runners to finish second in his heat in the 800. The second-place finisher in the event, Lucas Bade of Frankennmuth, ran in a different heat and finished in 1:56.06, less than two-tenths of a second ahead of Buday.

"It was just a phenomenal day," Plude said. "He's such a gutsy runner. He puts his heart into it."

Buday's performance was made all the more remarkable by the fact that he battled bronchitis throughout a good portion of the season, costing him valuable training time in building to the state meet.

coach Plude said. "He was looking so good" before the illness, Plude said.

"Watching him not get down about it and just work his way through, that's a once-in-a-lifetime thing when you have somebody at that age who understands what you're talking about."

"And he breathes that into the other guys, makes it come alive, he's a leader that way."

Vassar won the title with 40 points, while Frankennmuth was second with 33. The Rayders finished with 11 team points.

Frankennmuth rolled to the title in the girls' meet with 89 points, while Benzie Central, 39, was second.

New editor named for Charlevoix Courier

ALICE PERRAULT
NEWS-REVIEW STAFF
WRITER

Northern Michigan Review has recently named veteran Petoskey News-Review reporter Steve Zucker to the post of managing editor at the Charlevoix Courier.

Zucker, a Petoskey resident, has been a reporter with the News-Review for the past 12 1/2 years. In that time he has reported on a wide array of topics and communities in the area. Most recently he has covered police, fire and courts, the communities on the eastern half of Charlevoix County, and Charlevoix County government. Zucker replaces former Courier editor Benjamin Gohs.

"I think you are held to a higher standard of accountability in a smaller community. The people you write about are the people you see every day. It forces you to be more on top of your game," Zucker said.

"I'm looking forward to getting to know more people in this community, and although this will be the first time I've had primary responsibility for covering the Charlevoix area,

I'm no stranger to many of the events that have shaped the community's recent history," he added.

Born and raised in Frankennmuth, Zucker came to the area in 1996. After graduating from Western Michigan University in 1993 with a degree in public relations, marketing and journalism, he worked as an assistant manager of a restaurant for two years in the Detroit area.

"Growing up, I never knew what I wanted to do with my life. It didn't really hit me until my sophomore year in college," he said.

Zucker got his first experience in journalism in 1997 when he worked as a writer for the former Boyne City newspaper, The Citizen, for about eight months. He joined the staff at the News-Review in October of that year.

"I always had a knack for writing. Things just kind of fell into place for me," he said.

Zucker is married to Erin, a music teacher at Boyne City Public Schools. They have two daughters, Kathryn, 8, and Anna, 7 1/2 months.

Along with writing, Zucker enjoys photography, boating, camping, fishing, biking, bowling, and being with his family. He said he will rely on his background and experience at the News-Review to help him with the new job.

"I'm not looking at any major changes. Once I'm settled in, I will look at it (the Courier) deeper and see if we can improve on what we already offer," he added.

Zucker welcomes input from the community on what they would like to see in their paper. He can be reached at (231) 439-9309 or by e-mail at news@charlevoixcourier.com.

Northern Michigan Review, which publishes the Petoskey News-Review, the Charlevoix Courier, The Graphic, The Gaylord Herald-Times, The Phone Guide and several other local publications, is owned by South Bend, Ind.-based Schurz Communications.

June Business After Hours

The Charlevoix Golf & Country Club will host the Charlevoix Area Chamber of Commerce's June Business After Hours event from 5-7 p.m. on Wednesday, June 16. The event, co-sponsored by Fox Motors, will be the last Business After Hours networking event until September.

The event, which is free for chamber members or $10 for others, will include hors d'oeuvres, cocktails, door prizes and more. For more information, call the chamber office at (231) 547-2101.

DDA will continue community host program

The Charlevoix Downtown Development Authority will continue its Community Host program summer for its second year.

The Community Host program seeks knowledgeable local volunteers wishing to make certain guests enjoy the very best experience possible while visiting Charlevoix and its environs. Hosts provide information to visitors and residents alike on local special events, dining, shopping, rentals, activities, parking, and many other areas. The program is currently seeking volunteer hosts for this upcoming summer. Hosts are expected to be friendly, knowledgeable, helpful, courteous and dependable. Hosts are asked to commit to a three-hour shift which includes strolling the streets of downtown Charlevoix interacting with visitors and offering assistance when necessary. There is no limit on the number of shifts a host may work.

New to this year's program is a rewards system which offers discounts at area shops, restaurants and golf courses to qualified hosts. Individuals wishing to serve as community hosts or who seek additional information may contact Lauren Bradley at (231) 547-3270 or by e-mail at lauren@cityofcharlevoix.org or contact Keith Carey by calling (231) 547-3257 or by e-mail at kcarey@cityofcharlevoix.org.

Older Man Defeats Younger Man

DEXAR COUNTY - After using Thera-Gesic pain cream on a sore back muscle, Tom W. accepted an arm wrestling challenge from a young man at a local tavern.

Within seconds, the young whipper-snapper's arm was flat, according to seven patrons. When asked to explain the strength, he painlessly replied "none of your dang business!"

Zonta scholarship sends student aboard Inland Seas

The Charlevoix Zonta Club and the Charlevoix High School "Z" Club recently awarded a "Young Women in Science" scholarship to Charlevoix High School student Margy Bolt.

On June 21, Margy will be sailing aboard the Inland Seas schooner studying Great Lakes ecology with nine other area young women. This overnight adventure will include the study of aquatic life, the Great Lakes environment and will encourage the care and commitment needed to keep the Great Lakes healthy.

Margy is the daughter of Cindy and Russ Bolt. She participates in sports year round as a cheerleader and member of the ski team and the track and field team. She traveled to Japan last summer with other Michigan and Florida students to study. She also she helps on the family farm and works at her grandparents' art studio, Boli Pottery.

During the Inland Seas "Young Women in Science" session, Margy and the other students will be performing water chemistry tests, collecting plankton and fish, and analyzing the temperatures and sediments of Lake Michigan. They will also record weather data for the National Weather Service. This information will be entered on the shipboard computer and research results. The data the group collects will be posted on the posted on the organization's website, www.schoolship.org. In addition to their ecological studies, Margy and the other young women will learn about safety onboard a schooner, navigation and sailing theory and practice. They will have a turn at standing watch, working in the galley and will be assisting the crew in operating the schooner.

Charlevoix Zonta, encourages women of all ages by working to improve the status of women globally through service and advocacy. Zonta provides scholarships for area high school students and a grant for job improvement in association with the Women's Resource Center. There are youth programs: The Z Club for high school students, Sight's on Success for the middle school, and a Z Tea for elementary school students.

Zonta provides funds for many local and international non-profit organizations. For more information on Zonta and its programs visit the organization's website at www.charlevoixzonta.org.

Help Camp Daggett win a $50,000 grant from Pepsi

JENNIFER RICHARDSON
NEWS-REVIEW STAFF
WRITER

Camp Daggett has the chance to win a grant for $50,000 from PepsiCo, and your online vote can help them win!

Camp Daggett, located on Walloon Lake, and has been serving campers for more than 85 years. An emphasis on respect, teamwork, caring and fun is part of the Camp Daggett experience.

The Pepsi Refresh Project has chosen Camp Daggett to compete during the month of June for a grant of $50,000. If Daggett wins, it will use the funding for scholarships for underprivileged children to attend camp.

Rates to attend a week-long session at Camp Daggett range from $375 to $480 for campers within the Charlevoix-Emmet Intermediate School District, and $620 to $710 for campers outside of the district. Rates vary depending on the program, which range from traditional camp, to hiking and backpacking the Pictured Rocks National Lakeshore and South Manitou Island, and canoeing the Lake Michigan shore at Wildemess State Park.

In order to qualify for a scholarship, applicants must demonstrate financial need, and scholarships are granted on a first come, first served basis. However, camp director Brent Marlatt said, "Roughly 80 percent of our scholarships serve local kids ... this could be huge for our community."

Marlatt said that because of the down-turn in the economy, financial donations have been down.

"I'm really proud of my staff for tightening their belts. Our volunteer base has really stepped up," Marlatt said.

"Preserving the scholarship program has been given priority, and winning the grant would relieve the budget so we could do some other things," Marlatt said.

Marlatt said it was a struggle even to get into the competition. Each month, new applications are submitted. Marlatt said he was ready at midnight of April 30 to submit a May application, and within 3 seconds, the limit had been met.

Those projects accepted on May 1 are now in competition.

There are 1,161 other projects in the running. As of Sunday afternoon, Camp Daggett was in 159th place.

Competitors prepared a brief video and overview of their proposal, which can be viewed at www.refresheverything.com. You can vote once per day, every day through June 30. At the end of the month, a winner is announced, and a new round of competition begins, with different organizations vying for funding.

For more information, and to vote for Camp Daggett, go to www.campdaggett.org, and click on the Pepsi Refresh Project link.

ONGOING EVENTS:

SKATE PARK

The Charlevoix Community Skate Park is now open daily from noon to 8 p.m. through August.

The park, now in its fifth season, is located on 401 West Carpenter Ave.

Admission to the park is $5 per day. Season passes, seven-day passes and daily passes are available. However, no one is turned away for lack of funds, thanks to the Patsy Ramsey Scholarship Fund. Scholarship applications are available at the park. Donations to the scholarship fund are also always welcome.

Upcoming events include the "Venetian Jam" on July 18 and theme nights, mini-comps and the Big Grin will wrap up the season in late summer.

Employee's for 2010 are Scott and Laura Stebe, Susan Kloost-er, Murphy Gillespie and John Curtis.

Anyone wishing to make a scholarship donation or seeking more information about the park may call 675-4505.

TAKE THE CHALLENGE

More than 30 spots for children in eighth-grade through graduating seniors, 33 in all, are available for this year's Colorado Challenge trip. The nearly 40-year-old program offers whitewater rafting, horseback riding and repelling down rock formations in a Christian camp atmosphere at Quaker Ridge Camp in Woodland Park, Colo. Because of fundraising efforts by event organizers, $250 of the $650 per student cost has been paid. This year's trip is from June 26 to July 4. For more information call Lawrence Bergmann at (231) 547-2152 or Dan Lightfoot at (231) 348-2533.

JUNE 16
Women's Resource Center annual fundraiser

The Women's Resource Center will host its fourth annual "Women Can Women Do" fundraising luncheon at 11:30 a.m. on Wednesday, June 16 at Castle Farms in Charlevoix.

Featured this year will be up to 30 designers from throughout Charlevoix County who donate their talents in designing themed tables for the luncheon. Last year's luncheon raised more than $29,000 for the Women's Resource Center which serves women and families in need in five northwest Michigan counties.

Programs and services offered by the WRC include rape, sexual assault and domestic abuse assistance including advocacy and safe, emergency shelter; a 24-hour crisis line; transitional housing; career and educational counseling; personal and family counseling; and quality, licensed child care at the Children's Learning Center.

For more information, contact the Women's Resource Center office at (231) 347-0067.

2010 Boater's Safety classes on the following dates:

9 a.m.-1 p.m., Saturday, June 26, Walloon Lake Country club (Grandma's)

2-6 p.m., Monday, July 12, Jordan Valley District Library
5-6 p.m., Monday, July 12, Jordan Valley District Library

This is only for those who have an on-line boating safety certificate. Individuals will take the state exam and are free to leave upon successful completion of exam.

The class is free of charge and pre-registration is not required. Minimum age for class attendance is 12 years of age. Students should bring date of birth information with them for registration purposes. It is recommended that students eat prior to class or bring a small snack to class. Because of the short duration of the course, there will be no meal time. Students receiving a satisfactory test grade will receive their Michigan Boating Safety Certificates at the conclusion of the course. If you currently have an on-line boating safety certificate, you must take a proctored test and receive a state-honored boating safety certificate. The state only honors on-line course completed certificates that have been verified by a proctored Michigan exam.

Completion of this class is mandatory for individuals who were hom after Dec. 31, 1978, to operate a personal water craft; for juveniles ages 12-16 to operate a boat; and for parents who allow their children ages of 12-14 to operate a personal water craft under the parent's supervision.

Anyone with questions on the class should call the Charlevoix County Sheriff's office marine division at (231) 547-4461, ext. 320.

I care!
I care about the environment.
I care about protecting our bay.

Like a lot of people in our community, I first came to Northwest Michigan as a child to spend my summers. My grandfather worked for the Coast Guard in Charlevoix. He retired there after 28 years of service. We spent our summers with family 'up North,' and I loved it.

It was a great community then and it's a great community now. Northwest Michigan has so much to offer visitors and residents. It's why I settled here 20 years ago.

There is no denying that there is something special about the place we live. All you have to do is look around. There are few places like it.

I care about the Little Traverse Bay Environmental Project because I remember the fun and beauty of the water I loved as a kid. Those things drew me here as an adult and I am grateful they're being protected for others to enjoy in the future.

Haske's departure prompts many emotions

STEVE ZUCKER
CHARLEVOIX COURIER
EDITOR

Sad. Frustrated. Disappointed. Even angry.

These are but a few of the many emotions that some members of the "Rayder Nation" are feeling a week after beloved varsity basketball coach and middle school principal Keith Haske announced he will be retiring from the district to take an administrative, teaching and coaching job at Traverse City St. Francis.

And a handful of those of Rayder faithful shared their feelings about Haske's departure with the Charlevoix Board of Education at their regular monthly meeting Monday.

Haske announced his departure on June 7 after 13 years with the district — including many very successful years coaching the boys varsity basketball team. Following his announcement, Haske said job security concerns related to talk of possibly restructuring the district into two buildings instead of three were central to his decision to leave the district.

Haske had applied for the elementary school principal's position that will soon be vacated by Dick Swenor, who is retiring, but the school board ultimately hired current Charlevoix High School assistant principal and math teacher Doug Drenth.

Several who spoke Monday lauded Haske for his skill both as a coach and principal. Several encouraged the board to seek someone with qualities similar to Haske to fill the middle school principal's position.

Hal Evans, a retired teacher who also coached for many years in the district, told the board he was "very disappointed" with the board for their actions regarding Haske.

Board president John McLean Jr. responded that he wanted to set the record straight: "This board took no action against Keith Haske."

Middle school assistant Cindy Whitley said last week was very difficult for students and staff at the school as they said good-bye to Haske.

"I can't begin to tell you how hard it was to realize we've lost him," Whitley said.

Tim Kochanny, who said he's "raised three kids in this town" showed the most emotion of those who spoke, raising his voice at times as he criticized the board for its handling of Haske.

"I see the foundation of my community being torn apart," Kochanny said. "He (Haske) raised our kids."

Kochanny said he didn't think Haske should even have been required to have an interview for the elementary principal's position.

"I think there are a couple hundred people walking the streets wondering what's going on," he said.

City unveils proposed master plan

ROBERT WHITE
COURIER WRITER

The Charlevoix Planning Commission unveiled a draft version of a proposed new city master plan during a special meeting at the Charlevoix Public Library Monday.

City planner Mike Spencer used a PowerPoint presentation to present the plan briefly going through the five chapters and the seven parts of the appendix.

Spencer pointed out carly and often that the proposed master plan is now on the city's website: www.cityofcharlevoix.org. The PowerPoint presentation and related maps are also posted to the website. Comment forms can also be downloaded from the city's website. A few copies of the plan will be on hand at city hall and in the library for public review.

The master plan includes the vision statement that was approved by the planning commission a few months ago:

"Charlevoix will strive to be the focal point for the region and build on its distinctive character, downtown, and diverse neighborhoods; while respecting its unique setting and environment and creating a foundation for future economic prosperity and personal success."

City officials noted that the first zoning ordinance in the city was put in place in 1954 and that in the early 1980s a master plan for the city was drawn up. Spencer said, "That plan has lain dormant for about 30 years."

Planning commission chairman John Hess said, "Since the new city manager has come on board (about two years ago), the drafting of a new city master plan has moved forward quickly." In his presentation, Spencer noted: "The city is trying to go about this the right way. Starting with a master plan and then developing a zoning plan fol-

County, Easley settle lawsuit for $40,000

STEVE ZUCKER
COURIER EDITOR

Charlevoix County and former county electrical inspector Jim Easley have settled a lawsuit in which Easley claimed he was wrongfully fired from his job in January of 2009.

On May 5, the judge presiding over the case signed an order dismissing the case "with prejudice" based upon an agreement between the parties that the county would pay Easley $40,000.

When a case is dismissed "with prejudice" it means that the plaintiff (Easley) is barred from re-filing another lawsuit for the same matter against the defendants.

Easley's lawsuit came on the heels of a 4-2 vote by the Charlevoix County Board of Commissioners in January of 2009 in which both Easley and then-county building official Ken Doty were fired on the grounds of poor performance. Doty died on Nov. 3.

After his firing, Easley filed a lawsuit against the county and county commissioner Chris Christensen under the state's Whistleblower Protection Act.

In the suit, Easley claimed he was fired because he had reported an alleged electrical code violation against county building maintenance employee Frank Shaler.

Easley claimed that Shaler and Christensen are friends and Easley's firing was done in retaliation for Easley's report against Shaler.

The case has been handled by 46th Circuit Court Judge Dennis F. Murphy since Charlevoix County Circuit Court Judge Richard M. Pajtas recused himself from the case.

In February, Judge Murphy had denied a motion for dismissal by the county and Christensen.

The dollar amount agreed upon by the parties to settle the case came out of a process called "case evaluation."

During this process, both sides present their respective positions to a three-attorney panel. Based on the information that is presented to them, the panel then arrives at a dollar amount they believe the case is "worth."

As part of the his order dismissing the case, the judge required both sides to pay their own attorney costs.

Charlevoix County Prosecuting Attorney John Jarema said the county's only out-of-pocket expense for the suit will be the $25,000 deductible it must pay to its liability insurance company. The rest — the remaining $15,000 in the settlement and the county's attorney fees and other costs will be paid by its insurance company, Jarema said.

County may sue state over 'unfunded mandates'

STEVE ZUCKER
COURIER EDITOR

The Charlevoix County Board of Commissioners is looking to create a bandwagon it hopes many other counties will jump on as it considers suing the State of Michigan over the issue of "unfunded mandates."

At its regular semi-monthly meeting Wednesday, the Charlevoix County Board of Commissioners unanimously approved a motion directing its civil council (county prosecutor John Jarema) to begin doing the necessary research and preparatory work for the county to file a lawsuit against the state seeking "specific performance" in funding the many programs and duties that it requires counties to perform.

Wednesday's motion and vote was not on the agenda, but came up during the commissioner's comment portion of the meeting. The idea for the suit and the motion that the board ultimately approved came from commissioner Chris Christensen, who used his commissioner comment time to sound off about his frustration with the state not funding programs that it requires — something prohibited under the well-known "Headlee Amendment" to state's constitution.

At its May 26 meeting, the board voted to send a letter about the issue to Lansing and the 82 other counties in the state.

"We've been complacent about this for too long," Christensen said. "The fear is if we don't fight back, they (the state) are going to keep doing it."

"Someone needs to take the lead on this, why not us?" Christensen added.

Later in the week, Christensen said under the state's current budget crisis situation, he knows that it's unrealistic to expect any more money to be allocated to local governments from the state.

He said his goal for the effort is that counties might ultimately be able to choose whether to offer services that are not fully funded by the state.

As examples of the types of "unfunded mandates" that counties face, Christensen and county clerk Cherie Browe pointed to a November 2009 report by the state's Legislative Commission on Statutory Mandates. In that report, the commission said it determined that in 2009 alone the state underfunded local governments by more than $2.2 billion.

Some example of un- or under-funded programs highlighted in the report include: foster care, youth rehabilitation and juvenile justice, Friend of the Court, local public health departments, community mental health programs, several school-related programs, election consolidation, voting equipment requirements, electronic fingerprinting programs, and many more. (To read the entire 87-page report and the letter from the board of commissioners, visit www.petoskeynews.com.)

Based upon the board's vote, Jarema has begun asking every department head for the county for a list of all the state-imposed requirements and functions they must perform for which they are not receiving any or adequate funding.

Jarema will come back to the board after the data is collected for further direction on how to proceed.

Polling for fun and profit

EAR TO THE GROUND

Roger Knutson

In this confusing election year, it is difficult to predict who might win or even who might be candidates. One thing we can be absolutely sure about is that for the next few months there will be a deluge of polls. We will be treated daily to the results of recurrent and unending polls. These are not the polls in which we vote, these are the polls conducted by pollsters, who attempt to discern the opinions of the electorate by asking questions of a few hundred or a few thousand citizens and reporting what percent of citizens favor this or oppose that.

To call polling an inexact science is giving it too much credit.

Its importance is best explained by the aphorism, "Figures don't lie, but liars do figure." The people or groups that pay for conducting polls are likely to be interested in some particular result, rather than any sort of objective evaluation of public opinion. It is only necessary to note that during any election cycle, there are Democratic pollsters, Republican pollsters and almost surely Tea Party pollsters. The results of their polls are pretty much predictable before the poll is taken.

How do poll takers bias their results? The most important way is by asking questions that encourage a particular answer. Before accepting the results of any poll, be sure to find out what specific questions were asked, and who was paying for the poll. Questions that are too complex are likely to result in less valuable information. If the specific questions asked are not a part of the reported results, it is safe to ignore the results.

If polls themselves can be troublesome, the reporting of poll results can be even more confusing. Information from a New York Times op-ed tells of a BBC poll in Britain. The question asked was, "From what you know and have heard, do you think the earth's climate is changing and global warming is taking place?" In November of last year 83 percent of those polled agreed. The same question asked in February of this year had 75 percent answering yes. The BBC headline with the story said, "Climate skepticism on the rise," pretty much ignoring the more important information that 75 percent of respondents considered global warming a reality. Seventy percent of people agreeing to anything is news.

If it is possible to find two poll results that seem to point in the same direction, then the headline becomes, "Polls Show". That can sound convincing only if you know specifically what questions were asked and whether the same questions were asked in each poll. Who was polled and who was paying for the polling are most important. Different questions will certainly elicit different answers, even if the questions seem to be about the same thing.

I am sure there are honest pollsters who bravely report results no matter who is paying, but my suspicion is that they are a minority of poll takers. It is, after all, a business, and its continued success and even survival depend on the people paying for the polls. Think of the companies that gave triple A ratings to collections of sub-prime mortgages. They were being paid by the banks selling the mortgage collections.

Probably the only reasonable response to the hundreds of polls that will be reported in the next few months is a healthy skepticism, if not a complete disbelief. Poll takers know that while, at their best, polls can measure some degree of opinion and trends, the results of polls also MAKE trends. Some proportion of people are more than eager to jump on the bandwagon before it drives by, and that proportion is often enough to direct a poll result in one way or another.

Poll taking can be done with only the most transparent questions, using the best statistical techniques available, but it is very difficult to know that the poll results in this morning's paper or this evening's CNN report were done in that way. I guess we could just trust the poll takers and their supporters to do the right and honest thing in all cases. Nah, I don't think so. Doubt and skepticism are valuable things. We should exercise them, especially in a political season when perception can become more important than reality.

Sports editor: Haske is a class act

ANDY SNEDDON
NEWS-REVIEW SPORTS EDITOR

One word sums up Keith Haske: Class.

If ever a high school coach epitomized it, it was — and is — the former Charlevoix High School boys' basketball coach who left Monday (June 7) for Traverse City, St. Francis.

If you stop reading now and believe that Haske, like so many of his college brethren, simply walked away from his former program to seek a greener pasture, you'd be sadly mistaken.

There were a lot of factors at work here, most notably an uncertain future for a man who had served the students and athletes at Charlevoix for 13 years, the last nine as the middle school principal.

For the record — and what a record it is — Haske was the most successful boys' basketball coach in Northern Michigan during his 13 years on the Rayder bench. An amazing 240-77 won-loss record, 10 district championships, six regional titles, four state semifinal appearances, two state runner-up finishes.

For three years, 2004-06, Haske pulled double duty, coaching the Rayder girls in the fall, the boys in the winter. In '04, his first season with the girls, he led them to the Class C state title game and a 27-1 finish. They won or shared the Lake Michigan Conference championship in each of his three seasons, capturing district titles in all three of those years. They were a combined 63-8 during his tenure.

And he did it all while he and his wife, Barb, raised two children.

Often in high school sports, a school will see an exceptional player or two come through the system, and it will rise to the top for two, maybe three years, then fall back to mediocrity.

Not so in Charlevoix under Haske's watch. Other than a 7-15 season with the boys in his first season, 1997-98, the Rayders were good. Always good. And often, great.

Talent? Absolutely. The Rayders were blessed with it. And not all of it homegrown. But that's a two-way street that just as easily runs out of Charlevoix as it runs into it. For every Scott Friske and Jared Hunt who transferred in, a Chad Ellis and Dustin Dibble transferred out.

There are a lot of coaches who don't have a clue how to cultivate talent. Haske wasn't one of them. It blossomed under his watchful eye. He drew the most out of those who had the potential to play at the next level, players like Friske, Scott Parrish, Jim Shepherd.

Just as importantly, he drew bust-your-rear-end efforts from those who were less gifted. Willing to work? Wanna be a part of something special? Haske found a spot for you.

A gentleman with a soft touch who fully understands the immense educational tool that athletics can be, Haske always made it a point that the last player on the bench was as important as the star. It was an honor to wear Rayder red under Haske's watch. Need proof? Ever heard of Rayder Nation? Its numbers were, and are, immense. It's comprised of elementary-school students up through high school, alumni, people old enough to have lived the vast majority of their lives without texting, without the Internet.

Except for our families and maybe a few close friends, most of our interactions with people throughout our lives are relatively brief, relatively one-dimensional. It's the special people who leave a lasting impression despite that limited contact. A rare person who leaves you wanting to be the best you can be.

With Keith Haske, that feeling was palpable.

I've been at the News-Review for all but Haske's first year at Charlevoix, and have gotten to know him on a professional level over the years. He never — ever — missed calling in results of one of his games, win or lose, home or away. He always had the first and last names of the leading scorers for the Rayders' opponents, too. To me, that says a lot. What says even more is that I never heard him utter a negative word about anyone, a player, another coach, an official, a fan. Never.

Over the years, we covered a lot of Charlevoix basketball games, both regular season and in the state tournament. The post-game scene in the state tournament is chaos. Mobs of fans, hugs, the euphoria of a win, another trophy, a thrilling finish. On the flip side, the absolute devastation of the end of another great season, the saying good-bye to seniors. Those kids who had given everything they had in their young lives, not realizing the depth of the lessons they had learned under Haske on the basketball court would serve them well for the rest of their days — the really important days in the grand scheme of things.

In each and every one of those games, Haske was always there, taking the time for everyone who wanted it: Family members, players, fans, opponents and, yes, even the media. Haske never big-timed anybody, whether he was on the floor of the Breslin Center, or in the sweltering summertime heat of a team camp in some obscure high school gym, or walking to the bus on a bone-chilling February night.

Win or lose, there was Haske, the even demeanor, the perspective, the class, patiently answering questions about the game, the next opponent, the tournament run. Always complimentary toward that night's opponent, always sure to point out what exactly it was, in his mind, that led to yet another Rayder win, or a rare loss.

Keith Haske never asked me for anything. He only gave. I needed something, he had it. Every phone call returned, late at night, early in the morning. Every question answered. Every "congratulations" or "nice season" met with a sincere handshake, a look in the eye, a "thanks for covering us."

No way I can be sure, but I suspect he treated everybody that way during his 13 years in Charlevoix. The guy in the hardshoop wanted to talk about how to beat Boyne City? Haske, I'm sure, listened patiently, made the guy feel that he was the most important person in Keith Haske's world at that very minute.

You get snippets of a person over time, and a consistent pattern develops. Character, more than anything else, shows through over time.

Keith Haske, 52, refused to name names, burn bridges, get into specifics about why he left Charlevoix on Monday. Sure, there was an obvious uncertain future about what may become of Charlevoix Middle School, his job as principal, and his future as the school's boys' basketball coach.

He said nothing of the politics, resentments and petty jealousies that can — and almost always do — creep into high school athletics, how you can't please everybody, whether you're the basketball coach, the principal, whom-ever. The older you get, the more that reality sets in, and you realize it's not what happens to you that matters, but how you react to it.

In Keith Haske, it was only the best, to the very end.

Through 388 high school basketball games on the Rayder bench, 303 of them victories. Seventy-eight percent of the time Haske put a basketball team on the floor in Charlevoix, the Rayders came out on top. Think about that. Ten times the ball went up, eight times Charlevoix won.

The kids who are in high school now grew up sporting the red-and-white with pride while watching their older brothers and sisters, cousins and neighbors, write chapter after chapter of a phenomenal 13-year book of high school basketball.

Until it was their turn. And by the time they pulled on the uniform for their turn, they knew the expectations, they knew what it meant.

Nothing, they say, lasts forever.

Keith Haske walks away from Charlevoix leaving a whole lot in the record books, more trophies and banners than can be counted on your fingers and toes.

He also walks away with his dignity, his pride, his reputation and, most of all, his class, fully intact.

LETTERS to the editor

THANK YOU KEITH AND FAMILY

Editor:

As everybody knows, once in a while we meet a family who makes a difference. Once in a while we have the privilege of having that family be part of our family. Once in a while it does not last long enough.

You probably know who I am talking about: It is the Haske family.

Both Keith and his lovely wife Barbara have added so much to our lives. We will always be indebted to them.

As you probably know, I have a lot of executives working for me. Keith Haske has demonstrated management skills that would rank on par with the best of my executives. He could run any business large or small and make the employees enjoy it. He was, and is outstanding in everything he did in our community.

munity.

Long hours, underpaid, overworked and all the rest; he never faltered and never wavered. He was a Charlevoix Rayder through and through and we will all miss him. As a teacher he was the best. As a motivator he was the best. As a basketball coach he had no equal.

On behalf of our wonderful city and its citizens, I want to thank you Keith, Barbara and family for making such a wonderful difference in our community.

Even though you had to move on, both of you will always be in our hearts. Please always think of Charlevoix your home. You are always welcome in my home.

Wishing you much of God's love, for you deserve it.

Bill and Karen Schuiling, Charlevoix

PAVING THE WAY

Dear Editor:

Most people don't like almost getting hit by bikers or teenage skateboarders while walking downtown. Well, if the city paved the alley behind the stores, prohibited cars, and designated it just for bikes, skateboards, rollerblades and so on, it would take away many problems downtown.

First of all, kids wouldn't have to walk three feet away from the highway. For example, if you had a dog that you have owned for as long as you can remember, and you would never let it out of your sight, would you let it walk right next to the highway? Also in the summer when it's busy, and the sidewalks and streets are crowded, there's a big possibility that you could get pushed off right into the middle of the street.

Secondly people wouldn't get anymore tickets for riding their bike on the sidewalk. Around five $10 tickets were given every month last year. Now, if we had a path, there would be no more tickets. Also more people would come downtown. That means more people would shop at the stores, which means more money for the community.

Lastly, the air pollution would go down because people could ride their bikes. In the summer the population nearly triples. Mostly all of them drive their cars downtown. If they had a place to ride their bikes downtown, Charlevoix would have less air pollution.

The city could also take the big blue building across from the fire department. They could also get the building next to Olsens, tear the buildings down, and make parking lots. It's not that big of a deal to walk to the store, and it's good exercise.

So, in conclusion, I highly recommend that we pave the road behind the stores. It would solve a lot of problems in the city of Charlevoix.

Sincerely,
Mason Louisville, 6th grade

INDOOR WATER PARK

Dear Editor:

My friends and I are sick and tired of driving around 40 minutes to get to an indoor water park. I suggest build an indoor water park in town. A water park would bring more tourists, and might raise Charlevoix's economy, and there are multiple reasons why to make it an indoor park.

A reason why we should have an indoor water park, instead of an outdoor one is, if it's indoors we can go in the winter. Another is that the closest ones are at least 40 minutes away. Finally you could add a hotel to it so when kids stay there they can go to a water park, not a pool.

If it became a tourist attraction, Charlevoix would make more money. Also Charlevoix might be a more popular place, so we would get more tourists for carnivals. Finally it would be another place to spend time with family.

The final reason is a big business could raise Charlevoix's economy. I know it's a big thought but it could happen. A new business would mean more jobs. It would also help by inspiring more businesses to start. Finally, if the business expands it might help Michigan's economy.

I think these are enough reasons to support the building of an indoor water park in Charlevoix.

Sincerely,
Spencer Tibbitts, 6th grade

Rain garden filtration unit

A group of community volunteers recently completed work on new rain gardens on Park Avenue. The gardens which will help filter out sediment and other materials before it reaches Pine River Channel and a new stormwater filtration unit are part of a recently-completed stormwater management project. The project was funded by the Charlevoix County Community Foundation, Frey Foundation and Grand Traverse Band of Ottawa and Chippewa Indians. Master Gardener Jeanine Warner designed the type and location of plants and flowers in the rain gardens.

Northern Lights set "pops" into Castle Farms Saturday

Charlevoix's St. Mary School will host its 15th annual Northern Lights Celebration Dinner Dance Auction from 6 p.m.-midnight on Friday June 18, at Castle Farms.

The theme for this year's event is "Pop into Summer."

The event will include a dinner catered by the Grey Gables Inn, a live auction with Scott Mackenzie and entertainment by comedian and hypnotist Kevin Lepine.

Featured items in this year's auction will include many Mackinac Island packages, 12 original Bolt plates, designed by Russ, Sue and Lori Bolt (set of 12), travel packages, children's art gallery, a private reception at Grey Gables for 20 with Bishop Hebda in its private dining room, a tug boat ride, Challenger overnight tour for four, original art by Trish Beane, a complete Beaver Island package, wine tour at Chateau Chantel, theme baskets, sports items and more.

St. Mary's is also sponsoring raffles. One is the cash raffle which will kick off on the night of the event. Tickets are $100 each and the final drawing will take place during apple festival weekend. The grand prize is $5,000.

The chocolate raffle includes a top prize of a $500 Visa gift card. For $20, participants can buy a candy bar that could have one of 10 medallions in the package that will qualify them for the finalists drawing.

The Northern Lights is the largest fundraising event for the school. Auction expenses are kept at a minimum with all proceeds going directly to the school operational budget.

Tickets are $75 per person and include all beverages. Call 547-6652 to make a reservation or e-mail the parish office at lstebc@charterinternet.com.

No new school cuts — yet.

STEVE ZUCKER
COURIER EDITOR

The Charlevoix Board of Education made no new cuts before passing its 2010-11 budget at its regular monthly meeting Monday.

The board also passed the final amendment to its 2009-10 school year budget, ending the year with expenses exceeding revenue by more than $1.2 million.

That leaves the district with a little more than $415,000 in general fund savings to start the next school year.

After cutting more than $1.4 million — including 14 teaching positions — from next year's budget in May, the budget approved Monday still calls for the district to spend all but about $64,000 of its savings by next June.

District superintendent Chet Janik said the budget passed Monday is the board's best guess based on the information currently available from the state about funding.

He said more cuts may be necessary, depending on how many students are actually enrolled in the fall and what funding level the state ultimately settles upon.

In other business, the board approved hiring high school industrial arts teacher Brian Certa to serve as the district's athletic director. Janik said Certa, who takes over for Dennis Van-Gilder, has been serving as part time athletic director for Ellsworth Schools. He said Certa has said he plans to retire from teaching in the next year or two, but would be able to continue on in the athletic director's role under new state retirement rules.

The board also approved hiring current junior varsity girls basketball coach Leslie Hoffman to take over the position of head varsity girls basketball coach.

Big salmon headline annual fishing tournament

GEORGE ROWE
NEWS-REVIEW OUTDOOR
WRITER

The 26th annual Lake Charlevoix Area Trout Tournament was a terrific event, from many points of view:

The weather was not nearly as bad as the forecast. As a matter of fact, the water was pretty smooth, even on the big lake and even the smaller boats could generally stay out there.

The salmon showed up early this year and it was the best salmon fishing that anyone could remember, for the tournament. There were more salmon caught than ever before and the fish were larger too.

The walleye division (new last year) was a great success this year with many fish caught in Lake Charlevoix.

With the exception of the brown trout division, the leader board was full very early and there was a great deal of "bumping" as larger fish continued to displace the smaller fish caught earlier.

According to Chris Mikulski, a director and president of the tournament, the big salmon catch could be attributed to an early and warm spring with the salmon quick to ascend Lake Michigan in warmer water. The leader board for salmon and lake trout was filled on Friday, the first day of the tournament, and Chris called Friday morning the best fishing of the weekend. Those who wanted to could fish all day and half the night, except for Friday night, when the area was hit by a heavy thunderstorm around 11 p.m.

There were 350 anglers registered, in 112 boats, with both numbers down a bit from last year but pretty typical of the numbers of recent years. The origin of the anglers was fairly typical with locals from Charlevoix, Boyne City and Petoskey accounting for the bulk of the action and only a few, this year, from Canada. The tourney does continue to draw anglers from around the state, being one of the largest of the type appealing mainly to amateurs.

There were somewhere between 40 and 50 young people (ages 14 or under) registered and 140 kids fished for trout, so it was a fine family weekend. Pop Warner volunteers handled the kid's trout fishing and there were about 200 big rainbows in the pool at the outset. Every youngster fishing in the pool was given a T-shirt and many took away fish.

Here's a round-up of the leaders in each of the categories:

LAKE TROUT:

There were 20 places for cash awards with the top prize going to Raymond Hanback of Wolverine with a fish of 13.36 pounds. The others in the top five:

2nd Scott Anderson

12.98 pounds

3rd Joe Kulisz

12.48 pounds

4th Ken Samoluk

10.54 pounds

5th Dave Lakso

10.10 pounds

The 20th fish on the board was a fish of 7.12 pounds. All the lakers were taken on Lake Michigan. One angler did take a sizable laker from Lake Charlevoix, during his pre-fishing, before the tournament started.

SALMON:

There were 20 places for cash prizes for salmon with the top prize of $1,000 going to Dick Renke of Petoskey for a fish of 17.12 pounds. The others in the top five:

2nd Amos Skroeki

17.10 pounds

3rd Charles Johnson 17.08 pounds

4th Mathew Murray

17.04 pounds

5th Clayton Hall

16.20 pounds

All 20 places were filled early on Friday with much subsequent bumping by larger fish. The 20th place fish was over 13 pounds so it took a sizable king to make the board. The 3rd place fish was caught and weighed on Sunday morning. All of the salmon were caught on Lake Michigan and many of them were caught fairly close to Charlevoix or just south.

STEELHEAD:

There were 20 places for cash prizes for steelhead and the board was filled on Saturday with some subsequent bumping for larger fish. While the steelhead seemed to be plentiful, they were thought to be a little smaller than in previous years. The top fish of 7.98 pounds was taken by John Murray of Charlevoix, a director of the tournament. The next four finishers were:

2nd Amos Skroeki

7.74 pounds

3rd Tom Ruzicka

6.84 pounds

4th Keith Barber

6.64 pounds

5th Ken Samoluk

6.36 pounds

The 20th spot on the board was a fish of just 3.80 pounds. All of the fish were taken on Lake Michigan and a number of them were caught way out there — 20 miles out or so, on scum lines or temperature breaks.

BROWN TROUT:

While there were five places provided for brown there was only a single fish caught. Gary Spencer caught the fish on Lake Charlevoix and it weighed 6.32 pounds. There have been no brown trout planted on Lake Charlevoix for years but fish occasionally wander back down into the lake from the Jordan River with quite a few being caught on the South Arm in the winter.

WALLEYE:

There were five places provided for cash prizes with some bumping as late as Sunday morning. All the fish came from Lake Charlevoix. Saturday night was the best fishing of the weekend, according to some of the walleye anglers. Many of the fish were caught at night by anglers trolling body baits. Top honors went to James Towles of Charlevoix with a fish of 8.62 pounds and this fish was almost 30 inches long. The next finishers were:

2nd Kent Seymour

8.06 pounds

3rd Ron McDonough

6.38 pounds

4th Brad Waldron

6.08 pounds

5th Keith Wilson

5.30 pounds

There was a special raffle with three big prizes and the usual drawing for many prizes, with any registered angler eligible for that drawing. Prizes included a kayak, an electric fishing motor, electric downriggers and all sorts of fishing and marine and outdoor gear.

The $100 port prizes, for the largest fish caught each day of the tourney, went to Amos Skroeki on Friday with a 17.12 pound salmon; to Dick Renke for a 17.12 pound salmon on Saturday, and to Charles Johnson for a 17.08 pound salmon on Sunday.

Ellsworth Pig Roast fires up this weekend

Pork isn't the only thing on the menu during the Ellsworth Pig Roast Thursday through Sunday, June 17-20.

The 30th annual event also features a plethora of fun and entertainment for the family. All events will take place on the Ellsworth Community School grounds on Park Street unless otherwise noted.

Thursday features a Breeze-way cruise along C-48 starting at 7 p.m. from Boyne Mountain in Boyne Falls to Friske's Farm Market in Atwood. The cost is $5 which includes appetizers and a chairlift ride at Boyne Mountain starting at 5 p.m. A light dinner will be served for $10 at Friske's. The Banks Township Citizen of the Year will be announced. More details are available at www.ridethebreezeaway.com.

Friday will begin with an ice cream social from 5-8 p.m., and a '50s drive-in dinner from 5-7 p.m. with burgers, hot dogs and root beer floats. Entertainment will be provided by one-man-band Andy Barger from 5-7 p.m.

The Great Lakes Timber Show will present a crosscut saw competition from 7-7:30 p.m. Admission is by donation. Chris Dominic will perform country and gospel music from 8-9:30 p.m. Organizers suggest guests bring a lawn chair.

Saturday kicks off with a 5K fun run at 9 a.m. The cost is $20 and registration will take place from 7:30-8:45 a.m. at the elementary school parking lot.

Tournament renamed to honor hall-of-famer Buchanan

An ever-growing tournament, with a new name to honor an all-time great.

The fourth annual Charlevoix Invitational girls' softball tournament, now in its fourth year, has been renamed in honor of the late Leroy Buchanan of Charlevoix, a longtime softball coach and supporter.

The tournament, which begins on Friday, June 18, and will be played entirely at the Carpenter Avenue Fields, will now be known as the Leroy Buchanan Memorial Fastpitch Invitational.

Buchanan, who died Nov. 11, 2009, retired in 1991 as manager of Oleson's in Charlevoix. He worked for more than 50 years in the grocery business and managed softball teams for decades.

Buchanan's daughter, Rhonda, was his pitcher while Meg (Fowler) Kitson was his catcher. They, along with a core group of other women, won six Michigan Amateur Softball Association fast pitch state championships and a Class C national title in 1996 under Buchanan's guidance.

Rhonda Buchanan will throw the ceremonial first pitch to Kitson as the tournament begins 4:20 p.m. Friday.

The 21-team tournament will be divided into three age groups, 12-under, 14-under and 16-under and they will represent Petoskey, Charlevoix, Traverse City, Mount Pleasant, Midland, Saginaw, Bay City and Livonia.

The first game, a 12-under between the Petoskey Blaze and the Traverse City Waves, is scheduled to begin at 4 p.m. Friday. Play in all three divisions will continue into Friday evening and games will be played on all three diamonds all day on Saturday and throughout much of the day on Sunday.

On June 14th, empty nesters will learn the early bird gets the boocoo.

boocoo (bōō cōō)

noun: 1. The new online auction that makes buying and selling exciting again. Boocoo offers lower fees and lets you transfer your quality rating. 2. The stuff you buy or sell on boocoo. Charlevoix high school alumna shares stage with president

STEVE ZUCKER
COURIER EDITOR

When Lisa VanLoo wrapped up her first year as dean of students at Kalamazoo Central High School she had what many would consider a nerve wracking job: speaking at the school's graduation ceremony June 7.

But VanLoo, 33, and a member of the Charlevoix High School class of 1995, probably had just a few more butterflies in her stomach when she spoke considering the speaker she had to follow: President Barack Obama.

VanLoo is the daughter of Bob and Cooky Borths, of Charlevoix.

She said the 1,600-student high school was chosen for the honor of having the president speak at graduation out of more than 1,000 schools around the country that applied as part of the "Race to the Top" program. The schools application, which included a video, was selected as one of six finalists, which were then narrowed down to three finalist school through online voting. The president himself selected Kalamazoo Central from among the three finalists.

VanLoo said the president's visit added a great deal of excitement to the end of the school year.

"One big cheer went up around the school when we found out that we had been chosen," VanLoo said.

Charlevoix High School alumna Lisa VanLoo (right) shakes hand with President Barack Obama during Kalamazoo Central High School's graduation ceremony on June 7.

But, she said, with the excitement came with a whole host of other details that had to be addressed.

The date and location of graduation had to be changed. The school had to use a ticketing system for graduation for the first time ever, and then there were all the security concerns, including pre-event visits from the U.S. Secret Service.

"It was very enlightening to see what all is required to plan an event involving the president," VanLoo said.

VanLoo said she was able to witness the president interacting with the graduates in a waiting area moments before the ceremony began.

"He was very reaffirming to them," she said. And while her only direct interaction with the president was shaking his hand after he had completed his speech, VanLoo said she was impressed with not only his speech, but also in how personable he was and the fact that he not only stayed for the rest of the ceremony, he shook the hand of each graduate has they received their diplomas.

Smart Investment Moves for Newlyweds

Benjamin Muladore
Financial Advisor

June is a popular month for weddings. If you're getting married this month, you've got a lot on your mind, but after the honeymoon is over, it's time to start thinking of the key activities of building a life together — one of which is creating a long-term investment strategy.

To build such a strategy, you and your spouse will need to take several steps. Here are some of the most important ones:

- Identify your goals. People can enter marriage at different stages of life. But whether you're a young newlywed or a baby boomer entering a second marriage, both you and your spouse will have a set of goals you want to achieve, such as saving for a down payment on a home, saving for college for your children, building resources for a comfortable retirement, purchasing a vacation home, supporting charitable organizations and so on. It's important that, as a couple, you identify those financial goals that are most important to you.
- List your debts and assets. Generally speaking, the fewer "surprises" you and your spouse bring to a marriage. In terms of financial issues, the better. If you haven't already done so, put your debts and assets "on the table" so you're both aware of what you owe and what you own. This knowledge will be invaluable when you begin making the investment moves necessary to achieve your goals.

• Discuss your investment styles. You and your spouse no doubt share many traits, but you will also have some differences — and one of those differences may be in your investment styles and preferences. For example, you may be an aggressive investor, while your spouse might be more conservative. What you choose to do with those differences is up to you. You could, for example, arrive at some common ground between your two styles and use that approach in your joint investment accounts. Then, for your individual accounts, such as your IRA or 401(k), you and your spouse can follow your individual investment styles.

• Start an emergency fund. Of all the investment-related moves you can make early in your marriage, none may be quite as important as building an emergency fund containing six to 12 months' worth of living expenses in a liquid account. Without this emergency fund, you could quickly go into debt or be forced to dip into a long-term investment if you have to meet an unexpected, and unexpectedly large, expense, such as a major car repair, a new appliance or a medical bill.

• Get some help. If you can make the right investment-related moves right from the beginning of your marriage, you'll almost certainly make your lives easier. But investing can be complicated, so you and your spouse could well benefit from getting assistance from a professional financial advisor — someone who can help you create and maintain an investment portfolio that's appropriate for your specific goals, risk tolerance and time horizon.

Charlevoix Little League roundup

The following is a round-up of Charlevoix Little League action for weeks three and four.

In the minors division the Scrappers beat the Orioles

6-0, and the Red Sox defeated Rockhounds, 4-2. Outstanding players from this league for this week were the Scrappers' Collin Smith and the Orioles' Caleb Kenwabikise who made an amazing catch.

In the Midgets division, coaches noted that the teams and worked very hard making excellent plays and showing great improvement. Outstanding players this week from this league included: the Express' Emma Buday, the Ironbirds' Baby Hang, the Muckdogs' Elise Stuck, and the Bees' Tyler Olstrum, Jacob Snyder, and Zach Nickel.

Fall prevention seminar

Charlevoix Area Hospital and its affiliate Boyne Rehabilitation Center will be co-hosting a free educational seminar on fall prevention strategies at 7 p.m. Wednesday, June 23, at in Classroom B at Charlevoix Area Hospital, 14700 Lakeshore Drive, Charlevoix.

Topics will include: Prevention and consequences of falls, benefits of therapeutic exercise, home safety assessments, and referrals to reduce fall risk.

According to the Centers for Disease Control (CDC), one in three persons over the age of 65 falls each year, and this number increases to one in two by the age of 80.

This presentation is open to the public and is free of charge. Caregivers of the elderly may find this seminar to be of particular benefit.

For more information or to RSVP, contact Connie Roland, education coordinator at Charlevoix Area Hospital at (231) 547-8570 or eroland@cah.org.

By making the right investment moves, right from the start of your marriage, you and your spouse may be giving yourselves a "wedding gift" that may benefit you for years to come. So plan your moves carefully — and enjoy your lives together.

Seventh-grade science teacher Amy Pott said she not only was raised a Rayder, but also had the good fortune to come back and teach at the middle school under Haske's direction.

Pott, who described herself as "maroon and white through and through," said she agreed with all of the good things people have said about Haske, but called for more unity among the school community.

"I fear that for the last few years we're casting a lot of stones that are breaking down our Rayder Nation," Pott said. "What's done is done. We need to come together. Let's stop throwing stones and let's build those bridges."

The board also spent time discussing how to go about filling the middle school principal's position vacated by Haske. The position has already been posted internally with an application deadline of Friday, June 18. After some discussion, the board (with members Valerie Snyder and Larry Levensgood absent) agreed by consensus that it will also post the position externally with an application deadline of roughly two weeks from Monday.

As the board members discussed the hiring process, high school principal Suzanne Klinger asked them how they will respond during applicant interviews if asked about the future of the position should the board eventually decide to move to a two-building format.

District superintendent Chet Janik said it's no secret that district has been considering building consolidation as a cost saving measure, but reminded the audience that no such decision has been made.

Janik said in the coming weeks the board will likely form a task force to research what building configuration options might be best for the district in the coming years.

"We have to start this process or we'll be here a year from now talking about the same things," Janik added.

PLAN

lowed by a capital outlay plan." Along with work on the city master plan two other master plans are also in the works; the airport master plan and a parks and recreation master plan.

Spencer also reminded audience members that the plan is still in its early stages.

"This plan certainly is not perfect. So what we want you to do is focus on the content, the concepts, and point out what is missing," he said.

Following Spencer's presentation Val Lazdins from city-hired consulting firm LSL Planning of Grand Rapids discussed the difference between "form based zoning codes" from more traditional zoning codes.

He said, "This is one tool to make Charlevoix more sustainable, to maintain the character of city and protect it from change. The form based zoning focuses more on design and form."

Looking ahead in the master plan process, Spencer said the planning commission will meet on June 28 and at that time could vote to ask the city council to accept it for official publication. If they do, then a 70-day public review process will begin with a public hearing on the plan as early as Sept. 13. The city council could vote on approval and acceptance at their Oct. 4 meeting.

"Of course this time line could change several times before the council finally votes," Spencer said.

About 30 people attended Tuesday's meeting including some city council members and city staff.

Bridge club wraps up season

The East Jordan Bridge Tournament Club wrapped up its year with a luncheon and afternoon of cards Thursday, June 2.

The projects committee selected the following organizations as the recipients of its community service awards: East Jordan Community Playground, Ellsworth Mums and Tots and The Boyne Area Free Clinic.

The club is offering free bridge lessons. Anyone interested should call Barb Wofford at (231) 536-7465 for more information.

The couples earning the highest points for the year (in order) were Katie Sowers and Jan Birekell; Jean Pardee and Ruth Gee; Pat Messink and Betty Rison. High game for the season was played by Jean Pardee and Ruth Gee and totaled 4,820 points.

The club welcomes new members individually or as a team.

Hospice seeks recipes for cookbook

Hospice of Little Traverse Bay is seeking the community's favorite recipes to help build a cookbook to support the organization's volunteer program.

Hospice of Little Traverse Bay volunteers provide hundreds of hours of care and comfort to patients and families in Charlevoix, Emmet, Antrim, and Cheboygan counties. The Hiland Cottage Cookbook will be a collection of recipes and hospice "food" stories, with proceeds from sales of the book supporting the Hospice's volunteer program.

All categories of recipes are being sought including appetizers, salads, entrees, vegan dishes, healthy foods, comfort foods, and desserts. The deadline for submitting recipes is July 10, with cookbooks scheduled to be available for purchase

In addition to helping with the creation of the cookbook, each person who submits a recipe will also be entered in a drawing to win a handmade lap quilt and a copy of the cookbook.

To request a form to submit your favorite recipe, or for more information, contact the Hospice of Little Traverse Bay Volunteer Hotline at (231) 487-7225.

CHARLEVOIX COURIER 13

VENETIAN BURGEE CLUB

As summer in Charlevoix draws ever so near, so too does the 80th Annual Charlevoix Venetian Festival. Our Venetian homecoming celebration and its amazing array of activities has become a fabric of life in Charlevoix, thanks in great measure to the Venetian Burgee Club, whose ranks consist of those individuals, businesses and organizations who faithfully and generously contribute funds, goods and services to Venetian. Please join us in thanking the members of the 2009 Venetian Burgee Club who are reflected below.

If you or any of your friends or family have ever enjoyed any Venetian activities, please consider the fact that all of the major events and entertainment of Venetian are absolutely free. Yet it still costs the Venetian volunteer organization upwards of $250,000.00 to stage the premier festival, which is why your help is needed to maintain the quality entertainment and activities of Venetian.

This year's Festival, which will take place from July 17, 2010 through July 24, 2010, will be shaped by your donations. Please don't look away when it is time to contribute, and otherwise take this opportunity to enlist and/or re-enlist in the Burgee Club, by forwarding your 2010 donation with the Enrollment Form located below. Best wishes for a summer season filled with the kind and generous spirit of Venetian.

Charlevoix County organizations fund 2010 Senior Project FRESH

Michigan State University Extension in Charlevoix County recently received grants totaling $5,500 from the Charlevoix County Community Foundation and the Charlevoix County Commission on Aging to fund the 2010 Senior Project FRESH program.

Senior Project FRESH is a statewide project of the Michigan Office of Services to the Aging providing funds to income and age qualifying seniors to buy fresh Michigan produce. In addition to increasing accessibility of fresh produce for low income individuals, this program promotes healthy eating habits and encourages local business. Charlevoix County MSU Extension began offering this program in 2005 and enrolled 97 participants during the first year. In 2009, 269 seniors participated - a 36 percent increase in enrollment over the last five years.

Organizers said as a result of another year of funding, Senior Project FRESH is available to serve more than 400 seniors in Charlevoix County. Participating seniors will attend an educational seminar at one of the local senior centers or housing complexes and will receive $40 in coupons redeemable at participating farmers markets.

This year's educational seminar is made possible by donations from the Boyne Valley Garden Club and Charlevoix Area Garden Club. The seminar will cover the topic of container gardening for seniors. During the class, master gardeners will demonstrate how to successfully plant a container garden and MSU Extension's Nutrition Program will provide recipes for and nutrition information about fresh fruits and vegetables. Additionally, one lucky senior at each educational seminar will have the chance to win an assembled container garden to take home.

Coupons for the Senior Project FRESH program are accepted locally at the Boyne City, East Jordan, Charlevoix and Petoskey weekly farmers' markets, Bill's Farm Market, Pond Hill Farm, Marvin's Gardens Feed and Farm, Coveyou Scenic Farm, Country Apple Farm Market, Kiteley's Market, and Johnnecheek Farm Market.

Those wishing to find out if they qualify or seeking more information about this program, should contact the MSU Extension office in Charlevoix County at (231) 582-6232.

I care!

"I care about the environment.
I care about protecting our bay."

It's been 62 years since my father founded Boyne Resorts, beginning with Boyne Mountain.

As tourism has grown and the region has developed over the decades, our business has grown too. Now more than 600,000 people visit our three northern Michigan resorts each year and at peak times, we are the region's largest employer.

It's our family business. We've been here for decades, and we're going to be here for many generations to come.

I care about the Little Traverse Bay Environmental Project because the work being done to protect the bay is benefiting and will continue to benefit our communities and the valued visitors who come year after year.

Taking action to protect the bay is an investment of time and resources that goes to the very heart of our community's long-term interests and our economy. And I believe that by keeping the bay clean, we are protecting northwest Michigan's most treasured asset.

Overtime soccer regional loss ends Rayders' season

In the state tournament, it can end so quickly, so painfully.

Such was the case for the Charlevoix High School girls' soccer team.

Jessie Emmorey scored 40 seconds into overtime Tuesday as Grand Rapids North-Pointe Christian downed the Rayders, 2-1, in a Division IV girls' soccer regional semifinal.

The loss ended Charlevoix's season at 15-6-2.

NorthPointe Christian's Annie Hamilton scored 10 minutes into the game. Bobbie Molter got the equalizer off a Hallie Bills assist with about nine minutes remaining in the half.

Emmorey's game-winner came after Jill Owens sent the ball toward the net on a corner kick.

Bailee Stevens, one of several freshman who saw significant playing time for the Rayders this season, made 13 saves in goal.

"She had a great game, she really did," Charlevoix coach Carol Madison said. "All three are going off to college and I'm sure they're going to find their rhythm early on, Madison said, and paid for it with a 1-0 deficit. It got progressively better with Molter finally breaking through late in the half.

"We had a much better second half," Madison said. "We played right with them. I was pleased. It was as good game. As far as quality chances, in the second half anyway, we were even up with them."

"They were very good. They had some really speedy girls up top. You don't get to the regionals if you're not a good team."

Madison lauded the play of Savannah Joseph at center back, along with the play of Abbey Barnes, Taylor Smith, Madison Way, Carolela Elowsky, Kelly Greyerbiehl and Caroline Dupuis.

The loss brought an end to the high school careers of seniors Molter, Way and Dupuis, that latter two four-year varsity veterans.

"Those girls, and I've said it throughout the season, what leadership they offered to the team," Madison said. "All three are going off to college and I'm sure they're going to accomplish amazing things. They're smart, they have great work ethic, and they're just tremendous leaders."

With losing just three seniors, the Rayders will return several players who saw significant playing time this season, including freshman Anna Way, Sydney Carlson and Hannah Herboldsheimer.

"That's the one thing that's really good for us," Madison said. "We have a lot of freshmen who got a lot of fresh good experience this year."

"It's always hard to have your seniors leave, but it's also kind of exciting to think about what you've accomplished this year and how you can build on it for next year."

"This is an amazing group of young women. We had players quit the team, girls got injured, we had girls get sick and be out for lengths of time. Through it all they put the team first, they never complained, they showed up every day in practice and worked hard."

NorthPointe Christian fell to Maple City Glen Lake, 1-0, in the regional title game on Friday.

Rayders fall to defending state champs in softball regionals

The road never gets easier the further you advance in the state tournament.

Such was the case for the Charlevoix High School softball team Saturday in its Division III regional semifinal against defending state champion Gladstone.

The Braves jumped on Charlevoix early with a five-run second inning and then added three more runs in the third to take an 8-0 lead.

Gladstone, 30-4, slipped past Tawas, 3-1, in the championship game to advance to Tuesday's state quarterfinal at noon against Saginaw Valley Lutheran.

35-3, at Traverse City West.

"They (Gladstone) were definitely the better team," Charlevoix coach Liz Grunch said. "They did a really good job. They had solid all-around players and a good pitcher-catcher combination that made it tough to make contact."

The Braves took advantage of four Charlevoix errors en route to downing the Rayders, 10-0, ending the Rayders' season.

"It was a good learning experience for us," Grunch said. "The majority of our players are younger, while their team was most seniors."

the loss for Charlevoix as she struck out two, walked one and allowed 10 runs on eight hits.

Sophomore Kristen Mielke doubled for Charlevoix's lone hit. The Rayders finished 22-11-1.

"This is something we can look forward to for next year," said Grunch, who loses just two seniors, Megan Klooster and Nikki Speigl, to graduation. "It was a great group of girls, they learned a lot and improved throughout the season. That's the goal every coach wants."

Tawas advanced to Saturday's regional final with a 3-1 semifinal win over Kalkaska.

Jones leads Rayders to 8th place in state golf finals

Ty Jones shot 78-76 — 154 to finish in a tie for ninth place and earn a medal over the weekend, leading Charlevoix to an eighth-place finish in the Division III high school state golf finals on The Meadows on the campus of Grand Valley State University.

It was the second straight year that Jones, a senior, earned a medal in the state tournament. He tied for eighth last year and earned a spot on the All-State team. The All-State teams, selected by the Michigan Interscholastic Golf Coaches Association, will be released later this summer.

Top-ranked Jackson Lumen Christi shot 60-4 to win its second straight team championship in the 36-hole two-day event.

Big Rapids, 633, was second, followed by Detroit Country Day, 640. The Rayders shot 656. They were six shots out of a tying for fifth place.

Also for Charlevoix, Thomas Rich shot 77-88 — 165; Wyatt Drost shot 85-82 — 167; Gunnar Whitley shot 91-83 — 174; and Josh Nitchman shot 87-94 — 181.

Four of the five Rayders who participated in this year's tournament played in last year's state final, when Charlevoix placed 12th on Eagle Crest at Eastern Michigan University.

"Very competitive," said Charlevoix coach Doug Drenth said of the field. "Every guy shot better this year than he did last year. It's hard to judge because it's a different course. We were definitely more competitive this year. Last year we weren't that much a part of the competition."

"This year, going into day two we were in the mix. That was our objective, to be a part of the competition. I think we were disappointed because we thought we could place higher."

"I think we hit our average score on the nose. We were average, and you have to be better than average at the state championship."

Jones and Whitley are the lone two seniors on the roster. The others are juniors.

"It's sad to see those guys go," Drenth said. "Ty Jones, to earn a medal two years in a row. Two times playing in the state championship. It's a great honor for those guys."

"Great group of kids. Three of the five are back (next year). We had a discussion in the parking lot and were talking about next year and some of our priorities and how we have to work to get back there."

"There's a lot to be grateful for. We had a great group and we have a great group coming. They're looking forward to what we can accomplish and I am too."

Zach Mick of Macomb Lutheran North shot 69-79 — 148 to capture medalist honors. Blaze Hogan of Big Rapids shot 76-72 — 148 to tie Mick. Mick won the title with a birdie on the second playoff hole.

Chamber sponsors customer service seminar

Bill Quiseng, Inn at Bay Harbor general manager and "service guru," will present another installment in his popular customer service training, designed for any type of business, from food service to sales and everything in between from 8-10 a.m. on Tuesday, June 22, at Castle Farms in Charlevoix.

The event, which is sponsored by the Charlevoix Area Chamber of Commerce, includes breakfast compliments of Frisbie Orchards. Chamber staff Quiseng "will entertain you and your staff, while instilling the need for great service when dealing with customers and fellow employees."

Topics to be covered in this two-hour seminar are an overview of topics covered in the half-semester course that Quiseng teaches at North Central Michigan College.

The seminar will focus on how businesses owners can create an experience so outstanding that customers will serve as customer advocates for their businesses.

The cost for the seminar is $15 for Chamber members, or $25 for non-member. To reserve a spot at the seminar, call the Charlevoix Area Chamber of Commerce at (231) 547-2101 or chamber@charlevoix.org or the Petoskey Regional Chamber of Commerce at (231) 347-4150 or chamber@petoskey.com.

Older Michiganians Day highlights elder needs

Charlevoix Senior Center Director Earl Muma (left) and Charlevoix County Commissioner Bob Drebenstedt chat with regular senior center guest Joseph Etienne Thursday about Older Michiganians Day. The day, which included a rally in Lansing, is an effort by many senior services organizations to encourage legislators to enact laws that protect vulnerable seniors through long-term care programs, elder abuse laws, enhancing Michigan as a retirement destination and tax reforms.

Dancing over to new location

The Conservatory of Dance Petoskey & Charlevoix is moving to a new location at the Circle of the Arts, 109 Clinton St. in Charlevoix, this summer. For the past three years the organization has been holding classes in the South Side Gym in Charlevoix. Director Deborah Knight said the group has enjoyed the relationship with owners Dean and Patty Spencey but decided to move locations in an effort to create a more classical setting for its dancers. The new location offers a little more room and a very convenient location for parents, Knight added. The conservatory of dance Charlevoix currently has about 40 dancers ranging in ages from 3-18. Summer classes are being offered and a full fall curriculum will be offered as well. Summer classes began June 15. Contact Knight at (231) 510-0481.

Women's Resource Center annual fundraiser

The Women's Resource Center will host its fourth annual "Women Can Women Do" fundraising luncheon at 11:30 a.m. on Wednesday, June 16, at Castle Farms in Charlevoix.

Featured this year will be up to 30 designers from throughout Charlevoix County who donate their talents in designing themed tables for the luncheon.

Last year's luncheon raised more than $29,000 for the Women's Resource Center which serves women and families in need in five northwest Michigan counties.

Programs and services offered by the WRC include rape, sexual assault and domestic abuse assistance including advocacy and safe, emergency shelter; a 24-hour crisis line; transitional housing; career and educational counseling; personal and family counseling; and quality, licensed child care at the Children's Learning Center.

For more information, contact the Women's Resource Center office at (231) 347-0067.

JUNE 26-JULY 12

Boating safety classes

The Charlevoix County Sheriff's office will be offering 2010 Boater's Safety classes on the following dates:

9 a.m.-1 p.m., June 26, Walloon Lake Country club (Grandma's)

2 p.m.-6 p.m., July 12, Jordan Valley District Library

Proctored Exam Time: Noon-1 p.m. June 5, Charlevoix Yacht Club

5 p.m.-6 p.m. July 12, Jordan Valley District Library

This is only for those who have an on-line boating safety certificate. Individuals will take the state exam and are free to leave upon successful completion of exam.

The class is free of charge and pre-registration is not required. Minimum age for class attendance is 12 years of age. Students should bring date of birth information with them for registration purposes. It is recommended that students eat prior to class or bring a small snack to class. Because of the short duration of the course, there will be no meal time. Students receiving a satisfactory test grade will receive their Michigan Boating Safety Certificates at the conclusion of the course. If you currently have an on-line boating safety certificate, you must take a proctored test and receive a state-honored boating safety certificate. The state only honors on-line course completed certificates that have been verified by a proctored Michigan exam.

Completion of this class is mandatory for individuals who were born after Dec. 31, 1978 to operate a personal water craft; for juveniles ages 12-16 to operate a boat; and for parents who allow their children ages of 12-14 to operate a personal water craft under the parent's supervision.

Anyone with questions on the class should call the Charlevoix County Sheriff's office marine division at (231) 547-4461, ext. 320.

JULY 18

The Charlevoix Masonic Lodge will host its 2010 College Fund Benefit Golf Outing on Sunday, July 18, at the Antrim Dells Public Golf Course in Atwood.

Motorists sit in their cars on Bridge Street Monday waiting for the Charlevoix bridge to close. City and local environmental group leaders are hoping that more of them will soon start turning off their vehicle's engines during such waits.

Don't 'exhaust' Charlevoix

WATCH, Charlevoix city officials asks drivers not to idle cars while waiting for the drawbridge

In an effort to raise awareness of air quality in downtown Charlevoix, WATCH Inc. (Water and Air Team Charlevoix) along with the City of Charlevoix and the Charlevoix Downtown Development Authority have declared the week of June 28-July 4 to be "Idle Free Week" and the summer of 2010 to be "Idle Free Season."

Copyright 2010 Northern Michigan Review Inc. All Rights Reserved

"With the City, MDOT, and the DDA's encouragement, WATCH will have several beautiful Idle Free Charlevoix banners gracing our streets reminding people what a beautiful place this is to live, vacation, and enjoy. We have had such great response from everyone, we hope other communities will follow Charlevoix's lead," WATCH executive administrator Michelle Rick-Biddick said.

WATCH officials said that motorists could save more than 3,000 gallons of gas and 58,000 lbs. of carbon emissions if just 25 cars turned off their cars each time there is a wait for the Charlevoix bridge to open and close.

"Our goal is to educate and make people aware of turning off their cars while waiting for the bridge, running into the post office, or grocery store, etc. Most people don't realize that any time they are idling more than 10 seconds, they are wasting gas," states Rick-Biddick said "I don't think people intentionally leave

Running wild

Popularity of Charlevoix Marathon continues to grow

STEVE ZUCKER
 COURIER EDITOR

No Vacancy.

That's a sign you can expect to see lit on lodging establishments throughout the Charlevoix area and beyond this coming weekend as runners from all over the country and the world descend upon the area to take part in the 2010 Charlevoix Marathon Saturday.

Event organizers Ron and Sharon Suffolk of South Lyon said as of Monday, more than 1,000 runners had already registered for the race and they expect that number could easily climb to more than 1,300 by the time the start's gun fires early Saturday. The first race four years ago drew just 300 participants. This year's race will include runners from at least 40 states and 10 countries.

The event, in its fourth year, is actually four races in one: A marathon (26.2 miles), a half-marathon (13.1 miles) and a 10-kilometer (6.2 miles) and 5-kilometer (3.1 miles).

All of the races will start and finish just on Bridge Street (U.S. 31) just north of the bridge and all races will use portions of the same out-and-back course.

The first 3.5 miles of the course runs through town from the area north of the bridge down Michigan to McSaubia, through the North Point neighborhood, Pa-be-shan to Old Orchard, Old Orchard to Waller, and Waller to the start of the Little Traverse Wheelway along U.S. 31. The rest of the course uses the non-motorized trail to

Former firefighter gets 90 days in sex assault caseSTEVE ZUCKER
COURIER EDITOR

Last week a judge sentenced former Charlevoix city and township firefighter David Dale Buckner, 33, to jail time last week in connection with his recent guilty plea to an attempted sexual assault charge.

District Court Judge Richard W. May sentenced Buckner to serve 365 days in jail 90 days to be served immediately, credit for two days served and 273 days held in abeyance; two years probation; to have no contact with the victim; pay $1,500 in fines and costs and pay restitution to be determined. Buckner pleaded guilty on May 18 to a charge of attempted fourth degree criminal sexual conduct as part of a plea agreement with the Charlevoix County Prosecutor's office. The charge is a misdemeanor which carries a maximum penalty of up to one year in jail.

In exchange for his plea, several other charges Buckner was facing, including three counts of second degree criminal sexual conduct and one count of third degree, all 15-year felonies were dismissed.

Buckner had been accused of having improper sexual contact with two children.

At the time of his plea, Charlevoix County Chief Assistant Prosecutor Shaynee Fanara said the family of the children were supportive of the plea agreement because it eliminated the need for the children to testify in court.

Buckner had worked as a firefighter and emergency medical technician for the City of Charlevoix since 1999 and a firefighter for the Charlevoix Township Fire Department since 1997.

He had been placed on a leave of absence from with the city and on suspension from the township fire department shortly after his arrest in April. He was terminated from both departments shortly after entering his guilty plea.

Ron said organizers typically estimate an average of about 2.5 people will come to town for each runner who participates in a race such as the Charlevoix Marathon.

If his predictions for last-minute registrations is correct, that means about 3,250 people in and around the area.

That's about the same as city's year-round population.

As of Monday, finding an available room in the area for this weekend was something akin to finding a Petoskey stone under a morel mushroom. Race officials are now sending people looking for rooms as far away as Alanson and Pellston.

Ron credits the growth in the race's popularity with two things. The beauty of the area and the Internet.

He said many runners have raved about the unique nature of the course and the scenery through which it runs, and they are talking about it on Internet running blogs.

Suffolk, who's business Good Boy Events organizes several races around the state and country, said he's grateful for all the support city officials, law enforcement and ambulance crews have provided for the races. He said he got the idea for a race in Charlevoix several years ago when he just saw the completion of the Little Traverse Wheelway while visiting friends in Harbor Springs.

And it isn't just innkeepers, restaurant owners and other businesses that benefit from the Marathon. Suffolk hires local groups, such as the boys and girls track teams and the band boosters to help with clean-up and manning aid stations along the course.

For more about the race and Good Boy Events, visit www.goodboyevents.com.

After all of the calculations were done, all three cities came out receiving thousands less in road millage money than they expected.

In November of 2008, Charlevoix County voters narrowly approved a one-mill levy for a 15-year period to help pay for road improvements throughout the county.

At the time, proponents of the millage, including road commission officials, told voters and city officials that each city would get to keep any road millage revenue generated within their boundaries for use on their own streets.

Fast-forward to the spring of 2010 when the Charlevoix County Treasurer's office began doling out the millage money to the cities from the first collection in November of 2009.

Through their research, treasurer's office staff discovered that the state law under which the road millage was passed contained a provision that dictated how the millage money is to be divided up between the county road commission and other municipalities (the three cities, and the Village of Boyne Falls).

But now how to fix it?

In recent weeks Charlevoix City Council and Boyne City

City Commission and the East Jordan City Commission all approved motions authorizing their city managers to work together with the county and the other cities to get the cities' money back to them.

The topic also came up at the June 9 Charlevoix County Board of Commissioner's meeting. The consensus among the board, which holds the millage money for the road commission, seemed to be that the money should be returned to the cities.

The board stopped short of passing a motion to that effect, instead directing its civil council, county prosecutor John Jarrena, to make sure its legal for the county to simply give the money back to the cities.

Speaking to the Courier late last week, Harmon said he hopes to have all of the city officials and county officials attend the Monday, June 28 road commission meeting at which time he hopes the entire mix-up can be settled.

Road millage mix-up
Charlevoix County cities want their fair share of road millage fundsSTEVE ZUCKER
COURIER EDITOR

A recently-discovered provision in the state law governing how Charlevoix County's road millage money is to be distributed has caused a stir among officials in the county's three cities.

City officials in Charlevoix, Boyne City and East Jordan are crying foul after the checks they have been receiving for their share of the county-wide road millage have been thousands less than they expected.

Boyer City took the biggest loss at about $19,000. East Jordan received about $14,000 less than expected and Charlevoix's payment was about $3,800 less than expected.

After a recent meeting with Charlevoix County Treasurer Marilyn Cousineau, Charlevoix County Road Commission Manager Pat Harmon said the big difference appears to be linked to the calculation being based upon state equalized value instead of taxable value.

The provision in the law appears to have taken just about everyone by surprise.

"We didn't know anything about it (the provision for the formula) until the treasurer's office started looking into it," Harmon said.

One thing all the government officials involved seem to agree upon is that the mix-up was not an intentional deception, but rather an oversight.

After a recent meeting with Charlevoix County Treasurer Marilyn Cousineau, Charlevoix County Road Commission Manager Pat Harmon said the big difference appears to be linked to the calculation being based upon state equalized value instead of taxable value.

The provision in the law appears to have taken just about everyone by surprise.

"We didn't know anything about it (the provision for the formula) until the treasurer's office started looking into it," Harmon said.

One thing all the government officials involved seem to agree upon is that the mix-up was not an intentional deception, but rather an oversight.

But now how to fix it?

In recent weeks Charlevoix City Council and Boyne City

City Commission and the East Jordan City Commission all approved motions authorizing their city managers to work together with the county and the other cities to get the cities' money back to them.

The topic also came up at the June 9 Charlevoix County Board of Commissioner's meeting. The consensus among the board, which holds the millage money for the road commission, seemed to be that the money should be returned to the cities.

The board stopped short of passing a motion to that effect, instead directing its civil council, county prosecutor John Jarrena, to make sure its legal for the county to simply give the money back to the cities.

Speaking to the Courier late last week, Harmon said he hopes to have all of the city officials and county officials attend the Monday, June 28 road commission meeting at which time he hopes the entire mix-up can be settled.

Friends: A commodity to be cherished

Friend is supporter, sympathizer, ally.

This spring has been an unusually busy one for me and in it I found the importance

A LOOK AT LIFE

Gayle Gennett

Every day brings new challenges and each one seems easier to maneuver when we share it with a friend.

We teach our kids as toddlers to share and care. As they mature we continue to emphasize the importance of getting along. As parents we realize that our own behavior encourages our children on how they treat their own friends. We learn to accept our child's social style that may be different from our own, whether they have only one or two close friends or a large circle of them. I would often listen to adults share how a friend was there to offer a ride to a doctor's appointment when family members were not able, or how another would offer lunch and time to talk over a problem. Friends are there to encourage, listen, and offer guidance.

As a veteran people watcher, I enjoy observing the behavior of individuals relating and reacting to one another. When I'm traveling by train, waiting for coffee at a local café or taking in the sights at a concert, I can't help but notice how we relate to one another.

We connect and re-connect with friends, stopping what we are doing in the middle of a haircut, dining out, or in the grocery store. Whenever we spot a friend we stop what we are doing and reconnect. After checking in with our friend we go about our business.

The power of friendship is an essential part of our total being. If someone claims to be a loner I think deep down inside, part of them relishes the respect and camaraderie of another human being. Even individuals cordoned off in labs wearing white coats are seeking friendship with something other than mice.

Social skills are not always role modeled at home. Unfortunately as that may be it seems the schools have picked up on this. Social skills are quickly becoming part of the educational curriculum. Friendship teaches us the social skill of getting along with others, having empathy, sharing, and how to listen effectively.

Only a friend has the ability to critique our behavior in a light hearted manner and we still accept them. When one of your friends is taken ill you wish the pain was yours and want to see them well again just as you would a family member. Friends are family-extended. How often do we refer to close friend as "aunt" or "uncle" when there is no blood line?

We are social beings, not much different than other species wandering the earth. We need to touch, talk, be heard, and respected. We seek the approval from friends when we develop a new relationship in our lives that may turn to marriage; usually seeking some form of "Good House-keeping Seal" of friendship approval.

While observing friends helping others due to illness and other difficult family situations, it became clearer to me the role of friendships and how we shouldn't take them for granted. We should respect our friends and connect no matter how busy our schedule or hectic our lifestyle. It's a natural form of debriefing and a way of seeing ourselves in a mirror. So I say celebrate friends far and near. An unknown quote I found says it perfectly, "A friend is someone who reaches for your hand ... and touches your heart." So stop what you're doing and connect with that friend you've been thinking about, you'll be happy you did.

THANK YOU

Dear Editor,
I would like to thank all the donors for our very successful blood drive in May. We had 90 presenting and 80 productive units and seven first-time donors. That's terrific! We helped with many medical emergencies and situations with your gift of blood.

To the businesses: Bergman Marine, Family Farm and Home, Glen's Market, KMart, Oleson's Foods, Randall Chiropractic, Round Lake Bookstore, Sunny Bank Assisted Living, Walgreens, and Whitney's, I would like to express my sincere thanks to you for your contributions.

Thank you to the Community Reformed Church for the use of their great facility. Thank you also to the organizations of men who set up and take down for the drive. Without you it would be very difficult to have one great drive after another.

To all the wonderful, bappy, helpful volunteers who greet, support and serve... Thank you! I couldn't do it without you.

Last but not least, thank you to all the individuals who donate goodies! We are known all over the county for our wonderful canteen. In fact, I have been told, it is the best, many times!

Hope to see you all at the next blood drive on Thursday, Sept. 23, so mark your calendars.

MT. MCSAUBA TOW ROPES

Dear Editor:
I am unhappy with the tow ropes at Mount McSaubia and

I'm sure everyone else has the same opinion that I do on the subject.

My first reason is that the tow rope rips up your gloves. When it does, you have to buy more gloves. When it rips your gloves, your hands could get cut or scraped and obviously that would hurt bad, especially when it is cold outside. Some people don't have money to rent glove guards or much less buy them.

My second reason is that people can't physically do the tow rope. It seems like you need perfect balance. You have to keep trying a lot. People fall and get hurt on the tow rope.

My third reason is that on the big hill it's too much work. It takes way too long to get to the top. It hurts your arms because you have to hold on to the rope for so long. When you get to the top your arms are really tired.

Well that is my opinion on the subject and I hope you will take my letter into consideration.

Sincerely,
Philip Chanda

INDOOR AMUSEMENT PARK

Dear Editor:
Parents are always telling their kids to get up off the couch and go outside and play. I think that there should be an amusement park for kids to go to in the summer, spring, fall, and winter time. If we could have an amusement park, the businesses would get a lot of money. Plus, there would be less kids wasting their time in the house and more of their time in the amusement park.

First of all, it would be easier than rebuilding it and taking it back down. The people who build the carnivals don't have to take down the rides that they just built about a week ago. For example, the workers don't have to build them in a day or in a night. If you were in a worker's shoes, you wouldn't want to rush or get all greasy from the grease that makes them look all black.

Another reason is that in the winter time kids don't have to wait until summer time. People can ride them on weekends and still have fun. Also kids always go snowboarding or skiing etc. Parents hardly get to see their kids in the winter, but if there was an amusement park, the whole family can do the same thing.

A lot of people in the summertime will go to the park, and it will get a lot of money since it's summer. The workers will meet new people from different places. Workers will get some big money from all the people that are spending their day at the park.

This is why we should have an amusement park for all seasons. I would really hope that we will have an amusement park soon.

Sincerely,
Amber Duckworth

WATERPARK

Dear Editor:
Everyone loves going to water parks. The closest water park near Charlevoix area is at least 30 minutes away. Charlevoix is a good place to come to in the summer, so in the winter you can go to the indoor water park. An indoor water park would be a great addition to Charlevoix. If it were to happen, a great name would be Charlevoix Splash.

Kids of Charlevoix love water. If our parents won't drive us to the nearest water park then we can't do anything but sit on the couch. Here in the winter there aren't as many things to do as in the summer. In the summer you can go boating, fishing, swimming, etc. In the winter here you can't do any of that unless you go swimming in an indoor pool. If an indoor water park was here in Charlevoix kids would have lots of fun there. Even parents and adults would love it too. It would be exercise, even.

Tourists, or as we call them "fudgies," love coming to Charlevoix for vacation. They would even more enjoy it for their family if we had an indoor water park. It would even help other businesses because more fudgies would come to their store if their in town because of the water park. Fundraisers could be held, also dinners, sports, and many more. This could even help Charlevoix's economy. We could always use more money.

Charlevoix could use something new like this. A fresh new place would be great. The American Community Pool and other public pools are the only swimming in Charlevoix that we have in the winter. Even those don't have waterslides, jungle gyms, and surfing.

I love water and all I'm asking for is that you would consider my idea of an indoor water park in Charlevoix. Just picture Charlevoix Splash, a great place for fun. All I want is that you understand my thought and hope for it to sometime happen. It would really be a good addition to Charlevoix, Michigan. Just remember everyone loves water parks!

ENFORCE CURFEWS

Dear Editor:
I hear a lot about telling the truth and giving an opinion from people. Well now it's my turn to speak up. I would like to have the streets watched more after curfew. If we watch the streets more we would have less children getting in trouble. If we watch the streets more in Charlevoix, it would be a better place.

Children in Charlevoix all know that curfew is strictly 9:30. Children still are wandering the streets after curfew. This could lead to children getting killed. Many deaths are caused by children getting hit by cars. Another reason we should watch the streets more is because some children have formed gangs. Gangs cause fist fights and some times even drugs are involved. I strongly believe that if we watch the streets more that we might get rid of gangs doing illegal things and stop fist fights, so as well as protect the public.

If you're with me or you like my idea, you should speak up too. I really think if the police watch the streets more after curfew it would be a better place and more tourists would come to Charlevoix. If you decide to take my idea and use it, I thank you for using it, and I believe that Charlevoix would be a better place. Thank you for reading my paper.

Sincerely,

Children should not be sneaking out. If there are children sneaking out past curfew, then there has to be a place that they are sneaking to. When children sneak out, they could be taking away from their study time. If they don't study then they might not get a good education. When the parents find out about the children sneaking out the children will most likely lose trust with their parents. Soon, after a while of hiding that their sneaking out, they lose the battle.

If your child is sneaking out what are they going to do when the police find out? They might start asking your child questions. If your child gets hurt or even killed it is your fault. If you can watch your child why should they get hurt or even die? I strongly believe we absolutely need to watch the streets more after curfew.

If you're with me or you like my idea, you should speak up too. I really think if the police watch the streets more after curfew it would be a better place and more tourists would come to Charlevoix. If you decide to take my idea and use it, I thank you for using it, and I believe that Charlevoix would be a better place. Thank you for reading my paper.

RAIN GARDENS

Editor:
Congratulations to the participating Charlevoix City Council members and staff for planting the "rain gardens" adjacent to Park Avenue. Not only do they look good, but most importantly, each one collects debris from the street storm water and allows clean water to replenish our ground water.

For decades, storm water carrying soil, sand, leaves, animal waste, and petroleum materials have been discharged directly into our surrounding lakes.

As future projects unfold in our community, this avenue of recycling will set a precedent for other adjacent communities.

Thank you for the future.

YOUNG AMERICANS EXEMPLIFY THE IMPORTANCE OF THE ARTS

Editor:
On Saturday night, I was fortunate to be part of the packed house at the Charlevoix Performing Arts Center to witness one of the finest live musical productions I have ever witnessed in Charlevoix in my life. The Young Americans performed before an audience of more than 600 and every person had the opportunity to witness a great presentation. From opening the first act with "Shenandoah" with their technology bringing you right to the scenes from the setting of the great song, to closing with "Joy to the World," the audience enjoyed heartfelt renderings of many of our favorite songs. You could feel the emotions of the audience as the first act closed with everyone on their feet, extolling the great feelings they had for what they were seeing on stage. There was an electric buzz that was truly unbelievable! During the intermission, as I walked out of the theater I heard many people say, "What can we do to have this for our students right here in Charlevoix?"

The second part of the show opened with a film clip of Ed Sullivan introducing the Young Americans on his show and some of those early Young Americans were in the house with us on Saturday night. Their very effective use of modern technology made the set changes transparent and the audience was taken around the world on a musical journey and you felt like you were right there for that brief moment in time as you listened to the music of that time and place. A Broadway review followed and every emotion was pulled out of the audience through the final two numbers featuring the stirring "Lion King" and finally "We Wish You Love!"

I was exhausted at the end of the show, through my emotions being played like a string on a yo-yo, and I realized how much we have available to us through the music that is offered in our community. In Jayne Bennett, Jodi Thompson, Rita McIntyre, Danielle Wager, and Gary Stutzman, you have five people that are currently bringing the wonderful joy of music and movement to the children of the Charlevoix area. It is way past time that we figure out a way to bring all of this talent together to offer our children the same kind of community that the Young Americans represent.

Too many times, when budgets get tight and people are looking for a way to "save money" the arts are the first to be affected and cut. We need to put our heads together and find a way that we can all work together to continue to fill our beautiful performance center with performances of our local talent and give everyone an opportunity to "show their stuff" for the thousands of residents and visitors that flock to our area.

I would like to thank Jim Berlage, Susie Johnson of the Young Americans, and the Rotary Club of Charlevoix, for their vision to create a way to fill the performance center for two worthy musical events. We accomplished it with an outstanding first-ever joint concert with Charlevoix Public School bands and Northwest Academy bands and the event was fantastic. Now we have accomplished it again with the wonderful performance of the Young Americans. Let's use this as a stepping stone for future performances that include all the school age students from the Charlevoix area and bring the arts to the people in a way that has never been possible before all this happened!

'Circle' offers youth arts camp

The Charlevoix Circle of the Arts is offering a four week Cultural Arts Camp for children ages 6-11 years old during the month of July.

Circle Camp will take place from 9 a.m.-noon Monday-Friday in four one-week sessions starting Tuesday, July 6 and ending Friday, July 30.

Circle Camp will start and end each day at the Charlevoix Circle of Arts building at 109 Clinton St., but campers will be out exploring all the cultural richness Charlevoix and surrounding area has to offer. It is a general day camp with a focus on the arts including artist studio visits, acting exercises in East Park, field trips to nature preserves, sand castle designing at Michigan Beach, introduction to musical instruments by Northwest Academy and Charlevoix Community Band members, readers theatre in Butterfly Park at the Library, photography with the Photography Club and real digital cameras, dance basics taught by Petoskey Conservatory of Dance, Native American bead making and much more. Campers will also get plenty of exercise playing games in the park or at the beach.

The Circle Camp schedule includes: Week one, July 5-9 will focus on visual arts. Week two, July 12-16 will focus on dance and song. Week three, July 19-23 will focus on photography. Week four, July 26-30 will include a variety of artistic exposures through field trips.

The cost to attend the camp is $90 per week and $20 per day for individual campers or $80 per week $15 per day for siblings.

Circle Camp director, Amy Lesser Courage, has assembled a group of creative young adult counselors to help learn and explore with the kids. Organizers expect a camper-counselor ratio of at least 4-to-1.

For more information, to register a camper or to volunteer to help with the program, call the organization's office at (231) 547-3554.

Wellness Wednesday

Charlevoix Area Hospital's next "Wellness Wednesday" event will be from 8 a.m.-11 a.m. on Wednesday, July 7.

The Wellness Wednesday health screens include: Total Cholesterol, HDL, ratio, and glucose levels, body mass index (BMI) score, fat percentage, and a blood pressure reading. No fasting required. However, if you are fasting an LDL and triglyceride reading can also be obtained. The cost for the service is $12.

Participants will also receive a blood pressure log and pedometer as well as all test results at the time of the screen. A registered nurse will adapt health consultation and educational materials to individual results. Appointments can be made in advance by calling the office of community health education at Charlevoix Area Hospital at (231) 547-8906 or by email at kjacobson@cah.org. Walk-ins are always welcome.

Hospice offers grief support program

Starting on Tuesday, July 6, Hospice of Northwest Michigan will be offering a summer grief support program. The program will include six weekly sessions for those coping with a loss, which could include situations such as death, divorce, losing your job, moving, dealing with a chronic illness or even losing a pet. Loss of any kind is the focus of this program.

The facilitator for this program will be Dr. Andrew Sahara from North Country Community Mental Health. Anyone is invited who has suffered a loss or who is helping a loved one deal with a loss and would benefit from the support of others.

The program will be take place at the Charlevoix Area Hospital, 14700 Lake Shore Drive, Charlevoix, in the conference rooms in the lower level of the hospital. Class will begin at 6 p.m. and last for about 90 minutes.

The grief support program is sponsored by Hospice of Northwest Michigan, the Health Department of Northwest Michigan, Charlevoix Area Hospital and North Country Community Mental Health. The program is designed to help those grow through grief, and learn the five tasks of grief work.

Organizers ask that anyone interested in attending these classes to pre-register by calling the hospice office at (231) 547-7448. After the first session the classes will be closed. There is no charge to attend this program.

OBITUARIES

Margaret K. Mayville: Oct. 11, 1925 - May 16, 2010

Margaret (Marge) K. Mayville, age 84, of Klamath Falls, Ore. died peacefully in her sleep at her home on May 16, 2010.

Marge was born in Chicago on Oct. 11, 1925, to Gisela (Prekale) and Anton Olszewski. In 1940 the family moved to Charlevoix where Marge attended Charlevoix High School, but she graduated from Traverse City High School in June of 1943.

During World War II, Marge worked at a defense plant on Puget Sound, Wash. She married James Ferguson in March of 1944 and had a son, Jimmy, in December of 1944. After the war, Marge returned to the Charlevoix area to live with her parents.

Eventually, Marge and Jimmy moved into their first home at 1301 South Bridge St. and later to 240 East Carpenter. During this time, Marge started her own business and enjoyed a successful career as a bookkeeper and income tax preparer.

In January of 1963, Marge married Lionel (Red) Mayville. Marge, Red and son Jim, moved to Tucson, Ariz. on June 17, 1963. On Oct. 7, 1963, Marge and Red had a daughter, René, born in Farmington N.M.

Marge and Red traveled extensively, both during Red's employment with Bechtel and after his retirement. The more Marge saw the world, the more she appreciated her roots. She traveled the world over, but her heart was deeply anchored in Charlevoix. Many times Marge would regale others with her happy "vignettes" of Charlevoix and her most beautiful memories of her family and friends.

Marge was an avid reader: cooking, art, sports, genealogy, history, and ornithology. She especially loved baseball and admired those who played the game well. Marge was a wonderful, loving, caring human being who was truly blessed by God's special grace. She will be sorely missed by all those who knew and loved her.

Marge is survived by her husband, Lionel (Red), son Jim Ferguson, daughter, René McAlmon and sister Adeline Reese.

She was preceded in death by her parents, Anton and Gisela Olszewski, and sisters Eleanor Moran, Dorothy Luhrs, and Ruth Wasek.

Eternal Hills was in charge of a private cremation. Interment will take place at St. Mary's Cemetery in Charlevoix at a later date.

Janet K. Geary: Oct. 26, 1942 - June 13, 2010

Janet Kay Geary, 67, of Harbor Springs passed away peacefully June 13, 2010, at her home with her family by her side. A Memorial Service will take place on Friday, June 25 at 11 a.m. at Stone Funeral Home in Petoskey.

Janet was born Oct. 26, 1942 in Ferndale, Mich., the daughter of John and Gertrude (Hytinen) Schmidt. She grew up in Ferndale, where she attended school until her family moved to Charlevoix. She graduated from Charlevoix High School in 1960.

On May 27, 1977, she married Donald Geary in Charlevoix. The couple moved to Harbor Springs in 1981. Janet worked at a private residence in Wequetonsing for many years.

Janet was an avid reader and enjoyed writing, drawing, and painting. She had a gift for finding the humor in every day life, which was greatly enjoyed by her family and friends. She was quick-witted and sharp and quietly enjoyed knowing (or finding) the answer to trivia of all sorts. She loved spending time outdoors taking care of her flowers and her pets, and she had a soft spot in her heart for all animals. She also enjoyed cooking, singing, and traveling to see her children. Janet's greatest love was for her family and simply being "Mom." She was gentle and unassuming, and she will be greatly missed.

Janet is survived by her husband Donald, her mother Gertrude Schmidt, her children Jill Dishong (Aaron) of Antrim Dells, Scott Johnstone of Charlevoix, Shelly Neuman (Craig) of Bellaire, Valerie Snyder (Mark) of Charlevoix, and Justin Zuideman (Kriss) of Kenosha, Wis. Janet has seven grandchildren surviving, along with her brother Jon Schmidt (Laura) of Hastings, Mich. and step-children Diana Deerfield (Michael) of Gaylord and Richard Geary of Gaylord, along with six step-grandchildren. Janet was preceded in death by her father, John Schmidt, and her step-son, Stephan Geary.

The family suggests that memorial donations be made to Little Traverse Bay Humane Society.

Historical society plans 'monumental' presentation

The Charlevoix County History Preservation Society will present "Lennie's Monument," a program that will use a stone monument to tell the story of a young pioneer woman and her house at 7 p.m., Monday, June 28 at the Charlevoix Depot Museum, 307 Chicago Ave. in Charlevoix.

The presentation will center around 21-year-old widow Lennie Ingalls who, in 1869, retained young ship builder and Marmon Ben Campbell to build a house for her and her infant son. The house stayed in her family for more than 120 years until it was acquired by the City of Charlevoix in 1995 after the death of her granddaughter Erma. In 2010 at the age of 140 years, the house was burned to the ground, to make way for a parking lot.

Speaker Rachel Wright, author of the "Park Avenue Prowl," will describe the society's efforts to preserve the house, including obtaining a preliminary determination of its historic designation status. She will describe how the society worked furiously in the days leading up to the fire, to salvage as much as could be salvaged from the house for use in preservation projects across Northern Michigan.

The program is free and open to the public. For more information, visit the organization's website www.cbhs.org, info or call (231) 883-9867.

United Way celebrates community contributions

This year's campaign raised $322,842, next year's to be co-chaired by Charlevoix's Erin Bemis.

RYAN BENTLEY
NEWS-REVIEW STAFF
WRITER

During its Celebration Breakfast on Thursday, June 17, Char-Em United Way commemorated many who serve the community — whether in partnership with United Way or through efforts of their own.

The annual event took place at Odawa Casino Resort where United Way leaders were joined by campaign participants, supporters and representatives of the partner organizations which share in United Way fundraising proceeds.

Among the honors presented was the John Newton Award of Excellence. Named for the late John Newton, a past United Way board member and local banker, this award recognizes both an individual and an organization for actions that significantly enhance health and human services in Emmet and Charlevoix counties. Newton's wife, Donna, presented the honors.

This year's individual Newton award went to Mary Ozbun, who has volunteered in the community for more than 20 years. She has contributed her efforts to the Women's Resource Center and its Safe Home, juveniles in the court system, a local United Methodist Church single parent program, Northern Michigan Regional Hospital and Project Connect.

"Mary is a great example of an active community member who gives significantly to assist others in our community," Donna Newton said. "There's no doubt that many individuals have gained a higher self-esteem after working with Mary."

Receiving the Newton award for an organization was Petoskey High School's chapter of the Family, Career and Community Leaders of America. This group was formed 10 years ago as a student leadership affiliate for the school's early childhood education career technical program. Advised by Barbara Kennedy, the program promotes personal growth and leadership development through family and consumer sciences education.

"Barb and the members of FCCLA volunteer in their community and in the school and assist in improving family units throughout our two-county area," Newton said. "In the past school year FCCLA members have contributed more than 420 hours of person power for health and human service agencies throughout Emmet and Charlevoix counties."

United Way also noted many who helped support and conduct its 2009-10 campaign, which raised $322,842 — 97 percent of the goal. It was co-chaired by Joanne Curtis and Dale Hull and also involved 10 division chairs, 15 "loaned executives," and about two dozen additional volunteers.

New this year was the Tocqueville Society. This recognition category is named for Alexis de Tocqueville, a 19th century French scholar of American democracy. Those making contributions of $10,000 or more to the United Way qualify.

Business/foundation donors receiving Tocqueville recognition for 2009-10 included the Douglas and Maria Devo Foundation, Eli Lilly and Co. and the Frey Foundation. Individual/family honorees include Vaughan and Nancy Bryson, David G. Frey, Ted and Brenda Frey, Bruce and Susan Herard and Robert C. Pew.

Thursday's program acknowledged donors — 107 individual/family contributors and 30 businesses/organizations — whose contributions of $500 or more qualified them for Leadership Circle status.

Contributions through 90 workplace campaigns — at businesses, schools and non-profit agencies — accounted for slightly more than half of United Way's funds raised this year. United Way recognized several workplace campaigns and volunteers which provided exceptional efforts and results this year.

Among the honorees were Friendship Centers of Emmet County, receiving the You've Got a Friend Award; Fletcher's of Petoskey, When You Believe Award; Lisa Hoyt of the Petoskey Regional Chamber of Commerce, Campaigner of the Year Award; and Circuit Controls Corp., Outstanding Campaign Award.

The Community Builder Award, recognizing workplace campaigns that were new for 2009-10, went to Charlevoix Public Library, Demmer Corp., Emmet County, Fletcher's, Friendship Centers, Meijer, Michigan WORKS! and MSU Extension.

For 2010, Char-Em United Way had aimed to raise 8.4 percent more overall in its campaign than in the previous year. Workplaces that increased their contributions by at least that percentage included Alanson Public Schools, American Red Cross Blood Services, American Red Cross Northern Lower Michigan Chapter, Boyne Falls Public School, Charlevoix-Emmet Intermediate School District, Circuit Controls Corp., Citizens Bank, city of Charlevoix, National City Bank, North Central Michigan College, North Country Community Mental Health, Northern Michigan Review, Pellston Public Schools, Petoskey Regional Chamber of Commerce and Raymond James and Associates.

United Way also noted several organizations assisting its operation with in-kind support, including Northern Michigan Regional Hospital, Odawa Casino Resort, Spartan Stores/Glen's Market of Charlevoix and the Mason & Kammermann accounting firm.

"I want to thank everyone who has worked with us in the past year to help Char-Em United Way have a successful campaign," Char-Em United Way executive director Martha Lancaster said at the program's conclusion.

The local United Way will kick off its 2010-11 campaign — to be chaired by area chamber of commerce leaders Erin Bemis and Carlin Smith — in August.

Rhonda Buchanan throws the ceremonial first pitch to Meg (Fowler) Kitson to kick off the newly re-named Leroy Buchanan Memorial Fastpitch Invitational Tournament at Charlevoix's Carpenter Street fields Friday. The tournament, in its fourth year, was previously known as the Charlevoix Invitational, was renamed in honor of Leroy Buchanan, a long-time coach and softball advocate. Buchanan died in November. Rhonda, his daughter and Kitson played for Buchanan for many years winning numerous titles under his direction.

Almost made it
Petoskey Blaze player Jenna Wood can't quite beat the throw to first as she grounds-out in the Blaze's first game of the tournament Friday.

Weather perfect for re-named softball tournament

The weather was near perfect, and the action was fast and furious.

When the dust settled, three teams earned titles Sunday in the re-named Leroy Buchanan Memorial Fastpitch Invitational at Carpenter Avenue Fields.

The tournament, now in its fourth year, was re-named in honor of Buchanan, a Charlevoix native and former softball coach and supporter who died Nov. 11.

Buchanan retired in 1991 as manager of Oleson's in Charlevoix where he worked for more than 50 years in the grocery business and managed softball teams for decades.

In the 12-under division, the MBS (Midland, Bay City, Saginaw) Jets won the title, while the Michigan Queens of Diamonds from Monroe County claimed the 14-under division crown. The Petoskey Blaze 14-under finished runner-up.

The 16-under division crown also went to the Michigan Queens of Diamonds of Monroe County, while the runners-up were the Traverse City Waves — which included several local players.

The Waves open with a 6-0 loss to Milan Elite, then won four straight games to reach the championship game.

Hannah Hybl struck out four in taking the loss against Milan. Haley Drenth singled for the Waves.

The Waves then downed Mount Pleasant, 2-1 as Hannah Hybl, Katie Hybl and Drenth each singled.

The Waves then beat the Petoskey Blaze, 10-4, as Hannah Hybl hit a three-run homer, singled, doubled and finished with five RBI. Also for the Waves, Katie Hybl had two hits, two RBI; Drenth and Kari Steenwyk each singled, and Hannah Hybl earned the win in relief.

The Waves then downed the Traverse City Bays, 15-0, as Hannah Hybl had a two-run double and Drenth and Katie Hybl each singled. The Waves then beat Mount Pleasant, 10-9, in eight innings. Hannah Hybl, the winning pitcher, had a two-run double, Drenth had two hits and two RBI, and Steenwyk and Katie Hybl each singled.

The Waves fell to Michigan Queens of Diamonds Gold of Monroe County in the final, 4-2. Hannah Hybl went the distance in taking the loss. Steenwyk and Haley Drenth had two hits each.

The 21-team tournament served as a fundraiser for the Charlevoix Youth Softball Program.

Police department training day

The officers of the Charlevoix Police Department spent part of a recent afternoon doing some water training at the Charlevoix Area Community Pool under the direction of local water safety expert Dave Smith. Charlevoix Police Chief Gerard Doan said despite living and working in such close proximity to so many water bodies, none of his officers had previously had much in the way of water safety training. Through the training, officers practiced several water rescue techniques and did other exercises to prepare themselves for a water-related emergency. Doan said all of his officers reported that the training has greatly increased their confidence in approaching water-related emergencies.

Charlevoix Police Department officer Barb Orban (right) throw a special rescue disc to chief Gerard Doan who is playing the part of a victim during last week's training.

Golf pro Kevin Whitmore joins Dunmaglas

Whitmore

PGA professional Kevin Whitmore, well known for his work at several Northern Michigan golf clubs has been named as director of the new Northern Michigan Golf Academy at Dunmaglas Golf Course.

The move to Dunmaglas reunites Whitmore with Darin Philport, the former vice president of operations at the Hidden River Golf & Casting Club in Brutus where Whitmore served as the general manager and head golf professional.

Prior to Hidden River, Whitmore held a similar position at the Red Hawk Golf Club in East Tawas and the Gaylord Country Club.

For a little more than a year he was director of golf at the semi-private Tru North Golf Club in Harbor Springs.

"I am very happy to bring 18 years of experience and the Northern Michigan Golf Academy to Dunmaglas, one of the outstanding golf courses in the north," Whitmore said. "It is truly one of the most scenic and finest golf courses in the region."

Philport said he was delighted to welcome Whitmore and his impressive resume to Dunmaglas. "Establishing the Northern Michigan Golf Academy is another step in our commitment to provide golfers with the best experiences in the game when they come to Dunmaglas," Philport said.

Whitmore said the new academy will foster an unpretentious learning environment to help golf fans enjoy the game to its fullest.

"My teaching philosophy has always been very simple: I work with my students individually to come up with the most efficient and effective golf swing possible for that particular player," Whitmore said. "With the Northern Michigan Golf Academy it is my aim to bring affordable, quality golf instruction to players of all ages and abilities, we will have a big focus on teaching juniors as they are the key to the future of this great game."

The new academy will offer lessons in all aspects of the game including full swing, putting, short game, course management and the mental aspects of the game.

Philport noted that when Dunmaglas opened in 1992, it was known for its natural beauty and its difficult play.

Since taking over the club two years ago, Philport said he has renovated the course layout to make it a much more playable and a more enjoyable experience. For more information, visit www.dunmaglas.com.

JUNE 26-JULY 12

Boating safety classes

The Charlevoix County Sheriff's office will be offering 2010 Boater's Safety classes on the following dates:

9 a.m.-1 p.m., June 26, Walloon Lake Country club (Grandma's)

2 p.m.-6 p.m., July 12, Jordan Valley District Library

Noon-1 p.m. June 5, Charlevoix Yacht Club

5 p.m.-6 p.m. July 12, Jordan Valley District Library

This is only for those who have an on-line boating safety certificate. Individuals will take the state exam and are free to leave upon successful completion of exam.

The class is free of charge and pre-registration is not required. Minimum age for class attendance is 12 years of age. Students should bring date of birth information with them for registration purposes. It is recommended that students eat prior to class or bring a small snack to class. Because of the short duration of the course, there will be no meal time.

Students receiving a satisfactory test grade will receive their Michigan Boating Safety Certificates at the conclusion of the course. If you currently have an on-line boating safety certificate, you must take a proctored test and receive a state-honored boating safety certificate. The state only honors on-line course completed certificates that have been verified by a proctored Michigan exam.

Completion of this class is mandatory for individuals who were born after Dec. 31, 1978 to operate a personal water craft; for juveniles ages 12-16 to operate a boat; and for parents who allow their children ages of 12-14 to operate a personal water craft under the parent's supervision.

Anyone with questions on the class should call the Charlevoix County Sheriff's office marine division at (231) 547-4461, ext. 320.

COMMUNITY POOL AUCTION

The Charlevoix Area Community Pool annual auction fundraiser, dubbed "Luau 2010," will take place starting at 5 p.m. on Thursday, Aug. 8, at Castle Farms. The event will

'Marathon Junkie' wins second straight Charlevoix Marathon

Chuck Engle, better known in running circles as the "Marathon Junkie," shaved nearly two minutes of his time as he won his second consecutive Charlevoix Marathon Saturday.

Engle, 39, of Dublin, Ohio, posted a winning time of 2:39:26, beating his winning time in last year's race by 1:46 — that figures out to a pace of a mile every 6:05. The second place overall finisher in the marathon was Christopher Gregory, 29, of Wyoming, Mich., who finished 2:02 behind Engle with a time of 2:41:28.

According to his Facebook page (www.marathonjunkie.com), Engle ran his first marathon in 2000 which he won and set the course record. He lists having the second most marathon victories in the world and other feats among his racing record. He was given the nickname "The Marathon Junkie" by a reporter in 2003.

The overall winner among the women's divisions was Anna Forsythe, 29, of Lansing, who finished the race in 3:12:55.

City fires Ike Boss

Boss family threatens to walk away from all community activities

STEVE ZUCKER
COURIER EDITOR

Last week's firing of long-time City of Charlevoix recreation director Ike Boss has left Boss' family ready to walk away from their extensive community involvement. It has also left a lot of unanswered questions.

After serving for more than 35 years in his position with the city's recreation department, city manager Rob Straebel fired Boss Thursday.

Responding to an e-mailed inquiry from the Charlevoix Courier about Boss' employment status Thursday, Straebel confirmed that Boss was terminated from his position but when asked about the reason for Boss' dismissal, Straebel replied, "The City of Charlevoix does comment on employee terminations or disciplinary actions."

Boss' dismissal comes at one of the busiest times of the year for the recreation department with all of its summer programs — including its very popular day camp, Camp McSaubia, in full swing.

Straebel said that he will be serving as the city's acting recreation director until a new director is hired. He said during this time, the recreation office will be open from 9 a.m.-noon and from 1 p.m.-5 p.m. on Mondays and from 1-5 p.m. Tuesday-Friday.

He added, "We do not anticipate any interruptions in recreational services and will do our best to create a seamless transition."

Speaking to the Courier on Thursday, Boss said Straebel gave him no reason for the termination. Boss said Straebel told him that he (Boss) was an at-will employee and did not have to be given a reason for his dismissal.

Boss said city officials gave him the option of signing a document that would officially end his employment with the city as a resignation and grant him three months severance pay, in exchange for

An epidemic of incivility

Identifying just exactly what is wrong with our society is a popular sport, and it's time I engaged in it. Our society's problem is not malaise. It is not dishonesty, although there may be a lot of that. It is not unethical behavior, despite how much of that there may be. It is not the sexual peccadilloes of political figures, although those are entertaining for short periods. Our problem is an epidemic of public incivility.

As the root word "civil" suggests, civility consists of those actions that make it possible for us to live together. They include some degree of deference, and courtesy, along with what might be called decency. Incivility is behavior or language that is rude, ill-bred, discourteous and harmful to the mechanisms that make it possible for us to live more or less harmoniously in large groups.

In the recent furor over a series of interviews with the staff of the now-fired General McChrystal, one of the media commentators suggested that the general's staff, when speaking to a reporter from the publication Rolling Stone, engaged in "locker room trash talk." Such talk might be fine in a locker room, but is clearly uncivil in public. Referring, as those aides did, to the national security advisor to the president as a "clown," and to Vice President Biden as, "bite-me," falls well outside the bounds of civility. The Rolling Stone article contained many additional examples.

We all try to teach our children that language and expressions which might be appropriate in private are not always appropriate in public. General McChrystal's aides, and possibly the general himself, appear not to have absorbed or retained that early lesson.

What is the source of our epidemic of public incivility? Like all epidemics, it must have had a small beginning and then spread widely in the population.

Maybe we can blame Don Rickles, who made a living as a comedian by publicly saying uncivil things about celebrities. At least Don Rickles was funny. Today's uncivil public figures; whether politicians, military personnel, talk show hosts, etc. are anything but funny.

The problem that a society must solve when faced with an epidemic is how to restrict it or stop it. Earlier disease epidemics have been controlled or stopped by mostly two methods. They are immunization, which has wiped out smallpox, for example, and quarantine, which can restrict the spread of disease if no other methods are available. Since there is not yet any immunization to prevent incivility, it would appear that only quarantine is a possibility. If access to the rest of the population is prevented or restricted, public incivility is impossible.

Quarantine of the truly uncivil would be most desirable (Think of not just careless or rude politicians, or trash-talking military personnel, but also the least civil of the talk-show hosts.) This is not a denial of anyone's free speech rights, it simply assures that the audience for that free speech will be much smaller. The person infected with rampant incivility would have only himself and a few other quarantined individuals to talk to.

Incivility appears to spread from person to person, not by germs, but by example. If incivility seems to be popular or successful, normal people might become infected and begin to behave in uncivil ways. It is the only example I know of where truly sick people, already infected with the disease of public incivility are praised and admired.

We could, in pursuit of social health, at the very least cease contact with the sick ones, even if we cannot completely quarantine them.

Public incivility is as surely destructive of society as is any communicable disease. I don't quite want to declare a war on incivility, since wars seldom accomplish their supposed goal. But certainly we should all work to limit the success of incivility and try diligently to avoid the disease ourselves. Be courteous in public statements. Show some deference to opposing opinions.

Don't be rude for effect. Consider the good of society as a whole. Civility is NOT winy-pyness, it is wisdom.

boy and could take care of himself. He also said that what was going on was between himself and Ike alone, and that it was none of my business. I asked him if it was really necessary to take this issue public. He responded, bring it on!

I have worked side by side with Ike for the last 34 years as the manager of the Mount McSaubia Recreation Area. I am very proud of what we have accomplished together. Mount McSaubia is considered the number one rated municipal ski area in Michigan. After 35 years of dedicated service, Mr. Straebel told Ike he was being fired. Ike asked what was the reason and the response was I don't have to have a reason.

At the next council meeting, I will offer to the city council the Boss family resignation (under protest) for the handling of this situation. This includes all activities at the Mount McSaubia Downhill & Cross Country Ski Area, the Mount McSaubia ice rink, the Mount McSaubia sledding hill, and the end of all involvement with the Petunia Project which is in its 29th year. The Boss family will also resign from the duties of promoting Charlevoix throughout the state with the Venetian float for over the past 20 years.

The City of Charlevoix management needs to be held accountable. The line has been crossed and the gloves are now off. Bo Boss Charlevoix

PINK RIBBON RIDE A HUGE SUCCESS

Editor:

Saturday, June 19, marked the eight anniversary of the Charlevoix/Emmet County Pink Ribbon Ride. Perfect weather accounted for a record-breaking number of riders participating in this year's event, more than 250, who helped us raise more than $44,000. It takes a few weeks to get the final numbers, but I would estimate that we will near the $50,000 mark by the time all is said and done.

How was this accomplished? By having a great team of people who are there throughout the process, whether they are volunteers, the local businesses and industry that provide funds, goods and services, or the riders themselves.

What is done with this money? Eighty-five percent of the net is split between Charlevoix Area Hospital's Circle of Strength and Northern Michigan Regional Hospital's Kathleen Jontz Breast Health Fund, with the goal of providing mammograms, ultrasounds, MRI's and biopsies for women in this area who are either under or uninsured. In just the last year these tests were made available to 212 women, almost four times the number the year before. Both hospitals work closely with the health department, who provide these services provided certain criteria are met, so that more women in Charlevoix and Emmet County can obtain these life-saving tests. The donations are also used to promote awareness, fund programs in early detection and education and provide support for women and their families.

Tim Leeper of Mackinac Island rode his bicycle from San Diego, Calif. to St. Augustine, Fla. He was on the road for 55 days from Jan. 7 to March 2 and I was privileged to be one of the people there when he put his front tire in the Atlantic Ocean. Through the sale of his art work and pledges, Tim raised more than $10,000 for our event. This fall we will be publishing a cookbook entitled Our "Leap" of Faith and it will be dedicated to Tim's late wife, Patty, who lost her battle with breast cancer nine years ago. It's a small way to thank him for his amazing contribution to this year's ride.

Robin Wottowa raised more than $5,500 through personal donations and took home a spa certificate from Boyne Resorts and a great bottle of wine from Lake Street Market. All together, our riders brought in $28,000 toward our final number.

There are so many to thank for making this event such a success. The local bike shops have been a great support to us over the years; Bo at North Country Cycle Sport, John at Bikerfix Cycling Center, Chet at Revolution Bike and John at High Gear Sports. Obie at BC Pizza in Boyne City has provided the lunch we serve each year and the food is always terrific. Also thank you to Angie, Roger and the staff at Charlevoix Screen Master and Mark at Signs, Letters & Graphics.

Lastly, my deep appreciation to Kathy Jacobsen at Charlevoix Area Hospital and Therese Green at Northern Michigan Regional Hospital; Kim Stevens, Diane Gorkiewicz, Dee Vincent, Gay Pung and Kay Holley from the Circle of Strength; Candy Greene, Donna Moll, Judy Jackson, Randi Hunter, Tom Smith, Cheryl Hofweber, Terri Reynolds, Bonnie Brunett, Paul Nicholls, Michelle Rick-Bidick, Mary Siegwart, Mel Majors from WMKT and The Vic McCarty Show, Kathy McDonald's family, John and Rob, as well as my family, Bill, Kendra, Billy and Emily, and the best husband and support system you could ask for, Bill Morris.

I hope you will join us next year on Saturday, June 18, 2011.

UNITED WAY SAYS 'THANK YOU'

Editor:

On behalf of everyone associated with Char-Em United Way, I would like to thank those who made our campaign and celebration break-fast a huge success.

Our deepest thanks go to Odawa Casino Resort for hosting and donating their services for the celebration breakfast. In addition, Northern Michigan Regional Hospital donated printing and technical services while North Central Michigan College, King Insurance Agency, and Petoskey Plastics all provided sponsorships for the event.

Of most importance, we would like to thank the 1,407 donors to our 2009/2010 campaign. These businesses and individuals contributed $322,842 in pledges and donations. This enabled us to invest more than $210,000 in local health and human service programs.

Our campaign co-chairs, Joanne Curtis and Dale Hull provided leadership to our campaign cabinet and volunteers. United Way Business Partners — 90 businesses, schools, governmental entities, and agencies — conducted workplace campaigns involving 1,030 employees. More than 140 businesses, foundations, and individuals made Leadership Circle gifts of $500 or more. The Frey Foundation provided a challenge grant of $15,000 and many local businesses provided in-kind support.

A special thank you goes out to the non-profit health and human service agencies who work on the front lines providing much needed services to our neighbors. The United Way campaign provided community investment allocations of $168,175 made to 29 programs of 26 agencies.

LETTERS to the editor

Editor's note: The following letter was submitted by Bo Boss to the Charlevoix Courier on Friday, June 25 the day after his uncle, Ike Boss, was fired as head of the City of Charlevoix Recreation Department, a position he has held for more than 35 years. Later in the day, city manager Rob Straebel was provided with a copy of the letter. His response follows

IKE BOSS

A line was drawn in the sand in February. I was invited by (Charlevoix) city manager Rob Straebel to attend a council workshop on the 2010-11 budget as a representative of the recreation department. (City recreation director Ike Boss) was on much needed vacation in Virginia. The entire staff and council were present as each line item of the budget was being presented.

When the subject of eliminating all of the lifeguards at the beaches came up, I gave a presentation to the council of why the lifeguards are so important in maintaining a safe place for our children to spend their summer time at the beach. I was told that lifeguards are not on duty anywhere else in the area. Exactly! Why else do you think that Charlevoix is such a special place to live and visit.

It's the little things that we offer that make us unique.

The council was very receptive to try and save the lifeguards from the cutting block. I even offered several ideas of how to raise additional money out at Mount McSaubia to help offset the cost.

Well, a compromise was agreed to and we now have guards at Michigan Beach, but this leaves Ferry and Depot beaches unattended. This compromise only saves approximately $8,400 per year. What a shame we can't afford to find a little room in our multi-million dollar budget for proper protection.

Well, apparently city management was furious that the lifeguard issue did not go away as quietly as they had planned behind the scenes. I found out later that all of the department heads had agreed to remain silent except to answer a direct question from a council member. When Ike returned from vacation the harassment started and he was written up several times, (apparently three strikes and you're out.) Fortunately a good paper trail was saved along with proof of the bogus accusations. On one occasion he was actually directed to enter his daily completed work on his time card several times each hour, and he was still faulted for not being precise enough. No other department heads were required to do this. This position has always been a part-time job with flexibility for the different shifts needed for the changing seasons of recreation.

The harassment got so intense that Ike hired an attorney to intervene on his behalf because the city had no human resource person on staff at this time. The harassment actually escalated even more after this. Ike was actually accused of not caring about kids. You've got to be kidding! Kids are his entire life! He was again written up for alleged mis-handling of an accident that occurred at the sledding hill. Further investigation resulted in a glowing letter from the city's insurance carrier of what a fine and safe sledding hill the city provides, and praised its management for the procedures it followed.

I decided earlier (last) week that the line in the sand had now been crossed and left my construction job to confront city manager Rob Straebel at city hall. I told Mr. Straebel that Ike's health was deteriorating (his blood pressure was through the roof) and he needed to back off.

Mr. Straebel told me several times that Ike was a big

Police department youth reward program returns

The Charlevoix Police Department, in conjunction with the Charlevoix Kiwanis Club is renewing a youth outreach program that it began last summer called "positive enforcement."

Under the program officers are given rewards such as tickets, gift cards, free passes and even free bike helmets to hand out to youth who are "caught" doing something positive in the community.

Police chief Gerard Doan said the program is designed to encourage children and young adults to use their manners, follow the law and be safe as they enjoy their summer. The program is also intended to improve police relationships and rapport with younger citizens.

Doan said rewards will be randomly handed out to those young people who are "caught" doing things such as wearing helmets while biking or skateboarding, walking their bikes downtown instead of riding them, putting trash in trash bins instead of littering, doing good deeds and many other examples.

The chief said the program had its start when a local citizen contacted the police with the idea last summer and offered a monetary donation to get it started. The Kiwanis Club offered its assistance and more than 100 rewards were handed out last year.

As it re-starts the program this summer, the police department is seeking donations from any person or business interested in contributing towards the rewards program. Anyone interested in making a contribution, or who would like to offer input on the program should contact the Charlevoix Police Department office at 547-3258.

Current sponsors of the program include Dairy Grille, Holiday Gas Station, Charlevoix Skate Park, Mount McSaubia Ski Hill, Charlevoix Area Community Pool, Revolution Cycle, 7-11, Mary Ann's, Oleson's, Glen's, Charlevoix Cinema and Subway.

Historical society to repeat Bob Miles program

In response to many requests, the Charlevoix Historical Society will be repeating its well-received program on the life and works of Bob Miles, Charlevoix photographer from 1931 to 1972. The program was originally presented on June 1. The encore presentation will take place at 7 p.m. on Tuesday, July 6, at the depot building at Depot Beach.

Bob Miles' son David, co-director of the society's Harsha House Museum, will narrate the fully illustrated program on his father's four-decade career. It consists of a pictorial history of the town, its people, and Northern Michigan during that time plus several vintage photos that Bob Miles preserved. Also included will be the rare photo that captured flying saucers over Charlevoix taken in the early 1950s.

Light refreshments will be served. There will be no charge for admission, but donations are appreciated. For more information call (231) 547-0373.

Monday movies returning to Charlevoix's East Park

The Charlevoix Downtown Development Authority recently announced that it will again host movie presentations in East Park this summer.

Through a partnership with Huntington Bank, three feature films will be shown in East Park's Odmak Performance Pavilion on Monday evenings this summer.

"The two outdoor films we showed last summer were wildly successful, so we're very pleased that Huntington Bank has generously offered to sponsor additional movies this summer," authority executive director Keith Carey said.

The three-film 'Monday Movies by the Marina' series will be in addition to the return of "Venetian Vision" resulting in a total of four great films being shown in the pavilion this summer.

The films will be projected on a 15-foot by 25-foot screen with sound provided by the pavilion's state-of-the-art audio system. Attendees are encouraged to bring lawn chairs and/or blankets.

Huntington Bank will also offer free popcorn before the start of each movie.

"Film licensing restrictions prohibit us from revealing the movie titles in the newspaper or on radio, but folks can visit DowntownCharlevoix.com or search "Downtown Charlevoix (MI)" on Facebook.com to learn which film is playing next in the 'Monday Movies by the Marina' series," Carey said.

The dates and times of the Monday showings will be at 9:15 p.m. on June 28 and Aug. 2 and 8:30 p.m. on Aug. 23.

The "Venetian Vision" movie will once again be selected by the community through an online poll hosted by the Charlevoix Courier beginning in mid-July.

Downtown summer concert series starts Thursday

The Charlevoix Downtown Development Authority's 2010 Charlevoix Concert Series kicks off Thursday, July 1. The series offers a wide variety of musical entertainment from July through the end of August.

After offering hosting performances on Sunday evenings the previous two years, the series returns to its original Thursday night format this summer. Music will begin at 7 p.m. and concertgoers can expect to enjoy roughly 90 minutes of high quality entertainment in one of Michigan's most unique outdoor performance venues — the Odmak Performance Pavilion in Downtown Charlevoix's beautiful East Park, authority officials said.

"We're very excited about the quality of this year's performance lineup," Keith Carey, executive director of the Charlevoix Downtown Development Authority said. "Our goal is to offer something for everyone and this year's schedule fulfills that goal."

More information on the Charlevoix Concert Series is available on the organization's website by visiting www.DowntownCharlevoix.com.

The schedule includes the following performances:

— July 1, Robin Stone, neo-soul/funk/jazz
— July 8, Petoskey Steel Drum Band, island percussion — July 15, The BackBeats: Beatles Tribute Show, classic rock

— Aug. 5, Trombones Plus, jazz
— Aug. 12, Kort McCumber, Americana/roots rock/blues

— Aug. 19, Steppin' In It, original acoustic roots

— Aug. 26, Northern Michigan Brass Band, brass
— Sept. 2, Jetty Rae, acoustic folk

OBITUARIES

Kathlyn Rose Hribljan: April 19, 1918-June 17, 2010

Kathlyn Rose Hribljan, 92, of Charlevoix, passed away Thursday, June 17, 2010, at Munson Medical Center in Traverse City. Rite of Christian Burial took place 11 a.m. on Saturday, June 19, at St. Mary's Church in Charlevoix. Burial took place at Sunset

Hill Cemetery in East Jordan. Kathlyn was born April 19, 1918, to John and Alma (House) VandeMark. She worked in the Detroit area at Hudson's, and after retiring from Sears, moved to Beulah where she worked as the village clerk. She has lived the past 10 years with her daughter in Charlevoix. Kathlyn is survived by her daughter, Susan Parks of Charlevoix; son, John M. (Noel) Hribljan of Grosse Pointe Woods; grandchildren, Christopher and Sarah Parks, John A. and Susan C. Hribljan, Elizabeth Allan; daughter-in-law, Christine Abfalter of East Jordan. She was preceded in death by her son, George B. Jr., and son-in-law, John Parks. Memorial contributions may be made to the Salvation Army. The Winchester Funeral Home in Charlevoix served family.

Rosalynde M. Johnston: Dec. 26, 1902-May 28, 2010

Rosalynde M. Johnston of Charlevoix, passed away at her home Monday morning, June 28, 2010. For the past 13 years she resided at La Croft Condominiums and was the oldest resident ever to occupy the complex. In fact, at 107 years old, she was one of the oldest persons to be a Charlevoix resident.

Rosalynde was born Dec. 26, 1902, in St. Elmo, Ill., to Anna B. (Howell) Johnston and Pressley M. Johnston. She attended Boston University and received her teaching degree around 1929.

She retired more than 50 years ago from the Detroit school system where she was a teacher and attendance supervisor.

Her main hobby being fly fishing, she spent many hours on the rivers and streams from Michigan to Montana and points between. Her awards and rewards were many, as she was written up in magazines and newspapers as one of the best fly fishing anglers in the country.

Rosalynde was preceded in death by her parents, two brothers, and sister, Anna Belle Webb of Charlevoix; also, several half sisters and their children. She is survived by her niece, Janet (Webb) Franklin of Charlevoix, and many other nieces and nephews and their children.

In lieu of flowers, donations may be given to the United Methodist Church, 215 Walnut St., St. Elmo, IL 62458-1454.

A remembrance gathering for friends and family of Rosalynde will take place at 1 p.m., Friday, July 2, at her home in La Croft.

Hospice director receives prestigious certification

Lisa Ashley, executive director of Hospice of Little Traverse Bay, has been awarded one of the most prestigious certifications in the state.

After stringent testing by the National Board for Certification of Hospice and Palliative Nurses, Ashley has become one of four certified hospice and palliative care administrators in the state of Michigan and one of 93 in the country to receive this highly-regarded certification. "It is an honor to share this certification with such an elite group, both in Michigan and throughout the country," Ashley said. "Receiving this certification means a lot to our region because it is a highly recognized marker by patients, physicians, providers, insurers, credentialers, and the federal government in an atmosphere of increasing awareness regarding quality in healthcare and appropriate utilization of services."

The National Board for Certification of Hospice and Palliative Nurses is the only organization that offers specialty certification for all levels of hospice and palliative nursing care and administration.

Ashley has been executive director of Hospice of Little Traverse Bay for four years. Prior to that, she spent nine years as program and fund development director.

'Treasures of the Jordan' theme for the 2010 Friends of the Jordan Photography Contest

The 2010 Friends of the Jordan Photography Contest will challenge photographers to submit photographs that portray the riches of this environment. A special twist will be that each entry will be asked to identify the approximate location where the picture was taken on the Watershed map. A treasure map will be created which will guide others to explore the Jordan Valley with a real treasure hunt being planned based on the photographs entered. More than $1,200 in prize money will be awarded for 14 photographs which will be printed into a calendar for 2011. An exhibit of all entries is planned for the 6th annual Friends of the Jordan Celebration scheduled for Sept. 18. Entries will be accepted through Wednesday Aug. 4. Entry forms and additional details are posted on the organization's website, www.friendsofthejordan.org.

Changing of the Guard

Command changes at U.S. Coast Guard Station Charlevoix

STEVE ZUCKER
COURIER EDITOR

There's a new skipper at the helm of U.S. Coast Guard Station Charlevoix following a change of command ceremony that took place at the station Friday.

Chief Boatswains Mate Scott Boop, who has been in charge of the station for the past four years, has been reassigned to the Detroit Sector where he will work in a planning and inspection role. The Coast Guard rotates its station commanders on a four-year cycle.

Under Boop's watch the station crews logged more than 3,000 boat hours, handled 314 search and rescue cases and conducted 447 law enforcement boardings.

Boop, originally from Parma, Ohio, came to Charlevoix in 2006 from Station Port Huron. He and wife Jennifer have two children, Aiden, 5, and Addison, 4.

In his speech during Friday's change of command ceremony, Boop said, despite his reassignment, he and his family plan on continuing to live in their home in Norwood.

"Charlevoix is about community and helping each other out," Boop said in his speech. "No other place I've been has been like that."

Taking over as the officer-in-charge at Station Charlevoix is Chief Boatswains Mate Charles Burleigh. Burleigh enlisted in the Coast Guard in Portland, Maine in 1987. He comes to Station Charlevoix from Coast Guard Station Harbor Beach, where he had been the officer-in-charge since 2006.

Burleigh and his wife Faydra have two children; Matthew who is a member of the U.S. Coast Guard and is currently stationed with the Coast Guard's Aids to Navigation Team in South West Harbor, Maine, and a daughter, Samantha.

Station Charlevoix has served the waters of Lake Charlevoix and Lake Michigan since 1898 when it was originally on the south breakwall of the Pine River Channel. The station was relocated to its present location near Depot Beach in the early 1960s. For now, the station is part of Sector Lake Michigan, which is based in Milwaukee, Wis. It soon will be transferred to District Sault Ste. Marie. The station's area of response runs from Cross Village to the southern boundary of Leland and west on Lake Michigan past Beaver Island to include both North and South Fox islands for a total of about 2,500 square miles. The station has three boats: a 41-foot utility boat, a 25-foot response boat and a 14-foot ice rescue skiff.

Do you have a cottage on Lake Charlevoix? Want a large diamond?

We would like to trade jewelry or diamonds for two week's rental of a house or cottage on lake Charlevoix. My name is Dan Jensen and I grew up in Charlevoix and now have a jewelry store in the Grand Rapids area. We also pay more for old GOLD and diamonds than anyone up north and have helped many "Charlevoix'ins" get diamonds and jewelry at great prices from someone they feel they can trust. Please visit our website at www.jensenjewelers.com or call (616) 669-1900. This is NOT a joke, you can ask around town if you have any questions about our business as most locals will know about it. I will also provide local references upon request. Thank you.

Taking a swing back in time

Storied Belvedere Golf Club in Charlevoix was the site of the fifth annual Belvedere Hickory Open over the weekend and a full field of some 40 classic golf aficionados took part. The two day competition is played with authentic pre-1935 hickory shafted golf clubs and competitors dress in period appropriate apparel which includes knickers for the men, flowing ornate dresses for the women. The competition is played under the auspices of the Society of Hickory Golfers, a national organization which celebrates and promotes the game of golf as it was played from the 1910s through the '30s. While the modern game swings more to bombing it off the tee with oversized metal clubs, the Hickory player employs clubs that require a near-perfect strike and more bump-and-run approach shots than a high floating modern-day wedge. Players, including four women, came from all over the United States and Canada to compete. Belvedere Golf Club, established in 1925, is the perfect hickory venue as it was built in the heyday of hickory golf. All of the greens are accessible in front and the bunkering is laid out precisely were hickory clubs want to send errant golf balls. Major champions such as Bobby Jones, Walter Hagen, Gene Sarazen and Tommy Armour have competed at the Belvedere with hickory clubs. Tom Watson is an honorary member of the club and still considers it one of his top three favorite courses in the country.

East Jordan Rotary, Island Airways offer holiday plane rides

The East Jordan Rotary Club and Island Airways are offering airplane rides Saturday, July 3.

Originating at the East Jordan Airport, the tours begin at 10 a.m. and continue throughout the day, ending at 4 p.m. In the event of rain, the tours will run on the same schedule on Sunday, July 4. Participants will tour the South Arm/East Jordan area during the plane rides. The cost is $20 per person.

The Rotary Club first offered the airplane tours during homecoming festivities last fall, and the demand was so great that the club decided that the tours should be a semi-annual event.

"It makes sense to offer the tours over the holiday weekend," club president Jim Slough said. "There will be a lot of people in the area who might enjoy the view of the region from the sky."

Charlevoix Bridge Group ends season

The Charlevoix Bridge Group ended its season with a get-together at the Charlevoix Area Hospital for bridge and dessert on Tuesday, June 8.

The winners this year were: Ladies Flight A: First place went to Mary Phillips and Mary Lou Dixon. Second place went to Marge Dinwiddie and Marty Strawbridge.

Ladies Flight B: First place went to Marge Dinwiddie and Mary Lou

Dixon and Alicia Mosher and second place went to Glenda Conlan.

Couples Flight: First place went to Lee and Stanly Kaitlin and second place went to Jim and Diane McMahon.

All proceeds benefit the Charlevoix Area Hospital Guild. Anyone interested in joining the group for bridge next fall and winter should contact Catherine Francis at (231) 675-9955 for information.

Library staff seeks public's help to stop vandalism

STEVE ZUCKER
COURIER EDITOR

Officials with the Charlevoix Public Library are seeking their patrons' help in putting an end to a recent rash of vandalism that has taken place in and around the library.

Library director Valerie Meyerson the incidents have been happening for a couple of months and staff believe children are the likely culprits.

Some of the damage has included, instruments being damaged in the children's garden, a sign on the end of a book stack being burned, coffee creamer stolen and dumped on the elevator floor, a set of keys has been stolen, and inappropriate language has been written on whiteboards in the writing center.

"We love when kids come to the library — but if children are left here all day, they get bored and look for trouble," Meyerson said.

She said staff has locked the gate to the children's garden, asked for additional police patrols and they are very strict with the library's code of conduct policy and its consequences.

"This saddens my heart that here, in Charlevoix the beautiful, in this lovely facility, acts of such senseless destruction are occurring," Meyerson said.

She said it's very difficult to catch the perpetrators of these acts, but she's hoping that by letting the community know about the incidents, residents will help.

She asks parents to talk to their children about the incidents and asks parents not leave children at the library unattended all day. She also asks library patrons to keep their eyes open for any mischief when they are at the library.

Meyerson can be reached by calling (231) 237-7360.

MARATHON

for a pace of 7:22 minutes per mile.

Ron Suffolk, whose South Lyon-based Good Boy Events company hosted the race estimated that about 1,300 people participated in the six event that took place under the Charlevoix Marathon banner. In addition to the marathon, the event also included a half-marathon, 10- and 5 kilometer runs and walking events for both the marathon and the half-marathon.

Suffolk said the weather mostly cooperated with the runners. An early morning rain subsided shortly before the first races started. And although the humidity was fairly high, overcast skies and temperatures in the low to mid 60's kept racing conditions comfortable, he said.

In all, Suffolk called Saturday's race a "huge success" and said plans are in the works for next year's event already. Good Boy Events will also host a marathon, half-marathon and 3.5 mile run on Beaver Island on Sept. 4.

The following is a list of all the marathon finisher from Charlevoix and Emmet counties. For a complete list of results from Saturday's races visit raceservices.com/results10.htm and click on the and look for the "Run Charlevoix" listings at the bottom of the page.

4-H soccer camp registration ongoing

Boyne Area 4-H Youth Soccer will again host a summer soccer camp offered by Far Post Soccer.

4-H staff said response from players and parents has been very positive adding that Far Post is known as a quality program throughout the state and is in high demand.

The camp's director, Greg Thompson, is the director of Farmington Hills Public Schools soccer program.

Scholarships may be available. Campers will receive a T-shirt. They should bring shin guards, a water bottle and a soccer ball. Rain days will not be made up, but players should meet at the field regardless of conditions. In case of severe weather parents need to come back to the field to pick players up.

Players will be split into age groups. Skills are taught in game environments with an emphasis on fun. The camp is designed for players age 5 and up and parents.

The camp will take place from 6-8 p.m. July 19-23, at Rotary Park in Boyne City.

The cost of the camp is $60 per player. Adults are free. Register by calling 582-6232 by Friday, July 2 to guarantee a spot.

Rayders earn All-State, All-conference honors

School is out, but the awards keep rolling in for several Charlevoix spring athletes.

Senior Madison Way and was named to the Michigan High School Soccer Coaches Association All-State second-team in Division IV.

Way, a two-year captain, had 21 goals and 16 assists for the two-time Division IV district champion Rayders, who finished 15-6-2 this season.

"Maddie is such a complete player," Charlevoix coach Carol Madison said.

"She's been our center-inid for the last two years and she's really directed our play and been a team leader."

"She's really worked hard for everything she's had, she keeps everybody in focus and her scoring ability is just outstanding," added Madison. "I'm really pleased she got this recognition."

Earning Division IV All State honorable mention was junior Taylor Smith. Smith had 29 goals and eight assists this season and has 42 goals and 16 assists for her three-year career.

Madison lauded Smith's commitment to the team over the past three seasons.

"Nobody goes harder, longer and faster than Taylor," Madison said. "She's really stepped up her game the past two seasons. As a freshman, she didn't see a lot of playing time because she was playing behind so many upperclassmen."

The following Charlevoix athletes also were named to the All-Lake Michigan Conference baseball, softball and girls' soccer teams for the 2010 season.

BASEBALL

First-team: Clayton Mitchell. Honorable mention: Alex Foster.

SOFTBALL

First-team: Katie Hybl, Hannah Hybl, Kristen Mielke. Honorable mention: Madison Zimmerman, Anna Moon, Nikki Speigl.

GIRLS' SOCCER

First-team: Way, Smith, Caroline Dupuis; Honorable mention: Savannah Joseph, Hallie Bills.

'Change' in management

Eric Wolletz of Charlevoix has taken over as manager of the Performance Plus Quick Lube location at 06525 North M-66 south of Charlevoix.

Wolletz, who brings more than 29 years in the automotive customer service industry to the store, took over the store's management earlier this year.

Wolletz, a member of the Automotive Oil Change Association, said since taking over as manager at the Charlevoix location, he has been focusing on doing more community outreach through contributions to several area school programs in Charlevoix, East Jordan and Northwest Academy.

Performance Plus Quick Lube is located on M-66 across from K-mart. In addition to complete oil change service, the staff offers many other preventative automotive fluid, belt and filter maintenance services. The business is open Monday-Friday from 8 a.m.-6 p.m. and Saturdays from 9 a.m.-4 p.m. Wolletz can be reached at the store at (231) 547-6307. For more information, visit www.performanceplus-soil.com.

Jackson elected to association board

Charlevoix Area Hospital CEO Bill Jackson was recently elected to serve as an officer on the board of trustees for the Michigan Health & Hospital Association.

Jackson was named to the board at its recent annual membership meeting on Mackinac Island.

Jackson, a 30-plus year veteran in healthcare and CEO at Charlevoix Area hospital for more than 13 years, was elected to serve as treasurer of the statewide organization. Jackson has served on the association's board since 2007, after also serving from 2003-2005. In addition to representing Charlevoix Area Hospital, Jackson will also represent the interests of 36 "critical access hospitals" in Michigan. Critical access hospitals are specially designated by the federal government, having 25 beds or fewer and providing important and necessary access to healthcare services in rural areas of the state. Jackson is one of just two hospital CEOs of critical access hospitals that currently serve on the board.

"It is a real pleasure to serve the industry and particularly, our hospital in this capacity", Jackson said. "We are able to positively impact our smaller, rural hospitals by serving on the board and in a broader perspective through our advocacy for the industry."

Other elected officers of the 2010 association's board of trustees include Spencer Maidlow, chairman and Douglas Strong, chairman-elect. The board directs the Lansing-based association's statewide representation of hospitals and health care providers.

Two Charlevoix doctors earn 'Blues' designation

Blue Cross Blue Shield of Michigan has designated two doctors in Charlevoix County as patient-centered medical home physicians, a program that involves a more intensive focus on their patients' wellness. The designated physicians include Dr. Mitchell Carey and Dr. Anna Young

According to a Blue Cross Blue Shield press release, in the patient-centered medical home, primary care physicians (pediatricians, internists and family practice doctors) lead care teams that bring intensive focus to their patients' individual health goals and needs. The care teams work with patients to keep them healthy and monitor their care on an ongoing basis. Teams coordinate patients' health care using registries to track patients' conditions and assure they receive the care they need. They offer extended access to the care team, coordinate complementary care - such as nutrition counseling - and help patients learn to self manage conditions such as asthma and diabetes.

About 5,000 primary care doctors in Michigan are working toward designation as PCMH practices by transforming how their practices deliver health care services to patients.
